businessman of Saginaw, was found dead in his apartment. His wife, Mrs.
Hawks and Frank W. Fletcher, the Alpena millionaire paper-magazine man, were active in Masonic circles. A widow survives.

It was the contention of Mr. Hawks that the lines of the new road crossed the tracks of the D. & M.
and that the company would not propose to serve certain cities in it and investors would lose a result.

man in his office, and he made a statement that he made no secret of his plan to elope with the Chinaman.

Although the attorney-general ruled the clerk of Genesee county was not compelled to submit to the board of arbitration, he did so.

The man was cleared and it was decided to submit the issue to the board of arbitration.

The girl is said to be the daughter of Charles and Schutte, a bridge-builder for the Pere Marquette railroad.

STORY OF JAMES T. BRADY AND A NEW YORK NEWSBOY.

Famous Lawyer Rescued Orphan From Poverty and Started Him On Way to Prosperity.

It is several years ago now, but this story was told me shortly after my admission to the bar; it left a lasting impression, written, William Bradway, in the New York Times.

One bright winter day he howled and whistled that night as it swept down over hills and around corners.

A lawyer, whose name was King, was walking along the street, when he saw a boy leaning against the lamp post; under his left arm were a few evening papers. He said, "What are you doing?" The boy said, "I've been broken so you could see his feet bare. His clothes were ragged, and he had not even a coat to stand there for an hour or more; hundreds of people had passed him. Not so the lawyer. One glance told him the story, he approached the boy, and said, "Come with me, I will help you." He was well nourished to do good work in school, and it was best when possible to give them a warm dinner at night. For the boy, who was a good boy, was not good enough to be a living creature.

His shoes were broken so you could see his feet bare. His clothes were ragged, and he had not even a coat to stand there for an hour or more; hundreds of people had passed him. Not so the lawyer. One

It is expected that there will be 1000 new houses in this city by the end of 1913 which means that one out of every 20 families will have an automobile.

During the campaign it was reported that the Michigan State Legislature in the cities of Saginaw against woman suffrage. It appears that the measure carried in many cities while in the country it lost out.

President Taft and Governor Osborne have each issued Thanksgiving proclamations naming Thursday, Nov. 28 as the day to give thanks, eat turkey, if you can get one, and have a good time. That is what the day stands for now.

B. W. Beske, democratic candidate for congress, who has a majority up to date, says the house of representatives passes up the return for his member, and that no contest can affect his majority as declared by the board of canvassers.

Capital Frank L. Blackman of Jackson, and Private Howard Jackson, of Ann Arbor members of the Michigan State Legislature, were elected with showing John E. Biggs in when Beske, and entered a pair of new gaiters. The case will come up next week.

We notice that the state railroad commission has ordered the Minneapolis, St. Paul and St. Louis to stop running. We wonder why they have the Lake Shore to charge passengers more than two cents where fare is paid on the trains of the main line. It is exorbitant, some call it robbery.

What is claimed will be the largest side-wheel steamer in the world, has been launched at the Manitowoc, Wisconsin, shipyards. It will be one of the first and have more modern improvements not now employed in any vessel. The boat will belong to the Cleveland and Buffalo line. One does not have to go to ocean ports to see great boats.

Summoned back into power after 16 years of chafing, it will be well for Democracy's leaders, national and local, if they make the distribution of prosperity rather than the division of spoils their chief aim. We recommend the following as a good example of the president-elect to his party workers, in Michigan whose capacity for office may get the better of their discretion. Their valid claim will fare better if not over with too much eagerness—Detroit News.

City newspapers and speakers are throwing it into boys for reading cheap novels, yet a prominent business man of Jackson, in remarking on the curious sights one may encounter in the course of a day, declared that he was not in the least bit surprised. He was well known and his wife of that city sitting in a "public place" devoting herself to the thrilling adventures of one, Nick Carter, detective, compiled in the form of a nickel novel. The couple were so deeply immersed in the narrative escape of Nick Carter, that they failed to notice the entire audience gathered on the stage of a number of people gathered in the immediate vicinity.

A merchant who has passed 2000 express companies for more years, and paid the exorbitant rates, a few days ago said that he would be glad when his parcel post was established. The express train has us in its grasp, and nobody seems capable of showing us how to escape from it unless through the parcel post, which would be an advantage to us.

The express train is the finest example of organized and legalized robbery ever consummated. No one individual seems to be to blame. It is simply an example of the eternal truth that power unrestricted tends to tyranny. External vigilance is the only way of liberty, but on the other hand, a people who allow their liberties to drift into the hands of the strong man get what they deserve.

LOCAL NEWS

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1912

The boys had the fire engine out for practice, Monday night.

People say that the new state reward road west of town is fine, that the bridge is finished.

The street commissioner gave the go-ahead on Exchange Place a g of cleaning Tuesday.

Farmers generally say that the system of making and maintaining bridges is better than the present system.

The picture show is closed. The proprietors thought it would be unprofitable driving over from Chelles in the winter.

A good many will no doubt go from here to Ann Arbor, Saturday, as the road game between Cornell and Michigan.

The recent sales did not leave the road in very bad condition though the roads have been having some pretty heavy loads over them.

It is stated that the new Michigan Central station now in course of construction at Detroit will be the tallest railroad station in the world.

Robert Marple moved into his new residence Monday. It is a modern and comfortable home and nice looking within. Marple and his family enjoy it.

Work on the waterworks is going along owing to scarcity of men. The job will be completed the fall unless favorable weather continues for several weeks.

The weather was not so cold Saturday but the wind blew quite hard making it disagreeable, especially in the forenoon. Sunday was a beautiful day.

No sooner had the result of the election been announced than the scramble for office began. We learn that there are several candidates mentioned for position in this village.

We learn that A. B. Spiney of the Detroit sanitarium who visits Manchester professionally two or three times a year will give a free lecture at arbiters hall on the evening of his next visit. Dec. 4.

Country voters are generally opposed to voting yes on constitutional amendment. They are afraid that those fellows who are not as good and believe that the men who framed the constitution were as well as far seeing.

Those who oppose woman's suffrage are taking on contesting the election. It is claimed that the question was not properly stated on the ballot in this country and if this technicality is not removed the vote of those countries that question will be lost.

According to the recent electoral vote the position of the party tickets on the ballot in Michigan will be changed. Henceforth the republicans have occupied first place but hereafter the bull moose or progressive party will take that place, because they received more electoral votes than any other party.

The poultry association is planning a fowl show next month. Both sides of poultry they will have an exhibit of apples, corn, etc. with the good and the bad along with the others. It is planned to make selections now of choice samples of apples, corn, etc. An exhibition of these and other products will be of interest and benefit to this village and surrounding country, and should be well patronized.

Other counties than Washington are planning to provide work for tramps and minor prisoners while confined in jail. Providing work on the roads seems to be popular. If it is not possible, the paupers may be put to work, even during the winter, instead of letting them sit around and play cards and tell stories. There will not be an opportunity for the vicious and low prisoners to teach the innocent the many ways of vice if they are kept at work.

There are a few persons—some are new comers—in the village and vicinity who are not subscribers to the ENTERPRISE to whom we are sending a special column with the hope that they will be soon to be our regular friends. See an advertisement in another column.

Jackson County.

The second annual apple show at Jackson last week was a great success. David Woodward of Clinton helped award prizes.

Mr. John C. Sharp has given what was known as the Merriman farm of nearly 800 acres to the city of Jackson to be used as a park, and an endowment to maintain it.

"I am not going to be severe with a poor defenseless boy like you," said Judge Parkinson of Jackson, when passing sentence. "When the board of pardons comes, if the board of pardons rules that you are a good boy, the judges that have been sent up. Some of the worst forgers that have ever been sentenced from this country have been released within a year. When the board of pardons does that with these men, I am not going to be severe with a boy like you." The lad pleaded guilty to forging a check for $40.
