

WATERED SECURITIES

By Peter Radford.

Much has been said and more written about the evils of watered stock in big business concerns and the farmers of this nation believe that every dollar written into the life of any business organization, should be able to say "I know that my Redeemer liveth," but farming is the biggest business on earth, and there is more water in its financial transaction than that of any other industry. There is as much water in a farmer's note drawing eight or ten per cent interest where four or five per cent per annum, as there is in a business paying a reasonable compensation upon the face value of securities representing an investment of only fifty cents on the dollar. The only difference is, the water in the interest rate in one instance and in the securities in the other.

The promoter oftentimes takes chances and his success is contingent upon the development of the property involved but the usurer, as a rule, takes no chances and his success cripples the property involved. There may be industries that cry louder but none that suffer more severely from financial immorality in both law and custom than that of agriculture.

The farmers of America today are paying $200,000,000 per annum in usury on real estate and chattel loans, and this interest capitalized at five per cent, represents $4,000,000,000 of fictitious values which the farmer is paying interest on. This sum of money is almost equal to the annual value of crops produced in the United States.

The earning power of the farmer's note based upon his interest rate very nearly divides like the earth's surface—three-fourths water and one-fourth land. The largest body of water that floats upon the financial hemisphere now rests upon the farms and its waves are dashing and its billows are rolling against seven million homes threatening ruin and disaster to the prosperity of the nation. Will our public servants who understand how to drain the liquid off industrial properties turn the faucet and let the water off the farms?

It is an admitted economic fact that there can be no permanent prosperity without a permanent agriculture.

Agriculture is recognized as the greatest of all industries and a prosperous, progressive and enlightened agricultural population is the surest safeguard of civilization.

WILL DETERMINE BOUNDARY LINE

OHIO AND MICHIGAN TO CO-OPERATE TO SETTLE LONG STANDING DISPUTE.

LAST SURVEY WAS IN 1842

Old Markers Have Been Obliterated By Time—New Line Will Be Permanently Indicated By Concrete and Steel.

Lansing—Michigan and Ohio will co-operate in re-establishing the boundary line between the two states. Both states, by legislative enactment, have provided for a survey of the disputed territory, reports on the results to be made to the two legislatures two years hence.

The Michigan-Ohio boundary line was last surveyed in 1842. At that time the line was marked by wooden posts and blazed trees, which have long since disappeared. Michigan still retains the original notes of the survey of 1842. They constitute the only existing record of the line then established, as neither the federal government nor the state of Ohio preserved the records.

Because of the general confusion as to the exact location of the state line in recent years, thousands of acres of valuable lands have escaped taxation entirely, it is asserted. Many farms along the boundary are believed to be in both states—and the question of jurisdiction have arisen to preclude a fair taxation of the property.

If the new survey is officially adopted by the Michigan and Ohio legislatures, it is planned to establish the line permanently by the use of granite and concrete markers at the ends of the line, at the section lines.

Michigan's end of the survey will be under the direction of State Geologist B. C. Allen, of Lansing.

VAST SUM RAISED FOR BELGIANS

AMERICAN COMMISSION WILL HAVE RAISED $65,000,000 BY AUGUST.

PAPER CURRENCY RESTORED

Work Has Been Carried On With Great Success and Seventy-Five Per Cent of People Are Being Fed.

London—The American commission for relief in Belgium will have provided food to the approximate value of $65,000,000 for the Belgian people by the middle of August.

Charitable contributions from America will have amounted to $5,000,000 and donations from other quarters of the world will reach approximately the same total. The bulk of the food supplies representing the remaining $55,000,000 is being provided indirectly by the Belgian people themselves. Fully 75 per cent of the Belgian people are being supplied with food by the commission without recourse to charity and bread is now cheaper in Belgium than in London.

When the commission was formed last October under the chairmanship of Herbert Clark Hoover, it was estimated the total imports required to keep the population of Belgium alive would mount in value to about $50,000,000 before the next harvest. The rise in the price of foodstuffs increased the amount to $65,000,000.

The greatest problem was that food sold in Belgium to those who still had resources were paid for in paper. The entire metallic currency disappeared early in the war. Paper money had no value outside of Belgium and was depreciated there. The commission therefore announced it would accept all paper issued in payment for bread. This at once restored paper currency to its full value.

The cycle of credit was re-established and many thousands of well-to-do persons were saved from the bread line. Before this machinery was set up, virtually the whole population was dependent on the world's charity. The initial appeal of the commission therefor were made on behalf of the seven millions of people. With the success of these financial efforts, however, all of the people still able to pay for their food were made self-dependent. The commission estimated it would cost about $2,000,000 a month to support the destitute. Having a complete monopoly of the importation of foodstuffs it was decided to fix the price of bread so it would show a small profit.

FAMOUS MERCHANT IS DEAD

S. H. Knox, Founder of Five and Ten Cent Stores, Passes Away.

HIGH NAVAL OFFICER AT REVIEW OF SHIPS

PRESIDENT WILSON

WILSON REVIEWS ARMADA

President Wilson was the dinner guest of Admiral Fletcher aboard the Wyoming on the evening of the review.

New York—America's armada, the Atlantic fleet Monday greeted its commander-in-chief, President Wilson, for the first time.

The president and his party were quartered on the presidential yacht Mayflower, which arrived here at 11:15 Sunday night and anchored off Forty-first street in the Hudson. The "floating government," including Secretary Daniels, Lane, Redfield and Wilson, with the president's party, was greeted by an enormous crowd when the president left the Mayflower at 9:30 to go to the reviewing stand on Fifth avenue to view the land parade.

A mighty armada of battleships, destroyers, submarines and auxiliary craft, the nation's bulwark in case of war, swung at anchor in the Hudson River, groomed for the review.

The most powerful array of fighting ships ever assembled in an American port, 64 in all, the fleet stretched for four miles in a double line of solemn array, but touched with gayety where pennants and ensigns streamed from fighting top and masthead in honor of the occasion. Each battleship was in readiness to tender out the presidential salute of 21 guns when the naval yacht Mayflower, with the president on the bridge, passed it in the afternoon.

The president boarded the Mayflower at 2 o'clock, and the review was started immediately. Secretary Daniels, Secretary Lane, Secretary Redfield and Secretary Wilson accompanied the president.

President Wilson kept up a constant stream of questions to those about him. He asked about the armament and crew of each ship, and often expressed his pleasure.

The frequent playing of the national anthem kept the president's head bared during most of the review. Despite the mist, he refused to keep his hat on.

"I have too much respect for the fleet and the anthem," he remarked.

The naval review, preceded in the forenoon by a land parade, was the chief ceremonial feature of the ten days' visit of the Atlantic fleet to this port. Tuesday the demonstration ended with the departure of the fleet for a naval war game along the Atlantic coast.

GOVERNOR SIGNS WATKINS BILL

PERMITS FOREIGN BONDS TO BE PUT ON TAX LIST LIKE MORTGAGES.

FORTY OTHER LAWS SIGNED

Senator Murtha's Hundred Thousand Dollars Anti-Tuberculosis Measure Is Among These Approved.

Lansing—Running very close to the ten-day time limit, Governor Ferris Monday signed the Watkins municipal bond bill.

The bill permits the foreign bonds to come to Michigan at a price which many bankers say will be away below the price of Michigan's own municipal bonds, thus beating state issues in their own market. As the law stands now, the foreign bonds are taxable like general property. The Watkins bill, however, takes them off the general tax rolls and makes them class with mortgages, which pay only the specific one-half of one per cent mortgage tax.

The governor signed 40 other measures Monday afternoon after his arrival at the capital, few of them of much consequence. The only one of much importance was the Schmidt measure, permitting student and commercial travelers to vote while away from home. This bill merely puts into effect the amendment to the constitution on which the people voted last fall.

The governor also placed his signature on the bill appropriating $100,000 for the work of a tuberculosis survey. This is the bill which was introduced by Senator Murtha after the ways and means committee of the house had buried all tuberculosis appropriations in their waste basket.

STRIKE CASES ARE DROPPED

Indictments Against Moyer and Others Nolle at Calumet.

Calumet—A nolle prosequi was entered Monday in the case against President C. H. Moyer and 37 officials of the Western Federation of Miners indicted on charges of conspiracy by the Houghton county grand jury as a result of alleged acts of violence said to have been committed during the copper strike.

The order was made by Judge P. H. O'Brien, in the Baraga county circuit at Calumet, on motion of Prosecutor W. J. Galbraith, of Houghton county.

The indictment, which was so worded as to charge a misdemeanor, was returned January 15, 1914, and contained three counts. The first and second counts alleged that President Moyer and 37 other officials and members of the union had conspired to prevent employees of mining companies affected by the strike, from pursuing their lawful vocations.

The third count alleged that the conspiracy extended to an attempt to deprive the laborers generally of their property and rights.

Among the 38 men indicted were C. E. Mahoney, vice-president of the Western Federation of Miners, and Guy Miller, J. C. Lowrey, W. P. Davidson and Yanko Torisch, members of the executive committee of the union. The other defendants were officers and members of the four local units which the federation's Michigan organization was divided.

EIGHT STORES ARE BURNED

Flushing Suffers Heavy Fire Loss Early Sunday Morning.

Flushing—Eight stores in Flushing were destroyed by fire early Sunday morning and three others were damaged by fire and water.

The stores which were destroyed and including the Flushing public library, were all in a long one-story cement building, which was erected by Ira T. Sayre three years ago. The loss is estimated at $25,000, partially covered by insurance.

The blaze was discovered at about 2:30 o'clock in the bakery of J. H. Dubbs, but the cause is unknown.

The Flint fire department was called about an hour later and kept the fire from spreading to any great extent.

Mr. Sayre estimates his loss on the building at $8,000, with $1200 insurance. Other losses are: J. H. Dubbs, confectionery and bakery and photographic gallery, loss, $3,000; insurance, $500; Miss Catherine Shillinger, millinery, dressmaking and personal belongings, loss, $1,700; insurance, $500; Reo, Halleck grocery store, loss, $4,500; insurance, $3,000; Flushing public library, loss, $800; insurance, $250; George Hodgkinson, meat market, loss, $500, no insurance.

Henry Luckhardt has removed the frame addition from the old stone building used for years as a planing mill, bean factory and monumental works respectively. He also has the foundation laid for a new residence just east of the stone building. Henry will make a good looking corner of the place and have a fine place to live and carry on his extensive poultry business.

The officers of the S. W. F. M. Fire Ins. Co., met at the Peoples bank last Saturday afternoon to adjust a loss incurred by Oliver Mull on the Chicago turnpike, on the south western line of the township. Part of his property is in Lenawee county and is insured in the Lenawee mutual, but the fire was in Washington county. Some farming tools were included in the fire loss but as they were not in a building insured by the Lenawee company, we understand they refused to consider the claim. He will get $300 from the Southern Washington.

During a quiet moment on the east side, Saturday morning Will Attenbent's horses hitched to a stock rack, took a notion to relieve themselves of a little surplus energy by running down Ann Arbor street. Will had left them standing in the road and when he ran to catch them he was knocked down by one of the horses, but was not injured. A lad who was in the wagon caught up the lines and succeeded in preventing the team from running into "The Enterprise office or Nick Senger's place. He headed them up Jefferson street which is freshly graveled and soon brought them to a stop. Will said that he thought that he was working them so hard that they would not care to run.

Why Not Eastern Standard Time

There has always been so much opposition to central standard time because it was about 30 minutes slower than what we call sun time in Manchester, that but few would use it at all. The school, churches, stores and offices nearly everyone uses sun time. The Enterprise, the hotel and perhaps the post office use standard time. If we said that it was a nuisance having two times, you would say, then why don't you adopt sun time? Sun time is not a standard time and can never be made so. The thing for all to do is to agree on a certain time for a standard time, and all to set their watches and clocks to that standard, then the trouble of a variation in time would be eliminated. As we stated before the objection to central standard time is because it is nearly 30 minutes slower than so called sun time, and farmers and others want to get up and get to work even earlier than sun time.

As Detroit and some other eastern Michigan cities have adopted eastern standard time which is one hour earlier than central standard time, why would it not be a good idea for Manchester to adopt it, then if all would set their watches and clocks to eastern standard time, when we made an appointment for a certain hour or went to a six o'clock dinner, we would not have to ask "what time" but would be on time because our watches would tell us exactly when to go.

The Enterprise would submit this to the village council, school board churches and society officers and to its readers generally, for their early consideration.

How Many Fish You May Catch

The new fish law will make it very weary sport for most of us expert fishermen. We never (?) catch small fish, but hate to be limited in number to 25 of a kind.

It provides that blue gills, sun fish, rock bass, white bass, calico bass, perch, wall eyed pike and crappies shall be regulated by length as follows: blue gills and sun fish, five inches; rock bass, white bass and calico bass, six inches; perch and crappies, five inches; wall eyed pike, 10 inches. Only 25 of any of the different species can be taken in one day and no fish taken from the inland waters can be sold or offered for sale. It prevents the possession of any kind of net, except dip nets for the purpose of taking fish and no person can have any net except dip net, jack or artificial light of any kind, dynamite, giant powder or any explosive substance or combination of substances within one half mile of any inland lake or stream; and makes it prima facie evidence of a violation of the law for any person to have any such contrivance for the purpose of taking fish within such limit.

Destruction Of A Landmark

In the demolition of the old stone and brick building that stood near the center of blocks 1 and 4 corner of Duncan and Beaufort streets in this village to give way to the erection of modern residences, one of the oldest and best known land marks of the village was wiped out.

The rear of the building constructed of cobble stones, was erected by a man named Dudley for a bakery way back in the early youth of our fine village. Strickland & Morgan built a brewery on the corner west, near the river bank and pursued quite a business for many years but we cannot learn that the bakery ever baked.

Later on Dudley built a brick addition in front where he lived and died. Since the recollection of the oldest inhabitant the house was also occupied by Rix and Stringham families. Miss Mattie Stringham now Mrs. H. L. Root, who is a daughter of the late Nicholas Stringham, was the last to live there but now it has disappeared.

GOOD DISHES.

When cooking onions or preparing them to use fresh, add a little soda to the sliced onions and let stand in cold water for ten minutes, rinse, and they are ready for use. Soyer, the great paper bag expert, is credited with this wisdom. People who cannot otherwise eat onions can enjoy them prepared thus.

German Goulash.—Boil two pounds of flank beef until tender, then put through a meat grinder. Add to the liquor saved from the boiled beef, a pound of cornmeal and cook until the meal is well cooked, a half-hour will do; then mix with it the meat, season well with pepper and salt and cool in a deep dish. When wanted to use, cut slices and fry a deep brown. This will keep some time.

Potato Pancakes.—Peel and grate six potatoes which have stood in cold water to harden. Mix one grated onion with the potato, two eggs, a half teaspoonful of baking powder and flour to make a thin batter. Fry in cakes until a deep brown.

Macaroni With Mutton.—Brown in butter a few slices of cold mutton and arrange them on a platter. Chop half an onion, fry in butter and add a cupful of stock, one cupful of tomato pulp with salt and pepper to season; bring to the boiling point, add a cupful of macaroni, cooked in salted water and drained. Stir all together over the fire and serve hot, poured around the meat heaped in the center of the platter.

California Liver en Casserole.—Fry until crisp and brown five slices of bacon. Add to the hot fat one dozen potato balls, one dozen carrot balls, one stalk of celery, diced, and six sliced onions. Cook very slowly for ten minutes, then place in the casserole. Wash the sliced liver and lay on top of the vegetables, add seasonings, a tablespoonful of kitchen bouquet, cover with a pint of boiling water and cook well covered for an hour. Do not remove the cover while it is cooking.

FOR THE LOBSTER LOVER.

Where lobsters are to be obtained fresh and in good condition, there is no more highly prized delicacy. It is not so many years ago that we were taught to plunge live lobsters into boiling water to kill them. We have learned that this is unnecessary cruelty, as they can be quickly killed by thrusting a sharp knife into the back between the body and tail shell; death will occur at once. For those of us who have endured the sensation of dropping a lively lobster into a kettle of water and felt like a murderer, this method will seem easy.

Lobsters which are full of motion and heavy are fresh and good. If the tail of a boiled lobster is lifted and springs back to its curled condition its freshness is assured. If this test fails, reject the lobster, as it is too long dead. The coral of lobster is red; the spaw is green before it is cooked, when it turns red, as do lobsters, as they are green before boiling.

A broiled lobster is a most delicious dish and one in which the epicure delights. Kill the lobster as described, and split down the back with a sharp knife and mallet, remove the stomach and intestines; the stomach is directly under the head, the intestines run the length of the tail piece and are often colorless, so must not be overlooked. Place the two pieces with the shell part over the heat and broil for a half hour or longer. When half-cooked, season generously with butter, and when thoroughly cooked add butter, salt and lemon juice. Crack the claws before serving.

A Boiled Lobster.—Buy lobsters that are alive and kill them as above, then drop them into a gallon of boiling water, in which a fourth of a pound of salt has been dissolved. Plunge and completely cook the lobster and cook from twenty-five minutes to three-quarters of an hour, depending upon the weight of the lobster. If cooked too long the meat will be tough. Break off the claws, crack them at the joints and pick out the meat. Garnish the lobster with the claws and use the shell to serve it in if so desired.

SPRING DISHES.

This is the time when the dandelion greens as well as other growing green things should be often served. Perhaps you may find a few bunches of blanched dandelion plants which have been growing under a board; they will be white, crisp and delicate. Wash and cut them, adding a bit of chopped onion and oil with vinegar, salt and pepper. The delicate bitter of the dandelion makes them especially well liked and a good tonic.

Veal Fricassee.—Cut a piece of the breast of veal into small pieces and fry in butter until brown, sprinkle with flour, salt, nutmeg; add a bit of bay leaf and a few peppercorns, cover with water and cook slowly for an hour on the back of the stove or over very slow heat. Beat two eggs, mix with a little of the gravy, then add to the meat. Serve on a hot platter with the gravy poured over the meat.

Liver Dumplings.—Put a half pound of calf's liver through a meat grinder. Soak a thick slice of bread in water and squeeze dry. Put a tablespoonful of butter into a frying pan, add salt and pepper to taste. Beat three eggs and pour into the pan. Now mix the liver with the gravy. Roll out some crackers, make balls of the liver, dip in cracker crumbs and add to any good beef soup. Cook until well done. Serve with the soup.

Nuts and Eggs on Toast.—Toast slices of bread, butter well and serve with three eggs, half a cupful of chopped nut meats, one tablespoonful of cream and a dash of pepper and salt; stir all together, turn into a skillet in which a tablespoonful of olive oil has been heated. Mix and stir as it thickens. Serve on the toast when firm.

A thin slice of pineapple put on a buttered slice of bread spread with cream cheese makes a most dainty sandwich. A pretty dish and one which is most palatable is green peas cooked in very little water seasoned with butter and poured over hard cooked eggs cut in eight.

Celery root cooked until tender and served in a sour sauce, either hollandaise or piquante, makes a palatable salad for a change.

ORANGE DISHES.

Oranges are adapted to many dishes, as well as drinks; they make good soup, puddings, salads and desserts, not to mention cakes and cake fillings. Oranges sliced and sprinkled with sugar are a delicious sauce to serve with cake and will thus take the place of a dessert.

Combined with stale cake and custard, oranges form a most delicious dessert. Orangeade.—Take two cupfuls of orange juice, add 1½ cupfuls of sugar, one cupful of strained cranberry sauce and two quarts of water. Boil the sugar and water together for five minutes, then cool and add the strained juice. Garnish the glass with a thin slice of orange or a bit of the peel hung on the edge of the glass.

Orange Puffs.—Take a cupful of flour, and a half cupful of sugar, a half cupful of milk; sift with the flour a teaspoonful of baking powder with a half teaspoonful of salt, add one egg, beaten; add one tablespoonful of melted butter, flavor with the grated rind of an orange. Steam in buttered cups 25 minutes and serve with orange sauce.

Orange Sauce.—The juice of two oranges, one cup of boiling water, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, four tablespoonfuls of sugar. Mix the sugar and cornstarch and add the water, cook until the starch is well-cooked; add a tablespoonful of butter and the orange juice with a little grated rind.

Orange Salad.—Serve neat slices of orange on lettuce with a dressing of oil and vinegar. This is especially good with game. Another nice way to serve it is in overlapping slices on a long salad dish garnished with candied cherries. Oranges and grapes with a bit of pineapple is another fine combination for a fruit salad. Sponge cake flavored with orange and served with an orange filling, then frosted with an icing flavored with lemon juice and orange-rind is a delicious dessert.

It Was Her Day to Be Absent.

"Some fellows can sure pull down the money easy," growled J. Fuller Gloom. "For instance the person who wrote a recent article of a column and a half telling about the traveling man who smiled and smiled on an aggravating trip because he felt that when he reached his own home his dear, sweet wife would fall into his arms with a great gush of joy. But when he got home the wife was absent, of course, as every real married man would know."—Kansas City Star.

The Laugh Is Here.

And now the cats are as responsible as the dogs for spreading disease. By and by we will get to the horses and the birds. We shall be indeed fortunate if, under all these circumstances, we preserve our sense of humor.—New Haven Courier-Journal.

The Reason.

"I see they hazed that new student by rubbing jam through his hair." "That was only because they wanted his new sweet impressions to stick."

Use Mailing Tubes.

An excellent receptacle for sending flowers by post is a mailing tube. Lay the waxed paper in such a shape that they will fit the tube. Sprinkle lightly with water. Place a bunch of wet cotton or tissue paper at the ends of the stems. Roll the flowers up carefully in the paper and twist the ends securely. Slide them into the tube. The paper which wraps the tube should be large enough to tuck in at the ends to prevent the flowers from slipping.

How Bacteria Live Forever.

Bacteria may be properly described as immortal, because when they attain an age of fifteen minutes they each divide in two and continue so dividing indefinitely. If all the conditions were ideal one bacterium would in twenty-four hours become forty thousand billion billion.

Scared Him Off.

"Was your new dress very costly?" "Very. Papa told my fiancé what it cost him, and he has disappeared."

THROWS TRICKY CURVE

Larry Cheney of Cubs Possesses Most Deceptive Ball.

Manager Bresnahan Says It Is So Elusive That No Batter Can Hit It and No Backstop Can Hold It—Called Knuckle Ball.

Roger Bresnahan, manager of the Cubs, says that Larry Cheney possesses the most deceptive ball that was ever twirled by a pitcher. It's so deceptive, says Roger, that not only can no slugger lay his bat against it, but no backstop can catch the elusive sphere.

It's a knuckle ball with such a break that Roger once leaped to catch one and the ball broke and cracked him on the forehead. Upon another occasion Roger thought he would catch the sphere at his neck and it broke and slammed him in the stomach, and with such force that Roger doubled up like a jack-knife and spent the remainder of the afternoon on the rubbing table.

Roger says that a catcher should really wear a chest protector, a mask and shin guards when warming up Cheney—that is if he is going to signal for the knuckle.

"If Cheney ever gets control of that ball," said Roger, "there isn't a batter in the game who will be able to touch it. And there is a mighty good chance that he will get control too, for he was able to put it where he wished occasionally last season. "Cheney pulled it on me last summer. I was warming him up one day when he said: 'Roger, I'm going to give you a knuckle ball.' "Come right along," I said. "You won't feel sore if it cracks you in the ribs?" said he.

"Well, I've caught some pretty good pitchers' was my comeback. 'I've always been able to make 'em hit the big nut.' "Well, he cut loose. That ball came straight as a string and not very fast. Looked like I was going to grab it at my neck. That's where the ball hit me. When that ball was within four feet of me it took a downward shoot. The next thing I remember, I was lying with my face in the grass, for I was warning him up near the clubhouse. Ever have anything hit you a good, solid blow in the pit of the stomach? You have? That's how I felt.

"When I recovered I wanted to know all about it. Cheney showed me. He held that ball firmly against the first joints of his right hand. Then he clasped it tightly with his thumb and threw it just as he would a spit-ter or a fast one."

NOVEL ANGLES OF BASEBALL

Cold and Dismal Day When Leaders Do Not Come to Bat With Some Diverting Proposition.

It is a very cold and dismal day when the leaders of baseball do not come to bat with some diverting proposition. The latest is to close up the gates of a whole lot of little baseball teams and give the public a rest a little while.

It is rather significant that most of this revolutionary talk has followed the activities of the Federal league. Before the entry of this organization into the field there was comparatively little talk about baseball difficulties. The game seemed to be doing well; salaries were supposed to be reasonable and attendance was pretty fair. Now managers bewail the unnecessary high cost of getting players and the lack of public patronage.

There is no denying the fact that baseball is in a somewhat precarious condition. But I think there are enough brains and money in baseball in this country to work out a pretty fair solution of the difficulties, says a writer in Milwaukee Sentinel. If those who are most concerned will get together on a reasonable basis I have no doubt they will work out a plan which will be satisfactory to themselves and to the public. When this is done there will be no distinction between the Federal and other leagues. Until this is done, there is likely to be difficulty.

Highlanders Have Bulky Pay Roll. It is Catcher Nunamaker's tip that the New York Americans' pay roll is bulkier than that of the Boston Red Sox. The Nebraska boy is drawing $6,000 from the New York club, and his three-year contract is just commencing. That's a much taller figure than he got in Boston. Nunamaker hints strongly that, barring Speaker and Wood, the Red Sox pay roll is anything but overly large; in fact, the club has a host of high-grade workmen playing for but $3,000 to $3,200.

Bert Coy Released. Bert Coy of the San Francisco Seals has been tendered his outright release.

MANAGER MCGRAW RELEASES STAR PLAYERS

(By FRANK G. MENKE.)

It begins to look as if the most certain way for a ball player to become a star is for John McGraw to pronounce him not worth his keep.

Cincinnati became famous as a place for fellows to get their real start by being fired, but John of the Giants has been giving Garry Herrmann's outfit a close battle of late. John had George Chalmers on his roster this spring, but after watching George throughout the spring season, John decided George wouldn't do. So he pointed to the gate and George went his way—jobless.

George hung around the polo ground when the Phillies made their visit recently, and looked so sorrowful that Pat Moran, manager of the Quaker town crowd, offered him a job. George accepted.

"McGraw says you ain't any good," said Pat to George. "I think you are. Now you go ahead and show me. The first job you get is against the Giants."

George "faced his once-time Giant teammates, beat them 6 to 1, and allowed them two hits.

Al Demaree might be called exhibit B in this case. McGraw thought so little of Demaree that he traded him to the Phillies along with Milton Stock for Hans Lobert. Demaree's first appearance was against the Giants and he shut them out.

The story concerning Dick Rudolph was printed from one end of the land to the other last year. John once owned Dick, but didn't think much of him. So he turned him loose and Dick eventually landed with the Braves and materially assisted in pitching them into the world championship.

Hankerin'us Gowdy could have been a Giant regular. But McGraw couldn't see him. Stallings could, and Gowdy today ranks as one of the best fielding backstops in the game, and as the greatest slugging catcher in any league.

Charley Herzog has few equals as a third sacker. But McGraw let him go to Cincinnati. If Herzog had been kept by McGraw in 1914, a different story might have been written about the world series, because the weakness at third lost at least a half dozen games for the Giants. Of course, Herzog was let go partly for friendship's sake—but should friendship figure in baseball?

McGraw had a chance to grab Edward Trowbridge Collins. Red Ames was traded by McGraw to Cincinnati for Art Fromme and another player. Ames pitched great ball for the Reds last season, while Fromme floundered badly.

Heinie Groh was considered of major league caliber by McGraw. He let the mite go to Cincinnati where he developed into one of the very best basemen in the game.

Beals Becker, who is fielding in sensational style and hammering the ball to all portions of the lots for the Phillies, is a Giant castoff. He would look mighty grand in the wobbly Giants' outfield just now.

And these are only a few of the most recent folks that John canned, and who did a "come-forward" as soon as they hopped into another uniform.

NOTES of the DIAMOND

Dick Egan, Brooklyn infielder, has been purchased by Boston.

The Toronto club has sold catcher Kirchell to the Richmond club.

Jack Bliss, catcher for the Venice Tigers, has drawn his unconditional release.

Cincinnati critic comes out in nonpareil type saying that Bancroft can't bunt or run bases.

Cleveland fans resent the cruel charge that their city is a farm for the New Orleans club.

The Memphis club has released unconditionally Hubert Taylor, a young infielder of Senatobia, Miss.

The Buffalo club has secured second baseman Frank Truesdale from the New York American club.

Manager Fatsy Donovan of Buffalo, has signed another pitcher, C. E. Moore, last year with Springfield.

Outfielder Clemens, the slugger of the Texas league last year, has reported to Rochester by way of St. Louis.

The ball players are not greatly worked up over the refusal of the national commission to grant the latest requests.

A Texan has invented a crutch that folds into a camp stool. We recommend it to Joe Cantillon for use of his ball players.

In the New York state league, Manager Joe O'Rourke of Albany, has signed pitcher Jacobs of the Philadelphia National club.

Cincinnati critics are praising Fritz Mollwitz to the skies, and some of them claim he is the best first baseman in the league today.

New Orleans took the palm for attendance on opening day, when 10,610 paid spectators witnessed the opening of the new Heintzman field.

Joe Schultz appears to have clinched the job of guarding third for the Brooklyn club. He has an easy, graceful style of hitting and steps into the ball fearlessly.

President Barrow of the International league, announces that Messrs. Solomon and Medius paid $40,000 for the Ebbets-McKeever holdings in the Newark club.

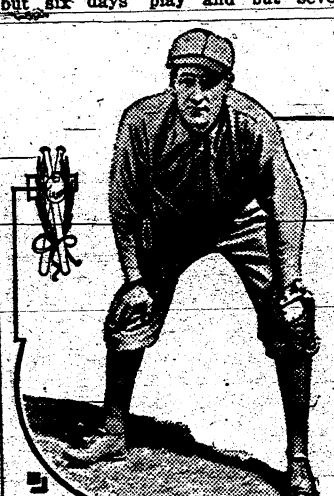

Evidently Artie Hoffman thinks Lee Magee is just the kind of a manager Lee Magee thinks Artie is a ball player. The era of grand opera temperaments in baseball appears to be with us still.

RECORD FOR STEADY PLAYING

In Eight Years of Play Captain George McBride of Washington Has Missed But Seven Contests.

Years ago there was a wonderful ball player who was always injured at the critical stages of a pennant race, and it is estimated that injuries, which kept this player out of the game for weeks, and even months, had deprived his club of three pennants. Fans and scribes admitted his worth as a player, but came to the conclusion that he was not of such great value to the club because he was out of the game so much.

Figuring on this basis, which is undoubtedly correct, George McBride is the most valuable man that can be found anywhere. In eight years of major league playing McBride has missed but six days' play and but seven games, all told, a double-header being played on one occasion. This is indeed a remarkable record and is of great importance when one considers that McBride has always been considered the keynote to the Washington infield and its headiest and steadiest performer.

In this respect Sam Crawford is also a remarkable character. He has missed only one game in four seasons, and has not missed any since the middle of 1911.

Sweet on Eddie Appleton. Manager Wilbert Robinson of the Brooklyn club believes that Eddie Appleton will prove the star of his rookie twirlers the coming season. Appleton comes to the Brooklyn club from Fort Worth and has a record of having pitched three no-hit games in the Texas league.

Records Mixed? Richmond of the International league has signed a pitcher named Meadows, who hails from Mount St. Joseph's college. It is stated that he has a record of striking out 21 men in a no-hit game. This sounds suspiciously like the record credited to Lee Meadows of the St. Louis Cardinals. Can it be the records are mixed?

Good-Season for Jackson. Judging from the way Joe Jackson has been whaling the ball, the slugger is due for another sensational season.

His Own Windows.

A woman had been arrested for throwing stones through the windows of a building on Pacific avenue and her lawyer, "Indignation" Jones, had applied to Judge Goggin for a writ of habeas corpus.

After the facts had been recited without comment, Judge Goggin exclaimed:

"Hold on there. What number did you say that was?"

"Number 16."

"That's my property. I'll pay the fine myself, but don't break the windows again."

Andrew L. Ludy, 1044 Monroe Ave., Detroit, Mich., says: "I had kidney trouble and inflammation of the bladder. The pains in my back were severe and during some attacks, I couldn't sit or stand. Mornings I was so lame and tired I could hardly get up and my nerves were all unstrung. On the doctor's advice, I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they restored me to good health."

Sick Women Made Well

Reliable evidence is abundant that women are constantly being restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The many testimonial letters that we are continually publishing in the newspapers—hundreds of them—are all genuine, true and unsolicited expressions of heartfelt gratitude for the freedom from suffering that has come to these women solely through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Money could not buy nor any kind of influence obtain such recommendations; you may depend upon it that any testimonial we publish is honest and true—if you have any doubt of this write to the women whose true names and addresses are always given, and learn for yourself.

Read this one from Mrs. Waters:

CANBES, N.J.—"I was sick for two years with nervous spells, and my kidneys were affected. I had a doctor all the time and used a galvanic battery, but nothing did me any good. I was not able to go to bed, but spent my time on a couch or in a sleeping chair, and soon became almost a skeleton. Finally my doctor went away for his health, and my husband heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got me some. In two months I got well and now I am like a new woman and am at my usual weight. I recommend your medicine to every one and so does my husband."—Mrs. THURMAN WATERS, 530 Mechanic Street, Camden, N.J.

From Hanover, Penn.

HANOVER, PA.—"I was a very weak woman and suffered from bearing down pains and backache. I had been married over four years and had no children. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved an excellent remedy for it made me a well woman. After taking a few bottles my pains disappeared, and we now have one of the finest boy babies you ever saw."—Mrs. C. A. RICKBORN, R.F.D., No. 5, Hanover, Pa.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman continue to suffer without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail

SCHOOL

"A man of courage never wants a weapon" has been the motto for the week.

The grades are preparing for a cantata which will be given June 11th. Class day exercises will be given June 13th.

With this week another month of school closes and we are now on the home run. Parents should examine report cards and co-operate with the teachers.

Eighth grade examinations were held at the high school last Thursday and Friday in accordance with arrangements made by County Superintendent Essery at which 44 rural pupils were present. Miss Conklin gave her pupils the same work. Friday afternoon tests were given in physiology and geography to the 7th grade.

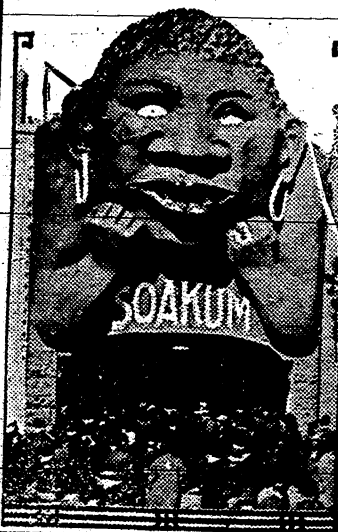

Speaking of the games between Manchester high and Brooklyn high, the Exponent says: "Last week Wednesday at Manchester, Brooklyn was defeated by the close margin of 3 to 2 in the best game played this year. Manchester came to Brooklyn Tuesday and won again by a 10 to 3 score. Fielding errors and wild pegs by Brooklyn were responsible for the better showing of the visitors."

On the high school grounds last Thursday afternoon Manchester high school base ball team defeated Clinton high school by a score of 13 to 6. The game was well played by M. H. S. and makes them six victories and one defeat. Batteries M. H. S., Chase and Riedel, Clinton-Mahrle, Way and Parker. The feature of the game was a home run by Chase. The Manchester rooters went wild with delight and Postmaster Schmid presented the hero with a 50 cent silver piece and Supt. Smith gave him a ball club.

Six of the members of the senior class entered the contest for the best written production on thought, composition and originality to be decided by a committee of the alumni association. The following committee will act, Fred Field of Hastings, Mrs. Edith-Case Norton of Aurora, Ill., Herbert D. Witherell of Chelsea, Mrs. Emma Leeson-Fitch of Allegan and Julius Wuerthner of Great Falls, Mont. Copies of the orations have been forwarded to the committee and the decision will be made known the evening of the alumni re-union.

In honor of the class of 1915, Miss Kirchhofer entertained the seniors and teachers at her home last Friday evening. The evening was pleasantly spent. After "Progressive Conversation," "Pictures and Poems of Art," "The Meeting of the 12 Misses," the 28 guests were seated in the dining room which had been appropriately decorated and refreshments served. Selections on the victrola were given after which the sentiment on the place cards of the guests were read and created no little pleasure. After the singing of school songs, the company departed. Each member of the senior class received a gift in remembrance of the good times he had had.

Daniel Webster's Plow at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. One of the most valuable exhibits commercially, in the Agricultural Palace at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, is an ancient plow displayed in the Massachusetts exhibit, and forming a striking contrast to the highly-complex modern machinery displayed on the acreage of floor about it.

The plow owes its distinction to the circumstance that a hundred years ago Daniel Webster's youthful hands guided it along the furrows of his father's farm near Marshfield, Mass. It was drawn by a yoke of oxen and if the future peer of American orators and statesmen could turn an acre of sod a day he had to work from daylight to dark.

The Star Spangled Banner

Oh, say, can you see by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars thro' the perilous fight,

O'er the ramparts we watch'd, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there,
Oh, say, does that Star Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

On the shore dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected, now shines on the stream:
'Tis the Star Spangled Banner; oh, long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

And where is that band who so vauntingly swore,
That the havoc of war and the battle's confusion,
A home and a country should leave us no more?
Their blood has wash'd out their foul footsteps' pollution.
No refuge could save the hireling and slave
From the terror of flight or the gloom of the grave:
And the Star Spangled Banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Oh, thus be it ever when freemen shall stand
Between their loved homes and wild war's desolation;
Blessed with victory and peace, may the heav'n-rescued land
Praise the power that has made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: "In God is our trust!"
And the Star Spangled Banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

KNOW THY COUNTRY

I-Introductory

"Know America" is a slogan that should ring out from every school room, office, farm and shop in this nation. No man can aspire to a higher honor than to become a capable citizen, and no one can merit so distinguished a title until he is well informed of the resources, possibilities and achievements of our country.

This is a commercial age and civilization is bearing its most golden fruit in America. We are noted for our industrial achievements as Egypt was noted for her pyramids; Jerusalem for her religion; Greece for her art; Phoenicia for her fleets; Chaldea for her astronomy and Rome for her laws. Likewise we have men who will go down in the world's history as powerful products of their age. For standing at the source of every gigantic movement that sways civilization is a great man. The greatest minds travel in the greatest direction and the commercial geniuses of this age would have been the sculptors, poets, philosophers, architects and artists of earlier civilizations.

As Michael Angelo took a rock and with a chisel hewed it into the image of an angel that ever beckons mankind upward and onward, Hiram the carpenter of the Northwest and with hands of steel made it blossom like a rose, dotted the valleys with happy homes and built cities in waste places. As Gutenberg took blocks of wood and whittled them into an alphabet and made a printing press that flashed education across the continent like a ray of light upon a new born world, McCulloch took a bar of iron and bent it into a reaper and with one sweep of his magic mind broke the shackles that enslaved labor of generations yet unborn, and gave mankind freedom from drudgery, and lifted the human race into a higher zone of life.

As Nelson organized the English navy and made England mistress of the sea, enabling the British Isles to plant her flag upon every continent washed by the ocean's waves, and to make footstools of the Islands of every water, Morgan organized a banking system that has made America master of the world's finances, brought Kings to our cashier's windows, the nations of the earth to our discount desks and placed under the industries of this nation a financial system as solid as the Rock of Gibraltar.

There is no study quite so interesting as progress; no saga so magic as the roar of industry and no sight so inspiring as civilization in action. A full realization of America's part in the great events of the world past, present and future will thrill every human heart with pride, patriotism and faith in Republican institutions. Through the courtesy of the Agricultural and Commercial Press Service, the readers of this paper will be permitted to study America; her agricultural, manufacturing and mineral development, mercantile, banking and transportation systems which are the wonder of the world. The first article of the series will deal with transportation and will appear at an early date.

The World in Epitome Shown by Displays in the Vast Exhibit Palaces at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

Today the great Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco is being widely exploited throughout the world by the millions of sight-seers who have visited the exposition since its opening on February 20th last as the most beautiful, comprehensive and interesting universal exposition that the world has ever known. The wonderful exhibit palaces house the treasures of the earth, while the grounds, planted to millions of rare bushes, are a gorgeous mass of color and fragrance. To the visitor entering the gates for the first time, either by night or day, the scene is certain to hold the newcomer spellbound, as the vast panorama unfolds bit by bit before the gaze and the eye wanders from one beauty spot to another in an endless chain of amazing surprises. Entering the main gate at Scott street, for its giant sprays sparkling and flashing in the light of the warm California sun by day, or assuming the appearance of masses of flowing flames by night under the powerful beams of the great batteries of searchlights trained upon this work of art. As the spell is lifted the eye falls upon the Tower of Jewels, the great center piece of the exposition, and again attention is arrested until the eye has conquered the dizzy heights of this gem-studded tower, every cornice and figure sending forth its share of dazzling lights.

The world's advance in all branches of art, science and industry is amazingly portrayed in the exhibits. Among the electrical exhibits, for example, is the Audion amplifier, invented by Lee De Forest. Through this invention the visitor in the Liberal Arts palace is enabled to converse over Atlantic coast and may hear the voice of the speaker in greater volume than was actually given into the transmitting telephone. The intensity of the sound is increased by passing through heat waves. Today it is possible for an orator in New York city to address through the telephone a large audience at San Francisco, the sound being increased so that it is of power great enough to fill a large hall. This stage advance in the development of the telephone is paralleled in hundreds of other lines. The railroads have made low round trip rates and ample and reasonable accommodations are to be had in San Francisco and the adjoining cities.
