Park Committee Swings Into Action

The Carr Park Committee is busy making many recommendations for improving the park and reports indicate that the work is progressing nicely.

To date the committee has voted to purchase seven more tables, three to be delivered now and the balance at a latter date. To this end the committee has set out to balance their books by selling membership tickets in the Carr Park Association in one dollar each. The funds derived from this venture will be used to pay for the tables. At the same time persons purchasing tickets automatically become members of the Carr Park Association and are welcome to attend meetings and make suggestions for improvements.

Consumers Power Company representatives have been here several times consulting the committee and as soon as the toilet facilities are settled the consumers will begin to install poles and wire.

The Village of Manchester is expected to install water soon. Plans for a new road are also under consideration.

Senior Playground News and Notes

The halfway point of the summer recreation playground saw playoffs in boys softball going on with the Bootleggers pitted against the Stinkers in the showdown battle scheduled for Wednesday morning at the softball diamond. The Demons were defeated by the Stinkers by staging a nine run seventh inning rally to come from behind to gain a spot in the playoff game. The Spitballers were forced to forfeit to the Bootleggers because they did not have enough men.

The winner of the playoff game will compete against an All Star team made up of members of the other three teams of the league under the lights Friday evening. The All Star Team will be selected by Mr. Soldan and the three managers of the other teams and four members of each of these teams will be selected.

In the Manchester-Saline Boys Baseball League the boys of Manchester have won three while losing only once to their opponents. In the second half of the recreation program basketball teams will be organized into a league as we now have an additional backboard erected on the opposite end of the court. Volley ball is fast becoming a favorite game but we still lack posts to string the nets on.

A trip to Detroit and Briggs Stadium is being planned as soon as information arrives from the general office of that organization. Also a few bike trips are being planned for both boys and girls. Mr. Soldan would like to report that he is very well pleased with the conduct of all boys and girls visiting the playground so far this summer.

Mrs. Robert Mahre has sold her home to Mr. and Mrs. Basil Schwab and Mrs. Mahre is at present visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. F. Uphouse at Jonesville.

Local Fire Fighters Have Busy Week

The Manchester Fire Department was called to the Erwin Paul farm, west of Manchester on Monday afternoon when fire partly destroyed a combine and completely burned about five or six acres of wheat.

The fire was apparently started by a spark from the combine set off a nearby tractor. The fire department got the blaze under control after the large area of stubble and standing grain had been burned completely. Damage was believed to be around a thousand dollars.

Last Thursday the local department was called when it was disgraced along the tracks back of covered that a train set fire to Dr. J. R. Jones' residence.

On Saturday afternoon the department answered a call near the Veryl Schill residence on Torrey Rd. to extinguish a grass fire along the road. Then later in the day the local volunteers answered another call when fire burned a "hide-out" which children had constructed in back of Dr. A. P. Holstein's residence on City Road.

Fire Chief Lawrence Schied warns that everything is tinder dry at the present time and that even grass that looks green will burn like paper and he urges everyone to take every precaution to help prevent fires of all kinds.

In a double ring ceremony at St. Mary's Catholic Church at Manchester on Saturday, July 11, Patricia Ann Schwab became the bride of J. Paul Hansen. The nuptial high mass was celebrated by the Rev. Fr. John Tierney, chaplain at St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schwab of Manchester and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Julius Hansen of Detroit and the late Mr. Hansen.

Bouquets of white glads decorated the altar. Mrs. C. H. Seckinger sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day" accompanied by Miss Anna Bauer at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white satin which featured a sleeveless, fitted bodice accented with a Chantilly lace yoke and a coronation neckline. The in-step length hoop skirt was of nylon over satin. Her finger-tip veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls. Long lace mitts completed her costume and she carried a cascade arrangement of Easter lilies, baby breath and ivy.

Miss Maurine Runberg of Bay City, class mate of the bride, was the maid of honor. Over her strapless gown of Nile green taffeta, she wore a matching jacket. The hoop skirt was of nylon over taffeta. Her headband was of yellow roses and white mums and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses, mums, and baby breath.

An Arnold Handwald of Detroit served as best man. The ushers were Thomas Smithberger of South Bend, Indiana, and John LaSalle of Detroit, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

A wedding breakfast followed at Shorr's Farm Restaurant for eighty relatives and friends. Miss Jacqueline Schwab, sister of the bride, had charge of the guest book. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 132 Clinton Street, from two until four in the afternoon. Mrs. John LaSalle, sister of the bride, groom, cut the cake, and Miss Mary Ellen Schwab, sister of the bride, and Suzanne Merriman of Toledo, poured.

When the couple left on a trip through northern Michigan the bride was wearing a white printed suit with a navy jacket and white accessories and a corsage of red roses. After July 27th they will be at Camp Lee, Virginia, where the bridegroom is stationed.

The bride is a graduate of Manchester high school and the Mercy School of Nursing of Detroit, St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital Unit, of Ann Arbor. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Schwab chose blue and white print with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a light blue print with white accessories and her corsage was of red roses.

There were twenty-two members and two guests present when Mrs. Philip Kern gave the report of the Good Cheer committee. Mrs. Robert Huber will work on the good cheer committee for the month of August. Mrs. Harold Alexander reported on the progress of the plans for the Carr Park Improvement campaign and told the group that the Carr Park Association is now selling membership tickets to raise funds to help carry on this project. They told the group that plans are underway to hold an ice cream social for the benefit of the park just as soon as the lighting equipment is placed.

Mrs. Russell Smith reported that all of the auxiliary equipment for hospitals is all in use at the present time except the walker. Mrs. Rolland Grossman told the group that the auxiliary is scheduled to go to the Ypsilanti State Hospital in August. The date will be announced later. ## Kemners Return From Southern Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Kemner and Miss Elaine Waltz have returned home after a week's trip through the South. At Camp Rucker, Alabama, Kemner's son, Second Lieutenant Stanley Kemner joined them for a trip which included Panama City, Rock City, Ruby Falls, Tenn., and Sky High Tower.

Mr. Sam Brown returned home Monday from a two week's fishing trip at Wolverine, Michigan, with Mr. and Mrs. Julius Smith of Wayne.

Jack Marentette and a friend of Royal Oak spent Sunday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kennedy of Pleasant Lake. Jack expects to enter service soon.

The annual meeting of the Manchester Public Schools was held Monday evening with a record number of voters on hand. This was the first general meeting of these who make up the now enlarged Manchester Public Schools which embrace thirteen additional school districts in this area. President of the school board Franklin Reek reviewed the work of the local school board during the past several years, he mentioned the growth of enrollment now 503 this year. He explained the reasons why an earlier attempt to reorganize the local school system had failed. He reviewed the elementary building program of 1946-47 and the improvements which have been made on the high school building, and explained that the new Manchester Public School system (embracing the 13 near-by districts) is now approximately four and one-half million dollars.

It was voted that the school year of 1953-54 will be nine and one-half months. It was also voted to have the Manchester schools sponsor the summer recreation program again next year in order that the school buses can be used to transport children to and from Wampplers Lake.

One proposition was presented to the group to be voted upon as follows: "Be it hereby resolved that the school board of the Manchester Public Schools be advised to take no tuition students hereafter, except those now enrolled in the system. There were 155 votes cast with 128 in favor of the proposition and 27 voting against it.

Main issue at the meeting was the election of two school board members. The term of Franklin Reek was terminated. He succeeded himself and after some discussion the name of Laurel Breitenwischer was entered to oppose him. Laurel Breitenwischer won with 79 votes against 78 for Reek. In a quick check of rules governing general elections the secretary of the school board, Laurin Leeson, read the following: In the election of members of the board of education the person or persons receiving the greatest number of votes shall be declared elected." This cleared up questions in the assembly concerning the legality of a non-majority vote.

For the past four years Mr. Breitenwischer has served as director of the Rowes Corners School, which is one of the districts now annexed to Manchester. Mr. Reek served for nine years on the school board, all of which time he was president of the board.

The term of H. P. Eames also expired and he was nominated to succeed himself. Opposing him was Sam Cushman of the former Matteson school district. Eames won with 89 votes over Cushman's 73 votes.

Following the general meeting the five board members met for their organizational meeting. The school board consists of Luther Klager, senior member, Walter Schaible, Laurin Leeson, H. P. Eames and Laurel Breitenwischer. At their meeting they elected Luther Klager, president; H. P. Eames, reelected treasurer and Laurin Leeson reelected secretary.

In next week's paper there will be a detailed treasurer's report and the minutes of Monday night's meeting.

The Science Corner

By George Bonich

In answer to this week's question we have to say that the insects are the most successful form of animal life on earth. Some men of science even predict that man and insects will engage in a battle for survival after all other animals have perished. Though this may seem startling, the prediction that insects may win out is even more startling.

Our problem is not to discover whether this struggle will ever take place or who will triumph. Instead our problem is to find out why the insects are so successful. When we try to solve this problem, we find our answers in the following facts about insects: first, there are over 650,000 kinds of insects; second, there are millions upon millions of each kind of insect; third, insects are so small that they require very little food and can hide easily from their enemies; fourth, insects can adjust themselves to all kinds of living conditions; and fifth, insects reproduce very rapidly.

To illustrate the last point, let us use two houseflies. In exactly twelve weeks 2,026,202,020,200 offspring are produced by the six generations of flies! This is over two million millions from just two to begin with! Is it any wonder that insects may someday dominate the world?

If man wishes to protect himself from the insect menace, he must use all the weapons he can muster. Some of these weapons are quarantine, conservation of their natural enemies, environmental control, and chemical control. By quarantine is meant the checking for insects of all imported plants. Birds which are the most effective natural enemies of insects, should be protected. One form of environmental control is crop rotation which tends to starve out insects which feed on a specific type of plant life. And, of course, there are a whole variety of chemical poisons which are used as insecticides. Diligent use of all of these weapons at least will enable man to control this pestiferous and competing form of life.

Next Week: How much energy is there in a pound of fuel?

600,000 4-H'ers Say "Let's Help Correct Safety Hazards"

Chicago—(Special)—The largest volunteer army ever organized for a peaceful mission is now invading farms and rural communities throughout the Nation. It consists of more than 600,000 4-H Club boys and girls whose objective is to show rural folk how to prevent accidents and fires which result in 14,000 deaths and 1 1/2 million injuries among farm people, as well as destruction of millions of dollars' worth of buildings and equipment annually.

Statistics account for 36 percent of all fatal accidents in farm homes and 19 percent outside. More than 50 percent of all fatal accidents in working with farm machinery involve tractors, and overturning accounts for more than half of the tractor accidents.

Safety experts give considerable credit to the contributions made by 4-H'ers for the reduction of one-fifth in the number of fatal accidents to farm people in 1951—the last year for which estimates are available—from the estimated annual rate in 1941, the first year of the National Farm Safety Week, which will be observed this year July 13-25.

Illustrative of the 4-H'ers do "approach" to the accident problem, a Tennessee club girl reported that she picked up broken glass, rusty nails protruding from boards, and other sharp articles in the farm yard, helped her father and brother become safety-conscious in working with farm machinery; had a ladder with two broken rungs repaired; persuaded her mother to use a step-ladder in reaching high places in the house, and to always wipe up grease or water immediately if it is spilled on the floor.

A Texas 4-H boy reports that their farm tractor often was filled with gasoline overflowing when the engine was warm. He called this unsafe practice to the attention of his father and brother and now the tractor is filled correctly. His small brother frequently asked to ride on the tractor, but this safety enthusiast taught them to understand how hazardous it was to hitchhike a ride on a tractor.

Similar reports of the 4-H'ers participating in the National 4-H Safety program are legion. Instead of using "don't" admonitions, expressions such as "Let's Correct This Hazard" prevail.

Outstanding 4-H records of achievement in safety are rewarded with awards provided by General Motors for the ninth consecutive year. They include sterling silver medals for the big award group in each qualifying county, and an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago next November for the state winner. Six state winners will be chosen to receive a national award, which is a $100 college scholarship. A handsome plaque, appropriately embossed, will be awarded to the county reporting the most outstanding county-wide 4-H safety program.

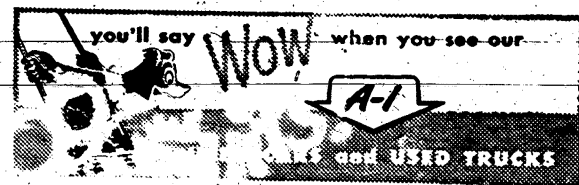

The National 4-H safety program is conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

We're Eating More Beef

Americans are eating more beef now than at any time in history, according to the president of the American Meat Institute. This is a reflection of current record beef supplies.

The figures are impressive. During the first half of the year, our per capita beef consumption amounted to about 74 pounds on an annual rate basis. This compares with an annual rate of 58 pounds during the same period last year, and is slightly above the record rate reached back in 1909.

Total meat production for 1953 is forecast at the huge figure of 23,700,000,000 pounds, which includes an 18 per cent increase in beef and veal production over last year along with a 10 per cent decline in pork production. And the outlook is for still further increases in total production for 1954.

It is not only the quantity of meat that we are eating which has increased, but the quality has improved. A diet with a high meat content has a definite favorable bearing on mental and physical vigor so far as the majority of the people are concerned. The producer, on the other hand, has to cope with the problem of sharp declines in livestock prices.

The ultimate solution to this problem lies in increased demand for meat. Increased production, and as a noteworthy fact, the livestock producers have shown no inclination to ask for government aid. They know that the long-term interests of all are best served by the free market.

No matter how much time you find to look for it, it is never found again.

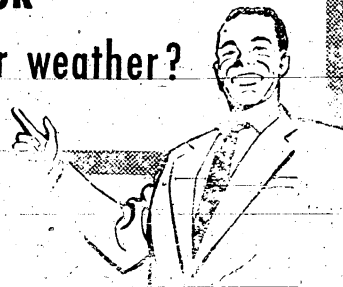

Our locker plant is more than just a place to have your meat processed and stored in zero lockers. We're keeping pace with this fast-moving industry and are making our plant the Frozen Food Center of this community.

As frozen food specialists we're equipped to offer you all of the essential services listed above... and we're ready and willing at all times to give free advice on any questions you might have regarding lockers, home freezers, frozen foods, meats, and packaging materials.

While only a few weeks old, this downy red-tailed hawk already exhibits the mean disposition of his parents. But, though he appears unlikeable, conservation department game men say that like most hawk species, the redtail is largely beneficial to man. Its food is mostly small rodents—field mice, barn rats and other nuisance animals. He may make off with an occasional rabbit or squirrel, but such wildlife species do not generally provide fare for this big chestnut-colored bird.

NOW! Ford Master-Guide the last word in Power Steering!

It's the newest in a long list of Ford advancements that make this Ford the outstanding car for '53! No other car near Ford's price has ever offered you so much! Ford was the first in its field to bring you V-8 power. Today, Ford alone of all the low-priced cars offers you the smooth, unsurpassed performance of a V-8 engine. And Ford's Six—the most modern in the industry—with Overdrive, won the Grand Sweepstakes in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run. Ford first brought to the low-price field a completely automatic transmission that combines the smoothness of a torque converter and the gas-saving "go" of automatic gears. Fordomatic remains the most versatile automatic you can buy. Ford's new "ride" brings you road-hugging and bump-leveling qualities never before known in low-priced cars. Front end road shock alone has been reduced up to 30%. Easier-acting suspended pedals. Center-Fill Fueling and Full-Circle Visibility are just a few of the many important advancements first introduced by Ford. And now Ford brings you the newest and finest in power steering... Master-Guide, a system exclusive in Ford's field! It's no wonder, then, that Ford is the "Worth More" car... worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it.

Master-Guide applies hydraulic steering power automatically... and in varying degrees as required... right at the steering linkage, close to the wheels. At the same time the system serves as a hydraulic shock absorber to keep road jars and jolts from your hands. As a result all you do is... guide the car... Master-Guide supplies the muscles.

HELPS YOU OUT OF "TIGHT SPOTS!" The tougher the going the more Master-Guide works for you. For example, if you go off the pavement onto a soft shoulder or a rough, rutted road, Master-Guide provides the muscles to keep you on a steady course. At the same time, Master-Guide absorbs the shock that might otherwise be transmitted to the steering wheel. You'll find all handling is easier with Master-Guide and that parking requires only one-fourth the normal effort. Should Master-Guide ever lose its power, the standard steering mechanism will operate just as usual. Thus, Master-Guide provides new ease and stability, with a natural feel and full security, wherever you may drive. Optional on all V-8 models at extra cost.

Freedom Comes From God

By Charles Fahy, Former Assistant U. S. Attorney General

The Fathers of the Declaration of Independence felt the necessity of basing their decision upon lasting principles. The remarkable character of these men is proven not only by the enduring quality of the principles they expressed, but also by the fruits of their work—our own country. Its greatness is built upon the foundations these men laid. In laying these foundations they turned to God.

They turned to God on four separate occasions in the formulation of the Declaration of Independence. In the opening sentence they referred to the equal station to which Americans were entitled among the powers of the earth by the laws of nature and of nature's God. In these words they recognized that nature and the laws of nature are derived from God.

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness. In this one sentence they recognized that the source of life, liberty, and happiness is the Creator of Man.

The authors of the Declaration then appealed to the Supreme Judge of the world to witness the rectitude of their intentions. God, they recognized, was not only the source of nature and of nature's laws; not only the Creator who endowed man with certain inalienable rights; He was also the Supreme Judge of the world and of themselves. They accordingly laid their case before Him.

Finally, as the Declaration draws to its conclusion, they pledged their lives, fortunes and sacred honor, "with a firm reliance on the protection of a Divine Providence." God was also the Divine Protector.

The great enterprise was thus launched, and America took her place among the nations of the world upon the basis of this declaration of supernatural faith.

The superior quality of the Declaration resides in its principle that the relation of man to God establishes the true relation of man to man and between man and government.

When a government, dominated by atheism, seeks to forcibly change the unchangeable relationship between man and God, man is deprived of his inalienable rights, and government becomes false to its nature.

Our duty is to make certain that the principles of the Declaration are securely in our own minds and hearts and that we live up to them ourselves and increase their influence everywhere.

Christianity Answers Today's Problems

By Clare Boothe Luce

TODAY IT IS a cliché to say Christianity has been tried and has failed. It is equally untrue to retort that it has not failed, because it has never been tried.

History shows that Christianity has been tried. Wherever it has been tried, with honest intent and passionate purpose, it has succeeded as nothing else ever tried by man has done.

Our form of government is a living monument to the incorporation in political forms of Christian principles concerning the freedom and dignity of the individual. Today, we are living on our spiritual capital.

HOW LONG CAN we demand to share in the benefits of Christianity, and yet refuse the practical task of even conserving, not to say increasing, these benefits? How long can we clamor for Christian treatment, while ignoring any obligation on our part to foster Christian belief?

No day goes by, no forum is held in America, without its quota of stirring appeals for our citizens to show high ideals and noble efforts in the solutions of our many melancholy problems. But we want to produce Christian deeds without Christian hearts, Christian thoughts without Christian minds. We desire to pluck the fruits of faith where we have let the branch of faith itself wither or be torn up.

ONLY MEN OF deep religious faith can lay down the challenge of totalitarianism. Only men who love their fellow men "in Christ" can prevent war if it is to be prevented, redeem its horrible ravages if it cannot.

Only the apostolic Christian is certain of victory in the struggle. For he is forever armed against loss. Defeat is victory, death itself is life, if he can still say with St. Paul:

"I HAVE FOUGHT the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith. For the rest, there is laid up for me a crown of justice, which the Lord, the just Judge, will give to me in that day; yet not to me only, but also to those who love His coming."

It may well be that the Folly of the Cross is still the only wisdom that can save our civilization.

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS

there's more than one throttle position—and that's wide open! Take another five minutes to get to your favorite fishing spot, and try half throttle. The exhaust noise will be greatly reduced.

Of course a rule like this means nothing at all to the young speed demons who frequent hundreds of our Michigan lakes. Their prime interest in life during summer vacations is racing up and down the lake, preferably in competition with two or three similarly designed boats. During the middle of the day this can be expected in most lakes, but these youngsters should shy away from fishermen and swimmers if they want to maintain friendly relations around the lake.

The Legal Status Regardless of warnings there are always a few die-hards who cannot be taught the proper use of an outboard motor without recourse to law—and the State of Michigan has such a law on the books. One may file a formal complaint charging reckless driving of an outboard motor on any lake, and the law will take care of punishment to fit the crime.

However, it behooves all outboard owners to be more considerate in their operation, lest more and more lake property owners unite to outlaw the outboard—an action which, in most cases, would be completely unnecessary.

Jean Allen Offers Time-Saving Tips

Menu-makers take on new importance when women hold full-time jobs outside the home. And a recent Department of Labor bulletin reports that half the working women in the United States are married. Other homemakers are demanding free time for gardening, community activities, or just playing with the children.

A new industry may have the answer to this time and work-saving problem. It's prepackaging of perishables, a simple idea that pays off in free hours for homemakers.

Miss Consumers of first grade the nod to prepackaged perishables, says Jean Allen, home economist for the Kroger Food Foundation which is making a continuing study of the question.

Reasons for preferring prepackaged products vary from "convenience" (they praise the heavenly freedom of clean, trimmed products) to "cost" (they like to pay for what is actually used); to "quality" (they believe prepackaging purs the responsibility for high quality merchandise more directly on the merchant).

Here's one example of what the prepackaging revolution has accomplished:

When grandma was a girl, chicken every Sunday was a full-time job. The flapping, cackling chicken, bought "on the hoof," had to be beheaded, de-feathered, singed, eviscerated, and finally cut into frying-pan-size pieces.

By the time Mama was a bride, chickens were being sold "New York" style—feather-cleaned but not dressed. Homemakers still found that the quality and freshness of chicken prepared this way left something to be desired.

Today's homemaker, as a result, can buy prepackaged, pan-ready chicken of uniform quality, protected by semi-moisture-proof wrapping material. Shopping time has been cut in half; cleaning time eliminated.

Do they really like it? The answer is a rousing "yes," according to Miss Allen, who points out that poultry sales of her company have risen approximately 350 per cent during the past five years.

Latest to feel the effect of prepackaging has been the produce department—fresh fruits and vegetables. Miss Allen cites carrots as an example of how homemakers benefit from prepackaging of produce.

Until recently, carrots could be bought only by the bunch. Bulky tops drew moisture and food value from the carrots. But the customers' votes today are going to carrots packaged in plofilm bags, with tops removed. Prices are about the same, but homemakers find they have a better, fresher product, more easily stored, too.

Kiplinger Reviews 30 Years, Sees Better World Ahead

WASHINGTON — W. M. Kiplinger marked 30 years of reporting world events and predicting trends for a highly-restricted list of subscribers with a forecast that "the world will be better" in the next three decades.

In a special 30th anniversary issue of his Kiplinger Washington Letter, written "partly for fun, partly for thoughtfulness," he said, too, "we cannot stop the improvement, but we can hold it back or speed it up."

The Ohio-born, former newspaper reporter, who originated the method of dispensing business, economic and governmental news, condensed into a weekly, four-page, privately-circulated letter, reviewed events since 1923, and then, with a "look to the future," said: "Out of our experience as observers comes a conviction, which is this: the world will be better. Improvement is the basic law of life."

"We cannot stop the improvement, but we can hold it back or speed it up. To speed it up requires more than noble wishes and pious good intentions. It takes hard knowledge, brains, intelligence, judgment, savvy, wisdom. Both the worldly sort and the spirit sort—both are highly essential—because working and living, as everyone knows, is not just materialistic."

Kiplinger was 32 and relatively unknown when he started typing out weekly analyses—Washington developments with emphasis on predictions of the future economic significance of those developments. With a second-hand typewriter, a borrowed $1,000, "subscribers, none. Hopes, faint," he struggled to prove that the information he could furnish would be valuable to businessmen.

It took about five years to convince more than his three original staff members that he was right; that the Kiplinger Washington Letter was destined to become a distinctive force in American journalism. The struggle for bare survival emerged into an even harder fight—against scores of imitations.

Today, built around that original typewriter which Kiplinger still uses, a staff of 250, housed in a modern ten-story office building and a printing plant, and each sharing in the earnings of the Kiplinger Washington Agency. The Letter is delivered every Monday day morning to business and professional men and women, teachers and students, housewives and political leaders in every state and 56 foreign countries.

In his review of the past 30 years Kiplinger says the present "is merely a piece of the past and the future," and continues:

"Now look back and ponder on the material advances of the past. How the average man is better off . . . than 30 years ago or less. Wages and other forms of pay have more than tripled in 30 years. Living cost prices have less than doubled . . . so there's a margin

"Note the new things: Sound movies, color movies, radio and TV, refrigerators, freezers, washers, cleaners, and other household gadgets, air conditioners, airplanes big and fast, tough metals, new chemicals, plastics, man-made fabrics, electronics, radar, new drugs, psychiatry, new farm machines, modern architecture, 3-D movies, and the atom at work."

"Changes in ways of thinking. Growth of ideas akin to socialism. The New Deal era. Big government. Postwar nationalism. Laws to spread income. Weakening of reliance on private and individual effort (perhaps temporary). Ascent of labor . . . union members in 1923, 3.6 million . . . now 16 million. All this adds up, says Kiplinger, to a better world ahead."

by GEORGE MEADOR Representative, Second District, Michigan. No. 27

KAISER CONTRACT
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5. —The sudden and unexpected cancellation of Kaiser cargo plane contracts in the midst of Senate hearings on Kaiser's costs and efficiency was a serious blow to the Ypsilanti-Willow Run area and to a lesser extent the entire Second District and the State of Michigan.

Twelve thousand aircraft workers faced the loss of their jobs. Merchants and other businessmen in the community faced a substantial decline in revenue. The situation was intensified by the independent and prior announcement of Kaiser Motors that 2200 automobile workers would be laid off because of the transfer of certain automotive operations to Willow Motors in Toledo.

Your Representative joined with Senators Ferguson and Potter in an immediate protest to the Air Force and a request for considering the possibilities of utilizing the trained and skilled workers at Willow Run. A meeting with Secretary of the Air Force Talbot produced less than we had hoped for but did give assurance of at least three months of employment in finishing some of the planes. The number of employees and the duration of employment depend upon the termination studies now being made.

Another development at the meeting was Secretary Talbot's agreement to meet with representatives of the workers on Thursday, July 9, for airing the entire matter. Later rumors that the Defense Department would avoid the Detroit area because of high labor costs were scotched by Under Secretary of Defense Kyes and Senator Ferguson.

From the beginning, my primary concern has been the interest of the employees and the community and to prevent or minimize economic dislocation and the hardship and suffering from unemployment.

My office will be closed July 8th to August 20th while on vacation DR. HOLSTEIN

Star Commonwealth Alumni Gather For Annual Homecoming

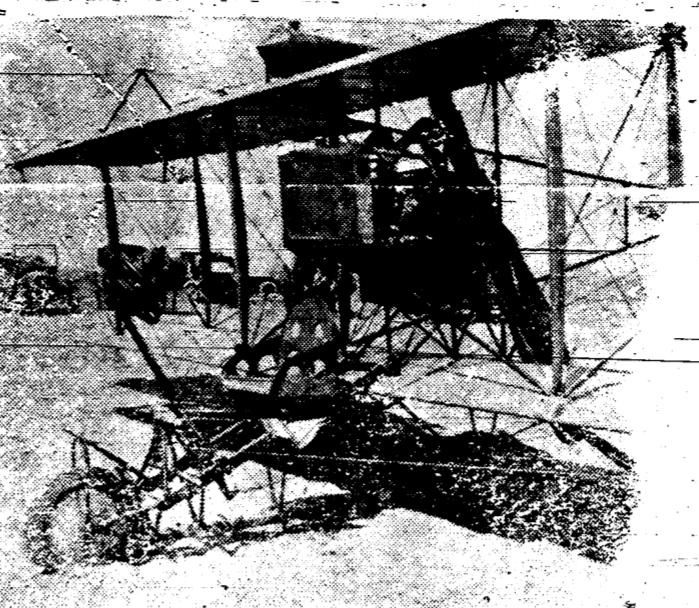

Old Starr boys will return to the campus the first Sunday in August for the annual Homecoming. The speaker at the 11 o'clock service will be John Hyma, '44, former social worker on the campus, who plans on getting an advanced degree at the University of Michigan this coming year.

Later, a picnic dinner will be enjoyed on the lake shore with the "Commonwealth" furnishing coffee, punch, ice cream and cake. Guesting old friends, directing various projects for the children and the maintenance of 100 trees will occupy the afternoon. Sports for the younger members of the group will be provided.

This year's president is Robert S. Baras, '26, of Bellevue. The secretary-treasurer is Gordon Langley, '42, director of the first outstate branch at Van Wert, O. Nine hundred invitations were sent out and a good number of acceptances have already been received.

Serving ice cream for dessert often in hot weather? It's a good idea to chill the serving dishes in the refrigerator at least an hour ahead of time to prevent ice cream from softening too rapidly.

Wright "Pusher" Will Fly Again At Detroit Show

Yes, it still flies—and not only that, but this "Pusher" bi-plane, the type flown by the Wright Brothers, will be seen in flight at the International Aviation Exposition show each day, July 9, 10, 11 and 12, as part of the Eastern Air Lines "Span of Flight" exhibition depicting the advance of aviation over the last half-century. The original Wright flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C. on December 17, 1903 was of 12 seconds duration and for a distance of 120 feet. It will again fly that distance at the Detroit show at the Detroit-Wayne Airport. Note the old type autos and horses and carriage in the background. A World War I "Spad", the same type that Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker flew on his 26 victories over German aircraft and the first Pitcairn Mailwing will also be flown again each day during the Detroit Show.

HOW LONG CAN HE TAKE IT?

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

An Honest Night's Sleep

Slim Johnson, just back from a business trip, tells about a hotel he stayed at one night.

"I hit town late and went right to the hotel. There was no clerk at the desk, but there was a sign that said: 'Gone to bed. Rooms $3. Take a key. Pay when you leave. Sleep Well.'

Upstairs, the room was real clean, the bed comfortable, and I slept like a log. Came down in the morning—still no clerk. So I left three dollars at the desk and went on. Can you imagine folks that trustful?"

From where I sit, running a hotel on the honor system shows a real trust in people. And people always appreciate being trusted. Letting your neighbor follow his personal preference is a kind of trust too—trusting in his good judgment. I like a temperate glass of beer occasionally, you may prefer buttermilk, but let's hope neither of us "regretters" a complaint against the other.
