

STATE RAILROAD RATES INCREASED

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION ALLOWS RAISE OF FREIGHT RATES.

AMOUNTS TO ABOUT 5 PER CENT

Classes Affected Constitute 25 Per Cent of the Total Tonnage in This District.

Lansing—By disallowing rearrangement of freight rates on 100 classes in the state and 100 classes in the nation, the interstate commerce commission at Washington suspended proposed higher rates in Michigan, but granted a percentage of them.

Through adjustments of "logical" ratings the commission suggested new tariffs allowing the railroad men equipment to raise rates on 100 classes of freight constituting 25 per cent of the tonnage in this district.

In granting these increases in class freight rates, the commission in nearly every case left the railroads more than they asked.

Some of the increases are indicated in the following table:

Five hundred miles—75 cents per 100 pounds; new rate, 16 cents.
One hundred miles—Old rate, 25.2 cents per 100 pounds; new rate, 30 cents.
Two hundred miles—Old rate, 34.7 cents per 100 pounds; new rate, 40 cents.
Four hundred and fifty miles—Old rate, 47.3 cents per 100 pounds; new rate, 53 cents.

STATE SOLDIERS TO BE INSURED

War Board Will Take Out Policies If Federal Government Does Not

Lansing—Consideration being given in Washington to the proposal to insure the soldiers and sailors in the war, in lieu of pensions, is attracting much interest among the members of the Michigan war board.

The board is busy, waiting for some time to see just what the federal government would do.

In the bill authorizing the $5,000,000 loan to the board, it is provided that part of the amount loaned be used for soldiers' pensions. It was estimated that an insurance fund for soldiers. For a time some inquiry was made tending toward some plan on a workmen's compensation basis, but the whole matter was dropped pending action by the federal authorities.

In case congress does not act, or in case it should leave out the pension part, the Michigan war board, or other Michigan troops, the state war board will act in some way.

RED CROSS IN NEED OF BANDAGES

Army Surgeons Forced to Use Old Rags to Dress Wounds.

Lansing—Michigan has been asked to an appeal sent out by the state Red Cross board to begin at once to produce a continuous supply of bandages and surgical supplies for immediate use.

The need of bandages and surgical supplies as a result of the recent heavy fighting and the difficulty of obtaining raw materials to make them has caused all allied surgeons to be compelled to use rags and newspapers in the dressing of wounds. The need, as American troops reach the front, is urgent, and the Red Cross will grow greater, and the Red Cross with every county in Michigan freshly organized is calling attention to the fact that the Red Cross is ready to help in any way it can produce bandages and dressings in a steady stream.

So far, the need of bandages and dressings, however, that the Red Cross is warming well meaning individuals and organizations to obtain surgical materials before the fall comes. Surgeons complain that the Red Cross instructions is highly important.

Evolution of the Collar.

It is interesting to trace the evolution of the modern collar from those ancient ruffs that filled up the space between the shoulders and the ends of white ruffles. In the seventeenth century the ruffs gave place to the wide collar of lace or plain that rolled out over the shoulders.
