1902 Yesterday

Mye is tangle. Old 1902 is a tangle. There is a great demand for both male and female help.

Home grown new potatoes have appeared in markets.

John Schaffer was stung on the eye while hiving bees yesterday morning.

The canning factory has just laid in two carloads of three-pound tomato cans.

Last week's shipment of butter from the Manchester creamery was 111 tubs containing 5,545 pounds of butter for which over $1,000 in cash was received.

Win Purdies had a large tank in his barn for holding water, but the tank got full last Thursday and went on a tear. It crushed his survey which stood under it.

A large crowd of men and boys were attracted to the justice court room Saturday and Monday to listen to the suit between Benjamin Solt of Bridgewater and L. D. Watkins and Son of Norvell township, before Justice Haggman. A. J. Waters was attorney for Solt and F. M. Freeman and J. W. Fitchius of Exeter City, attorneys for Watkins. It appears that Solt is out of age. He tried out to work a year but quit after working about nine months had passed and he used for wages due him $27.70. It was tried before a jury and some interesting testimony was introduced on both sides. Solt received a judgment for amount of his claim and costs. We understand that the case is likely to go to circuit court.

In Deerfield there lives a woman who is 88 years old and has always been a housekeeper, yet she has never made a pie, a cake, or cookies in her life.

Supervisor O'Leary of Norvell reports nine birds in that township last year.

Miss Mae Stark has gone to Dayton, Ohio, with her sister to spend the summer. It will be a splendid outing for her and give her an opportunity to have needed rest from her school work. She is to teach Rowe's school next fall.

ROSES CUT IN AFTERNOON WILL KEEP LONGER

Better late than early is advice you can safely follow when it comes to gathering roses. Recent experiments show that blooms cut late in the afternoon keep longer than those cut in the early morning.

Use a sharp knife and make a long slanting cut. A smooth cut surface allows the water to flow easily into the stem according to Paul H. Krone, flower specialist at MSU. The slanted cut will keep the stem from being closed off if it is pressed against the bottom of the vase.

After cutting the roses get them in water immediately. Remove the leaves from the lower part of the stems. However, certain commercial preparations made for that purpose will help to keep your roses longer.

Put the cut roses in a cool place—in the refrigerator if there is room—for several hours or overnight. This will help them keep longer, too.

Putting supplies on shelves in the kitchen is a good idea.

MATHIAS REUNION

AUTO ACCIDENTS ARE EXPECTED TO TAKE 30 LIVES OVER THE FOURTH OF JULY WEEK END

On Your Holiday Trip, Remember

RIDES WITH THE RECKLESS

One-fourth of all fatal accidents on the highways of our country and in the streets of our cities and towns are caused by speed. Reckless drivers—disregarding all the laws of traffic safety and common sense, urging onward automobiles catapulted by the power of a hundred horses—these were the prime killers in 1946.

Last year, 33,500 persons—drivers, riders and pedestrians—died in automobile accidents. That's about one death every fifteen minutes. More than a million were injured, many of them maimed or crippled for life. This year the toll will be even greater, approaching an all-time high of 40,000 deaths—unless you, Mr. and Mrs. Driver, call off this daily rendezvous with Death.

You can do your part to help stop this highway slaughter by personally striving for an accident-free record. Drive carefully at all times. Be considerate of other drivers and pedestrians. Gauge your speed to highway conditions and traffic requirements.

Don't let Death hang over your shoulder and point the way to the morgue. Drive safely—and live!

This advertisement is presented in the public interest by the President's Highway Safety Conference and the daily and weekly newspapers of the nation through their Press and Publisher Associations.

Crazy Hat Wins Refrigerator!

One of those "breakfast in the morning" radio shows came to Capitol City last week, and Bessie Carey won first prize for wearing the craziest hat in the audience. It was a full-sized refrigerator! (The prize, not the hat.)

"Glad they had of her paid off at last," says Ed, treating the whole thing like a joke. But you could see he was proud of Sarrah. From where I sit, there's another thing Ed can be proud of: the way he's set up with those hats of Sarrah's, with never a criticism; just he's put up with fifty pipe and the other little freedoms he enjoys. They've got that refrigerator home now, stocked with beer; and we're going over tonight to drink a toast—not just to Sarrah's hat, but to a happily married couple, who've learned to live with one another's differences in tastes—whether it's a taste for hats or beer!

Captain of Industry

Butch wants a bicycle. Lots of lawn and lemonade and baby-sitting lie between Butch and that bike, but we're betting on the boy. He has energy, vision, and our national habit of working hard for what he wants. He's American business—in miniature.

There are many names for Butch's philosophy. You can call it Free Enterprise, Opportunity, Democracy, or Capitalism, if you want.

But, whatever the name, America owes it much. For our most valuable natural resource lies in the ambition and initiative of Americans like Butch.

As great publications have grown from the dreams of young men with old hand-presses—the electric industry had small beginnings, too. A few men with vision strung the first short lines. People with faith risked their savings. Better and better service, at lower and lower cost, crossed more and more jobs—and carried the benefits of electric living to more and more people.

Free enterprise—and hard work—will bring Butch and his bike together. They are what built America and the American way of life. No nation on earth has found a satisfactory substitute for that combination.

The x-axis is 'Time (h)' ranging from 0 to 120. Graph (a) is the 'Control (no inoculum)' and graph (b) is the 'Inoculated sample'. Both graphs show a decrease in log CFU/g over time at 100% RH. It can, and must, be arranged so that a surplus of food is not allowed to be hoarded by those who need it, wherever they may be. World Government can provide a more equitable means of distribution if they will. It is not a job for any one nation.

DISTRIBUTION PROBLEM

There can be no valid excuse for the American farmer. The newspaper world, when she is faced with a situation as good as that which Lewis was handed, has no choice but to let rich, devoted men be killed in Flanders, just to get the food to 1918, just before the guns are turned against them.

Penicillin Aids Scarlet Fever

Use of New Wonder Drugs Halts Complications From Disease.

PHILADELPHIA—Dr. Joseph C. Doane, clinical professor of medicine at Temple University Medical School, declared that penicillin, one of the new wonder drugs, had virtually altered the entire picture of scarlet fever. He said that with careful use of penicillin "the whole picture of the disease has been changed by penicillin and streptomycin." He added that with the drug, the mortality rate of penicillin was not as high as it was before.

South Lyon tied the game up in their half of the eighth when J. Cash reached first on an infield error, moved to second when D. Cash singled to center. Both runners reached on a single by Fiedler. Two Fires Here? In Week Destroy Workshop, Home

Two fires of undetermined origin occurred over the week end, both of which destroyed unoccupied buildings.

The fire department was called to the Martin Wink farm home Friday morning at four a.m., where a workshop was aflame. An explosion caused the shop by the blast, called attention to the fire, but it was too late to save the building or its contents by that time.

Both the building and its contents were entirely destroyed.

Home Burns Here
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Art McGee at 606 McCub street burned to the ground Saturday morning. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Grace Keller, who arrived at the McGee home at 10:30 a.m. The fire was also being controlled by the time help arrived, and the building and its contents were destroyed. A shed on the premises, filled with wood, was also burned.

People Warned as Case of Rabies is Found Near Here

Easy Does It

A rabid dog has been reported by the County Health Department. The dog was from the Raymond Neuffer farm near here. Laboratory tests made July 6 indicate the animal definitely had the disease.

There is always the possibility that other dogs may be infected. Any dog bitten by a dog is considered to be infected. If taken in time, inoculations will ward off the disease. Bites about the face are especially dangerous, as the closer to the brain the bite is, the less time there is to halt the progress of the disease.

If you've been bitten by a dog lately, see your doctor right away. And if a dog is acting strangely, keep him up for a few days until a veterinarian or other qualified person has had an opportunity to check and make sure whether or not he has rabies.

Hospitality Is Keystone of State's Success as a Resort

by Gene Allen

What makes a vacation trip to Michigan memorable? As likely as not, it will be the memory of Michigan hospitality—the warmth of friendship which Michigan people extend to strangers.

This thought was emphasized to me the other day. Meredith Clark, editor of the Tekonsha Patriot, a weekly newspaper at Tekonsha in Branch county, told me this story. "My wife and I drove to Traverse City for the summer convention of the Michigan Press Association last fall. I discovered I had not packed a suit. It was about 6:30 p.m. then, and clothing stores were closed. Finally, I went to Wright's drug store and told the proprietor my dilemma. "Do you know of a place where I could buy a suit?" The merchant noticed my convention badge. His face brightened. "Here take my suit," he exclaimed, whipping off his tie and putting it into my hands. I wore it the Friday night and returned it to him the next morning. I'll never forget Traverse City."

Baby carriages are common on college campuses today.

The American Legion convention at a Boys' State at Michigan State College the other week. The boys from towns all over the state assembled to study how government operates. They were housed in student barracks.

Morning assembly was at 6:30 a.m. Someone had the bright idea of sounding off a bugle for first call. He blew it loud and long.

From trailers in the veterans' village nearby came a chorus of howling babies.

The next morning, No. 10, College babies had the right of way.

Frank Morris, Lansing correspondent of the Detroit Times, Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr. is being courted to succeed Sigler after a second term. Alger, before long, will be a discoverer I had not packed a suit. It was about 6:30 p.m. then, and clothing stores were closed. Finally, I went to Wright's drug store and told the proprietor my dilemma. "Do you know of a place where I could buy a suit?" The merchant noticed my convention badge. His face brightened.
