Patriotism.
There is something peculiar in patriotism, or real love of country. One can become 30 years old and, without knowing it, have loved his fatherland during all that time; that is, if one has remained at home. The true nature of spring is not appreciated until winter is upon us, and the best May songs are written by the brooks.

One of the heaviest storms of the year broke over Holland at midnight Wednesday. Hail stones as large as golf balls fell with terrific violence, followed by gales. Considerable damage was done to crops.

Carl Weaver partook of free turtle soup offered by a Marshall saloonkeeper, and it cost him $75 at the U. of M.
hospital at Ann Arbor to have a bone which lodged in his throat removed by a specialist.

LATEST NEWS OF MICHIGAN

THE SEARCH FOR SISTER MARY DELAYED BY STORM, IS ABANDONED.

POSTOFFICE LOOT FOUND

Brakeman Killed on the Way to Visit His Sweetheart—Ran Away, Fearing Murder.

To Remain a Mystery.

Sheriff William Kettle, with a bloodhound and a number of expert woodmen, were at Isadore Sunday to take up the search for Sister Mary, who disappeared from the convent there, but because of the heavy rain it was given up. During the day the new parochial school was blessed by Bishop Richter, of Grand Rapids. The program for the blessing was arranged by Sister Mary and one of the theories of her disappearance is that her mind was deranged by the work of preparing the program. It is unlikely that any further search will be made for her.

Found Some Plunder.

Word was received from a farmer seven miles from Tekonsha that part of the plunder stolen from the postoffice when the safe was blown up last week had been found on his farm.

Postmaster Justin A. Harsh and Deputy Sheriff Failing dug up booty, which was no use to the robbers. The loot was partly uncovered by rooting hogs.

The tracks of the men were traced to a dense thicket and then in the direction of Coldwater.

His Last Ride.

On his way to Cassopolis to visit Miss Daisy Shaw, his sweetheart, Edward H. Scott, aged 23, a Grand Trunk brakeman, of Lerville, Ind., left from a freight train and was mangled under the wheels. His body was found on the tracks Sunday morning. Scott had been in the habit of making weekly trips to see Miss Shaw and usually rode on freight trains to make time.

Fled Too Soon.

Believing that he murdered a man, George Wallace, a Nashville negro, has fled from Battle Creek. Wallace lost his money and jewelry in a card game at the Afro-American club and demanded a ring back. It was refused and Wallace then pulled a revolver and fired twice at Charles Wyman, the manager. The bullet only grazed Wyman, but without waiting Wallace ran to his home, told his wife he had killed a man and left the city.

Did Not Know of Murder.

Mrs. Frederick M. Fish, who was murdered in Chicago as is supposed by her husband, a retired broker, who then cut his throat, is a former South Haven girl. Her parents, Dr. and Mrs.
Christopher Perren, reside in that city. Mrs. Perren left for Chicago with the two Fish children who have been visiting her and know nothing of the double crime. Dr. Perren is critically ill. It is feared that if he is informed of the tragedy the shock will kill him.

Fish and his wife were heard in a violent altercation late Friday night and it is believed that Fish arose early Saturday morning and after discharging a shotgun into his wife's head hacked her in a horrible fashion with a butcher's cleaver. Fish had been in poor health and subject to attacks of despondency since the death of his father.

High Way.

The prices for hay in the upper peninsula are the highest ever paid at this time of the year. Good hay sells at $18 a ton and is scarce at that. It is predicted that before the winter is over hay will sell for $26 and more.

This condition will seriously handicap the work of the loggers in the timber regions of the northwest.

The State Fair.

The State fair held in Detroit closed on Friday. The fair management estimates that $20,000 was lost through bad weather Thursday and Friday, reducing the total profit somewhat.
However, between $15,000 and $20,000 has been saved by the association.
Concessionaires all made money and many of them have already applied for space for next year. One man wrote asking for space for the next ten years. The fair, in his respects the best ever held in the state and the work to make next year's show still better has already begun.

The Parke Case.

Letters written by a Kalamazoo man to Miss Inez Parke, of Ithaca, who died in Detroit from an operation, have been obtained by Detective Shepherd, who was sent from Detroit to investigate. The letters contain offers to pay the girl's medical expenses if she would submit to the operation. In Ithaca it was generally supposed that Miss Parke and a certain man were engaged to be married, but intimate friends of the girl say that the man later jilted her.

While little 6-year-old Lucille Pal- ment, of Menominee, sat playing on the kitchen floor her mother dropped a kettle of boiling water and fatally scalded the child.

soup offered by a Marshall saloonkeeper,
and it cost him $75 at the U. of M.
hospital at Ann Arbor to have a bone
which lodged in his throat removed
by a specialist.

MICHIGAN BRIEFS.

Work begins on Owosso's new postoffice this week.

Survivors of Co. M, First Michigan cavalry, a portion of Custer's brigade, held the 24th annual reunion in Traverse City.

Samuel and Hugh Schafer, aged 2 and 4 years, of Ontonagon, died of banana poisoning, and two others were made ill.

A section of the old state road near Davison has dropped, and though plumbed to a depth of 80 feet no bottom was reached.

In a ball game between local business men, Fred Luckie collided with another player and several bones in his face were broken.

Cholera has attacked Calumet country hogs, and farmers have united to employ an expert from the M. A. C. to stamp out the disease.

William Shultz, 65, who was known in Niles as the man who lived his entire life on one farm, is dead. A widow and five daughters survive.

Lawton T. Hemans, of Mason, was nominated for the constitutional convention by the Democratic committee of the Shiawassee-Ingham district.

Traces of oil have been discovered in a well sunk 1,300 feet in Ida township by the Strasburg Oil & Gas Co., operated by farmers of the vicinity.

Jay B. Eastman, aged 41, after escaping from the Ionia asylum, went to sleep under a railroad car at Durand and was killed when the train moved.

A reward of $200 has been offered by Fr. Biernowski of the Isadore church and school for the discovery of either Sister Mary or her dead body.

John Kincaid, a Quaker preacher, who brought his wife and two children from Columbus to Jackson a week ago, has disappeared, leaving them peniless.

William L. Brown, 76 years old, who for many years had driven a stage on different routes about Hastings, is dead as the result of a stroke of paralysis.

A horse owned by Charles Simpson, a farmer living near Port Huron, died while in a field, and remained in a standing position until removed by Simpson.

Walter Mey, a Saginaw boy who disappeared from his home 18 days ago, was located in Toledo. He says a tramp lured him away and compelled him to his home, told his wife he had killed a man and left the city.

Caught in the act of burglarizing a house in Niles, Harry Thompson, a negro, claiming to come from Detroit, is in jail. Three houses were burglarized Friday night.

Sheriff Watson has ordered the removal of all slot machines in Mason county. Frank Potkin, a Ludington saloonist, who was slow in obeying was arrested.

The Variety fruit farm, a large summer resort north of South Haven, was partially destroyed Thursday morning by fire caused by lightning. Loss about $5,000.

Dr. Michael Beschler, the last surviving of the class of 1854, University of Michigan, is dead in Trinidad, Collins. He founded two well known newspapers in that state.

Carpenters are putting up the framework for the roof of the new Grand Trunk depot in Pontiac and it will not be many weeks before the building will be ready for occupancy.

Alarmed at the absence of his wife, when he came home from his work at Durand, went to the barn and found her dead in an oat bin. She had been twined to a spike in the bin and wrapped the other end about her throat. Mrs. Van Wormer had been ill for some time. One daughter, Mrs. Kate Fuller, survives.

A broken brake rod, as is supposed, opened a switch on the Pere Marquette road at Okemos, and 18 cars of a west bound freight train were piled in a heap. The line was blocked for all day, and trains were detoured via Trowbridge and the Grand Trunk to Durand, then down the Ann Arbor road to Howell Junction, and there back on the Pere Marquette.

Apples are one crop which has done well in upper Michigan this season.
The yield of the fruit is unusually large. The biggest orchard in the peninsula is that planted some years ago by Louis Van Winkle, logger, farmer and stock raiser, in the vicinity of Gordon, Delta county, and which with the other extensive Van Winkle holdings was sold last year to a lumber company. The trees in this great tract are fairly loaded down with fruit, and apples of an excellent quality that are sold at $3 a barrel.

The Lucania takes the team of the Mariapone Cricket club, which will play a series of games in America, and Bishop F. J. O'Reilly.

Great Interest in New York.

New York, Sept. 9.—The advent of no ship was ever watched with keener interest than that displayed in the maiden voyage of the huge Cunard steamer Lucania.

The two great ships are commanded by two of the finest captains in the service. Capt. Watt, of the Lucania, and Capt. Barr, of the Lusitania. Each will know how to get every ounce out of his vessel. They are quiet mannered men and are expected to make the great race notable.

Shipping men expect that the Lusitania will not only win, but that she will break the transatlantic record now held by the Germans.
