Didn't Play the Game.
She is a young woman of artistic talents and makes a snug fit of change manufacturing dainty bits of embroidery and fancy work. She was displaying samples of her handiwork in her home, the purpose being to sell her wares for Christmas gifts.

The other day an interested caller looked over the various displays.

"Here are some bridge table covers that many of my patrons admire," said the young woman of artistic talents.

"Not for me," the prospective customer replied. "I only play euchre." — Indianapolis News.

Seek Cheap Power Alcohol.
Gasoline users will be interested to know that the search for cheap sources of power alcohol still continues. A recent writer in Nature suggests that foodstuffs are too valuable at present for such uses, but thinks that waste land in Ireland might be used to produce crops to be utilized in this way. "Arrowroot, cassava and corn are possibilities in tropical countries; and a number of cellulose materials, such as straw and sawdust, offer possibilities in industrial regions."

Mummy's Wisdom.
"Mummy, may I have that chocolate you promised me now?"

"Bless the child! Didn't I tell you you shouldn't have any at all if you didn't keep quiet?"

"Yes, mummy."

"Well, the longer you keep quiet the sooner you'll get it." — Brooklyn Eagle.

ALSACE TO HAVE BIG SHOW

The city of Strasbourg, in Alsace-Lorraine, is already making preparations for a great international health exposition to be held in commemoration of the centennial anniversary of the birth of Louis Pasteur, discoverer of the germ origin of diseases. Following the example of the Columbian World's Fair at Chicago, which was known in yesterdays as the "Red" mill, was long owned by the late Albert A. Anderson.

The Globe mills are still grinding—or rolling we should now say—the power being supplied by a new plant, which is situated not far from the mills. The plant has been in operation about two weeks and is said to be working satisfactorily. The generator is of 250 kilowatt capacity and is so arranged that it can be started and stopped by the engineer at the main plant.

We understand that the electrical company has recently purchased the "Quaker" mill property, down the river, and will add that power to its system.

SATISFIED WITH NEW QUARTERS

George B. Sherwood Finds Life at Soldiers' Home Agreeable. Former townsmen George B. Sherwood, veteran of the Civil War who fought with the 1st Mich. Infantry and is at the Michigan soldiers' and sailors' home at Grand Rapids, wrote the Enterprise as follows: "Inclosed, please find $2.00 to pay for the paper until Jan. 1st, 1922. Please send it here to the home. Have been here almost two weeks and so far I have no fault to find. We get three good meals a day, a warm room and good rest; what more could we ask?"

Thinking we are getting all that is coming to us and I am satisfied. I am in the main building, Co. B, No. 47. Kind regards to all."

WAR MASCOT DEAD

The French press pays tribute to a hero of the war, whose death has just been announced. The hero in question was named Diamond, and was a cat that attached himself to the French in the lines before Amiens. Every day

Diamond might be seen threading its way through the entanglements to the German front trench. The bulls were afraid that some harm might come to their mascot, and in order to protect it they tied a packet of cigarettes around its neck before it started out on its daily ramble, bearing the words: "I bring you cigarettes; do not kill me." Diamond, being a war veteran, had a right to a comfortable

home when the armistice was signed,

and was sent to an animal's home superintended by the Countess Yurke-vic at Neuilly, where it died.

With the weight of its 25 years resting lightly on its head, the Shakespeare club had its quarter-century anniversary meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Waters, Thursday afternoon. Though of the original organizers, but three were present, the present personnel are imbued with enthusiasm and enjoyed the event keenly. The program was opened with an especially pleasing address of welcome by Mrs. R. M. Teeter, which was followed by "Auld Lang Syne," sung by Mrs. Sartor. The Federation Prayer was offered by Mrs. Henry Rushton. A Victrola selection, "The last rose of summer," was given and was followed by reading of a poem on Shakespeare by Miss Farrell, and an original poem by Mrs. C. E. Lewis of Ann Arbor. Mrs. F. A. Lehman and Mrs. Florence Case then read letters of congratulation and regret from absent and former members of the club, after which all joined in singing "Blessed be the tie that binds." After a Victrola selection, "Rainbow of Love," by McCormack, the company joined in reminiscences of the club and a general social visit during which Mrs. Florence Case displayed a large collection of autographs and programs of the club preserved throughout its history. They were a center of much interest. The meeting closed with a thoroughly enjoyed supper.

Recommending the history of the club it is found it was organized with eight charter members, as follows: Mrs. Florence Case, Mrs. C. E. Lewis, Miss Annette English, Mrs. Milo Rowe, Mrs. Florence Russell, Mrs. J. A. Goodyear, Mrs. M. D. Case, Mrs. Frank Palmer. Of these Mrs. Russell, Mrs. M. D. Case and Mrs. Goodyear have passed to the great beyond.

Of the original eight, those present at the anniversary meeting were Miss English, Mrs. Florence Case and Mrs. C. E. Lewis.

Why build new cottages? Why not repair old ones? These were the questions asked by the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, in England, and another question asked by the society took a veritable relic of old

England, five centuries old, if a single cent, in the shape of two dwellings under one roof.

The thick timbers, seasoned to the point of iron, were good, but the root, the floor and the windows were rotten, the roof was leaky and the habitable only on a portion of the ground floor. Notwithstanding, the society set to work, by judicious cutting and sawing, to make the rooms a small temporary field installation.

About 1,000,000 long-distance tele-
