WOMEN REPLACE MEN IN POSTAL SERVICE

The government is setting an example in the employment of women wherever possible in order to release men for war work. The picture shows women assorting the incoming mail in the Washington post office, work which formerly was performed by men.

VALUE OF PLAY

By DR. SAMUEL DIXON.
Commissioner of Health of Pennsylvania.

Most people would say that play's first requisite was that it should consist of something one doesn't have to do. Play is in reality, however, of all sorts and descriptions. Those that produce something useful besides giving rest are greatly to be preferred. There are many sorts equally stimulating to the mind and to the body and productive of valuable results.

One essential to beneficial play is that it be wholesome and be performed in a healthy way. We have pure moving air of the right temperature and preferably sunlight.

The body should be maintained in such position as to permit an even circulation of the blood and normal respiration. The object of the exercise would otherwise be very much discounted. The air carries food to the blood which it furnishes to the tissues, and the blood in turn takes away the debris and returns it to the outside atmosphere. This will make plain to any reader the necessity of what has been said about the proper environment in which to exercise.

Unless the blood is supplied with what nature has provided for her normal function, the digestive system will fail and the body will be wanting in nourishment. But when this condition takes place man becomes susceptible to the disease germs that are ever present in the atmosphere. The greatest safety is to be found in keeping up the resistance.

Various types of work properly adjusted will often substitute for what is generally known as play. For instance, one's brain center may become weary at a monotonous occupation, and a decided change of occupation, notwithstanding it be what we usually call work, will permit the first brain work.

But we come back to the fact that what most people regard as play is an occupation that they are not required to perform, and it would seem from a psychological standpoint, to give greater rest if it be an occupation that is particularly useless from the standpoint of producing economic results.

Therefore there should be time set aside in the work of the day, no matter whether it be varied or not, when the environment may be changed and play should be taken up.

I speak of games in a broad sense. For instance, after sitting at a task for a given number of hours, a walk in the open air, the body held erect and the limbs swinging so as to produce circulation, and attention given to surroundings so that the mind may be occupied and contented, constitutes one of the best kinds of play, preferably performed in company.

In these times it is well to remember the simple saying of the old days that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.

Men's and Women's Shoes and Rubbers

You all know the condition of the Shoe and Leather Market. Prices for Spring will be much higher. Some merchants have bought cheaper shoes, but we have bought the same old reliable lines and have priced them very moderately. Every shoe we own is a bargain.

Linens and Cottons

In many instances we are selling Linens and Cottons below their actual market value at wholesale. Now is the time to stock up on Table Spreads, Sheets, and Pillow Cases and Bed Spreads—prices will go much higher. Comparison with retail prices in various parts of the country leads us to believe that we are offering our merchandise at an exceptionally low figure.

Wool Dress Goods

We have an extra large stock of Wool Dress Goods bought at old prices and offered to you at very moderate prices during January. Buy material for that Dress or Suit now, even if you carry it over until next fall before making it up, it will pay.

Men's, Women's and Children's Underwear

The Underwear situation promises to be serious next year. How serious we regard it, both as to scarcity and advanced prices, you may see when we tell you that we are buying Men's and Women's Underwear for next winter now, and having it delivered to us AT ONCE. With the largest stock we have ever had on hand, we still feel that it is only safe for us to protect ourselves and our customers as far as possible. We advise our customers to do the same, and buy their heavy underwear for next winter this season. We are sure we will save you money.

DODGE BROTHERS

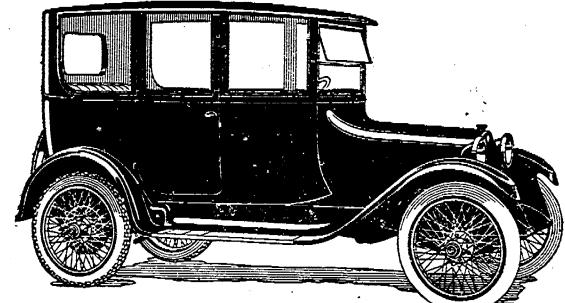

Because people think well of these cars, it is still impossible for Dodge Brothers to build enough of them. Seldom has there been a finer example of the force of friendly thoughts.

It is an inspiration and an encouragement to build well—because the reward, in America, is so great and so sure.

A Legal Courtship.

WAR ROADS TO BE ONLY ONES BUILT

GOVERNMENT REQUESTS STATE TO IMPROVE ONLY PARTS OF MILITARY VALUE.

MUNITION SHIPMENT PLANNED

Absolutely Necessary That Roads to State's Gateways on South Be Kept in Good Repair.

Lansing.—"War time" roads and no roads to be built in Michigan this year.

Commissioner of State Highways has sent out letters to each county commissioner asking for the plans of the controller for the year. The letter said that the controller of the government which has requested that only "war time" roads of military or commercial value, be constructed.

It is said in Michigan that the roads leading from the manufacturing cities into Detroit, and from those cities to the Lincoln highway in Indiana will get most of the road building.

The government plans his movement of munitions out of this state next summer by truck, and it is absolutely necessary that the roads leading to the gateways at the southern edge of the state be kept in tip-top shape.

With governmental control of railroads, the government can dictate where the roads shall be built.

STATE FACES HEAVY EXPENSE

Cost of Maintaining Institutions Sure to Be High This Year.

Lansing.—Michigan, as a government function, faces a year that is likely to prove the most strenuous in its history.

From a standpoint of finance 1918 will be the most costly ever experienced by the state government. The high cost of living, going upward as it is, is bound to increase the cost of maintaining state institutions.

Michiganans will be taxed.

Mary Louise Mead, 2 years old, was buried to death when she tipped over an oil stove in the home of her parents in Battle Creek. The child had been left unattended.

Clifford Lichard, of Saginaw, 15 years old, died from gunshot wounds received while hunting. A companion, Charles Brunner, 16 years old, fired at the deer, hitting Lichard in the head.

The Superior Coal Co. of St. Charles, is suing the Ann Arbor Railroad. The company claims the railroad has failed to furnish sufficient cars for their needs to transport coal from the New Haven mines.

Torsten Williams, of Manistee, 8 years old, is dead from poisoning received at an oil company.

Complete Mobilization Needed.

"I am sure that I am speaking the mind of all thoughtful Americans when I say that it is my duty as the representative of the people to do everything that is necessary to do to procure the complete mobilization of the whole resources of America as rapidly as possible.

It was in the true spirit of America and it was right, that we should first try to effect the necessary unification of the voluntary action of those who were willing to help, and then to provide for each of that number. This year, the auditor-general's vouchers ran over $36,000, and are bound to increase in 1918.

In the legislature of Michigan, the state will not wait for the first tide to fully enforce a state wide dry law. Michigan was "dry" before the war, and it is thought that the enforcement of the law was a joke. But the bone-dry law of 1918 will not be a joke. If the preparations which are already being made in state departments can be taken as a criterion, the bond vouchers.

The enforcement of the law is in the hands of the dairy and food commissioners who are responsible to the governor. It must have a lot of new assistants.

Much will depend, of course, on the willingness of the local authorities.

GUARD OFFICERS TRANSFERRED

Commanders of Michigan Companies Are Re-Assigned.

Camp MacArthur, Waco, Texas.—With the transfer of several Michigan artillery officers to Wisconsin batteries within the Thirteenth division there is to be a sweeping shakeup in the war department's policy involving the assignments of officers to this and other national guard organizations in the country.

That will mean greater efficiency if some of the officers commanding their batteries are promoted as far as seems to be the opinion of the regular army chieftains here, and they appear to be ready to try the plan out on a wide scale.

Re-assignment of 18 officers in the Fifty-seventh artillery brigade is the first step.

It is pointed out that if the plan is to stand throughout the division it will tend to eliminate completely any trace of the aviator corps.

WITH THE BOYS AT CAMP CUSTER

Examination for men who have been given an opportunity to try for the flying section of the aviation corps were held in camp.

Guards have been placed, through the day hours, at the two railroad crossings over the new concrete road into Custer, which points east and west recently were started at a narrow margin.

For the purpose of learning weather forecasting to be used in France, members of the Signal corps and members of the engineering corps of Camp Custer are taking courses of instruction under the direction of the weather bureau at Grand Rapids, San Jose, Lansing, Cleveland, Michigan, and other cities.

Some time ago an order was issued forbidding enlisted men to wear their uniforms, silk hats and other paraphernalia intended only for officers, and the order was strictly enforced by the military police for discipline.

The Michigan percentage rate established by the interstate commerce commission was set at 100 per cent, and that rate was to be observed when the subject of rates is broached.

CONGRESS IS FORCED TO ACT

Under Wording of Bill, Seized Unless Will Not Be Turned Back Unless Legislature So Provides.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The administration's policy in regard to the government control of the railroads was outlined by President Wilson in an address delivered at a joint session of Congress.

Bills to carry out the president's ideas already had been prepared under the supervision of the department of agriculture, and were introduced into both houses and senate.

Michigan farm agents are united in declaring statements that farmers are not doing their part in patriotic campaign.

A list of all citizens who made donations from the Red Cross to Port Huron, has been turned over to federal authorities.

The president spoke as follows:

"General, in the Congress, I have asked the president to address you in order to tell you that on the 28th of December last, during the recess of Congress, acting through the secretary of war, I issued an executive order to be carried into effect by the congress.

"I would suggest the average railroad operating income of the three years ending June 30, 1916, I earnestly recommend that these guarantees be given by appropriate legislation and that the same be put into effect under federal management such compensation as is equitable and just alike to their owners and to the general public."

"Deal Justly With Securities."

"I need not point out the essential usefulness and significance as elements of such guarantees and the great importance of the financial situation of the country. Indeed, one of the strong arguments for assuming control of the railroads at this time is the fact that the men who have been most instrumental in the war have been disabled by the war.

"The city council of Muskegon will grant exemption from tax payments to men who are disabled or disabled.

Michiganans will be taxed on their property to help the war.

People were never making so much money in their lives as the American people are making now.

Because everything is high-priced is not dreamy; it's a benefit if every thing is in proportion, because with high prices the chance of making a profit is better than when prices are low. In this country we are told to save. Now don't get the impression that you are to go to rags or half fed; that is not the case. You may not have the money to spend, but the best thing to do is to economize that cost money. Why if you patronize your neighbor he will patronize you. Everything is on the principle of supply and demand. You may require what I would not, and if you have the money to pay for it, it's not a wise idea to pay for it, for then you have to pay twice. But the idea is, not to waste—that's saving.

Automobiles used to be considered a luxury, now they have become a necessity. The demand for vehicles has caused to be built the greatest industrial plants in the world and thousands upon thousands of people are employed therein at big wages. You and I have autos. Will we relate them to the junk heap in order to save, and deny ourselves the pleasure of having them.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schill drove to Jerome Saturday afternoon, after attending a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. in that town.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schill are riding if we wish to, after the day's work is over? No, not by any means. What we spend for gasoline, oil and rubber will keep the men employed and they will spend their money for something we produce, paying a means of paying the wage tax.

The American people have just begun to learn how much they can do. Heretofore we have not given it a thought but in order to meet the demands of a war which was thrust upon us and which for two years or more we tried to keep out of, we have learned what we can do.

Herbert Lanning, who went to Florida with Clark Blythe and Lester Lanning, has just returned. The boys had been working at Jacksonville and went up into Alabama to help the boys there. They planned to meet its demands when it did come, we have to "take account of stock," as it were, in order to find out how much each must give if we expect to retain our liberty, wealth and home comforts.

As in the early days when a family had to eke out a living by eking through the woods with his good wife to hold the plow, continued to turn the virgin soil and a generous harvest was his reward, so we in these days of prosperity must turn a firm hold of whatever we are doing, and if we cannot sing or whist, or go to the songs of the birds and go merrily, why, it's all right, but if we bend to the task and do our best to "speed on the battle," we will not have to deny ourselves all the comforts we have struggled to secure in order to be more efficient, more productive. We must, however, remember to put "speed" into our work of production. Our Yankee ingenuity has helped wonderfully in the past and will again "show us the way" to meet and surmount every obstacle.

So we say: Keep on spending but spend judiciously.

The farmer who brings wood to town or even cuts wood for his use, thus leaving the coal for those who have wood, is doing his "bit" to help along, just the same as the boys who have enlisted. We can't all be warriors.

The people must furnish food and supplies for the soldiers and don't get the idea that the war is taking your boys away; it is taking some, but don't ever stop to think of the number who have left the farms during the past two years before the war started, to work in the factories, offices and stores, because they could earn better wages.

The Kaiser shows that he is aging fast. Wilson has got him on the run just as sure as the stars and stripes stand for liberty and freedom.

The latest photo of President Wilson shows that he is improving in appearance, and the press says that he is in better physical health than he has been for a long time. The Kaiser shows that he is aging fast. Wilson has got him on the run just as sure as the stars and stripes stand for liberty and freedom.

The unusually heavy drain this season upon the available supply of cordwood means that much of this will be cleaned up this winter, and if events follow their wonted course this will bring about a shortage in 1919. Men who have woodlots from which cordwood can be obtained and who have as well the labor necessary for cutting it, would do well to get out as large a supply as possible now. This green wood, if dried out during the coming year, will stand the state in good stead in 1919.
