

Judge Payne Tells County Board of Supervisors Of Juvenile Delinquency Needs

Probate and Juvenile Judge Jay H. Payne, told Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors, Wednesday of last week, that he is refusing to permit further use of the Juvenile Detention Ward at the County Infirmary.

His actions mark a continuation of a policy in practice since last October. Reasons for its disuse are such incidents as the alleged suicide attempt of a 15-year-old girl last October.

Judge Payne advocated solving the detention problem by county purchase of a family-sized cottage possibly in the rural part of the county. Such a cottage should be run by a couple who would act as parents rather than jailors. It would house those juveniles guilty of minor delinquencies like truancy or leaving home and children who need open shelter care for such reasons as abandonment by their parents.

For those juveniles who have committed some serious offense and need secure detention, Judge Payne suggests the possibility of detention in a maximum security type of institution serving several counties.

Judge Payne also told the Supervisors that more staff is necessary to deal with juvenile cases.

He said that he disapproved of any other alternative solutions offered so far for the juvenile detention problem. He is against building any juvenile quarters in the courthouse because space and funds are already very limited. Also, any such courthouse arrangements would smack too much of the institutional, he thought. A home atmosphere is necessary for the children, he believes.

A new building to house the juvenile court and detention quarters would be unsuitable, also, he declared. He would be unable to render proper judicial service in both the juvenile and probate courts if he had to travel between courts in two separate buildings, he said. He also pointed out that such a building would cost about $200,000 to build and $30,000 or more in annual expenses. A separate building is unnecessary and impractical until Washtenaw has at least 200,000 residents, enough to justify two probate judges. According to the Master Plan this would take about two years.

A further discussion or action on the juvenile problem was left to a joint committee of Supervisors' juvenile affairs and welfare committees. Meeting date on the problem has not yet been scheduled.

The annual report of the Washtenaw Probate and Juvenile Courts will be published in the future with comparative figures of 1951.

Roll A Lincoln Log - It's Luscious!

Lincoln's log, symbol of the great president's humble origin, inspires an unusually appropriate and delicious dessert for the celebration of his birthday, February 12th. Covered with a rich chocolate "bark," this cake is far easier to make than your impressed guest would guess.

Lincoln Log

- 1/2 cup sifted cake flour
- 1/2 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 4 eggs (at room temperature)
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once and measure. Combine baking powder, salt and eggs in bowl. Beat with rotary egg beater, adding sugar gradually until mixture becomes thick and light-colored. Fold in flour and vanilla. Turn into 15x10-inch pan which has been lined on bottom with paper. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 13 minutes. Turn out on cloth which has been sprinkled with confectioners' sugar. Quickly remove paper and cut off crisp edges. Roll cake, rolling cloth up in cake. Let cool about 10 minutes. Unroll, spread cake with Chocolate Filling and roll again. With pastry tube, cover completely with Chocolate Fluff Frosting and roll again. Make knots by frosting pieces of cake cut from trimmed edges. Attach these to log with additional frosting.

*Chocolate Filling: Use prepared chocolate pudding and pie mix, prepared as directed on the box.

*Chocolate Fluff Frosting

- 4 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 3 squares Baker's Unsweetened Chocolate, melted
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 egg whites
- 1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar

Cream butter; add sugar and blend. Add vanilla, chocolate, and salt and mix well. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition until blended. Then continue beating until mixture will stand in peaks. Add to chocolate mixture, folding gently but thoroughly, only enough to blend.

It was a check for $25,000, the first of ten annual installments of a like amount to total $250,000. Officials of the foundation are, left to right: F. H. Coward, Lapeer banker and treasurer; George A. Haggarty, Detroit attorney and foundation chairman, and A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H Club leader at Michigan State College and secretary. The foundation hopes to raise more than two million dollars to expand the 4-H Club program in many ways. Initial goals include funds to build a 4-H Club Center in northern Michigan to provide camping facilities; promotion of 4-H Club programs for urban boys and girls and an exchange of living experiences between rural and urban youth in Michigan.

Collar the Clock!

PUTTING a collar on the average kitchen timepiece will brighten up the clock wall and make it both attractive and more useful.

Lay the clock on a piece of paper and trace its outline. Transfer the drawing by means of carbon paper, to a panel of Masonite Tempered Preswood one-eighth inch thick. The material should be large enough to allow for the sawing of a "collar" to fit around the clock.

The center of the "collar" may be cut out with a coping or similar-type saw. To get the blade started, insert it in a hole bored near and inside the line marking the outline of the clock.

Shape of the clock will determine whether the outer edge of the "collar" is round, square or hexagonal. The distance between the clock and the outer edge of the Preswood should range from four to six inches, depending on the size of the clock and the amount of wall space available.

Friction ordinarily will keep the "collar" in position, flat against the wall at the back of the clock, but if the sawing has been irregular and the border is loose, insert small pieces of wood to take up the slack.

Arranged in clockwise order around the clock's new border may be glued the leaves from a small calendar.

The ingenious homemaker can decorate the clock in various ways.

Story of Michigan's Pioneer Doctors Revealed by Wayne U. Historian

Only two hundred years ago spider webs, crab's eyes, and moss from human skulls were remedies prescribed by physicians.

These are among the facts revealed by Mrs. Fanny J. Anderson in her book, "Doctors Under Three Flags," a recent publication of the Wayne University Press at Wayne University, Detroit. Mrs. Anderson is a member of the staff of the Wayne Medical Library. Through the story of medical and social problems faced by pioneer Detroiters for 136 years, she provides an account of the early physician in Michigan.

At first the only doctors in Michigan were army surgeons, but with the establishment of a stable government civilian doctors appeared.

In the Michigan backwoods physicians were apt to be called on for any emergency from dressing arrow wounds to treating malaria. They never had enough medicines on hand; their chances of being paid were so slim that they usually had to carry on some side business.

Since doctors could not always be reached, families in the frontier regions had to learn to rely upon themselves in times of sickness. Many of the favorite remedies were brewed in the kitchen. From such ingredients as peppermint water, catnip tea, a combination of onion and deer suet, asafoetida, honey flour and burgundy pitch, the pioneers would "doctor" their ailments.

Newspapers liked to publish home remedies. An example of the advice offered was an "effectual remedy" for consumption which would, in time, completely eradicate the disease. "Live temperately, avoid spirituous liquors, wear flannel next to the skin, and every morning take half a pint of new milk with a wine glass full of the expressed juice of green hoarhound." The tomato, called a "grateful garden vegetable," was another plant suggested for preserving health, curing indigestion, and diseases of the liver and lung. It was regarded as much a medicinal plant as a food. Newspapers also admonished people against certain unhealthful practices. The Oakland Chronicle thundered this dire warning at women: "Young ladies, abandon your stays . . . lest the grave have an early victim."

By the time Michigan became a State in 1837, the first Medical Society was organized and medical education in Michigan began a very distinguished development. Pioneer doctors of the State had heralded a new concept in medicine—the prevention of disease rather than the cure of it.

Bobcat Hunting for Sport

A rugged but enjoyable sport is what Harold Reinke, Alpena, calls bobcat hunting. This cat weighed 38½ pounds and provided plenty of excitement before being shot. For several years, bounties have been paid as a means of controlling these predators, but recently the conservation commission voted an end to "cat bounties, a method of control said to be costly and inadequate. Hunters like Reinke will help keep cat populations down, but main conservation department control efforts will be directed against those individual animals that do most damage.

No Free Meal Here

Hoping his birds will come home to roost, Otto Failing, conservation department game manager at Gaylord, flops out a choice dinner of corn for a colony of sharp-tail grouse southeast of Gaylord. Only 89 birds were planted here in 1949, but since then the grouse have grown in numbers and spread in many directions from the original planting. Last fall, for the first time, an open sharp-tail season was allowed in Otsego county, largely because of this planting. Contrary to the looks of this picture, the birds are not going to get a free meal. Failing is putting out corn for one reason only, in order to live trap the grouse for leg banding.

For The Pie Wise

PIE OF THE MONTH

High, wide and fancy free—that's the way you want Lemon Meringue Pie to be. And you can make it just that way when you use this lemon pudding and pie filling mix. Just add sugar, water and the yolks of 2 eggs to the filling mix—the whites go to make the ruffy meringue. Note, too, that the filling takes only about five minutes to cook—just time enough to bring it to a full boil. Cool for five minutes and zingo—it's ready for a baked pie shell.

Here you have Lemon Meringue Pie at its best—the kind that tops on America's Hit Parade of Pies.

Lemon Meringue Pie

1 package lemon pudding and pie filling mix
1/4 cup sugar
2 cups water
7 egg yolks
1 baked 9" pie shell

2 egg whites
4 tablespoons sugar
Combine pie filling mix, 1/4 cup sugar, and 1/4 cup of the water in a large bowl. Add egg yolks and blend well. Then add remaining 1/4 cup sugar. Cook and stir until mixture comes to a full boil and is thickened—about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Cool about 5 minutes, stirring once or twice. Pour into pie shell.

Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add 4 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is blended. Then continue beating until meringue will stand in peaks. Pipe lightly over the filling. Bake in oven (325° F.) 8 to 10 minutes, or until meringue is delicately browned.

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

FOR FLUFFY PUDDING,
USE PORTABLE MIXER

General Electric Consumers Institute

Let's have pudding for dessert tonight—home-made pudding made specially light and fluffy with the aid of a portable mixer and topped with an easy-to-prepare custard sauce.

Here are two simple pudding recipes from the General Electric Consumers Institute, and also the Institute's directions for making delicious Custard Sauce.

Snow Pudding

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute
1 envelope (1 1/2 cups boiling water tablespoons) un- 1/4 cup lemon juice flavored gelatin 1 teaspoon grated 1/4 cup cold water lemon rind
1/4 cup granulated 2 egg whites sugar
Pinch salt
Sprinkle gelatin in cold water in large mixing bowl. Let stand five minutes. Add sugar, salt and boiling water; stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add lemon juice and lemon rind; stir until well blended. Cool until gelatin begins to set. Place egg whites in smaller mixing bowl. Using portable mixer, beat at a high speed until stiff but not dry. Add to gelatin mixture and beat combined mixture at a high speed until mixture holds its shape.
Pour into quart mold or six individual molds, or pile into sherbet glasses. Chill in refrigerator. Serve with Custard Sauce. Makes six servings.

Fruit Whip

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute
1 egg white 1 tablespoon lemon
1/4 cup fruit pulp* 1/4 cup sugar Place egg white, fruit pulp and lemon juice in medium mixing bowl. Beat with portable mixer at a high speed, until mixture is very thick, light and fluffy—about 8-10 minutes.
Serve immediately with Custard Sauce. Makes 5-6 servings.
*Prune, peach or apricot pulp may be used.
For apricot whip, you may fold in 1/4 cup finely chopped, dried apricots at the end of beating time. One 5-ounce jar of pureed fruit (baby food) may be used for pulp.

Custard Sauce

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute
2 eggs for 4 eggs 1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup sugar 1/4 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups milk Place eggs in top of double boiler. Using portable mixer, beat at a low speed for about one minute or until well blended. Add sugar, salt and vanilla and continue to beat at a low speed for about 30 seconds. Pour in milk and cook over simmering (not boiling) water, stirring constantly, until mixture "coats" a metal spoon with a thin film of custard. If the mixture begins to curdle, remove from heat and beat at a high speed until smooth.
Chill and serve with simple desserts. Makes 2 cups of sauce.

Knowledge is Power

1. ARE YOU A DAY OR A NIGHT PERSONALITY?

2. DOES THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE CHANGE?

(1) There are two basic types of personalities in this respect. The determining factor is the body's temperature. During any one day, reports Jacqueline Burke in Everywoman's magazine, your temperature varies from one to three degrees.
Your metabolism, the rate at which you convert food into energy, changes with your temperature. You will feel most peppy when your temperature and metabolism are high, least energetic when they are low. She suggests that you make the most of this situation by doing your most important work during the hours when you are alert and efficient.

(2) It is constantly undergoing change, according to Wilfred Funk and Norman Lewis. In their book, "30 Days to a More Powerful Vocabulary," they point out that this year alone 5,000 new words will come into our language. Scholars will have nothing to say about how they shall be pronounced or spelled, or what they mean. They will be pronounced, spelled, and defined pretty much as the public pleases.

The dictionary is just a record of what the majority of the people are saying and writing.

Gangster Rushes Breathless Into Heaven

CONSIDER the case of Mike Machine Gun, gambler and gangster.

The trouble begins when Mike Machine Gun comes to his end. Comes the day when Mike Machine Gun suddenly crumples over the wheel of his cream-colored convertible, mowed down by the bullets of a rival mob. He is not killed outright. In the hospital he knows he is dying.

No matter how he had lived, he had always planned to die a Christian death. So he calls for the Church, makes his peace with God's representative, and then dies.

That evening the newspapers flare it—the story of this man about town who has suddenly left town for good: "Mike Machine Gun, gambler and gangster, died at Mercy Hospital early this afternoon. He made his peace with God and will be buried from the local church on Tuesday at ten."

PEOPLE READ THIS, and their eyebrows go up like awnings. There are deep sighs of scandal.

If this swaggering rake can lead a life like that, bowling down the Ten Commandments like ten-pins; walking arm in arm with the very devil all his days; and then hops on the train for Heaven as it is actually rolling out of the station—then what is the sense and where is the percentage in trying and striving to be good all your life?

IS THERE ANY man who dare say when another man may not return to God? Who will say that it is too late and that a sinner must stay on the dead-end street of despair? That was the thought of Judas, not of Jesus. With Jesus, as long as there is life, there is hope. The sinner may be dyed-in-the-wool, but as long as he is not dead, he is a prospect for Paradise.

Didn't Jesus take the outstretched hand of a dying criminal, and draw him up to Heaven? We call him the Good Thief, but we forget that up until a few minutes before he died, he was a felon and a public enemy, dying the death of a murderer. He had sinned, he was sorry, and at his side the Savior whispers, "This very day thou shalt be with me in Paradise!"

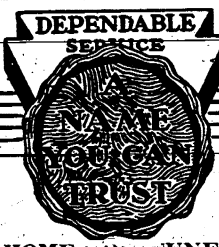

LET'S BE CHARITABLE

and let God judge death-bed conversions. But above all let's be wise and not bank on one for ourselves. It isn't easy when you are old and your muscles are stiff to do a somersault or a backflip—especially from sin to virtue. And if we could, how do we know we shall have the chance?

People who figure on coming back to God at the eleventh hour generally die at half-past ten! (—by Rev. Joseph E. Mantion.)
