Approximately 450 Westchester 4-H boys and girls have exhibited ready for the Annual Livestock Show at the Fair Grounds near Ann Arbor, August 21, 22 and 23.

As in previous years livestock and exhibitors will be brought in Thursday afternoon. Judging exhibits will start at 9:00 a.m. Friday, August 22. Saturday will feature a judging of showmanship contests, demonstrations and achievement booths. A picnic dinner will be held following a breakfast parade.

The pre-arranged program of good quality winning top premiums will be taken to the State 4-H Show, August 26-29.

The county exhibit will be housed in the Merchants Building and adjacent livestock barn. The Ann Arbor Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the exhibit.

Westchester County will send approximately 30 4-H boys and girls to the annual state 4-H club show at Michigan State College, August 26-29, according to the local county club agent.

A total of more than 4,000 exhibits is expected for the show. More than 1200 animals will be shown.

Word received by the club agent from A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H club leader, indicate that this year's show will be one of the biggest ever. Better facilities are available for showing the exhibits and for handling and feeding the 4-H club.

Speaking of plans for the week, Mr. Bue stated that 1,200 boys and girls will be in the show. They will be in a nearby camp.

The laboratories of the new agricultural engineering building will have the best cattle and sheep raised by the county.

Under the footbal stadium and swine will be exhibited in the judging pavilion and the best experimental plots and permanent barn. Horses will be shown in the riding horse barn.

Freezer Locker Plant Is Nearing Completion Here

William Frey, 66, an onion field worker on the farm of Elmer Trout, died in St. Joseph's Mercy hospital in Ann Arbor on Sunday night and sheriff's deputies said the death apparently was caused by a fall from a building.

Getty, a refrigeration engineer, designed and is directing the construction of the plant, which will be managed by Harter. Both are veterans of World War II.

The Manchester plant is one of several in which Getty has played a part in construction. Deerfield, Grap, Blufffield, Dundee and Waukegan are among the towns having freezer plants which show his handwork.

With almost a month still required for completion, the building has already taken a great deal of material for insulating and wire-tape-proofing. In addition to fill dirt, nails and other incidentals, it has taken the following material for the plant: 3100 cement blocks, 18,500 square feet of lumber, 20,000 feet of 2x4s, 600 feet of 2x6s, 110 bags of joint mortar and 65 gallons of an odorless tar preparation.

Six tons of wool-like insulating material, made from ground red wood bark, was used.

About 500 lockers will be available.

The locker room will be kept at zero, with "flash freezing equipment" at 20 below. Equipment for smoking and curing is to be installed; and the plant will also include a new process of washing wool, which does away with wringing.

They expect to employ five people.

Veterinarians to Trade Ideas

Facts of the new knowledge bearing on healthier and longer lives of animals may cause serious exchanges this week by veterinarians from all sections of the United States attending the convention of the American Veterinary Medical Association at the Netherland Plaza Hotel in Cincinnati. O. Manchester is represented by Dr. H. P. Eames.

Among other things, the veterinarians will discuss the importance of a role in public health being played by veterinary medicine. This has taken a dramatic turn with the enormous development of air transportation of both humans and animals and the threat this holds of introducing into this country diseases common in other parts of the world. Many of the bacterial diseases of man are also diseases of animals and animals are susceptible to as many diseases as man.

Aside from the care of sick and injured animals, the most important functions of the veterinary profession are the protection of the livestock industry on which the life of the nation depends and the protection of human beings against the diseases which are peculiar to animals but which are communicable to man.

On the Farm Front

DESPITE the fact that the economy drive of the 80th congress was made largely at the expense of the farmers and the consumers in the country, there was ample evidence in the closing days that a new leadership in behalf of the farmers of the nation was evolving from the struggle for economic survival in the government's cooperation with agriculture is concerned.

In agriculture appropriations from 40 per cent to 10 per cent, (2) by keeping farm credit banks on an independent basis, and (3) by again staying off the attempt to impose various forms of taxation on farm cooperatives.

While the brunt of the battle against subsidizing agriculture was borne by such senators as William Borah of Idaho and Charles McNary of Oregon, several new figures have emerged as farm champions. Among them, McNary always has been considered a friend of the farmers.

From the front which have dogged the McNary of Idaho and Thye of Minnesota.

Same Old Cycle

Formerly, according to reports, was subsidizing wheat from market to the hope of higher and higher prices. High reports are that McNary is pushing up the wheat crop through the McNary of Idaho and Thye of Minnesota.

The big money lobbyist, as he is called, has been in the door at the end of the first session of the 80th congress. When the second session starts on January 6, 1948, the predictions are that McNary will move all the way in for the bill. If this happens, we will see a reversal in the governmental policies of the 1930's.

Menace to Rights

THE HYPER-ALARM in the Senate over communism has led to a state of affairs, even in the House, which are reminiscent of the infamous alien and sedition laws of 1950. The alien and sedition laws, passed in the wake of the Revolutionary war, sent demands of good American citizens to jail and even to death, for saying what they thought under the constitutional right of free speech. Newspaper publishers, librarians, were jailed under these laws. This hysteria of communism in congress has driven men from the government service and barred them as disloyal for no reason save they had independent or unconventional ideas.

The Rice bill, passed by the House although not by the Senate, would even deny men charged with disloyalty the age old right to confront their accusers and answer specific charges. It substitutes the whisper of a stool pigeon for evidence admissible in court.

Test Case Due

The Taft-Hartley labor bill already faces a severe test in the advance notice given by several unions among United Automobile Workers that they will strike to obtain guarantees in their contract against provisions of the new act. These are the same guarantees that John L. Lewis wrote out in his contract with coal and steel industries. If it can be done easily in coal and steel, why not in other industries, say union heads.

Famed Fishing Port Pays Annual Testimonial to Victims of Sea

Floral Ceremony Recalls Stirring Fishermen's Saga

WNU Features.
Center flowers on the water.
There our fathers found their graves.
Brothers, sons and husbands sleep.
Strengthened by the deep.

To the strains of this hymn, garlands of flowers are cast on the ebbing tide as Gloucester, Mass., picturesque seaport with heroic traditions, pays its annual testimonial to its fishermen who have lost their lives at sea. Each year, new names of lost ships and fishermen are added to the rolls, for fishing, despite all its improvements and its growth into one of America's largest food industries, is still a hazardous occupation.

Assembling on a semi-circular terrace, reaching out into Gloucester bay, the widows and children of fishermen gathered to witness a simple but beautiful tribute is paid to the fishermen who have found their last resting place in the ocean that breaks on the nearby shore. In accordance with tradition, the service is held on a Sunday afternoon in the month of August when the tide is going out. As a rule, there are only two Sundays in the month when the tide permits holding the ceremony, but in the various forms of taxation on farm cooperatives.

The Rice bill, passed by the House although not by the Senate, would even deny men charged with disloyalty the age old right to confront their accusers and answer specific charges. It substitutes the whisper of a stool pigeon for evidence admissible in court.

Test Case Due

The Taft-Hartley labor bill already faces a severe test in the advance notice given by several unions among United Automobile Workers that they will strike to obtain guarantees in their contract against provisions of the new act. These are the same guarantees that John L. Lewis wrote out in his contract with coal and steel industries. If it can be done easily in coal and steel, why not in other industries, say union heads.

Kathleen Norris Says: The All-Important Word

Ball Syndicate. - WNU Features.

Some might ask him how that Kathleen Norris came out, and add, "but you're such a wonderful person. I hope, she's lucky to get you."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS
"If my husband only was more appreciative," women say. "If only there were only two Sundays in the month when the tide permits holding the ceremony, but in the various forms of taxation on farm cooperatives."

While the brunt of the battle against subsidizing agriculture was borne by such senators as William Borah of Idaho and Charles McNary of Oregon, several new figures have emerged as farm champions. Among them, McNary always has been considered a friend of the farmers.

Same Old Cycle

Formerly, according to reports, was subsidizing wheat from market to the hope of higher and higher prices. High reports are that McNary is pushing up the wheat crop through the McNary of Idaho and Thye of Minnesota.

The big money lobbyist, as he is called, has been in the door at the end of the first session of the 80th congress. When the second session starts on January 6, 1948, the predictions are that McNary will move all the way in for the bill. If this happens, we will see a reversal in the governmental policies of the 1930's.

Menace to Rights

THE HYPER-ALARM in the Senate over communism has led to a state of affairs, even in the House, which are reminiscent of the infamous alien and sedition laws of 1950. The alien and sedition laws, passed in the wake of the Revolutionary war, sent demands of good American citizens to jail and even to death, for saying what they thought under the constitutional right of free speech. Newspaper publishers, librarians, were jailed under these laws. This hysteria of communism in congress has driven men from the government service and barred them as disloyal for no reason save they had independent or unconventional ideas.

The Rice bill, passed by the House although not by the Senate, would even deny men charged with disloyalty the age old right to confront their accusers and answer specific charges. It substitutes the whisper of a stool pigeon for evidence admissible in court.

AMERICAN HARVEST SCENE . . . Largest wheat crop in the United States is being harvested as farmers throughout the land strive to store the overwhelming abundance of grain in their country's granaries. The scene is a typical one of the American harvest scene. A farmer is seen in the foreground, working the land. The background shows a vast expanse of wheat fields under a clear sky.

THE PITCHBLADE IS REPORTED TAKEN BY RUSSIA. Some arrivals claimed that as many as a million Germans were involved in the operations. The Germans claim a day's advance from work during the last three days of the war. Longer absences bring jail sentences.

BURIAL IN PALESTINE . . . The body of Sgt. Clifford Martin who, with another British sergeant, Henry Fitch, was killed in a battle with Jewish underground fighters in Palestine, is shown being buried in a British forces cemetery near Lydda, Palestine, where St. George of England was martyred in the year 303 A. D. The solemn and unbroken of the Jews' battle to secure Palestine as a homeland has attracted the intense interest of the whole world.

GENIUS COMES YOUNG . . . Ferruccio Berni, eight years old, is just like his father, a genius. He's a genius, or so many music critics say. The Italian boy, shown here with his father, the composer, is a genius. He conducted his first piece when he was four years old and elicited raves from the critics. Since then he has conducted more than 40 concerts.

Germans Flee Labor In Reich Russ Zone

Thousands Entering U. S. Area, Officials Report.

FRANKFURT, GERMANY. — American officials report that thousands of Germans are entering the U. S. zone from the Soviet zone of the Reich. The Germans claim they are fleeing from labor in Soviet-operated uranium mines and a new registration order for veterans. An American spokesman said the Russians were reported operating pitchblende mines near Obessclama in Saxony on a 24-hour basis. Uranium is derived from pitchblende.

At least 2,000 Germans crossed from the Soviet to the U. S. zone without American permission during a two-week period, a report to Frankfurt said. The influx is continuing.

The majority of arrivals from Saxony told American and German officials all came to that state between 18 and 20 have been ordered to register for work in the mines.

The mine shafts, 3,000 feet deep, were reported to be in the Erzgebirge "Mountains of Ore," a pre-war area noted for its radioactive minerals.

Some arrivals told German police women were registered for mine work.

The pitchblende is reported taken by Russia. Some arrivals claimed that as many as a million Germans were involved in the operations.

The Germans claim a day's advance from work during the last three days of the war. Longer absences bring jail sentences.

A photograph of a Soviet zone registration card carried by a former naval technician showed that veterans were given three days to report for registration.

Failure to report could mean punishment by 100 marks fines or six weeks in prison.

Blacksmith and Son Stay Shop; Auto Here to Stay

RACINE, Wis. — Frank Joseph, 59, closed his blacksmith shop and reluctantly admitted that his son, Joseph, 25, was here to stay.

The son said they would take a rest. The father has been shoeing horses for 30 years, the son for 44 years.

Despite the decrease in the number of horses, the Stegerters were fairly busy during the last few years, as their shop was one of the few in this area that survived the war.

The son said he had been "too busy shoeing horses" to marry. "But now that I have a little time, I might start looking for a girl," he said.

Latest Budget May Change Government Airport Plans

WASHINGTON. — A new federal project that produced a successful cross-wind landing gear for the nation's airports.

The project, which cost the Government's 500 million dollar nationwide airport building program, is a new cross-wind landing gear.

The result could be that the public will get more airports for its money, or the same number of airports now planned but for only one-third the estimated cost.

The swelling gear, successfully tested in wind tunnels, makes possible landings on a single runway regardless of wind direction. It eventually could make multiple-runway airports obsolete.

Jabbed Constantly by Wife's

Knees, He Can't Get Divorce

LONDON. — Walter Humphries, who said his wife kept him awake nights by jabbing her knees into his back, was denied a divorce. The court ruled he was not entitled to a divorce on the ground of cruelty.

At Bodmin, in Cornwall, meanwhile, Judge Scobell Armstrong refused to grant a divorce to Walter Trudgeon, who said his wife tried to stab him with a knife every time he came home with an apple.

Armstrong said, however, that who kept out of the shadows every morning with an apple was "not a story which is very creditable to the husband's character, but because of lack of evidence."

The driver, whose name was not disclosed, said he found the explosive wrapped in a newspaper wedged behind the driver's seat, when he returned to the car after a short absence.

A quarter of an hour later authorities found a second automobile in the same area. It contained a number of 18 commercial type detonators were found in an automobile in which court the House of Commons, Scotland Yard and other government centers.

Mr. Brezer, editor in chief of the Detroit Evening Journal, launched the C. M. Hubbard of the editorial staff a few days ago, and it is hoped the party of the Journal will be re-established.

Squire Pelton, of Grass Lake, is trying the Ypsilanti water cure for biliousness.

Michael Crosby, of Jackson, aged 56, died suddenly on Friday evening from an overdose of morphine, taken to relieve pain.

Matthew Duffy, of Jackson, who has done night work the M. C. Ry for 12 years, was brought home from Chicago last Friday evening, a raving maniac, and locked up in a mental hospital.

Wm. Baizer, the oldest merchant on Exchange Place, who has served customers for over 40 years and is today one of the liveliest men in town, although 72 years of age, has a pair of roller skates and is making a success of skating too.

Mail robbing seems to be going on continually and complaints are numerous. Last Thursday Michael Hubbard of the editorial staff of the National Bank of Ann Arbor and the parties claim not to have received it.

Last Tuesday evening being 'Ladies' night at the rink, one of our young men dressed himself in his sister's clothes and in company with a young gentleman friend reported to the rink, where he attracted considerable attention by his fancy skating and general tony appearance. He was the envy of all the girls and the boys were all jealous of his escort. He played it fine for a time, but while conversing with his brother he put on a little too much, when Frank said, "Oh come now, Bert, ain't you ashamed?" You can't fool me.

Mr. Duane, of Detroit, was in the city on Tuesday making arrangements for an attack of the Salvation Army on this stronghold. If they come they will be a detachment from the body already in Detroit. A hallmarked barracks will be established and the ticket system of the organization will be a common thing among us. Ypsilanti — If they know when they are well off they will keep away from there, for if the Ypsilanti ever get them into the bath tub that mineral water will wash all the goodness out of them.

Engine Company No. 1 was out last Thursday night practicing and killed the reservoir.

The water is very low in the river, and the stretch from the decaying weeds is disagreeable, besides being unhealthful.

Sam Brayman left here on Monday morning for Cadillac. He had a good visit with friends here.

Democrat — E. B. Norris of Manchester is the only candidate for the office of prosecuting attorney on the Democratic ticket. No one else in the party wants the office, at least that is the talk.

At an auction of said Court, held at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, in said County, on the 8th day of August A.D. 1947, Present, HON. JAY G. PRAY, Judge of Probate.

Charles E. Walz, having filed in said Court his petition, praying for license to sell the interest of said estate in certain real estate therein described.

IT IS ORDERED, That the 8th day of September A.D. 1947, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said Probate Office, be and is hereby appointed for hearing said petition, and that all persons entitled in said estate appear before said Court, at said time and place, to show cause why a license to sell the interest of said estate in said real estate should not be granted.

FISHING II

Popularity of Michigan sport fishing has resumed its upward climb.

The conservation department reports 607,424 fishing licenses were issued in the first seven months of the year, compared with 593,407 issued in the same months of 1945. The record-breaking season of 1946.

April collections were the first in 21 months that failed to show a gain over collections to the same date in the previous year. Excessive rain and cold weather at that time produced a slump in license sales that was not overcome until recent sales, to August 1, were tabulated.

The net gain is due to an increase for the year so far in monthly sales to residents; sales to non-residents still are slightly below those of last season.

MSC PLANS FFA WEEK IN 1946

Plans for an FFA Week to be held at Michigan State college in 1946 were outlined at the annual meeting of the Michigan Association of Teachers of Vocational Agriculture held recently at MSC.

Commenting on tentative plans George Devoe, MSC professor of agricultural education, said that both educational and competitive events will be staged during the week. "A broadened basis for livestock selection will be used," he said. "Where one type has often been considered in choosing stock before, it is planned to also include such factors as performance and record of offspring. The contest will be set up to use the same abilities that the boys will need in selecting animals for their own farm."

Between 1000 and 1500 boys are expected for the event. MSC agricultural specialists are cooperating in making plans for the week for the ffa week will be set in the year.

Hardware And Implement News

BY DRESELHOUSE and DAVIDTER

Here it is Tuesday Morning again and there hasn't anybody done anything about the weather in fact it is so hot that the Dakey say that it makes the ink run.

There was not much stirring around here last week and about the only thing that did stir was that we got that combine running by one of our good natured farmers lending the missing parts to complete the machine. That certainly was a GOOD SAMARITAN ACT.

Last week we received a shipment of Farmall's new 8-10, 10-14 and 12-16, at prices that are too high. We also received some Clayton Lamberts Blow Torches, the best made, and some 30 inch Aluminum Levels which we have been out of for some time.

Aunt Sally says that Uncle David does not care how much she snores as that is the only thing that she can do that does not cost anything.

The Grain Elevators that were shipped out of Batavia, Ill., on July 17th have arrived, a little late, but they are here and will be in use for use for one to unload your grain and to better place your name with us as they will not last long, and —That is all for this time.

TREAT EGGS RIGHT IN HOT WEATHER

Hot weather can cause a decrease in egg quality unless poultrymen are careful how eggs are handled, says Howard Zindel, MSC extension poultry specialist.

The first five or six hours after eggs are gathered often determine how well they will retain their quality until they reach the customer. Eggs should be gathered three or more times a day in a wire basket or similar container that will allow air to circulate around them and hasten cooling. Eggs should be immediately taken to a well-ventilated, fairly moist room with a temperature of 50 to 60 degrees. A clear serves well for this purpose if properly ventilated.

Keep the eggs away from odors. They are cooling and after completely cooled, pack them small end down in pre-cooled egg cases. Market eggs at least twice a week.
