WHY WE SAY "HE CAN'T HOLD A CANDLE TO YOU"

This expression comes from the Jewish tale of the boy servant who held a candle while his master read. Nowdays it means a person so unworthy that he could not even hold a candle to you.

Jeep Wins Race, Then Harrows Field

Kenny Palmer of Los Angeles won the 100-mile national gold cup race at Carrol Speedway in Los Angeles with his jeep. A few days later he used the sturdy little car to pull a harrow on his farm, near the city. Kenny is holder of the Carrol Speedway track record.

TAKE MY WORD FOR IT!

LET'S LEARN A NEW WORD. The adjective "subversive" is actually not a new word, but it is only lately that the average American has been made to understand its meaning. The adjective "subversive" derives from the Latin "subvertere," which means to overthrow or to turn upside down. In American usage, "subversive" refers to persons or groups of persons that operate in a way that is contrary to the interests of the United States. It is a word that is used to describe anyone who is suspected of being a spy or of being a member of a group that is working to overthrow the government. The word "subversive" is a very important word in American history, and it is one that every American should know.

"GAY GADGETS" BY NANCY PEPPER

This Way to His Heart! "Feed 'Em and Bump" is what we always say — when we're lucky enough to have someone to bump. Even the most substantial party goes missing when he has eaten his way through the evening. You won't catch them blushing the least bit when they find them this last month. Keep Gadgets — Believe it or not, teenage hormones spread a mushroom soup (undiluted and unheated, but seasoned) on white bread, which they roll and hold with a toothpick and then toast in the oven. "Mm-Mm. Good."

But Gadgets — You don't have any more potato juice at your party than they have in Brazil, but you do have hot sweet potatoes with legs cut off and covered with pineapple hot marshmallows. Quick. Dice — the Potato. Cut.

To Each His Own — A new custom at teenage parties is to give the guests the fun's and let them assemble their own sandwiches. Wait till you see the major engineering projects that can rise up between two slabs of bread!

Cosplay Delights — There's no slip twirl the cupcake and the lip when you scoop on the center and fill with vanilla pudding. Top with a cherry and watch everybody light up — and bite up!

Alive With Jive Remember our report on elasticated satin party girdles with jive talk and pictures printed all over them? Well, they were intended to be worn under your clothes for extra control, but lots of girls have brought them out to the open. As with things with separate halves, for a coordinating piece we suggest a matching top. The shirt is a white cotton knit with "Jive words and giddy pictures printed all over it."

AMERICA'S FAVORITE FOR 100 YEARS

Convert graduation dresses made of contrasting colors. You may want to add additional interest by way of an attractive belt or buttons down the front.

Use Leftover Trimming in Remodeling Many mending and sewing kits contain any number of bits of attractive fabric and trim that could easily be used in remodeling work. Let's say that you are dressing a graduation or another similar type of garment. Use a dark green or brown shade for this fall, or even black, but lighten it up and make it dressy by using a bit of eyelid trimming at the neck and sleeves. The very simplest type of dress is used for this style. The dress may have long or short sleeves, or even three-quarter length. There is a simple opening down the front, collarless. Of course, add the trim so that it looks as attractive as possible by placing it on carefully and evenly.

It's also possible to have gloves to match your dresses. If, for example, you have a dress with a wide white stripe down the front, you could have white gloves.

Combine Shirts, Blouses For Current Styles Shirts and blouses are among the easiest of garments to remodel, and they are extremely practical because of the number of suits in which women invest their money. In many cases it is even possible to combine the good and wearable features of two to make one good blouse.

Another trick which will add another article of wearing apparel to the wardrobe is that of making a blouse into a dress. This can be done very easily if the blouse has a waist effect, as it is a highly trimmed with insets, etc.

Men's shirts that are worn at collars and cuffs are very readily made into new blouses whose original use you would never suspect. If you feel that the collar should be changed, they are easily dyed to match the fabric, as long as you use a good all-purpose dye that will color rayon as well as cotton or combinations of the two fabrics.

It's very important when using shirt fabrics, to select a style suitable to the fabric. Only the simplest of patterns are usually good with regular shirt material, except when white fabric is dyed into a good color.

Woman's World Outdated Dresses Converted Into Practical Wearing Apparel

By Etta Haley

Reversible Raincoat

REMEMBER the graduation dress that has hung in the closet for two, three or even four years? The style is definitely dated by now. Its use as a while dress is extremely limited, and yet the fabric still may be good.

The graduation dress is a symbol of many of the types of clothes that clutter women's closets year after year. A little thought and ingenuity, however, can convert them into something extremely useful.

Don't ever be afraid to look into such a closet because the impracticality of some of your purchases may make you shudder. Bring out the old and the new and make them into something for use right now.

A bit of dye, a small piece of new fabric, and some retooling and styling will do wonders for that type of clothing.

Most of the older dresses show their vintage by the sleeves, length and collar line. Yet in most cases these are simple alterations to make, and the few hours of time spent on them will give you not only hours but days, weeks and even months of good, solid wear in a dress that you can really enjoy.

If the sleeves and the style of the dress are hopelessly outdated, don't waste time and effort trying to change them. Instead, the dress and buy a new amount of material for the yoke and sleeves to make them contrast the dress, which can be dyed.

The completely simple lines on the dress because the color will carry most of the interest in a dress.

There's plenty of styling in today's raincoat, so even in the above model with sweeping lines accented by a button-on crossover band. The fabric used to reverse this and two-tone with a smooth satin finish on one side and on the other a new feature with the appearance of a shimmering, changeable fabric which has a water-repellent finish.

simple, you have looked over your summer wardrobe and decided they will never be white again, dip them into the dye bath with the dress, and you will have a pair to match the dress. You may, of course, add cuffs to the gloves or sew a bit of program ribbon trim to them for popping up purposes.

Let Material Style Harmonize The mistake often made in remodeling is that the style to which we change a dress is not always in keeping with the material. If you have a simple rayon or broadcloth, don't make the fabric style because these fabrics as well as many others require a simple pattern.

Change the style, but keep the good points of the dress and make the change subtle. Some dresses, for instance, need only a sleeve and neck change. In this case rip out the old sleeves, and you probably will have enough material for a new style.

I recently saw this carried out on a dress that had short straight sleeves. They were removed and pressed flat, then a wide bias strip was cut from each sleeve. Then new style cap sleeves were cut from the material and attached.

Always remember that if new material is added to the dress it should be used in at least one place so that it looks as though it belonged. If you have to add some of the new material to the neck, you also might like an insert in the hem, or perhaps a bow or bustle effect, repeating the added material. There are literally dozens of ways to do this, and the best way to decide what should be done is to pattern your remodeling after the new styles.

Combine Shirts, Blouses For Current Styles Shirts and blouses are among the easiest of garments to remodel, and they are extremely practical because of the number of suits in which women invest their money. ## Few Barred for Throwing Ball Games

Since major-league baseball was organized in 1876, no more than 15 of the 7,000 players connected with it have been permanently barred for throwing or attempting to throw a game or for concealing knowledge of such a plot. Among them were four members of the Louisville team in 1877, seven members of the Chicago White Sox in 1919 and two members of the New York Giants in 1924.

Pike-Perch Is New Standard Name for Walleye

The name "Walleye" has been dropped from the Michigan Fish Commission's list of names for the state's largest fish. The new name, "Pike-Perch," will be used in all official communications. The change was made because the name "Walleye" was found to be misleading. The fish is not a walleye, but a pike-perch. The name "Pike-Perch" is more accurate and descriptive of the fish's characteristics. The change will be implemented in all official communications, including fishing regulations, educational materials, and promotional literature. The Michigan Fish Commission is committed to providing accurate information to the public and to promoting the sustainable management of the state's fisheries.

VENTURE

(Held Over From Last Week)
Co-Editors: Joyce Cathey and Patricia Schwab
Second and Third Grade by Janet Conner

The second grade reading class recently organized a "venture" into the world of the "Pike-Perch." The class was divided into two teams, "Pike" and "Perch," and they competed in a series of games and challenges. The games were designed to test the students' knowledge of the fish and its habitat. The "Pike" team won the first game, but the "Perch" team won the second. The class was very enthusiastic and enjoyed the competition. The teacher, Janet Conner, was very impressed with the students' performance and their teamwork.

HERE IS A 4-UNIT DIESEL FREIGHT LOCOMOTIVE NOW OPERATED BY 2 MEN (1 ENGINEER AND 1 FIREMAN)

2 U.S. MEN AND 1 CONDUCTOR COMPLETE THE CREW OF THIS TRAIN
EXTRA CAR FOR 15 MEN NOT NEEDED
ONE LOCOMOTIVE IN FREIGHT SERVICE

BUT THE UNION LEADERS WANT 15 EXTRA "SITTERS" ON THIS TRAIN... 3 ENGINEERS, 3 FIREMEN, 6 BRAKEMEN AND 3 CONDUCTORS... TO GO ALONG FOR THE RIDE AT FULL PAY!

It's to your interest to know about this proposed feather-bedding!

For sheer feather-bedding, this mock work proposal takes the cake. But it is only one of 44 "rules" demands filed by the leaders of the operating unions. If all these demands were granted, they would cost the railroads an added BILLION DOLLARS A YEAR.

Increased Wages, Too
On top of these "rules" changes, the leaders of the operating unions have filed an additional demand for a wage increase of over 50 per cent. If granted, this would be an added cost to the railroads of $400,000,000 a year.

Where Will The Money Come From?
Where will all the money come from to pay these increases? They total several times as much as the railroads made in 1946 or will make in 1947.
In July, the railroads filed an application for increased freight rates to close the gap which then existed between wage and material costs and railroad revenues. Twice then it has been necessary, because of further increases in wages and material costs, to supplement that petition and to ask for an additional freight rate increase. No other course is open.

Railroads Do Not Run For Employees Alone
Railroads are operated for the benefit of not one, but several groups—shippers, passengers, employees, stockholders and the general public. The interests of all must be served—and that cannot be done unless the railroads can operate efficiently and economically, and unless they are allowed to earn sufficient revenue to provide the kind of transportation service this country must have.

In addition to this, an Arbitration Board has just granted a wage increase of 10 1/2 cents an hour to the union employees represented by the 17 non-operating unions. This will cost the railroads $468,000,000 a year.

ROOM 214, 100 EAST 42ND STREET, NEW YORK, N.Y.
RAILROADS ARE OPERATED FOR THE BENEFIT OF NOT ONE, BUT SEVERAL GROUPS—SHIPMENS, PASSENGERS, EMPLOYEES, STOCKHOLDERS AND THE GENERAL PUBLIC. THE INTERESTS OF ALL MUST BE SERVED—AND THAT CANNOT BE DONE UNLESS THE RAILROADS CAN OPERATE EFFICIENTLY AND ECONOMICALLY, AND UNLESS THEY ARE ALLOWED TO EARN SUFFICIENT REVENUE TO PROVIDE THE KIND OF TRANSPORTATION SERVICE THIS COUNTRY MUST HAVE.

The weather is certainly fine but the best received in the season of the year as there is but 38 shopping days left before Christmas.

We just received two of the GLADDEN-Hall Manner Loaders which are made in Owasco, Mich. and without a doubt these loaders will work as good as any and the price is considerable less.

The High School Fair is on this week and you surely should attend and see the fine exhibits on the ground and in the building. We will have on display three different sizes of John Deere Tractors, two Power one Dill, a New Idea Corn Picker and one Manner Loader. These are all the latest type machines and satisfaction guaranteed.

"Well, what excuse have you for coming home at this hour of the night?"

"Well, my dear, I was playing with some friends and—"

"What at 2 a.m.?"

"We were using the night club."

We just received a fresh supply of these good old fashion hand
