MIRROR

1945, while under Russian occupation, resulted in only 17 per cent vote for communists. There are three eagles' nests at the Landing on State Park which spread over 3,142 acres. "Rural Iowa is seriously over-churches; over one-half of the rural churches are standing still or declining; ministers are poorly paid" - Dr. H. Paul Douglas in a report to a national convention on the church in town and country at Des Moines. Marshall is proud of his Scholastic honor and rightly so. This small hostelry recently opened a Centennial dining room which would do justice to Chicago or New York City for colorful surroundings, fine food, reasonable prices. The place was packed the other night when it was stopped for dinner. Michigan is full of surprises; the Scheler is one of them.

Milk Is Clean In Resort Areas

There will be ample supplies of safe pasteurized milk in practically all of the resort areas of Michigan this season. Arrangements have been made for ample supplies for all regions in the lower Michigan.

With the large increase of vacationers in all of Michigan's resort areas, it sometimes is necessary to supplement local supplies with milk from outside areas. To meet the demand additional supplies of milk have been inspected and approved by the Department of Agriculture for shipment to Beulah, Traverse City, Grandview and Peshigo. Additional bottled milk from Midland and Bay City is now available for the Houghton and the Oscoda and Tawas City area. Additional supplies of inspected milk are available in the Port Huron and Thumb areas.

The only probable shortage may be in parts of the upper peninsula where stricter enforcement may exclude some supplies.

It is not so drastic as it once was that good milk can be made available if necessary.

The Department of Agriculture is planning this year to distribute mailing cards for use in restaurants and other places serving the public. That only pasteurized milk is served and sold in such establishments.

P. M. Skiver, Chief, Bureau of Dairying, reports all precautions are being taken to protect tourists.

The possibility of contracting any illness that might be attributed to the use of raw milk as unpasteurized dairy milk from unapproved sources is considered a serious milk for the public.

Lack of Materials Hits Car Output

Production Now Sustained At Level of 100,000 Units a Week.

DETROIT - Production operations throughout the nation's car industry continue to be hampered by a shortage of materials.

Meanwhile, however, the automobile assembly plants are keeping pace with the demand for the 100,000 units a week.

That level will be maintained during a prolonged work stoppage within the industry's own plants or those of its suppliers.

The current production rate, maintained through the year, would yield close to five million cars and trucks in the year's third quarter.

Car manufacturers have complained of materials shortages almost since the beginning of postwar operations while at the same time they have been unable to raise their capacity.

Certainly, the present rate is not possible much more than 50 per cent of its plant capacity in use.

Quite probably, the industry could turn loose all the production capacity it still would not produce much more than five million units a year.

It would, however, make team in 10 months, instead of 12 and utilize the other two months for customary maintenance.

Same Officers to Head Manchester School

The annual meeting of school district No. 25 was held at the school house Monday evening. Reports were given, and election of officers was held.

It was voted to postpone the opening of school for one week, setting the date at September 8. This was done partly because of the late vacations taken by many families, and because the hay fever epidemic is usually at its worst there during the Labor Day week-end. Although only a small number are afflicted, it is still believed advisable to give the later opening date a trial.

The entire school board was re-elected as follows:

Frank M. Reek, president; Clayton Parr, treasurer; W. A. Vogt, secretary; Luther Klager, Walter Schablied, members.

Revenue for the school was greater during the coming year than at present, both from state and local sources.

It was reported that playground equipment totaling $400 had been ordered. The new equipment includes a slide, a "giant slide" and a "jungle gym."

A power lawn mower was purchased for $400, which $125 was contributed by the alumni association.

The Manchester Enterprise

Manchester Nine Handed Fourth Straight Defeat

Last Sunday the Manchester team traveled to Pinckney and defeated the Pinckney team by the score of three to one.

Manchester was the first to score when they pushed across a run in their half of the fifth inning on a walk to Vic Warner and singles by Mark and Maurer. Pinckney tied it up in the seventh on a hit, two walks and a fielder's choice. Pinckney pushed across two more runs in the eighth on three hits and two errors.

Both Clark made the fielding play of the day when he pulled down a long drive in deep right center field with the bases loaded to re-weakness as in previous games.

Manchester's batting average today being unimpaired by the rain, having 10 men left on bases. Maurer led the hitters on both teams with two hits in three at bats.

General Rate Increase Being Asked by Michigan Bell

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company formally announced its intention to file a petition with the Michigan Public Service Commission for a general rate increase effective July 14.

Pointing out that it will mark the first time in 21 years that the company has sought a general increase in its charges, President Thomas N. L. Rogers, declared that "present rates are no longer enough to meet part of our costs."

Beyond that, he declared that "a matter of fairness to all our customers," the proposed increase would be applied to all types of telephone service. Lacy did not reveal the extent of the proposed rate increase, but said that it would be a hard one to make. He stated, the company will advise its specific proposals during the first week of August 3, preliminary to the hearing on the matter.

"Michigan Bell today is operating under a general rate schedule established by the Commission in 1926. In the intervening years, the rates have been lowered still further by the rate reductions in effect. Meanwhile, the cost of telephone service in furnishing telephone service - wages, taxes and supplies - has gone up.

"For example, we have increased our Bell costs nearly $11,000,000 a year. "Although the amount of business that we have been doing has risen sharply, the increased income has not kept pace with the rapid increase in our costs. Since 1926, our income has gone up two and one-half times, but cost of operation has risen three times. The level of our operating costs has risen to the point where we are unable to pay our bills and our employees.

"The alternative to increased telephone rates, in the final analysis, is inferior service. Poor service, as an expensive luxury that neither the individual nor the community can afford. The new rates will be just as low as possible, but will be no higher than necessary for us to provide the kind of service our customers want."

Adults' Old Clothes Will Make Garments for Growing Children

By Etta Haley

MOTHERS with several growing children often become very discouraged with the clothes problem because the children seem to sprout out of everything so swiftly. It's true that most of the clothes that are placed within a few months, and sleeve and skirt that were long scarcely a short time ago now look awkward.

The best way to keep the clothing budget within bounds is to remodel and use every scrap of material available. It's perfectly amazing what ingenuity can do with the old shirt, the remnant or the old bedspread or apron.

Before we discuss the making of new garments from old, let's see what can be done with altering garments that the youngsters have outgrown.

Little girls' dresses may be altered very nicely for a season. At least, with inserted bands or waist panels, depending upon which way the youngsters fit grown.

For heart panels in the skirt, either for width or length, or both, select something which goes with the material of the dress. Sometimes your best choice is a plain decorative material such as is found in a shirt, and at other times your best choice is a print or even a plaid, if the material is bold. This type of remodeling does not require making over the entire garment, but the inserts should be fitted in carefully enough to maintain a neat look.

If the remodeling does not require an extensive addition of material, you might use some wide bands of trimming material that often can be purchased by the yard.

Make Pinnafores from Old Aprons

Any mother who has a little girl undoubtedly has learned the value of having several pinnafores and changes of blouses for her. Aprons frequently can be used for making the pinnafore itself as long as the material still will give some good results from them, as the back and sides of the shirt can be laid flat on the table, the pattern pinned to it and the garment cut.

In fact, while you are cutting one garment, why not cut several and use the rest as you have the time? The sewing is not too much of a task, as all the seams are simple. On little boys' suits most seams will be plain, except those around the legs which are best if a flat fell or French seam is employed.

Little girls' suit dresses are very simple to make, as they are usually one-piece garments that may be plucked while being cut and then all plain seams employed when sewing together.

Trimings are not at all necessary in suit clothing, but of course, if you have the time and want to add a contrasting edge or some-thing to your convenience it can be done. The fabric and buttons are different, the blouse will not look as though they came from the same pattern, and you can save time cutting several of them at once while you have your material handy—and your equipment all laid out for cutting.

It's wise to stick with cottons or washable rayons for garments of this type, as you will want things that washes and irons easily. Next to being worn, they will be in the wash tub and under the iron most of the time.

Men's Shirts Ideal for Play Clothing

For the youngsters just above toddling age, men's shirts are the most practical investment during the warm weather. These are very easy to sew and take little material, and for boys' shirts even old shirts prove ideal material for remodeling.

It will not be necessary to rip the shirt apart completely to cut the neck.

Be Smart

Good quality broadcloth or percale or even muslin from shirts or in the case of many slacks, simple dyeing will do the trick. Either dyeing a darker shade or dyeing the same color will give good results, and in many cases will give an almost brand new looking fabric.

Adults' slacks suits that have shrunk beyond use or wear are very practical for making coversalls and play clothing for roughing it. In most cases you will find this material easy to cut and sew.

If the old fabric seems faded, as in the case of many slacks, simple dyeing will do the trick. Either dyeing a darker shade or dyeing the same color will give good results, and in many cases will give an almost brand new looking fabric.

Kathleen Norris Says: 'Should a Woman Marry at 40?'

By Kathleen Norris

"I have no doubts and I do not know whether I am adaptable enough to be a housewife. One is Roger's sister, younger, unmarried, devoted to him and quite frankly."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

Should a woman marry at 40? For the first time at 40, I am in a position to answer this question.

From Oakland, Calif., I was 40 last summer, so that 41 is right at my door. I am a novelist, a writer, and a housewife.

ROSES NEED EXTRA PLANT FOOD NOW

Roses need an extra supply of plant food now, advises C. E. Wilson, specialist in horticulture at Michigan State college.

A little fertilizer worked into the soil around the plants is beneficial every three or four weeks in advance until early September. In southern Michigan ground around the plants should be mulched through July and August. If barnyard manure is available, a light mulch now will take the place of fertilizer and the mulch may be added every three or four weeks. If manure is not available, peat is a good substitute. Supplement the peat with fertilizer and spread to a depth of three or four inches.

Joe Kirk is spending two weeks at the Catholic Youth Camp at Carsonville.

DESTROY ONION AND GARLIC IN PASTURES

Wild onion and garlic which cause off-flavors in milk can be destroyed by methods recommended by extension dairymen at M.S.C.

A cropping system that will destroy bulbs and seedlings, works well. Use cultivated crops first and land that is heavily infested and that is going to be put into pasture.

On pastures that can be cultivated the plants can be destroyed by close-grazing by dry cows, heifers or sheep.

In the last week's paper, the editor wanted to know "Who's the new boss at Dresslhouse and Davidtier's store," and will say that if he had used a capital B in the Boss he probably would have gone over better. At this writing we will say that we have had another shipment of these Pre-Var Boss Oil Stoves and we are in a better position than ever to supply your wants. Just stop and see what a real one of these looks like.

We have taken the agency for a new line of insecticide called Proven Concentrated 25 per cent DDT compound. This 25 per cent compound is very powerful and in all cases it should be diluted as directed on the label.

When spraying barns, stables, hog pens and chicken coops give the ceiling, side walls and floor a good covering but be careful with mangroves and dead-moose-bow windows on horses and cattle. Spray only from one to two weeks. This compound can be used in the home for flies, mosquitoes, gnats, roaches, fleas and even bed bugs if you have them. We still have a good stock of the old fashioned fly spray, kerosene for the cattle and horses and Fly-Tax for the home.

Last week one of our citizens called for a three square ft. Did you ever see one?

Have you heard anything about that Hard Surface Road to Wampole Lake? What has become of the petition that the farmers signed last winter?

Years until next week.

Twisted radio wires were used in many parts of the building to carry heavy loads. The fire hazard was great. At a cost of approximately $200, all the wiring in the building has been gone over and unsafe wiring replaced.

With all these improvements, it is felt that this fall the building itself will be in better shape than it has been at any time since its construction.

Last year, the school's insurance coverage was surveyed and revised. At that time, the school was insured for $66,000 fire and $40,000 theft, for which it paid $200.50 every three years, or $268.00 a year.

By insuring the plant up to value and attaching the 80 per cent co-insurance clause, the total insurance was raised to $147,000 at a cost of $667.96 for three years, which amounts to $222.65 more insurance at a cost of only seven dollars more every three years. The school is now insured for $147,000 fire, windstorm, smoke, explosion, vehicle damage, etc. Insurance on the contents was increased from $2,000 to $9,000.

In view of the national teacher shortage, the board is pleased to report that the staff for 1947-48 is complete. H. E. Leidy, who is to teach Latin, history and junior high English is a former school superintendent in Ohio and comes well recommended. Miss Jane Schlosser has been employed to teach in the grades.

Reorganization Much work has been done during the past year on reorganization of the Manchester region into a single school district by combining the 28 districts of the region. Regulations of Manchester Enterprise have been adopted.

Board directors of all the rural school districts. A recent study by Lawrence Wurster shows that an enlarged district could be operated on a local tax of approximately six mills. All electors in District Two are urged to study the subject of reorganization and help promote this worthwhile development.

Summer Recreational Program This year, the School is lending its playground and athletic field to a complete recreational program directed by Coach Ben McCabe. This program is financed by Community Fund and village money and offers games and sports to all ages. The Manchester Recreation Association under the direction of Rev. A. A. Weiner, has been set up to manage the affairs of the program. Parents of children are cooperating generously in supervising activities on the playground in sports and teamwork, and providing spare-time activity, deserving the support of all citizens, and the school board is glad to lend its facilities to it.

Legion Plans Hospital, Paper

Erection of a $650,000 hospital and publication of a 100,000 circulation newspaper are major aims of the American Legion in Michigan this year, says Arthur H. Clarke of South Haven, newly-elected state commander.

Since 1922 the Legion has operated a hospital near Battle Creek for the treatment of tuberculosis. It is now planned to modernize and enlarge the institution by replacing the present wooden buildings with a new 400-bed permanent structure.

"Our patient load has steadily increased since World War II and will continue on the upgrade for several years," says Judge Robert R. Wright of Ironwood, chairman of the Legion hospital board. "We will immediately institute a campaign to solicit contributions from all of the 100,000 Legionnaires in Michigan. It is estimated that we will reach our $650,000 goal."

In order to finance an official newspaper the Legion has voted to assess each member 50 cents per year, Commander Clarke declares. A monthly publication will be issued and will be mailed directly to all Legionnaires in the 540 posts throughout Michigan.

Principal purpose of the Legion paper will be to inform the entire membership of state-wide Legion projects and to increase interest in local community programs.

In addition to the hospital and

Why Michigan Bell must ask for a Rate Increase

THERE has not been an increase in telephone rates in 21 years. From 1926 until 1937, our rates went down substantially. Except for even further reductions in local rates in a number of exchanges and decreases in toll rates, those 1937 rates are still in effect—despite the fact that the cost of almost everything... wages, taxes, supplies... has been going up.

For example, post-war wage adjustments alone have boosted our costs nearly $11,000,000 a year, including settlements reached during the recent strike.

Actually, all our costs put together have gone up much faster than our income.

In the ten years since 1937, income has gone up 141%, costs have gone up 193% and our return on investment has dropped more than a third.

It's just simple arithmetic that 1937 rates won't work in 1947.

We've tried to make both ends meet without increasing rates. We've held off as long as possible. But now, we've got to ask for an increase—because it is absolutely necessary to protect our customers' service.

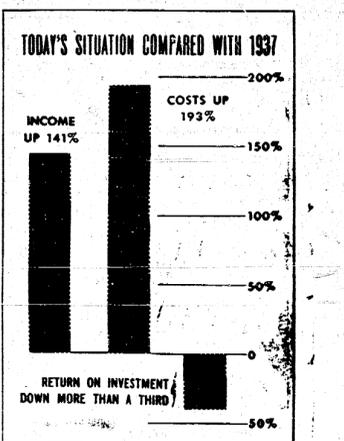

It will take a lot of money from investors to give more service and better quality service from here on. Investors will put up the money only if they are assured a fair return, which we cannot provide under our present rates.

So the future quality of Michigan's telephone service depends on raising rates enough to assure the financial stability of your telephone company.

That's why we're going to ask the Michigan Public Service Commission for a public hearing to review our proposed new schedule of rates. During the week of August 3, we'll publish details of the proposed rates throughout Michigan Bell territory. After that, we'll file the petition with the Public Service Commission.

Telephone service will still be a bargain at the proposed rates. We'd rather not be asking for an increase. But that's the only way we can assure our customers the kind of service they want. For 1937 rates won't work in 1947.

Observance To Focus Attention On Tragic Farm Accident Toll

Need for Safety Measures During Year Emphasized

WNU Features. One out of every four farm families in the United States will be visited by an accident this year—accidents like those from the files of National Safety Council:

1. Farmer A of Kansas was heading his plow when he was struck by a tractor. The tractor was headed in the same direction as the plow. The tractor driver saw the plow but did not stop. The tractor struck the plow, and the plow struck the farmer. The farmer was killed.

2. Mrs. B, a Kansas housewife, slipped on a broken step on the back porch stair that had been neglected for several years. She suffered a fractured hip and spent six months in bed. Doctor and hospital bills totaled $300. Lumber to fix the step cost 15 cents, plus five minutes of her husband's time.

3. Farmer C of Wisconsin missed the last cowbell in the pasture before calling it a day. But his right hand was caught and dragged between the rollers. A backhoe dug his hand was released. Doctors managed to save his fingers. The cost? Well, the medical bills were $200. Milk production dropped 10 per cent. A ton of pig was lost and $200 in wages had to be paid to a hired hand who carried on while the farmer was recovering. He lost one of his hands.

These are only three examples of the 1,000 injuries farmers received in accidents last year. And the toll will continue, if proper experience can be believed. To pay

It plainly is a disturbing injury to strike some farmer in the United States every minute in the year. More than 32 farm people will die each year as a result of accidents.

Yet these facts need not be true if farm families everywhere take extra precautions. That's why National Safety Council, the department of agriculture and other cooperating farm organizations have selected the topic "Wise Farm Safety a Family Affair" as the theme for the fourth annual observance of National Farm Safety Week, July 20-25.

Why is farming more dangerous than any other occupation? Unlike factories, the ordinary farm has relatively few safety devices. No safety engineers, no periodic inspections of equipment and no coordinated safety programs. Almost every accident is a result of carelessness. And if carelessness is the cause, education is the cure. Education for the elimination of hazards, and summation of safe habits is the primary object of National Safety Week. Each member of the farm family may become a safety engineer, eliminating hazards and forming safe working habits. Many agencies will be cooperating in this campaign, which has been pro-

Army Corporal, Now 23, Takes Oath as Mayor

KENT, WASH.—Backed as one of the youngest mayors in the United States is 23-year-old David Mooney. Former army corporal, who recently took the oath as mayor of this Pacific Northwest town of 2,400 population.

After an extensive campaign in which he promised "degressive" leadership and a change in city management, Mooney defeated his nearest rival by a substantial margin.

As the job of mayor is not a full-time occupation in Kent, Mooney will continue operation of his sand and gravel hauling business. He also plans to remain in the ranks of volunteer city councilmen.

Chief interest for the young mayor is the new capacity will be the problem of juvenile delinquency. Since his graduation from high school in 1934, Mooney has worked with youngsters.

"One of the things I'll be able to do something about is officially," he insists.

One of the major projects is a campaign for construction of a $100,000 community center as a "living war memorial." With cooperation of the city administration, the claimed each year by the President of the United States.

Since more accidents are caused in farm homes than at farm work, all farm residents will be urged to correct obvious hazards—such as pouring gasoline or kerosene on a wood fire, climbing on a weak ladder or faulty electrical connections.

The value of good housekeeping around the farmstead and the outbuildings as well as in the home will be stressed.

Positive action to eliminate hazards will be encouraged, the council believes, if the whole family works side a day during National Farm Safety Week for a thorough safety inspection of every farm building.

Such an inspection, National Safety Council feels, will have lasting results on year-around farm safety.

For example, building guard rails around hay chutes, repairing steps and removing litter of glass, bottles, wires and junk are permanent steps in the right direction.

Equally important is the elimination of unsafe work practices. Thousands of farmers each year gamble the loss of life or limb to save the few seconds required to fasten or place the power take-off shield in position. Some farmers continue to crank tractors while they are in gear. Others drive too close to the edge of ditches or fall to slow down enough for turns.

Dangerous Practices. Many other unsafe practices will be attacked during National Farm Safety Week. Among them will be the practice of permitting children to drive a tractor or to ride on it; the practice of jumping off moving tractors; the age-old custom of stepping over or crossing through moving belts; the time-honored but decidedly unsafe habit of standing on the tongue "over" a team of horses; the habit of passing reins and lines around the body or wrists.

Kent coordinating council will observe seven playgrounds for children during the summer months.

Oddly enough, the day the young mayor took office was the traditional day for high school students to take over city hall reins. Hardly had Mooney been sworn in when he had to turn over the office to 17-year-old Glenn Armstrong.

Born in Kent in 1920, Mooney lived here all his life until enlisting in the army in 1942. After 14 months service, he spent one year as a patrolman for the Washington state patrol before returning here to establish his sand and gravel business.

TAKE MY WORD FOR IT! By FRANK COLBY

WORDS TO WATCH. Recently, a network broadcaster, a nationally known lay speaker of ability and education, pronounced the word "TRICK" in a program again what I have pointed out before—that most of us have words in our vocabularies which we have always mispronounced.

Of course the dictionaries and good usage do not sanction "trick" as a verb. The word is always mispronounced.

Another word which is sometimes used in the wrong way is "vagary." A Hollywood star recently spoke of the "vagary" of her life. The first syllable of "vagary" is pronounced "vuh-GAIR-ee" and not "vuh-GAIR-ee."

It is ever correct to pronounce "boe-KAY" as "boe-KAY." Only comparatively recent years "boe-KAY" was regarded as dialectal, the dic-

Veterans SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Veterans Service Bureau, will feature a column on questions of interest to veterans and their families. Questions may be addressed to the Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct to the writer, but only those questions which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

16 Million Veterans. Latest tabulation of potential veteran population by Veterans' administration indicates that the million for World War II will be 16 million. VA said the potential population will increase after the end of the war, which has not as yet been declared. By comparison, World War I at its peak had 10 million veterans, and the Spanish-American war, 200,000. A combined total of 6,807,000 for the three wars or considerably less than the 16 million potential veterans estimated for World War II.

Gen. Omar Bradley, director of VA, has announced that unless congress restores funds slashed from VA appropriations by house, the VA will be forced to lay off 15,000 employees of the far-flung administration. Many of these are veterans.

Questions and Answers. Q. My son volunteered for the army and left for service on February 17, 1942. He was in the army for 11 months and has not been permitted to make an allotment although he has been in the army for 11 months. How can I get him out of the army? A. You can get him out of the army if you can get a proper allotment and you are dependent upon him either fully or to a degree, that you should not receive your allotment. Without the allotment, you can get him out of the army.

Q. Our son has been receiving a disability pension and it has been coming here some for one year. He is in another city. Some time ago we received notice for him to be examined for his disability. The examination but we don't know whether to do it or not. We have had the checks have stopped coming for an apparent reason. Can you tell us the reason and what we should do about it?—Mrs. L. W. S. New Madrid, Mo.

Q. The chances are the pension checks were discontinued when your son failed to appear for physical examination without giving adequate reason for not reporting. Suggest you have your son report to the VA office where he obtained his pension and which has his case record.

Q. Is it possible for me to get the VA to give me a copy of my case record? I'd like to have it since I have been making treatment at a VA hospital for several months and don't seem to get any better. Maybe I could find out what the trouble is. I have asked for a copy several times.—G. F. K. Chester, Ind.

Q. VA regulations require that any person entitled to a copy of any record should make written application to the office where the record is located and state specifically the particular record or paper desired and the purpose for which such copy is to be used. Approximate cost must accompany the application. Fees are as follows: Written copies, per 100 words, 25 cents; photostatic copies, per sheet, 25 cents; certification, 25 cents.

Q. Can you tell me where my brother is? He is J. E. Keenan, was born in 1908, and lives in U.S.S. Manchester. He was last heard from in April, 1942.—I. C. D. Paines, Ky.

A. No, not without his full name which you do not give in your letter.

Q. My husband has been overseas since last February. He is serving with the 100th AF as an MP in Japan. Would you please let me know when he will be returned to the states and what procedure I would have to take to get him released from the service.—Mrs. J. L. E. Manchester, Pa.

A. There is no way of knowing when your husband will be returned to the states and what procedure in the service less than a year and if there is an enlistment which does not expire until February his time will not be up until that time.

Q. I have a question about my husband's service. He was in the army for 11 months and has not been permitted to make an allotment although he has been in the army for 11 months. How can I get him out of the army?

A. You can get him out of the army if you can get a proper allotment and you are dependent upon him either fully or to a degree, that you should not receive your allotment. Without the allotment, you can get him out of the army.

Q. Our son has been receiving a disability pension and it has been coming here some for one year. He is in another city. Some time ago we received notice for him to be examined for his disability.
