STRANGE BEDFELLOWS IN STATE POLITICS

Democrats and Republicans Alike Hammer At Menace of Communist "Fifth Column"

Politics make for strange bedfellows. One of the unforeseen, odd tricks of fate is the bi-partisan, parallel positions today of President Harry Truman, a Democrat, and two key Republican leaders of Michigan, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Governor Kim Sigler, on the menace of Communism.

Governor Sigler has been hammering away consistently, in recent public addresses, at the Communist "Fifth Column" movement in Michigan. He has called attention specifically to the existence of a Red-inspired organization, "American Youth For Democracy," on college campuses in Michigan.

While on a visit in Washington the governor conferred with J. Edgar Hoover, top G-man who heads the FBI. The Hoover files show that "American Youth For Democracy" was created on October 17, 1943 at the Alcazar Temple in New York City to succeed the dissolved Youth Communist League. On Nov. 29, 1945 the Communist Party admitted its sponsorship of American Youth for Democracy, stating that it is the most important and effective channel for organizing and promoting effective action of the "American Youth for Democracy."

The establishment of Michigan campus units of American Youth for Democracy was in line with the Communist Party's strategy in the United States to inculcate Marx and Communist principles among our youth.

Quoting Governor Sigler: "It is the same American Youth for Democracy that is accepted as a campus activity at Wayne university, Detroit. There also a weekly cate Marx study group meets on the campus."

"It (AYD) functions on the University of Michigan campus under the name of Michigan Temple for Democratic Action, an affiliate of AYD."

The public knows that the AYD was refused the status of a campus activity by the Student Council at Michigan State College.

Governor Sigler concluded: "Fellow citizens, it is clear that Communism is a serious menace to America."

The identical principle was emphasized by President Truman in his historical and momentous address to Congress Wednesday, March 12.

On the World War II theory that the outposts of our American freedom are world-wide and that our freedom must be defended anywhere and everywhere in this modern age, President Truman warned that "unilateral regimes imposed on free peoples, by direct or indirect aggression, undermine the foundations of international peace and hence the security of the United States."

President Truman is convinced, and apparently Senator Vandenberg shares this viewpoint, that the United States must halt the march of Communism in Europe if it is to prevent the spread of Communism in the United States.

Here, verily, would be the "snowdown" should we undertake the staggering task, between Democracy and Communism, to quote from our news-letter of last week. Here is the grim reality of our "new world," a further disillusionment to the veterans of World War I and II.

Senator Vandenberg, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, believes that our challenge to Russia is not incompatible and inconsistent with our loyalty to the United Nations as the postwar hope for world peace.

"We cannot fail to back up the President at such an hour," declared the Michigan senior senator. "The President's hand must be upheld."

Emphasizing the familiar theme that the outposts of our American freedom are global, the senator asserted flatly: "The independence of Greece and Turkey must be preserved not only for their own sakes but also in defense of the peace and security for all of us."

President Truman contrasted the American way of life with the Communist system whereby "the will of a minority" is "forcibly imposed upon the majority through the weapons of 'terror' and oppression, a controlled press and radio, fixed elections and

Michigan Bell Reports on 1946

During 1946, Michigan Bell installed more telephones, served more telephones and handled more calls per telephone than ever before. Total revenue was larger, too. But so were expenses. Earnings on investment were more than in 1945. But in the second six months, due to rising costs, earnings were on a downward trend.

ABOUT CALLS—On the average business day there were 7,304,000 local calls, and 197,000 long distance calls. . . increases of 22% and 23% respectively over 1945. Although at times some calls were delayed by insufficient facilities, telephone people gave more good service than ever before in history.

ABOUT TELEPHONES—Michigan Bell installed 34,000 telephones a month, double 1945. A net gain of 204,000 telephones brought the total in service to a record high of 1,378,000. However, it was necessary to give priority service to many thousands who would have preferred individual lines. And 65,000 others were waiting for telephone at year's end.

ABOUT CONSTRUCTION—$36,000,000 worth of buildings and equipment were added. This investment, all-time high for one year, would have been much greater but for continuing shortages of materials. Increasing demands for service and higher labor and material costs have raised the estimate for our 5-year post-war construction program to $220,000,000.

ABOUT JOBS—Michigan Bell's force rose 6,000 to more than 22,000 people, about one-third of whom had less than a year's experience. Nearly half of all Michigan Bell men were returned veterans of World War II. Wage adjustments, made early in 1946, amounted to $6,461,000 a year. Payrolls totaled $54,445,000, up 50% over 1945.

ABOUT REVENUE AND EXPENSES—We took in more money than ever before—$91,000,000, or 13% more than 1945. But expenses also increased. Operating payrolls were up 39% for the year. Total expenses, excluding taxes, were 25% over 1945. Total cost of giving service, including taxes, was $79,000,000—an increase of 11% over 1945. Revenues in 1946 include $3,500,000 subject to refund to customers if the pending rate reduction order of the Michigan Public Service Commission is upheld by the court.

ABOUT EARNINGS—Earnings for the year were $12.14/100, or 7.2 cents on each dollar invested in the business. If the Public Service Commission's rate reduction order is upheld, 1946 earnings will drop to 5.9 cents, insufficient, we believe, to attract the new capital needed for expansion and improvement. As it was, during the last half of the year, rising costs sent the earnings rate on a downward trend, which pointed to the possibility that higher rates might become necessary to assure financial stability of the business.

THE PROSPECTS—Our objectives in 1947 are to provide as quickly as possible: 1. Enough telephone plant to take care of all unfilled orders for service and to care for future demands; 2. Facilities to furnish promptly the type of service the customer desires; 3. Improvements in local and long distance service; and 4. Extension and improvement of rural service.

Present indications are that shortages of needed materials will continue to handicap us in 1947. But, we expect by year's end to have filled most requests for service and to have made progress in further improving the quality of service.

Telephone men and women turned in a record-breaking performance in 1946, and we have confidence that in 1947 they again will surpass all previous accomplishments and give to Michigan continuing telephone service of the very highest order.

MANY UNITE ON COMMUNISM

The suppression of personal freedoms. These are hard words. He proposed that we champion "free people who are resisting at tempted subjugation by armed minorities or by outside pressures" and that we "must assist free peoples to work out their destinies in their own way."

Now it must be obvious to every thinking American that a world crusade for a better way of life, if such is to be undertaken by the United States through our constitutional process of Congressional action, "will be far-reaching in its ultimate effects and obligations."

Gifts of $250,000,000 to Greece and $150,000,000 to Turkey would be just a drop in the bucket should Russia take up the challenge.

How far is the United States ready to go to support this new policy of foreign relations? Are we willing to support it with our sons as well as our dollars? Can we rely solely on our temporary possession of the atomic bomb as insurance against war with Russia?

These are blunt questions. They demand frank answers. One of the freedoms we cherish is the right to govern ourselves. The decision of Congress will rest on the decision of thinking Americans.

A want ad will buy or sell it for you too.
