August 15 Deadline Set For Annexation

In a special meeting Monday night, the Manchester School Board accepted and endorsed the recommendation of the Area Study Committee that the following proposition be submitted to the voters of the enlarged district at the annual meeting, Monday, July 13.

"Be it hereby resolved that the school board of the Manchester Public Schools be advised to take no tuition students hereafter, except those now enrolled in the system."

Following a further recommendation of the area study committee, the board set the date of August 15 as the final date on which further districts may be annexed. This date is necessary, since a study of the building needs of the new district will be under way at that time.

Other matters brought before the board were the matter of taking bids on busses, on lights to illuminate the tennis court, and the exterior of the high school (a safety measure), and progress of the summer maintenance program.

A gift of $250 from the P.T.A. has been accepted toward the cost of lighting the high school.

"If You Can Keep It"

As Benjamin Franklin left Independence Hall, a woman asked him, "Mr. Franklin, what kind of a government have you given us?" He answered gravely, "A Republic, madam, if you can keep it."

In painting this Independence Day scene in Hometown U.S.A., the artist, E. Franklin Wittmack, has found an echo of Franklin's warning in a quotation from the poet William Cullen Bryant. The historic scene of Magna Charta, the signal light on old North Church Tower, the embattled "rebels" of a great new nation—symbolizing the hard-won victories, and the priceless freedom, which on Independence Day 1953, are given every Hometown in the land—not done to celebrate, but to protect.

PAULIST FEATURE SERVICE
WASHINGTON 17, D. C.

The Fathers of the Declaration of Independence felt the necessity of basing their decision upon the lasting principles. The remarkable character of these men is proven not only by the enduring quality of the principles they expressed, but also by the fruits of their work—our own country. It's greatness is built upon the foundations these men laid. In laying these foundations they turned to God.

They turned to God on four separate occasions in the formulation of the Declaration of Independence. In the opening sentence they referred to the equal station to which Americans were entitled among the powers of the earth by the laws of nature and of nature's God. In these words they recognized that nature and the laws of nature are derived from God.

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness." In this one sentence they recognized that the source of life, liberty, and happiness is the Creator of Man.

The authors of the Declaration then appealed to the Supreme Judge of the world to witness the rectitude of their intentions. God, they recognized, was not only the source of nature and of nature's laws; not only the Creator who endowed man with certain inalienable rights; He was also the Supreme Judge of the world, and of themselves. They accordingly laid their case before Him.

Finally, as the Declaration draws to its conclusion, they pledged their lives, fortunes, and sacred honor, "with a firm reliance on the protection of a Divine Providence." God was also the Divine Protector.

The great enterprise was thus launched, and America took her place among the nations of the world upon the basis of this declaration of supernatural faith.

The superior quality of the Declaration resides in its principle that the relation of man to God establishes the true relation of man to man and between man and government. When a government, dominated by atheism, seeks to forcibly change the unchangeable relationship between man and God, man is deprived of his inalienable rights, and government becomes false to its nature.

One day it is to make certain that the principles of the Declaration are securely in our own minds and hearts and that we live up to them as we live up to their influence everywhere.

In 1900 only 4.5 per cent of the college-age population in Michigan attended college. By 1970, the figure is expected to be 32 per cent, the Michigan Council of State Presidents predicts.

College Presidents Predict Enrollments Will Double By 1970

Enrollments in Michigan's colleges and universities will more than double during the next 17 years.

This is the prediction of the Michigan Council of State College Presidents, headed by Dr. Grover C. Dillman, president of Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

Dr. Dillman said that this will come as a result of a tremendous increase in the number of Michigan births and a steady rise in the percentage of the college-age population who attend college.

The publicly-supported colleges will have to assume the greatest share of this new enrollment. It is expected that student populations at state institutions will rise from 69,610 in 1952 to 159,208 in 1970.

And 1970—though it may seem a long way off—will be the year when last year's babies will be college freshmen, Dr. Dillman warns.

In order to do a satisfactory job in training these students, Dr. Dillman points out that the state colleges must depend on the Michigan Legislature to supply them with substantially larger annual appropriations, both for operations and buildings.

In terms of 1952 dollars, Michigan's public colleges will need:

1. Increased funds for operations, climbing from 36.5 million dollars in 1952 to 48 million dollars in 1960 and 82 million dollars by 1970.
2. Ten million dollars worth of new classroom and laboratory buildings constructed every year, now through 1970.

Yeast Relieves Septic Tank Troubles

Many home owners are finding out that ordinary active yeast, either in dry or compressed cake form, is helping to keep down maintenance problems in their individual sewage disposal systems.

Sanitation engineers explain that bacterial action is necessary to keep the contents of septic tanks and other disposal systems in a fluid state. Yeast which contributes greatly to the supply of digestive bacteria in the tank, keeps the whole sanitation system operating properly.

Ten cakes or envelopes of the active yeast, which is available at most grocery stores, will usually be sufficient to "start" a new tank. Depending on the size of the tank and the volume of waste, one envelope should be flushed into the tank every one to three weeks.

Company Sells Controlling Interest

Controlling interest in the Washtenaw Abstract Company in Ann Arbor has been purchased by the Abstract and Title Guaranty Company of Detroit. Present management remains the same and its operations will continue as at present. Miss Gertrude Norris remains as president with Mrs. Ruth Brown Wymann as secretary.

The original Washtenaw Abstract Company was organized over seventy-five years ago. It was reorganized in 1893 by Arthur Brown and ownership has remained in the Brown family until the present time.

Frank J. Kennedy, president of the Detroit Company, has been elected a director to replace Mrs. Helen Brown Haller who has resigned from the Board of Directors of the Washtenaw Abstract Company. The Abstract and Title Guaranty Company of Detroit is Michigan's first Title Insurance Company and now has assets of over two and three quarters million dollars with agencies throughout the state.

Sue Hassitt demonstrated to the group the proper way to measure dry ingredients. Lois Stevens showed the girls how to make corn soup and Donna Kemner made tomato soup for the group. The meeting scheduled for Tuesday, June 23, was to be held with Donna Kemner.

Passing In City Needless, Dangerous

Chief Charles Schuler called attention today to the fact that passing cars on city streets with parked cars and frequent in operations can be exceedingly dangerous.

He said, "There are not many conditions which justify passing on a city street where parked cars only allow one moving lane of traffic in each direction. The speed limit on most city streets is 25 miles per hour. If the car ahead is going 20 miles per hour, the difference in speed is only 5 miles per hour. To pass a car 5 miles per hour faster than a short trip will not give enough time to make the maneuver to pass."

He pointed out that passing and to get around a slow moving car is a dangerous maneuver and that who may be in the way of the passing car is not known. He said that the State Highway Commission under the leadership of Charles M. Ziegler and sponsored by the Michigan State Safety Commission, of which Ziegler is Chairman.

The Chief said that the following safety tip to help motorists who wish to pass with safety:

- (1) Be sure that there is no car close behind you which may try to pass you as you pull out.
- (2) Make sure that there is no car right ahead of the car you are going to pass which might block you.
- (3) Be sure that there is no oncoming car or, if there is one, that it is far enough away so that you have plenty of time to complete your pass before it arrives.
- (4) Assume yourself that there is no intersection, driveway, or filling station entrance from which a car could come and interfere with your passing maneuver.
- (5) When you are certain of cars behind you and in front of you, and of all entrances to the roadway, then pass rather quickly so that you do not have to stay on the wrong side of the roadway very long. It is recommended, that, when highway conditions and the speed limit permit safe passing, that you travel about 15 miles per hour faster than the car you are passing. Less than this will take you too long. More than this will make it harder for you to stop in time if an emergency develops.

Obey the official safety slogan "Keep in Lane—Don't be a Road Hog."

Army Helicopters to Do Square Dance at Detroit Show

The Army's famed helicopter square dance team gets "hep" at Fort Sill, Okla. in a rehearsal for their performance as part of the activities at the Sixth Annual International Aviation Exposition at the Detroit-Wayne Airport in celebration of the 50th Anniversary of the first powered flight by the Wright Brothers at Kitty Hawk, N.C. in 1903. A Navy F-9F jet and the Air Force's F-86 jet will make daily flights from Kitty Hawk to Detroit in commemoration of the first flight. Wilbur Wright flew 120 feet in 12 seconds in the first flight. From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Bad Case of the "Ztutters"

Our copyboy is out sick. So the editor (me) is taking over some of his chores—which include running the addressing machine on "mailing-out night."

Last week I didn't have the usual number of papers left over for sale at the office. Couldn't figure what had happened—until Chub Zimmer called to ask why he'd gotten 56 copies.

Then I realized—"Zimmer" is the last name the machine prints. Guess I forgot to turn it off... and it just kept grinding out Chub's name on all the remaining copies. That machine just didn't know when to stop.

From where I sit, people are like that sometimes. They often don't know when to stop. Like those who are prejudiced against someone with an accent, perhaps... or against someone who likes a cool bottle of beer with his supper. So, in these columns I try to persuade everyone to "throw the switch" on prejudice so it won't get repeated.

4-H Club News

Two Washtenaw County 4-H Dairy Club Members, Robert Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meyer of Ypsilanti and Donald Proctor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Proctor of Chelsea, left Monday, June 29 to take part in the Royal Livestock Show in London, according to Frank Gendron, 4-H Club Agent.

Robert and Donald are among the four 4-H Dairy Club members in Michigan who received National honors last October by winning the National Dairy Judging Contest at Waterloo, Iowa and acclaimed the National Dairy Judging Champions in the United States. They will now compete in the Royal Livestock Judging Contest in London, England.

The team will remain overseas for approximately one month and will visit the following countries and cities:

London, Blackpool, Preston, Oxford, Warwick, and Stratford-upon-Avon, England.

Edinburgh, Scotland.

Jersey Isle and Guernsey Isle, England.

Paris, France.

Mayence, Germany and Cologne, Germany.

Amsterdam, Holland.

Antwerp and Brussels, Belgium.

Many other sights will be visited on sightseeing tours. One of the outstanding will be a steamer ride down the Rhine River from Mayence to Cologne.

The team will fly over and return by Belgium Airlines from New York.

Washtenaw County was asked to raise $600.00 toward the total cost of the trip. A total of $635.52 was received from organizations in Washtenaw Co. and those organizations who donated to the fund were:

Chelsea Artificial Breeders Association.

Lincoln Artificial Breeders Association.

Manchester Artificial Breeders Association.

Sylvan Farm Bureau.

Willis Local of Michigan Milk Producers Association.

The two boys are the first two members from a single county to be on a state judging team during the same year in Michigan and it is believed that this also is true for the U.S.

Over the years Washtenaw County tops this list of members on State 5-H Dairy Judging teams with a total of 11, the next highest is two counties tied with seven each.

Approximately 200 4-H members, leaders and parents attended the Washtenaw County 4-H Council Convention at the Pittsfield Grange Hall on Thursday, June 25.

This was the largest attendance that we have had at a Council Convention stated Frank Gendron, County 4-H Club Agent.

4-H Leaders and members were elected at the convention to serve on the 4-H Council, the governing body of the 4-H program in Washtenaw County.

Leaders elected for three-year terms were:

Southwest, Andrew Luckhardt, Ann Arbor.

Southeast, Howard Mosher, Ypsilanti.

Central, Mrs. LaVerne Coy, Dexter.

At Large, Charles Reynolds, Ypsilanti.

4-H members elected for one-year terms were:

Summer Theatre

In Saline

Saline's old Ford Mill has come to life to the sound of pounding hammer and rasping saw as a company of professional actors prepare to open a summer season of four comedies.

The staging technique which is termed "dramarama" by the company is similar to theatre-in-the-round, popular in the Europe of the middle ages. This flexible staging method, according to Mr. Ted Rancourt, publicity director, is designed for the best visual advantage of each spectator. None of the seats will be more than four rows from the stage, and the seating arrangement will be redesigned, in keeping with the demands of each play.

Members of the company include several which were associated with the Arts Theatre in Ann Arbor, Warren Pickett, New Haven, Conn., and founder of the Ann Arbor Arts Theatre Club, will direct the four plays this summer.

Barbara Hamel, a well-traveled native of Birmingham, Michigan, is the production supervisor. Others include Ed Bordo, Cleveland; Earl Matthews, Detroit and Ann Arbor; Connie Parker, Florence and Gene Rupert, and Ted Rancourt of Detroit.

Van Drute's "Bell, Book and Candle" will open the season on July 3. The play will run for twelve nights, with Monday as the only "dark" night. Other plays to follow will be Shaw's "Arms and the Man," "Angel Street," and "The Importance of Being Earnest." The players intend to discuss the show with the audience after each performance.

This company of actors is a versatile group. They're decorating the theatre, building the sets and having a great time doing it. They live at the old mill, "Gorm style" and take turns being chief cook and bottle washer.

If you would share in the "other world" of the theatre, and do it in cool comfort, it's 15 degrees cooler in the theatre, come along, bring a meal, and enjoy the theatre entertainment at its best.

NOTICE
A list of service men and their addresses was to have appeared with a Moms Club story for this week's paper but because of the length of this article it is being withheld until next week.
