BREAKEY DINNER HELD HERE

Monday evening, March 24th a dinner was held at the American Legion Hall sponsored by the Washenaw County Breakey Committee.

A very fine non-partisan group from Freedom, Bridgewater, Sharon and Manchester Townships, who were interested in working committees for the re-election of Judge James R. Breakey, Jr., as Circuit Judge were in attendance.

A very interesting program was enjoyed by all. Speakers were James C. Hendley, Mrs. Leona Burrell of Ypsilanti, John P. Kirk, President of the Washenaw County Bar Association, Henry Barnes, Jr., Chairman of Washenaw County Breakey Committee and Judge James R. Breakey who gave an interesting talk. A vocal solo was rendered by the President of the Village Royal David, accompanied by Mrs. David.

The dinner was excellently prepared and served by the American Legion Auxiliary Ladies.

MISS ALBRIGHT MARRIES HOWARD SODT

In a Lenten wedding for members of the families of the couple, Donna Albright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Albright, 742 Woodlawn Ave., Jackson, was united in marriage to Howard W. Sodt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Sodt, 3828 Manchester Road in Chelsea. The ceremony was held Friday at 8 p. m. in the chapel of St. Paul's Episcopal church, with the Rev. Howard Harper officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a coral suit with coral and lime hat and black accessories. Her flowers were Talcott roses. The bride was matron of honor.

L. Dean Sodt, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. The couple left later for a western trip. The bride is a graduate of Jackson High school and attended the University of Michigan. She is past grand worthy adviser of the Order of Rainbow for Girls and a member of Alpha Iota sorority.

THE HAUNTED CHAIR

Take one hundred thrills, one hundred chills, one hundred laughs, one hundred surprises, mix them all together into two solid hours of continuous entertainment and what have you? Right! "The Haunted Chair," a three act serio-comic mystery play to be presented by the Junior Class at the Manchester High School Auditorium on April 11. You will want to be there. And when you go take along your shock absorbers, leave your laugh muffer at home and prepare for an evening of sheer, unadulterated amusement.

The excitement begins when Lizzie and Lazy Lee, ebony-hued servants in the lonely factor manor on Long Island, discover, at midnight, the body of their master, a night for a murder! The wind howls, the rain beats down in torrents, hooded specters prowl, mysterious shadows stalk, and the investigating detective vanishes seemingly into thin air. Phantom hands reach out from nowhere, lights flicker and go out, books go up in flames, doors slam. But don't think you can guess why. Just when you think you have solved the mystery another surprise awaits you. And Laugh! Lizzie and Lazy will see that your risibilities are continually tickled. Gilbooley, a dumb but likeable detective, tops all of this type for laughs, but it remains for Nellie Kennedy, lady sleuth, to solve the enigma and bring the mystery to a satisfactory conclusion. The denouement is most startling and is bound to hold you on seats edge until the final curtain. The play affords every member of the Junior Class an opportunity to display his or her talents to the best advantage. And throughout the play two tender love stories to relieve the dramatic and comedy moments.

The author has made use of many years of experience in playwrighting to concoct a play that appeals to all to don't forget the time: April 11, 1947 at 8:15. The Place: Manchester High School Auditorium. The event: "The Haunted Chair."

Mrs. Glen Bertke and Mrs. William Kirk were in Clinton on business Monday.

St. Mary's Altar Society held their meeting in the church basement with twenty members present. The sick committee for the month are Mrs. L. Scheid and Miss Ann Bauer.

Mrs. Walter Schaeble gave a report on the Day Convention held at Detroit which she and Mrs. Joe Brooks attended.

It was voted to give $5.00 to the Bishop's collection.

After the business meeting Fr. Hennes entertained the group by showing a film on the Cardinal's Mass and also a travel film.

Would Have Each State Adopt an Official Dog

America's dog-loving folks are urging to seek adoption of an official dog for each of the 48 states by Harry Miller, director of the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York City.

Practically every state now has its official bird or official flower, Mr. Miller said. Certainly, he thinks any state would have to have some animal companion through-out the ages, deserves every bit as much recognition.

Mr. Miller stated he anticipated the early organization of committees for an official dog in several states, and that his organization would give these groups every possible aid in achieving their objective. Adoption of an official dog, he said, would have to come about either through action of the state's legislative body, by a governor's proclamation, or by popular vote of the people of the state.

We Fall for the Tricks We Played

LABOR MONOPOLIES CLOUD BUSINESS SKY

Monopoly labor union power in essential industries has become a new factor to consider in judging economic trends, according to William K. Jackson, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

"To an extraordinary degree," he said, "the business trend has come under the influence of labor-management relations."

The rise and fall of the business curve in 1946 closely followed the rise and fall of man-hours lost in strikes. The sensitivity of total production to strikes in essential industries was illustrated by the dual of industrial indices during strikes in steel, coal and transportation.

It is evident, therefore, that prospects on the labor-management front dominate to an unusual extent the general business outlook.

"Some say the rash of strikes simply recapitulates economic history in the period immediately after World War I. That period, like the present, was marked by rising living costs and unrest as the aftermath of war."

"But the disruption of industry by strikes cannot be dismissed by drawing a parallel with the history of labor unrest had in 1919-20. The tremendous power it holds over industry and public welfare today."

Introduced by Spaniards

The bulk of the catfish being used in the United States has been coming from Brazil in recent years. The catfish being used is introduced into what is now the United States by the Spaniards 300 years ago.

Pioneer Dairy Farmer

In 1852 P. H. Smith of Elgin, Ill., shipped 17 gallons of milk to Chicago as the first attempt at exclusive dairy farming in Illinois.

Production Needs

In producing one ton of steel, it is estimated that the railroads haul approximately four tons of ore, coal, coke, limestone, scrap iron and other raw materials.

The Deep Sleep

In order to eliminate noise, the Pullman company has developed a hat bag made of cloth-like gray paper for use of sleeping car passengers.

Deodorization of Paint

If you object to the odor of fresh paint, you can meet that difficulty by mixing a deodorant sold at paint stores with the paint. In accordance with the directions of the manufacturer, relatively little of the deodorant is required, and it is stated that it is effective and does not injure the paint.

Mechanized Line Industry

Long a cottage industry, it was not until 1928 that the first successful powered-driven, fast spinning mill was set up in Belfast, after which rapid expansion of the industry began.

Native to Asia

Alfalfa is native to southwestern Asia and was in use centuries before the Christian era.

IN OUR CHURCHES

KEEP DOG ON LEASH AVOID RABIES SCARE

For want of a leash a "rabies epidemic" is born.

Thus the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York City, sums up what probably the best-compiled fact about rabies. It explains it as follows:

If every dog-owner kept his pet on a leash at all times, there would be no possibility of his straying away. If he did not stray away, there would be no opportunity for him to get into trouble by fighting with other dogs or snapping at strangers who might attempt to pet or tease him. If he did not snap at strangers, the cry of "Mad dog!" would not likely be raised, there would be no excitement or hysteria culminating in a "rabies epidemic" and the summary execution of many animals.

According to the Center, true rabies is a relatively uncommon disease. In a typical year, in the United States, only 7,000 dogs are affected. Rabies is no more prevalent in summer than in winter but you hear more about rabies in summer because men and animals mingle more freely outdoors in hot weather. A really "mad dog" does not attack unless provoked or annoyed. Preventive rabies vaccines are available at veterinarians, though their effectiveness is still a matter of debate.

BEING GOVERNOR HAS TRIBULATIONS

Sigler Finds Red Tape And Complicated Processes Slow Down Any Action

Running the Lansing one-man grand jury, complicated as it must have been "easy" compared with the staggering task now confronting Governor Kim Sigler, top executive of the State of Michigan.

When Sigler wanted to get things done, he had only to talk things over with Judge Leland W. Carr, Ingham County Circuit Court judge. Sigler had no financial problem, as the State Legislature had provided adequate funds to cover needs of investigation and prosecution. The Carr-Sigler team swinging unbridledly into action, got results in a hurry.

And results bring satisfaction both to the principals and to the taxpayers.

Contrast the above, simplified of course, with the 1947 job of being Governor of Michigan.

Instead of getting approval of one person for a program, Governor Sigler must submit his recommendations to the Legislature, membership of which includes 30 persons throughout Michigan and who represent all types of economic activity.

Governor Sigler came to the conclusion in February that a solution of the state's present financial dilemma was to re-submit the sales tax amendment to the voters at the April spring election.

The House of Representatives agreed with his recommendation, but the program was upset by a minority of state senators who prevented the necessary two-thirds majority vote for approval.

Because of his experience with certain lobbyists during the Lansing Grand Jury investigations, Governor Sigler has carefully avoided applying political pressure on members of the Legislature and hence engaging in lobbying for his own administrative measures.

In his budget message to the Legislature on February 11th, Governor Sigler expressed his personal distaste for lobbying in the following words:

"There is no lobbyist for the aged. There is no lobbyist for the mentally afflicted. Dependent children have no representatives, except those public-spirited citizens who have been giving of their time in their behalf, and the conscience of all good citizens."

The taxpayer has no lobbyist. The man who is burdened with taxation and shorns the thought of new taxes has no lobbyist. You and I must represent all the people, without bowing to pressure from any one lobbyist.

The Senate Judiciary Committee on Tuesday (March 25) held a public hearing on proposed legislation to register lobbyists at Lansing. The Capitol Club of Lansing, whose membership comprises secretaries of 37 state trade associations, presented a formal statement in which the Club raised no objections to registration of legislative agents or payment of a registration fee to a state office.

The Club made one major objection, this being to granting power of subpoena to a member of the Legislature, such as the Ivan Johnson committee which sought to smear Mr. Sigler in 1946.

It is assumed by Capitol observers that the Legislature will enact some form of a law requiring registration of legislative agents—one of the administration reforms sought by Mr. Sigler as a result of his Lansing Grand Jury experiences.

Instead of having ample funds to get things done, Governor is faced with the dire and grim prospect of a staggering deficit. The voters of Michigan appropriated a $270,000,000 bonus for veterans of World War II without authorizing any taxation whereby such payments are to be financed.

How the Michigan veteran bonus is to be financed is as much a mystery today as it was one year ago, prior to the Michigan primary, when candidates were making capital of the proposal.
