MAKING IT POPULAR.

The puzzled Mexican looked at the crisp bills which had just been handed him for his horse feed.

"Where did these come from?"

"From my printshop," replied the jovial Villa. "I had 'em made."

"Are they good?"

The eminent leader slipped his six-shooter from his belt.

"Are they good?" he satirically repeated. "Say it again."

"Of course they are!" the frightened man admitted. There he dropped the roll in the crown of his sombrero and pulled the latter tightly on his perspiring head.

"I don't seem to find any trouble in putting this new issue in circulation," chuckled the fighting chief. He shoved the gun back in its holster and strode away. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

GERMANS DIRECT VIOLENT CHARGES AT A LIÉS CENTER

Reports From Belgium Say That Fighting Has Occurred Within Four Miles of Antwerp—King Albert Is Active.

London—A Central News dispatch from Rome says the following telegram has been received there from Petrograd:

"The right wing of the Austrians has been driven beyond the Carpathians into Hungary, where they are being pursued by the Russians. The Austrian debacle is complete and they have lost all their artillery. The Austrian left wing has retreated to Craiova. The Russians have occupied another of the forts of Przemysl."

In an official statement issued shortly after 6 o'clock Monday night the official bureau confirmed the report that the British positions are again under severe pressure. It insisted, however, that the Germans had made no gains and that, although here and there the French have made some gains, there is no real change in the situation. The statement said:

"It certainly is.

Patience—Do you ever look back over the past?

Patrice—Why, that's the only way one can look at the past.

PARIS CLAIMS GAINS ON WEST

German Line Holding Firm, and Even Making Advances. Declares Berlin—Series of Battles Seems Likely to Continue for Some Time—Official Announcement From Berlin Says There Is Nothing New to Report.

There is nothing new to report.

While the battle of the allies and the Germans continues along the entire front in France, there has been relatively no change in the position of the armies. The hardest fighting apparently is proceeding on the eastern and western ends of the lines, the allies on the west end are endeavoring to encircle the Germans and the east the Germans are trying to break through the allies' lines in the vicinity of Verdun and the Vosges.

Monday's attack on the line between the River Aisne and the Argonne marks the last point on which the kaiser has tried, by means of concentrated assault on each strategic point on the hundred-mile front, to turn the tide of battle. According to dispatches from the front, this last attempt was the most violent of the war. Column after column was pushed forward despite the devastating fire from well-placed French batteries. Passing through the attacking forces were met by French who, aided by their Turco-comrades, successfully held their own.

After hours of this ineffectual and costly battle, the German forces were withdrawn again to their fortified lines north of the French positions.

Fight Near Antwerp.

Fighting has occurred within four miles of Antwerp, according to Amsterdam dispatches. Belgian outposts won in a clash at Sivhouet, four miles east of the capital.

King Albert is personally leading his army in its endeavor to harass the Germans. There has been sharp fighting at Termonde, 16 miles east of Ghent and at Roistade, two miles further to the east. At the latter place the Germans were driven back after several hours and lost some of their heavy artillery which had become mired.

A special dispatch from W. T. Massey, the London Telegraph correspondent, from a town in France the name of which is deleted by a censor, says:

"The situation on the Aisne and Oise appears to be this:

"The Germans clearly regard this as the best road to Paris and are determined to make another attempt to gain it. While continuing to engage the British lines, they are throwing almost their entire weight against the French troops on our left."

The allies are making progress against the enemy's right flank, according to an official statement, and, although the Paris war office admits that the Germans gained some ground it adds that the territory was immediately regained and the invaders were repulsed.

On the heights of the Meuse, where the German attack has been the strongest, the French are holding their ground, but the Germans have succeeded in maintaining their positions on the west bank of the river. Wireless advices from Berlin declare that the Germans have silenced the fort of Verdun on the Meuse.

The allied troops, whose gaps had been filled with freshly arrived reinforcements, not only repeatedly thrust back the masses of Germans thrown against them but eventually carried out a successful counter-attack which resulted in the taking of considerable ground and the capture of Peronne, about which town the fierce engagement occurred.

Many Germans Near Reims.

Further toward the east, near Berry-au-Bac on the Aisne north of Reims, there appears to be concentrated a large German force which has stolidly occupied strong intrenchments from which it is most difficult to dislodge them. Hereabouts the fighting has been of a desultory character, with, however, slight advantage in favor of the allies.

The men of both armies in this vicinity seem to be enjoying their rest.

On the eastern wing the Germans come from German sources carry reports which are diametrically opposite of the foregoing. These say that the flanking movement of the allies on the German right wing have failed and that the battle there has come to a standstill.

These messages say there has been no fighting on the center, but that the German left has taken Varennes, attacked the fort to the south of Verdun, and repulsed sorties from Verdun and Toul. The Germans are said to be bombarding the towns of Troyes-Paroche, Camp des Romaines, and Lionville (Lironville).

It is also claimed that French troops in French Lorraine and on the border of Alsace have been repulsed.

Something Must Give Way Soon.

London, Sept. 27.—Almost simultaneously the two great hammer strokes in the battle in northern France have fallen and some decisive result must be announced before long.

The allies have struck the German right wing and the Germans, on their part, have buried themselves against the French line between Verdun and Toul.

The commencement of these two attacks in earnest was disclosed by the French official statement issued this afternoon, but little is told of how they are progressing.

The action against the German right is described as a violent one in which the French left encountered an army corps composed of troops which the Germans brought from the center of Verdun and the Vosges.

The clash occurred in the district between Tergnier and St. Quentin, so that the allies have made a considerable advance to the northwest since the last mention was made of this part of their army.

The French report admits that the Germans have succeeded in gaining a footing on the Meuse heights and have pushed forward in the direction of St. Mihiel, bombarding the forts of Pauches and the Roman Camp, which face each other across the Meuse.

The communication, however, adds that, on the other hand, to the south of Verdun the French remain masters of the heights of the Meuse and that their troops, debouching from Toul, have advanced in the region of Bapaume.

Little News From Berlin.

Berlin, via London, Sept. 27.—The following announcement, dated September 24, has been given out at army headquarters:

"In the western theater of the war today there have been some minor engagements, but nothing of importance has transpired."

"There is no news from Belgium or the eastern war area."

Allies Gain Ground.

On the Battle Front, Sept. 26.—The German offensive was extremely vigorous today at the western end of the long line stretching along the rivers Oise, Aisne and Meuse.

The allied troops, whose gaps had been filled with freshly arrived reinforcements, not only repeatedly thrust back the masses of Germans thrown against them but eventually carried out a successful counter-attack which resulted in the taking of considerable ground and the capture of Peronne, about which town the fierce engagement occurred.

The Russians have captured the city of Rezonv.

The line from Rezonv to Craonne is now believed to be almost, if not quite, undefended, and the Russian problem for the present is merely a problem of rapid marching and maintaining a constant following of supply trains from the northeast.

Tells of German Casualties.

An official report, issued at Berlin, gives the total German casualties killed, wounded and missing—to date as 104,539. A list just issued announces 10,527 casualties in addition to those previously reported.

The tabulation of the figures covers nearly four columns in the Berliner Tageblatt. The total casualties include:

Killed, 13,674; wounded, 65,998; missing, 23,007.

Claims Made by Germans.

London, Sept. 26.—Measures which will be taken to help the German people are to be decided at a conference of county and town councils at Kassel.

For nearly 40 years the news never for Manchester and surrounding towns. We write every day of the river, and see all. We want to know what you know. If it's worth telling to the public, we want to tell it. We want your advertisement, your job printing, your lithography.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bragel of Tecumseh and Mrs. Bragel's mother, visited at Jacob Bragel's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pease left Tuesday for a ten day's visit with friends in Iowa and Mountain counties.

J. H. Kueppel did not attend the republican state convention at Kalamazo, though a delegate.

Fred Freeman went to Van Derpool's lake Saturday night to visit friends then went to Ann Arbor Sunday.

Clint Farrell Odon drove here in his car to visit his parents and today he has gone to the Hillsdale fair.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jackson left Monday for a few weeks' visit with relatives at Hillsdale, Jackson and Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Albrecht of Freedburg buried a ten-day-old baby girl at oak grove, Monday, Sept. 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tag and daughter Mrs. Alice Knowles and Miss Viola Schenck of Adrian spent Sunday at Frank Lessow's.

Mr. Jacob Schumaker and Mrs. E. W. Pease to Ann Arbor Tuesday to attend the funeral of their sister Mrs. Caroline Lutz.

We received a pleasant call Saturday from Mr. and Mrs. Bert L. Mays of River Junction. Mrs. Mays was formerly Eddie Lockard.

We learn that Mr. E. P. Ailes of Ypsilanti, who has been spending the summer with his son Elmer and wife in town, is expected home this week.

Mrs. Adeline Vogelbacher who was ill from cholera last week, has nearly recovered. Her mother, who had been ill for several weeks, is somewhat better.

Ross Granger, democratic candidate for sheriff, Carl A. Lehman, candidate for attorney, George W. Beckel, candidate for county clerk, drove from Ann Arbor and made the Enterprise a friendly and beatiful place this morning.

A telegram from Frankfort says that a big black bear followed an Hossie woman who was returning from a call with a neighbor. Bear had probably never heard a noise like that woman made and hiked for the swamp where he was seen the following day by a boy. We will bet that our friend E. Mays and probably John Orme are out after that bear skin.

The funeral of our venerable townswoman and civil war veteran, J. E. Teter, was held at the Evangelical church last Friday afternoon and was attended by G. A. R. and W. R. C. besides a large number of relatives and friends. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Frank S. Lyon of Jackson, nephew of deceased who was buried in the same year ago in the same church but who was occupied by the baptists. Among those who came here to attend the funeral of Mr. Teter were Geo. Tuck and son Alton and daughter Hazel of Tecumseh; Mr. & Mrs. Warren Mann, and Herbert Teter of Union City; Wm. Brabton, Mr. & Mrs. George Brabton and daughter Mrs. Mary Brabton; Mr. & Mrs. Robert H. Hough and wife; Mr. & Mrs. Warren Hough and son of Tecumseh; Mr. & Mrs. Floyd Smith of Addison; Mr. & Mrs. Orlando Gray of Tecumseh; Mr. & Mrs. LaVera East of Cleveland; Mrs. Gertrude of Denver and Rev. Frank Lyons of Jackson.

Frequently we have heard farmers who had been to the fair say "I had taken my horse, cows or hog, I could have sold it, but they didn't have any cash for it, mind your own business and tell no lies, don't get gay and deceive your wife, pay your debts, use Enterprise, and buy from those who advertise."

There are usually a number of auctions in the fall or early winter. Some farmers want to leave the farm at the close of the year's work. Some renters want to change and we want all to know that the Enterprise would like to print auction bills for them if they expect to sell out.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1914

The state teacher's association will hold a two day's meeting at Kalamazo, Oct. 29 and 30.

This has certainly been a delightful fall for automobile riding, and a great many have taken advantage of it.

This week comes the fair. They have been very good, all of them, and well patronized. Next year there will be a great change made and an improvement too.

There are some good apples in the country but not in the crop in this season compared with other years. Every farmer should spray his trees to get rid of insects.

The first page of the Enterprise has been pretty well devoted to giving as reliable and interesting war news as can be obtained. By this means some state news has been crowded out.

It is claimed by the Germans that we do not get the truth of the victories won by them, because of the British censors. How does it come that we get so many pictures of guns, etc., captured by the Germans.

Farmers in various parts of the state will be in the warm weather continue which will be there will be danger of some more severe accidents appearing and inflicting injury. You they need it to ripen corn, potato, etc.
