SCHOOLS NEXT WEEK

Manchester Citizens Anticipate Very Successful and Pleasant Year
Of School Here.

The Manchester public schools will be open Tuesday, Sept. 2 for the first semester of 1919-20.

The instructors already engaged are:

A. A. Neverth, superintendent.
Gottlieb Jacob, principal.
Helen Finch, history and Latin.
Twila K. Hains, mathematics and English.

Julia M. Conklin, assistant.

Ada M. Stringham, intermediate.

Nellie Ackerson, primary Dept.

Edith C. White, ward school.

No change has been made in the course of study and very little in text books to be used. The expense of tuition, board, room, etc., has not advanced much and with the prospects of having a splendid school the coming year, a good many from the country are arranging to send their children here.

The catalogue gives full information and school board, the superintendent or the Enterprise will be very pleased to hand a copy to prospective students.

WASHTENAW COUNTY

Inquiry in regard to profiteering in this county was started in Ann Arbor Monday by Judge Sample and Prosecuting Attorney Fahrner. Several Ann Arbor merchants and some others are expected to be called before the judge. The investigation is to be behind closed doors.

Burley C. Whittaker, member of the county road commission, died of heart trouble and other complications at his home in Sylvan on Sunday. He was 41 years of age and leaves a widow and three children. He was a Knight Templar. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon.

The University School of Music has announced the complete list of concerts to be given in this year's pre-festive series. Not only does the list contain the names of the greatest artists of the day but the series has been increased to include six concerts instead of five as in the past; four strictly artist concerts and two performances by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of its distinguished conductor, Ossip Gabrilowitch. Of special interest to many friends of the university is the fact that the opening number in October by Geraldine Farrar will take place on the evening of the day of the great football contest between the University and the Michigan Agricultural College, thus making it possible for out of town parties to attend both events. The series is as follows:

October 18, Geraldine Farrar, soprano, assisted by Arthur Hackett, tenor, and Rosina Renard, pianist.

November 17, Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Ossip Gabrilowitch, conductor, Mrs. George B. Read, pianist.

December 4, Jascha Heifetz, violinist.

January 15, Riccardo Stracciari, baritone.

February 10, Josef Hofman, pianist.

March 8, Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

ARMY WORM MARCHING

Destructive Worms at Work in Some Parts of State—Two Ways to Fight Them.

The army worms, which derive their name from a habit of marching like an army from one field to another, destroying all crops they come in contact with, eating or cutting down practically everything, have attacked Sanilac, Huron and Tuscola counties. Reports indicate slight outbreaks in other parts of the state.

That the worms be checked in their efforts to spread or march to new fields is extremely important. Two methods are in common use. One depends on a barrier to keep the worms from spreading to new areas and the other is by means of poison bait which actually kills the worms. The barriers or ditches are of most use when the worms are marching and threatening new fields. The commonest barriers used consist of two or three deep furrows plowed eight or ten feet apart. Turn the furrows toward the advancing worms in order that when the worms tumble in the furrows they will have to climb up the smooth land side in order to get out, then when these furrows fill up turn them under, thereby leaving fresh furrows for the worms to fill. Army worms work at night and during lowery weather and therefore it will be necessary to keep watch of things all night for the few days that elapse before these worms get full size and descend into the ground.

Poison baits are most useful when the worms are scattered, and they may be used in addition to the ditching. The bait may be prepared as follows: Sift together one pound of paris green or three-fourths of a pound of white arsenic—not arsenate of lead—and 20 pounds of bran; add half a gallon of molasses or syrup and a little water and stir in three oranges or lemons ground fine in a food chopper, skins and all. This may be broad-casted over from two to five acres of land. It is very attractive to both cut-worms and to grasshoppers. Do not try to substitute any other poison for the Paris green or white arsenic. Neither arsenate of lead nor arsenate of calcium will do the work unless very large quantities of the poison are used. Neither should one use this bait where poultry are likely to pick up much of it, although the bait should be distributed in a finely broken up condition rather than in lumps.

HOW MICHIGAN LEADS

Highway Engineer and Highway Library Coming to University Of Michigan.

We learn that with the securing of Prof. Arthur H. Blanchard of Columbia University to fill the newly created chair of highway engineering at the U. of M., the Davis library of highway engineering, the largest of the kind in the world, will be brought to Ann Arbor. It contains books, periodicals and pamphlets upon the subject of highway engineering. If it has anything showing how to make a bad spot in the country road better instead of worse by a little work, then we would advise township overseers everywhere to drive over and read up. There is great need of it.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

With a large attendance of members, the annual reunion of the Parr family was held at Bennett Park, Toledo, on Saturday. The program was sad and the service flag was third in the breeze, several members of the family being still in the service of Uncle Sam. At the election of officers the following were chosen: Louis Parr of Charlotte, president; Clayton Parr of Manchester, secretary; Maynard Hartell of Metamora, Ohio, treasurer. Those who attended the reunion from here were Hiriam Parr and Clayton Parr and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lamming and son Roy, and William Lamming and family. The reunion next year will be held at Toledo.

Fishing has been good the past two weeks, but luck has been poor. In conversation with people who live near several of the inland lakes, we learn that there has been a considerable amount of spearing done, even under the very eye of a sharp game warden, and large quantities of fish have been taken out of the lakes. If these stories are true that may account for part of the poor luck of the fisherman lately. With the spear used in fall and spring and artificial bait used all summer there is a chance of the lakes being depopulated of fish. Every lake and stream in this section should be stocked with fish of various kinds every season.

Monday morning The Enterprise received a pleasant call from Wm. F. Traub of Chicago, who with his wife and family were making a trip to Detroit in a Hudson super-six, where Will will be a delegate to the National Fraternal Congress which met in Detroit commencing on Tuesday. We expect that they will stop here Saturday to visit his brother Martin Traub, and family. Will it will be remembered has been manufacturing ranges and cooking apparatus in Chicago. His many Manchester friends will be glad of an opportunity to meet him once more.

A letter from Corp. Herbert Lamming says he is still stationed in Germany, but doing not much of anything. He says it looks as though the government had forgotten they are there. Their captain left for home in June, since which time a lieutenant has given them official attention. The first division is expected to leave for home about Sept. 1, and Herbert has hopes of being among those who will get home about the middle of the month.

Miss Madeline Bertke was pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening when about 30 of her friends and neighbors arrived to help her celebrate her 17th birthday. The evening was spent in playing games and dancing, after which a supper was served and the guests each presented Miss Madeline with as many pennies as she was years old. To be sure, the jolly crowd wished her many more happy birthdays.

T. J. Farrell, who is the only resident member of the 28th Michigan regiment, expects to attend the 34th annual reunion at Jackson next Friday, Sept. 5. Thomas B. Blosser of Lansing is secretary and treasurer.

IN WELCOME PARADE

Decorated Cars and Floats Delight Astonished Spectators on Great Day Held Here.

The Welcome Home parade last week Wednesday was so extensive and meritorious that it was worthy of special mention but for lack of space we were unable to give it last week. There has been so much favorable comment from visitors and villagers during the past week that we are pleased to give the list of those who attended.

The parade started from Brighton field, passing east on Exchange Place and Jefferson street to Wolverine, south to Beaufort, north to Jefferson, west to public square. All along the line crowds of people assembled in thick masses and a continual clapping of hands showed their delight and appreciation. Following was the order of parade as it passed The Enterprise office:

Marschal Davison and aides. Manchester Liberty Band. Navy float.

Red Cross float. Bridgewater car. River Raisin Red Cross.

Sharon Soldiers' Aid.

Camp Fire Girls.

Tipton Band.

Officers G. A. R.

G. A. R. members.

Township Committee.

FOOD PRICES FIXED, INQUIRY REVEALS

TESTIMONY OF WHOLESALER AT LANSING HEARING SHOWS
WIDE-Spread COMBINE.

HAND OF BIG PACKERS SEEN

Selling Prices of Meats, Vegetables,
Sugar, Canned Goods and All
Other Staples Are Dictated.

Lansing—Prices of practically every staple food commodity are controlled by a corporation or association at some point along the line between the producer and the consumer, and, wherever that point may be, the big profits are likely to be found there or therabouts.

This is the essence of testimony taken in the state investigation into the high cost of living before Judge John West in the Ingham Circuit Court immediately after the list of secrecy was taken off the court's investigation.

Article after article was mentioned as having a fixed and unvarying price among dealers. Sugar, can salmon, canned vegetables, sugar, canned vegetables, cheese, condensed milk, lard, soap, coffee, canned fruits and so far as the city of Lansing is concerned, beans, eggs and bread were so quoted.

The packers, Ralph C. Clegg, president and general manager of the Northrop, Robinson & Clegg Co., which has just sold its wholesale business to the Warden Grocer Co., an alleged offshoot of Arthur Clegg, and Clegg, said there is nothing in his company's deal which can be bought in a market where there is competition in prices.

Mr. Clegg is returning from business, but for reasons which he would not disclose, he and several others have already been seized.

Big Rapids—While working on a three-story addition, Clarence Stephen of Grant Township was severely scalded about the face and body when a boiler bolt loosened.

Goblesville—Sparks from a threshing machine engine set fire to the Detroit-Castel Hall near this village.

The residence with most of the contents was destroyed.

Battle Creek—The Grand Trunk shops here won the honors for the lowest accident rate for the six months ending last July, in the shops of the western division.

Baltimore—Three children were killed in Patterson park when an airplane of the 88th Aero Squadron at Langley Field, Va., crashed into a fence behind a house.

Elmira—Elmer Clegg was driving through a fog when a doctor hit a wagon driven by Theodore Schwartz. The doctor was demolished, while the wagon came from the wagon, the horses dined of harness and neither man was injured.

Washington—A borrowed automobile of Elmer Clegg was driving through a fog when a doctor hit a wagon driven by Theodore Schwartz. The doctor was demolished, while the wagon came from the wagon, the horses dined of harness and neither man was injured.
