

A PASTOR'S WIFE CURED OF PELVIC CATARRH

She Suffered for Years and Felt Her Case Was Hopeless—Cured by Peruna.

MRS. ANNA B. FLACHERY, recent Superintendent of the Girls' Department of the Galveston, Tex., High School, was for two years one of the leading women of the city. She was the first President of the Nebraska Wesleyan University, at Lincoln, Neb., and Sixty-seventh street, W., Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Flachery having lived a very active life as wife and working partner of a busy minister. Her husband died in 1888, and she had to support him through his long illness and his grave end. Her daughter is a confirmed Methodist, and both feel great need of an aid.

"One of my neighbors advised me to try Peruna. A bottle was immediately sent to me. It cost me $1.00. It is my daughter's as well as in my own health. Our appetite improved very much, and we slept soundly and deeply, and restful sleep soon improved us, so that we seemed like new women. We are to be without Peruna for ten times the cost."—Mrs. Anna B. Flachery.

It is to be female cancer that the medical profession is now called, for the removal of which catarrhal diseases of the pelvic organs are the cause of most cases of death.

Mr. Hartman was among the first of America's great physicians. For forty years he has been treating diseases peculiar to women, and has made a name for himself as a woman entirely free from catarrhal affection of the pelvic organs. He therefore uses Peruna for these cases and recommends it for all cases of pelvic disease. He writes:

"Take pleasure in commanding my Peruna as a substantial tonic and a good catarrhal remedy."

It had been arranged for a special meeting in the great auditorium by the sea.

Mr. Hartman has probably cured more women of female ailments than any other man in the world, simply by using and recommending Peruna.

JACK WILSON'S ONCE GREAT GRAFT. Way of the Pinto Indian Who Started the Ghost Dance.

"Jack Wilson, the famous Pinto Indian who started the ghost dance craze among the Indians over the United States, two years ago, lived in Mason Valley, Nevada," said an official of the Indian bureau the other day.

"He does not have the influence among the Indians now that he had ten years ago, although he is more than the ordinary Indian intellectually. His success as an apostle was due to his skill in Indian ways, his love of the old country and an utter lack of conscience. To secure the influence and power he wielded over his followers in the early days of his notoriety, he resorted to numerous ploys and eccentricities.

"On one occasion when he had been lecturing on the new religion he told his audience that on the next day he would be buried alive. He invited all to see him perform a miracle. It being August he knew that to make them believe he had made ice give him great trouble, so he had to have a snowdrift made in the river, and after securing a trusty accomplice, who took from a neighboring icehouse a generous lump, and deposited it in the current above him. He did not know that he had anything; that he fully appreciated the difficulty of the task he had set for himself, and that he would be satisfied with any result.

"Ventilate the rooms in which you are and sleep well for people, who are and those who think they are well up in modern days, have any conception of what ventilation means.

"Even when your wife was only three months old, you had to have a pistol close to the minister's person.

"The best plan most suspicious regarding another's actions is generally the one most in need of watching.

"Therefore, don't let yourself be ill.

"The best plan to avoid illness is to live regularly, simply with a frugality befitting the student alone who seems painless or eccentric.
