Willard Mann New Director At Union Savings Bank

The Union Savings Bank of Manchester has announced that Willard Mann is the new director on the bank's Board of Directors to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mrs. Cora L. Waters.

Mr. Mann has resided in the Manchester area all of his life and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Mann, formerly of Bridgewater, now living in Saline. Mr. Mann is a partner with his brother, Earl Mann of Bridgewater, in the Elevator and Feed Business operating in both Bridgewater and Manchester.

Dan J. Boutell, Cashier of the Union Savings Bank, stated that it was the unanimous opinion of the Board of Directors that the Bank's large and constant growth during the past few years necessitated the filling of the vacancy, and also stated that the bank's management was happy that Mr. Mann could accept the position.

Recently published bank statements show that the bank has grown in total assets from $2,600,000 on December 30, 1950 to $3,500,000 at the present time, and that the bank's capital structure during this same period has also increased from $300,000 to $300,000 to $400,000.

Bill Cannon Pitches Saline To Tri-County League Championship

Bill Cannon of Manchester, who has been pitching for Saline, scored his final triumph by defeating Fowlerville 7 to 3. He struck out 14 men and also contributed a 2-run triple in the team's big fifth inning. Saline defeated Webberville 3 to 1 and knocked off defending champions Ann Arbor by a score of 29 to 2 in the opening playoff competition. In the last three games Cannon has struck out 54 men.

This puts Saline's community baseball team the champion of the Tri-County League baseball league from its old position of loop stepping stone.

Pitcher Cannon played a big part in the Saline triumph as he fanned 14 while walking but 3, and forces Fowlerville to leave nine runners stranded. He also contributed a two-run triple in his team's big fifth inning and scored himself on Frankie Randall's single.

Fowlerville counted a run in the first as Wayne Copeland and Bill Scofield each doubled but Saline tied it on a gift run in the third. Singles by Bill Larson, Bill Koebbe, and Randall plus Don Jaeger's double game Saline three runs in the eighth. Fowlerville rallied for a pair in the ninth on Bill Sheetz's single, Judd's triple and a long fly.

Saline ended regular season play tied with Webberville for fourth place but then defeated that team, 3 to 1, for third spot and later knocked off defending champion Ann Arbor 9-2 in opening playoff competition.

Carr Park To Be Discussed By Council

G. H. Breitenwischer's 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Breitenwischer observed their golden wedding anniversary at their home at 311 E. Duncan Street, on Wednesday, August 19. The couple was married by the Rev. George Schoettle of the Emanuel Evangelical Church and the attendants were Mrs. Breitenwischer's cousin, Mrs. Homer Wood of Hillsdale, and his brother, the late Louis Breitenwischer.

Mrs. Breitenwischer is the former Marie Kurfess.

They have one daughter, Mrs. Marshall Smith of Detroit and 2 granddaughters, Marcia and Eleanor Smith.

For forty-three years Mr. Breitenwischer operated the Breitenwischer Dry Goods Store here. He is a member of the Manchester village council and has served as president of the village and on the council at various times. He is a member of the Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church and Mr. Breitenwischer has served as president of the church board.

They have both enjoyed good health until a short time ago, when Mr. Breitenwischer had an illness after they returned from a tour of the west with their daughter and her family and plans to celebrate their anniversary were cancelled. However, during the past week a large number of relatives and friends have stopped in to call on the couple and remembered them with cards and flowers.

Ford Employee Relates Plane Trip

When Charles Findlay, Manchester Ford Plant employee, read about Carl Wuerthner's supposed trip to the African Gold Coast and that he plans to leave from Idlewild Airport, New York, he couldn't help but reminisce on a trip he and his wife took earlier this year from the same airport—a trip which, incidentally, included his native Scotland.

With this in mind, he brought in an article which appeared earlier in the Brooklyn Exponent concerning the starting of Findlay's trip which we are reprinting here: "A Prestwick, Scotland, newspaper stated that a contingent of the greatest mass flight in history had just arrived at that port, April 14, 1953, having left New York the day before.

"The flight, sponsored by the F. E. R. A. (Ford Employees Recreation Association), had as participants all Ford employees. As my wife and I were on this wonderful trip, I should like to note a few of our observations. Within a 100-mile radius of Prestwick can be found the birthplace of Robert Burns, the Scottish poet; also the birthplace of John Paul Jones, the father of the American Navy; and even St. Patrick himself. We journeyed in luxurious comfort aboard a B. O. A. C. Constellation. Excellent food and refreshments from the bar were served at intervals.

"We left Idlewild Airport, New York at 7:50 p. m. We were informed that the next stop would be at Gander, Newfoundland, a run of three and three-quarters hours. The hostess donned a life-jacket, and demonstrated its use in the unlikely event it might be required. The jacket is self-inflating, and can also be inflated by mouth. A light comes on at water contact and has a whistle to attract attention.

"Announcement! Passing over Nova Scotia, air speed 310. Inside temperature 78, outside 21 minus! Actual elevation 19,000 ft. cabin pressurized at 8,000 feet. "Gander, Newfoundland, 1:15 a. m. Leave for Atlantic hop to Prestwick, Scotland. Bright everlasting cloud carpet. No water visible.

"7:40 a. m. We are now viewing the Emerald Isle on its starboard side, Scottish coast coming up. Landing gear emerging. Terra Firma!

"After a lapse of 39 years we set our feet on Scottish soil again. Many Ford cars on the road here as at home. We are informed these smart little cars find high favor even in competition with the various continental models. This is the land of tearooms. If you desire a substantial lunch you ask for high tea. If a light lunch is wanted then it will be just tea. As Americans traveling in Britain, we were accorded every courtesy wherever we went.

At the last meeting of the Carr Park Association it was suggested by village attorney, James Hendley, that in order to form a permanent organization it would be necessary for the village council to pass an ordinance forming a Park Board or Commission.

To this end, George Johnston, chairman of the present Board of Trustees, consisting of representatives from various interested organizations, asked that as many of the appointed representatives be present at the next council meeting on September 8th in the council rooms.

Secretary-treasurer of the group reported that a profit of $103 was made at the ice cream social with a bank balance of over five hundred dollars made up from donations by several organizations of fifty dollars and twenty-five dollars or less, by family reunions, individuals and by memberships.

The association expressed gratitude to the local fire department for putting up the swings at the park. The bill for installation of lights at the park is still outstanding.

The next meeting will be Friday, September 25 at the park, weather permitting. In case of inclement weather the meeting will be held at the village hall.

Library News

The Manchester township library has ordered new books. The first ones to arrive are three vocational books for teen age girls entitled "Lucky Miss Spaulding" by Eleanor Arnett Nash; "Lynn: Cover Girl" by Nina Wilcox Putnam; and "Linda Jordan-Lawyer" by Jean Libman Block. One biography has arrived, "Lillian Wald, Angel of Henry Street," by Beryl Williams and one sport story, "A Hit and a Miss" by I. S. Young.

"May 1, 7 p. m. Leaving Scotland on the homeward trip, our next stop Rekaivik, Iceland, a three and one-half hour run. Here we viewed the midnight sun. Next stop Goose Bay, Labrador, temperature here 32 degrees.

"We leave Goose Bay, Lab., for our next hop which will be New York. The distance 1,010 miles, and will take four hours forty minutes. We learn that our Constellation will fly very 'happily' on two engines with a speed loss of only 20 to 30 miles.

"Hostess started to serve breakfast, a terrific job served with great facility. She has 'sixty-four customers'.

"Our profound thanks to F. E. R. A. and Mrs. Abrams for the many briefings we had on this flight, a most successful one in deed. The flight truly was a fitting part of the observance of Ford's fiftieth anniversary."

Charles D. Findlay, Norvell, Michigan.

Exhibitors Enter State Fair Early

It will be first come, first served this year as far as entries are concerned and the Michigan State Fair really means it.

Therefore, farm, livestock and home arts exhibitors are advised not to wait until the August 21 deadline but to mail entries as soon as possible.

"When the buildings are filled we'll have to start returning entries," said James M. Hare, general manager. "This may mean that many regular exhibitors will be disappointed if they try to enter at the last moment. But we must enforce this rule. After all, we have only a certain amount of space and it is only fair to give the early entrant the preference."

Last year there were so many last minute entries that tents and other temporary structures had to be erected to take care of the overflow. This resulted in unsatisfactory conditions for both exhibitors and spectators.

Hare said that no such temporary structures will be erected this year.

Premiums this year total $115,000 or $5,000 more than last year.

For the second consecutive year the Coliseum will be cleared for three complete days and evenings, September 8, 9, and 10, so that livestock judging and events will be uninterrupted. The livestock auction will be held at 1 p. m. Wednesday, September 9.

KUEHMANN PERFECTS PROCESS ON COLOR AND FLAVOR OF CHIPS

Method Reportedly Preserves Golden Hue and Checks Nature on 'Fishy Taste'

Constant control of color and flavor of potato chips, regarded as the greatest headache plaguing chip manufacturers down through the years, has been achieved by Kuehmann Foods, Inc., Toledo, it was disclosed today.

Martin A. Janis, president, said the process controlling color and flavor involves the hot-water washing of potato slices before they are cooked—a process, which in itself and with various chemicals added, is not new, but, it has never before been successful.

Key to the process, which Mr. Janis declines to disclose, is the "control of the washing." In other words, he pointed out, it is not what is done, but how it is done. An application for a patent on the process is pending. Blames Nature

According to Mr. Janis, a past president of the National Potato Chip Institute, nature is the culprit in the color-taste problem.

By a natural chemical reaction, starch in stored potatoes is gradually converted to sugars. On cooking, these sugars caramelize, making the chips both brownish and bitter.

Kuehmann's and other manufacturers have tried many processes over the years to overcome the problem, but none has ever been completely successful, Mr. Janis said.

One of the first methods, still in use, involves controlled storage. In other words, potatoes are stored at certain temperatures (near 42 degrees) and humidity to slow down the chemical reaction. Then for several weeks before being used, the temperature is increased (to about 72 degrees) so that some of the sugar is turned back into starch. Successful Point Unreliable

This process has been successful up to a point, but it has never been reliable. For example, storage conditions which came close to achieving the desired result last year, might not work this year. This, it is believed, can be blamed on the potato.

Washing, with and without chemicals, has been tried too, but the end result has always been an off-taste, either from the chemicals themselves, or from a taste from the potato itself, which builds up in the washing solution. This latter effect is known to be trade as "that fishy taste."

The Kuehmann process, using only hot water, eliminates the sugar from stored potatoes, and thus the brownish color and bitter taste. Mr. Janis said. It can be controlled so well that chips can be made to come out white, but that is not desired.

"Whoever heard of a white potato chip? Golden is the color," Mr. Janis said.

THE HUNTING DOG PROBLEM

The choice of a hunting dog is a problem that most bird hunters have to face at some time in their lives—and in the discussion and opinions that follow this writer knows he's playing with fire! Gun dog owners are a proud lot. They're going to take exception to many of the suggestions made herewith. Nevertheless, at this time of year so many hunters are looking for a good shooting dog that some help should be forthcoming—so here goes!

The "New" Gun Dogs
Swedish pointers, German short-hair, Weimaraners, and even the Brittany Spaniel may be considered relatively "new" breeds of hunting dogs in America. How do they compare with the old standards set by English Setters, Pointers and Spaniels?

Well, if you're going to buy a dog let's first consider the type of bird hunting that interests you most. If you spend most of your time in the field hunting pheasant in the southern part of Michigan my personal opinion is that you're better off with a well-trained Springer Spaniel. A pheasant is a running bird. He'll rarely hold to a point, especially after opening day. Too many pointing dogs will hold a point too long, while your bird is racing to heavy cover where shooting is impossible. The Springer, well-trained mind you, will work close, keep moving, yet show definitely by his actions when the game is near-by. Some pointing dogs will handle a moving pheasant perfectly, but too many don't.

Again, what about those "new" gun dogs? The Swedish and German Short Hair Pointers are singularly popular because they are new, and people like to try new things. The same is true of the Weimaraners, an all-purpose hunting dog. All three of these breeds are often high strung and hard to train. Of the three the Weimaraner is the best "pet," and after all one must live with a dog twelve months of the year.

Brittany Well-Established
The fourth breed, the Brittany Spaniel, is fast getting a firm grip in this country. It's the only pointing Spaniel, is rugged, easily trained, but should not be hunted for both grouse and pheasant. It is a specialist, and should be trained as such.

Grouse hunters will do best with a Pointer or Setter, with the latter getting the nod because of a steadier temperament. Pointers shine in the "style" department, but are hard to live with.

Before you buy that new dog why not check over a few favorite breeds at field trials? You'll be in a much better position to judge for yourself!

Washtenaw County Republican Picnic

The second annual Washtenaw County Republican Party picnic was held Saturday afternoon at The Oaks, Portage Lake Road. The Ann Arbor Republican Club was the sponsor and approximately 200 gathered on the spacious lawn.

Mrs. R. Crane was the general chairman and she greeted the assembly in the tent provided for the occasion. After the national anthem, she stated that the theme for the year was "Keep the ball rolling for Ike." Mr. Detweiler then began the introductions. John Fiekens, chairman, spoke of the need for a reevaluation of ourselves, of an earnest endeavor to restrain personalities and unite in party loyalty, choosing the best material to further the aims of the party.

D. Hale Brake, state treasurer, gave a resume of current issues, particularly concerning government restrictions and free enterprise. He stated that there were differences of opinion as to where restrictions should be used, as each individual was affected.

Congressman Meader arrived directly from Washington and made a plea for dignity and good judgement in the transition period. He cited the advances already made, but stated that taxes could not be reduced until appropriations already pledged had been made. It amounts to a balancing of income to outgo and the administration is busily clearing the decks. He cited the disposal of barges on the Mississippi, the withdrawing from power companies and a new Hoover Commission to evaluate expenditures as starts already accomplished.

Congressman Meader is a member of the Inter-Governmental Commission which is studying the overlapping of various departments in the hope of greater efficiency and economy.

Secretary of State Owen Cleary arrived from Lansing where he had been attending the truck rodeo and spoke a few inspiring words. Lt. Gov. Reid was most bombastic in his demands that the

All they wanted to do was to escort her safely through the crowds of vacationists who thronged the station to get a glimpse of the vivacious movie star. Marilyn visited Jasper Park Lodge after her arrival at the Canadian Rockies resort town for the filming of location shots in Jasper National Park for the movie, "River of No Return," in which she is starred with Robert Mitchum and Rory Calhoun. The lucky Mounties chosen for the glamorous assignment are Constables J. E. Snider (left) and A. P. Dirk both of Jasper.

GOOD NEWS FOR HOMEMAKERS
Anne Marshall

Casseroles are among the handiest inventions for cooking, most homemakers agree.

If you have a generous baking dish to hold your favorite food mixtures, it's likely to be the most often used utensil in the kitchen. A welcome sight to the family too.

A casserole dinner has all kinds of advantages. First, it's almost a complete meal when the main dish is a rich combination such as salmon and noodles. Just serve this with a mixed vegetable or fruit salad; and the menu is well rounded and satisfying. Cuts down on serving dishes too.

Many of the combinations take little work. Especially if you use a condensed cream-style soup as the sauce for mixing the casserole ingredients. The following recipe for a casserole with soup sauce will take in a short time.

Heavenly Salmon 'n' Noodles

1 cup minced onion
2 tablespoons minced green pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups unsalted cooked noodles, drained (2 to 3 ounces uncooked)
1/4 cup buttered bread cubes
Brown onion and green pepper lightly in butter. Combine with remaining ingredients except bread cubes. Pour mixture into lightly greased 1 1/2 quart casserole; sprinkle cubes on top. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) about 20 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Makes 4 generous servings.

Secretary Of Labor Stresses Man's Worth

By MARTIN P. DURKIN, Secretary of Labor.

LABOR DAY is an expression of American freedom and American progress.

It was created seventy-one years ago by a group of trade unionists seeking to give labor its true dignity. Their efforts succeeded. Labor Day has become a holiday of all the people, and an accepted symbol of the spirit of free working men and women.

American free labor has grown along with the American nation and its people, and it has used its strength to help the cause of freedom around the world.

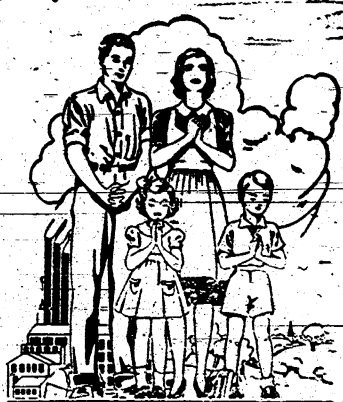

On this first Monday in September, 1953's Labor Day, it is fitting and proper that American working people, those in white collars as well as those in overalls, extend again their thoughts and their greetings and well-wishes to their brother workers in foreign lands.

OUR MESSAGE to the workers in free lands is one of fellowship. We are joined to oppose the ugly spectres of dictatorship and communism. Through our government, our churches, our labor unions, and other organizations, we have offered our help in the cold war that is being waged over the world for the minds and souls as well as the bodies of men and women.

For the oppressed workers behind the Iron Curtain, American workers send a message of hope and sympathy. Six thousand years of history have proved that no suppression, no oppression, can kill the desire of men and women for freedom and dignity, the yearning to build a better world for their children. We in America pray, and we know and we believe, that the workers in foreign lands will fight on as we have for freedom and progress, and that eventually they will win.

THE WORKERS of East Germany and of Czechoslovakia have struck out against the despots seeking to enslave them, in the world's most recent examples of man's long struggle for freedom. The June graves of their martyrs are already hallowed shrines in the minds of freedom-loving people everywhere.

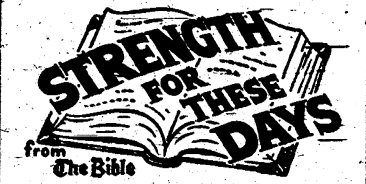

On this Labor Day in America, we will pray for labor's strength and progress everywhere. We are firm in the knowledge and belief that if men and women are free they will work unceasingly to improve their lives and their homes, and to create a better future for their children.

WE WILL MAKE these prayers for ourselves and our children, and for the workers and the children of the free world and the slave world, in the firm conviction that the good in man is bound to triumph over evil deeds and devilish thoughts.

For Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever. (From the Twenty-third Psalm.)

Champion Home Canner Tells How She Does It

Courtesy of Ball Brothers Company

Mrs. Martha Christophel of Goshen, Indiana, winner of blue ribbons at state and county fairs and Chicago's Century of Progress Exposition, believes in the extra touch which makes a jar of canned fruit or vegetables "taste good to the eye" as well as to the palate. And her home canned foods are a picture! You wonder how she got those huge juicy peaches into the jars. Your mouth waters when you see creamy white corn kernels in jars with stars cut from sweet red pepper pressed against the inside of the glass.

Her jars of mixed pickles hold dark green olives stuffed with pimiento, pearly white small onions, sprigs of cauliflower, bright green chunks of cucumber, and golden carrot wheels. She always puts up some pears with sirup colored with red hots, always adds a tablespoonful of lemon juice to such foods as corn, asparagus, peas, pickles, cherries, to preserve the color.

Each year she puts up hundreds of jars of food, beginning with the first rhubarb and strawberries and going on through the late fruit season. She finds time for other household and fine arts. She paints in oil, does pastels, water colors, pen and ink drawings; quilts, crochets, and deals in antiques!

During the canning season she attaches to her large "Antiques" sign a smaller one: "Shop closed. Busy." Trouble is that people are then more determined than ever to see her antiques. "I make more sales than at any other time, but I get my canning done, you bet!"

Do you save money by home canning? That's obvious. "Buy fruits and vegetables by the bulk from your local markets and can them. Then you've got them!" she says. Mrs. Christophel won her first ribbon at the age of six for bread baking. Since then she has won hundreds. In an antique sugar bucket are scores, including 15 from the 1952 Indiana State Fair alone. Over a hundred more fill an old-fashioned churn. There are two "rag" rugs, one made of blue prize ribbons, the other of red.

This expert home canner prefers Dome Lids and Bands and says one should not attempt to can without them. "Sometimes there may be a tiny nick in the top of the jar and you don't see it. With the Dome Lid you know whether or not you have a perfect seal," she says emphatically. "Because the Dome goes down. One of her favorite recipes is for pickled wax beans. Here it is:

Wash and sort long, yellow wax beans. Snip off ends. Do not string completely or pods will come apart when cooked. Boil until just done. Put 1 onion or half garlic clove and juice of 1 lemon in each jar. Boil 1 cup sugar, 3 cups vinegar, 1 teaspoonful celery seed, 1 heaping teaspoonful mustard seed. Pack beans lengthwise into jars and cover with hot pickling mixture. Put on Dome Lids and screw bands tight. Process in boiling water bath one minute.

If you'd like more of Mrs. Christophel's favorite recipes, write to Ball Brothers Company, Dept. FB, Muncie, Indiana, because that busy sign is being hung out again in Goshen. It's time to can for this year's fair contests!

reunion of the Reck family arranged by the Dickson Reck family.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wallace attended the open house for Aunt, Mrs. Nellie Stanbery, at her home at Jackson on Sunday. The occasion marked Mrs. Stanbery's seventy-fifth birthday.

Mrs. Lorenz Ahrens went to St. Joseph's Hospital at Ann Arbor for treatment last Thursday. It was expected that she would re-home some time Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nimz and Kathy of Ann Arbor were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Traub.

Auxiliary Plans Busy Schedule

Mrs. Frank Tibb entertained the Legion Auxiliary at her cottage at Wampers Lake. The twenty-one members and one guest enjoyed a potluck dinner.

At the business meeting Mrs. Robert Huber gave the report of the Good Cheer committee and president Phyllis Baker announced that she would serve on the good cheer committee for the month.

A discussion concerning the purchasing of crutches to be added to the hospital equipment was tabled with Mrs. Robert Huber appointed to check the advisability of such a purchase.

Mrs. Ed Steele, Jr., reported on the state convention at Detroit to which she was a delegate from the Manchester group. It was decided that the Auxiliary will again have a Country Store at this year's Community Fair. Working on the fair committee at the Auxiliary booth will be the Mesdames Basil Schwab, Ted Roberts and Harry Sutton.

Mrs. Rolland Grossman announced that the Manchester unit will entertain at the Ypsilanti State Hospital on August 25th. Twelve members will go and take prizes. It was also announced that the Brooklyn Drill Team will attend the Manchester unit's September meeting and at that time install the new local officers.

President Baker told the group that the auxiliary had furnished the Carr Park Association some table service for the ice cream social. Mrs. Baker also appointed Mrs. Philip Kern and Mrs. Robert Huber to program some projects that could be undertaken by the organization to be of benefit to the Park. The committee has been asked to make a report at the September meeting. Mrs. Philip Kern and Mrs. Rolland Grossman reported on the Canteen unit going to the Ypsilanti Ford Plant where they helped with the Blood Bank.

A discussion was held as to whether or not it would be possible for the Auxiliary to sponsor a First Aid Course and Mrs. Grossman volunteered to check the possibilities. Anyone interested in such a course is asked to watch the paper for dates and additional information.

County Vote Less Than Two Thirds

Washtenaw county farmers favored federal controls for the 1954 wheat crop in yesterday's voting but failed to give the proposal the two-thirds majority required on a nation-wide basis.

The Washtenaw vote was 181 for for-controls, 118 against. 33 ballots were challenged. Even if all the challenged votes were validated as "yes" votes, Washtenaw county would not come up to the two-thirds mark.

William G. Pritchard, county chairman of the Production and Marketing Administration which supervised the election, estimated about half of Washtenaw's eligible farmers turned out.

The county was divided into 9 districts for the balloting. The results by districts, with "yes" votes first, were:

Saline-Bridgewater, 33-28; Lima-Scioto, 35-14; Lodi-Pittsfield, 10-26; Ann Arbor-Superior, 7-4; Manchester-Sharon-Freedom, 15-16; Webster, 9-3; Ypsilanti-York-Augusta, 36-14; Sylvan-Lyndon-Dexter, 29-9; and Northfield-Salem, 8-4.

AS OTHERS SEE IT:
In the good old days it took a lot of company to eat a family out of house and home, now in many a case the family is doing it.

Far more miles per gallon

on the trips YOU take!

On long trips, short trips, all trips, you get far greater gas mileage out of a '53 Chevrolet. It offers important savings in everyday driving over everyday roads!

Out to the golf course. Off for a week-end of fishing. Half across the country on a full-scale vacation. Wherever you go—however you drive—you're going to get there on a lot less gasoline in a fine new Chevrolet.

The truth is, this year's Chevrolet owners are enjoying the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. Plus more power. Faster acceleration. More "steam" for the steep hills.

That's the beauty of Chevrolet's two great high-compression engines—the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine in Powerglide models, and the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrill-King" engine in gearshift models. They squeeze much more out of regular gasoline—more miles, more pleasure.

Along with this greater gas mileage, you get lower over-all upkeep costs. And Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field. Drop in and let us show you how you'll be better off in every way with a 1953 Chevrolet!

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

Outlook For Dairying Is Optimistic

The outlook for dairying in Michigan is an optimistic one for the coming year, says a Michigan State College agricultural economist.

Extension Specialist, Dale E. Butz predicts that dairying is likely to be favorable relative to most other enterprises.

"Support prices probably will be lowered next winter," he points out, "but this will not make too much difference in price, since increased demand due to the population increase will nearly absorb the milk equivalent of products purchased by the government this year."

Admitting that the longer-time outlook for dairying is "colored" by the introduction of filled milk products, Butz believes the change there will not be as drastic as some have predicted.

He suggests that the increased fluid sales and the selling of non-fat dry milk will more than offset losses in outlets for fat. There will be a gradual shift in values placed on fat and non-fat solids with the latter taking the greater share of the milk price. This, Butz notes, will come with education and promotion as consumers realize the value of milk.

Butz looks for more emphasis to be placed on evening out the seasonal milk flow through pricing schemes and other means. Federal and state orders will be extended to nearly all fluid milk markets. Quality gradually will be raised so that all milk is of bottling quality. And, Butz adds, the shift from farm-separated cream to the delivery of whole milk will continue.

"For the producer with an adequate size business, good management, good cows and proper equipment," concludes Butz, "the future is always bright. The producer with only three or four cows, inadequate equipment and high costs is in for a rough time."

My Neighbors

By BILL PAULSON

"If the diplomats would meet over a fish-pond instead of a round-table... there'd be fewer wars!"

WASHINGTON AND 'SMALL BUSINESS'

By C. W. HARDER

There is growing Washington concern over increased business failures. With more than 700 firms a month going to the wall, failures now exceed 1950 before Korea.

Naturally, there are many differing schools of thought in Washington on the problem. Economists imbued with Big Business reasoning, seek to sell theory of keener competition, lack of experience or capital is major failure reason.

But facts do not agree. Normally, business failures are due to lack of trade, with retailers hit first. But in the present situation, wholesalers show biggest failure increase.

This is an important fact because wholesalers, by and large, are not shoe string operators. The very nature of the wholesaling business requires considerable capital and experience.

This condition was inevitable. There are two major reasons.

One is wholesalers must stock goods made by firms who closely control supply and prices.

But many wholesalers, instead of representing these manufacturers, find they are actually competing with the manufacturers on a different price basis.

Manufacturers are more and more putting in their own retail outlets who buy direct from factories on favored deals, and undersell the wholesaler's own customers. In other cases, big retailers are sold direct.

Sometime ago, in tire discount case, Federal Trade Commission National Federation of Independent Business mission made ruling to eliminate double dealing. But due to behind scenes shuffle in Washington, this ruling has yet to be enforced.

The other reason is taxes. Many wholesalers are taking less "take home pay" out of business, yet assets are bigger.

Wholesalers, to do business, keep warehouses filled. Yet replacement stocks keep creeping up in price. This in itself dissipates working capital, but tax situation bites more heavily.

Taxes are assessed on net worth of the business, and actually bear no relation to the amount of liquid cash. Thus, a warehouse stocked with merchandise can be in one tax bracket. But if that stock is sold, and the wholesaler restocks at a 5% price increase, his net worth has increased 5%, which is taxable, even though his cash position has deteriorated.

Then when government failure to enforce anti-trust laws permits the manufacturers who sold the wholesaler to dump goods direct, there is chaos.

In addition, in city after city, warehouse inventories are taxed yearly, even though goods in a wholesale warehouse are actually goods in transit.

It is also significant in heavy percentage of current business failures, a principal unpaid creditor is Federal Government for unpaid taxes.

The problem is serious, but not without solution. But to forestall the economic Golgotha now building up, government officials must quickly recognize true nature of the problem; take immediate steps to correct it.
