Heritage From Plymouth

Today is Thanksgiving, and this year, as in every year, Americans everywhere will partake of a plentiful repast and, we hope, give thanks to God for the manner in which He has provided for America.

In the fall of 1620 one hundred and two brave colonists landed on the shores of a new world and named their new home Plymouth in honor of whence they had come. They had lived in cramped quarters on a tiny ship for 63 days, 9 long weeks, and braved all the terrors of the Atlantic in a search for religious freedom. Now they were in the new world.

For fifteen more long, arduous, death-ridden and discouraging years they worked the new land and dislocated themselves a new civilization and heritage. It was in 1635 that these first colonists were able to sit down to their dinner with their new friends, the Indians, and give grateful, heartfelt thanks to God for making their new life possible and lasting.

This is the Thanksgiving we celebrate today and it is only proper that we also give grateful and heartfelt thanks to God for that little band of courageous pilgrims and for the blessings of the following 318 years that have been heaped manifold on America.

Our heritage is courage and freedom. Let all of us keep it that way.

Manchester Woman Dies, Age 92

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Maginn, 92, of 416 West Main Street, Manchester, died Saturday night at the Colonial Manor Convalescent home in Chelsea.

She was born on December 4, 1860 in Lenawee Junction, daughter of Thomas W. and Hannah Diehl Bennett.

On September 18, 1884 she married Frank P. Maginn of Lenawee Junction. They lived three for three years before moving to Manchester.

Mrs. Maginn is survived by two sons, Wade of Chicago and Ward at home; and one grandchild. A daughter died in infancy.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, November 24, at 2 p. m. at the Jenter Funeral Home, with the Rev. Karl H. A. Rest officiating.

CROP Drive to Get Underway

The annual CROP drive in Washtenaw County will get underway Sunday, December 6th, and close on Sunday, December 13th. County chairman of the drive will be Rev. Adolph Bergman of Manchester.

The campaign in the county is being carried on through churches, schools, civic and agricultural organizations. With two-thirds of the world's population hungry, CROP plans a campaign to relieve the suffering.

Take a heaping measureful of the Golden Rule, mix in a batch of high octane gasoline in a modern cargo plane, add a couple of hundred pigs and a few hours flying time—and you've cooked up something with an international flavor which will quicken the hearts of farm boys in a far away land, and which will stir the imagination of men and women everywhere.

That's what organized labor in Fort Worth did this summer in cooperation with the Christian Rural Overseas Program. The pigs were flown to Honduras, Central America and given to needy farm boys who raised more pigs and in turn gave one pig from his first return to another farm boy and so increased the pork supply of the country.

The great need still is for food. People who are desperately hungry now cannot wait until chickens, cattle and pigs grow up and reproduce. Besides most of the people who receive CROP food have no land on which to produce food or keep livestock and in many cases the land has gone through long periods of drought. According to officials on the CROP program—what is needed most now is food. Mason County was the first in Michigan to canvass this year and was followed by Allegan and Van Buren but most of the canvassing will be done following Thanksgiving. For more information contact Rev. Bergman, Garden 8-4781 or write Box 493, Manchester.

Along Main Street

By the number of cars returning from the north loaded with deer there is little doubt but what hunting must have been pretty good this year despite the lack of snow.

Cecil Albertson, advertising representative for the Enterprise, and his father each bagged theirs near Mancelona. In their party of eight they reported that all but two had the good luck to shoot and bag bucks.

Johnny Wallace, hunting with Lawrence Scheid near Newberry, bagged one the first morning and Paul Marshall shot one near Roscommon.

Theodore Blumenauer is home again after hunting near Newberry. Others still in the north are Loren Hinderer of Chelsea, Jim Clark of Grass Lake, Willard Blumenauer, Donald Krzyzaniak and Raymond Kuebler.

Jerry Whiteman, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Whiteman, is recovering from an eye injury which he suffered last week when he was hit in the eye by a homemade arrow shot by a friend. Duffield Ball's new telephone number is now GARDen 8-2131.

Don't forget the date for the band concert, Wednesday, December 9th, at 8 p. m.

Many an argument is sound and nothing else.

Our First Thanksgiving

Let Us Thank God

Let's have our turkey dinners, football games, family reunions and all that today—but let's remember that it is Thanksgiving Day, and observe it as such with at least a brief moment of gratitude to God for our blessings.

It is from our Pilgrim Fathers' grateful prayers in the wilderness a long-ago November that our present Thanksgiving derives. They set an example in word and deed which we might well remember at least once a year. Even before the Mayflower landed them at Plymouth they had written in the Compact: "We whose names are underwritten have undertaken, for the glory of God, to establish in Virginia the first colony for the advancement of the Christian faith."

So glorious our heritage, so short our memories!

Its History

The observance of Thanksgiving on a fixed day and on a national scale stems directly from a 36-year campaign carried on by Mrs. Sarah J. Hale of Boston, editor of Godey's Lady Book. In 1827 she began her campaign to have the last Thursday in November designated as America's Thanksgiving Day, but it was not until 1863, with Abraham Lincoln in the White House, that she succeeded.

In September, 1863, Mrs. Hale wrote in an editorial: "In a time of national darkness and sore troubles, shall we not recognize that the goodness of God never faileth, and that to our Father in Heaven we should always bring the Thanksgiving offering at the ingathering of the harvest?"

Thirty states had observed the holiday in 1859, and four years later President Lincoln issued the first Thanksgiving Day proclamation.

There will be no admission charge for these programs of Christmas music and the public is invited to attend.

Freedom Electors Vote Funds to School Districts

Freedom township school districts will share $5,000 which will be turned over to them from the township's contingent fund. The township electors recently voted authorization for the transfer.

The Pleasant Lake district was the one that requested the money but the township ensured equal benefits for all school children residing in the township by submitting for approval the proposition to divert the money "to the several school districts in Freedom township, in accordance with Act 238, Public Acts of 1939 as amended."

Freedom township has had surplus money in the contingent fund for some time and has, at various times, paid for extra road improvements. With the knowledge that such a surplus existed, the township consolidated Pleasant Lake school district's Board of Education petitioned for an election to gain approval for transfer of the funds for school purposes. The electors approved the proposal by a vote of 60 to 24.

In addition to Pleasant Lake, other school districts that will benefit will be the former Everett school which was recently divided to consolidate with Manchester and Chelsea; the Rogers Corners school which is fractional with Chelsea; Girbach which is now a part of the Saline area school district and Luick now fractional with Lima. The money each of the districts will receive will be determined at the rate of slightly over $22 for each pupil residing in Freedom township.

Blooms Celebrate

The topic was "Youth of the World" and was given by Mrs. Melvin Heselschwerdt. Mrs. William Reno had the topic "In Detention of our Schools." The next starting the project the men had meeting will be December 1st at worked twenty-four hours a day the home of Mrs. William Palmer while drilling.

Citizens' Committee OK's Plan 3

Manchester's public schools citizens' committee in a meeting at the high school Friday, Nov. 20, voted to send out its report on Manchester's building needs to all families in the district.

The printed report, which was unanimously adopted by the committee, predicts a school enrollment in 1958 of 850 students, as compared to the present enrollment of 690. Three methods of accommodating the enlarged school district are outlined in the report, the first two plans calling for an increase in the elementary classrooms and continuing the present high school, and the third plan calling for the conversion of the present high school into an elementary building and erecting a new high school approximately a block north of the athletic field.

Monday, Dec. 7, was set for a public meeting at which the report will be discussed and questions answered. The school board, the architect, Clark Ackley, and members of the citizens' committee selected by Luther Klager, board president, will form a panel to answer questions.

Though no official action has yet been taken on any of the three plans, the nineteen members of the citizens' committee made clear their position by voting unanimously to recommend plan 3 calling for a new high school. It was felt that this plan would solve the district's long-term needs most fully, do most to modernize the educational plant, and provide land space for future expansion.

The printed report, which was prepared under the direction of Dan Boutell, chairman of the citizens' committee, will contain a ballot on which all citizens may express their preference for plans 1, 2, or 3. The board and the committee urge all voters to fill out and mail in the ballots as a guide to the school board. The future of the Manchester school system will depend largely on the answers and the sentiment expressed by the voters at the public meeting Dec. 7. The report will reach voters in the mails several days before this meeting.

The ballots will have no legal status, but will act rather as a guide to the school board. Anyone who is undecided on how to vote may wait until after the public meeting, at which time all questions can be clarified.

Whichever plan is finally decided upon, the school board hopes to call for a vote on a bond issue by the middle of January. This is necessary if contracts are to be let next spring and construction actually started by the time good weather comes around.

The citizens' committee, consisting of the following, will be glad to answer any questions raised by the report:

Drillers Abandon Test Well at Horning's

Drilling for a test oil well on the farm of Edwin Horning of Waldo Road, in Lima township, was stopped last Thursday after reaching a depth of 3,241 feet. The equipment was dismantled and made ready to transport to the vicinity of Milford where drilling will be started a few miles from the spot where a test well was put down just before the outfit was brought to the Horning farm last month.

Mr. Horning said that he and his wife had agreed to permit the Sun Oil Company to make the test and would have been happy if the project had been successful, but he had not allowed themselves to be too optimistic over the possibility. Mr. Horning said that since the test of our schools. The next starting the project the men had meeting will be December 1st at worked twenty-four hours a day the home of Mrs. William Palmer while drilling.

Wuerthner Reports On African Trip

Carl Wuerthner's story for his recent trip to the Gold Coast of Africa is continued in this issue.

Before continuing the story Mr. Wuerthner makes note that in the picture on last week's front page of the paper that the person to the extreme left behind Mr. Wuerthner is Dr. Snyder and the party at the extreme right in the rear is missionary Albert Schwenke. These missionaries met the group at the air port at Accra and welcomed the group where they were placed in several mission homes. At Accra is the Scottish mission book depot where two of the American missionaries are employed. There is a Y. M. C. A. in this city and very convenient for relaxation. Soft drinks and lunches are served there.

In last week's paper there was an error in noting the number of persons in the leprosy colony which should have read 270 patients, not 20.

Our next mission was something like 60 miles from Wara-Wara called Peki. There we met Mr. and Mrs. George Snyder and Miss Esther Reinold. Dr. Snyder is the teacher in the primary and Mrs. Snyder also teaches. Miss Reinold, another teacher, is in the secondary schools. Here a much larger school is needed. There are fifty-two Catholics who wish to enter the ministry but Dr. Snyder can handle only sixteen at a time. But at the insistence of the African pastors he is taking 20 this year. Here the group attended church services where 600 came to worship. Very few of the natives wear shoes or sandals and go barefooted most of the time.

Women carry the loads on their heads. Travelling down the high way it is impossible to go much of a distance before you'll see women carrying loads up to 150 pounds on their heads and their babies on their backs. Mr. Wuerthner cannot stress how much missionaries are needed in every place they visited. The Africans in these parts were anxious to learn, and are more devout to their Christian belief than are Americans.

One of the most touching experiences of their visit occurred the night that Mrs. Eber spoke to a group of women who had walked four miles in a pouring rain carrying their babies on their backs in order to hear her speak. Her talk was a success although it was accomplished through an interpreter.

These people are just so eager for education that there just aren't enough schools for them. There are six to eight times as many of these Africans wishing to enter the ministry as can be educated at the present time. Mr. Wuerthner asked a student of the Catechist how many years he must study to become a minister and his reply was eighteen years.

Wara Wara

At this mission a hospital without running water or electricity did its work to help the suffering. The day began with devotions. Surgery could not be handled at this place because of the lack of facilities. British government has offered the mission board 80,000 pounds, in American money $224,000, to build a hospital if the Americans will furnish the personnel and manager to operate the institution. Ten per cent of the people have leprosy and ten per cent have tuberculosis.

Peki

After the service was given a reception on the Veranda of the T. B. hospital. The congregation donated two dozen eggs, oranges, bananas, grapefruit, yams and two live chickens to the traveling Americans who in turn gave them to the parish house for us Mr. Wuerthner said they didn't have much use for a couple of live chickens.

In the afternoon he said he got a hair cut that cost 3 shillings, or forty-two cents in American money. Later they boarded a plane for Kano, Nigeria where they met a number of missionaries at a home where they spent a pleasant evening. They stayed only a day at Kano—but the chance and difference in the two countries is almost unbelievable. Kano is the home of the Mohammedans, with a population of about 50,000. The city has a high wall around it and is located on the edge of the desert.

On the night of the 15th they flew to Rome where they arrived at 5:05 on the 16th and were kept busy touring the city, including Vatican City, the catacombs, the prison where the Apostle Paul was incarcerated, St. Peter's Cathedral and many of the important places of interest. On the 19th they left for London but due to some misunderstanding they were obliged to stay in London until Sunday night and again saw London on Sunday giving us an opportunity to attend church services arriving in New York on September 21 instead of on the 20th.

The climate is no lower than 70 degrees and no higher than 98 degrees. Oranges and bananas can be purchased at one cent each. They raise two crops a year and from the number of Africans of the younger generation they must also be included.

One of the curiosities was a canopy of mosquito netting which everyone uses to keep out mosquitos and other insects. Togoland and the Gold Coast are in the heart of the coconut country. Cocoa beans are also raised in quantities as well as oranges, bananas, grapefruit and pineapple. All kinds of vegetables are grown.

Mr. Eilers took some 2,500 pictures while the tour director took 800. Mr. Wuerthner drove to Edwardsville, Illinois, several weeks ago and selected a goodly number which he is showing on the screen to various church groups, chambers of commerce and fraternal organizations.

He is sold on being his brother's keeper and says it is up to those of us who are willing to help others that they may keep themselves. One of the churches in Peki which was started some 25 years ago is now being completed. Another one has the foundation laid but its completion is uncertain. It's the earnest hope of Mr. Wuerthner that this good work in Africa by the aid of missionaries may be continued.

WASHTENAW COUNTY TAKES SURVEY

The Washtenaw County Road Commission has been conducting a survey to determine the number of vehicles using our road system. During the past year, 228 traffic counts have been taken throughout the county.

These figures have been used to help plan the road construction program. The information is also being used at the present time in an analysis of motor vehicle accidents within the county.

Traffic on county roads varies from 12,833 on Packard Road in a 24-hour period to about 30 cars per day in the Sharon Hollow area of Sharon Township.

Below is a sample of counts taken around the Manchester area, as well as a sampling of various primary roads throughout the county.

Altar Society News

St. Mary's Altar Society met for their November meeting at the home of Mrs. Lehman Wahl with twenty-five present. Mrs. William Uhr gave the report of the sick committee.
Those who will serve on the sick committee for next month are Mrs. Erwin Paul and Mrs. Maynard Kidd, Sr.
The society voted to make a generous contribution to the new church pews which will be installed soon at St. Mary's church. The evening following the meeting was devoted to the making of cancer pads.

A Christmas party is planned for the children of the Catechism classes by Mrs. Jules Van deGinste, Mrs. Ted Roberts, Mrs. Lawrence Scheid, Mrs. Clifford Dettling and Anne Bauer. On the December committee will be Mrs. O. M. Way, Mrs. Paul Wilde, Mrs. Duffield Ball and Mrs. Albee Benedict. Anne Bauer will read the Bible next month.

Ethics Owed

To Churches, Randall Says

The whole fabric of business ethics and the standards of honor which make commercial transactions possible are the direct product of church tradition, according to Clarence B. Randall, chairman of the board of Inland Steel Co., Chicago.

"Our tradition of organized religion, voluntarily pursued, molded our way of life in all of its major developments," Mr. Randall emphasizes in discussing the impact of the Judeo-Christian religion in his new book, "Freedom's Faith."

Training in morality is the function of the church in cooperation with the home, Mr. Randall declares. Moral education, he says, can be learned and then perfected by practice.

"The young man coming into business who has had such moral education, through religious instruction and worship soon reveals it in many ways," he points out. "First, he recognizes a moral problem when he sees one. Secondly, your young aspirant knows what to do about a problem. And finally, he has the courage to do the right."

State President Addresses County P. T. A.

Mrs. Carl Heilbronn, president of the Washtenaw County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, and Mrs. Joseph Hargrave, secretary, were guests at a luncheon honoring Mrs. Harry B. King, president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, at the Michigan State Normal College in Ypsilanti on Monday.

Immediately following the luncheon, Dr. Eugene Elliott, president of the College, and Carl Anderson, director of Field Services, escorted the ladies on a tour of the campus which ended at the Chas. McKenny Hall where a reception was held for Mrs. King, at which Mrs. Heilbronn assisted in receiving the area P. T. A. officers.

At 4:00 p. m. Mrs. Arthur Taylor joined the group and attended the Student Teacher Assembly. Here Mrs. King was introduced by President Elliott and gave an address in which she stressed the importance of the parent in the teaching profession.
In the evening Mrs. King spoke to the parents of the Roosevelt School followed by a panel discussion.

So David waxed greater and greater, for the Lord of hosts was with him. (I Chronicles 11, 9.)

We select and elect certain of our countrymen to govern us, principally because of what they promise. But all too often they betray our trust by becoming arrogant in high places, forgetting that there is no true greatness except the Lord be with them.

Could Be U R?

If you've been missing going to church on Sunday, maybe there's a message for you in a sign posted in front of a church in Michigan. The sign reads:
"This is a ch—ch. What is missing?"

Thankfulness

Always it seems to me odd, (Also it seems to me sad)—
People so seldom say 'God' Publicly save when they're mad.
Or, in a panic, afraid,
Muttering under their breath,
They will call God to their aid,
Facing a danger or death.
Why not say 'God' when you're glad?

Say His name joyously, loud,
Thank Him for happiness had,
Even if you're in a crowd.
—Carl C. Helm.

TV Football 'Game of The Week'

The nation's football fans will receive a Thanksgiving Special in its TV Football presentation this week. Televised games will be the Brigham Young game on Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, and the traditional Army-Navy game on Saturday, Nov. 28.

Both games will be televised over the 90-station, national NBC television network with Mel Allen doing the play-by-play.

The Utah-Brigham Young contest, a Skyline Eight conference game, will be telecast directly from Ute Stadium in Salt Lake City starting at 2:45 p. m. (EST) Thanksgiving Day.

On Saturday, millions of television viewers over the nation will look in on a renewal of one of the country's oldest and most colorful football rivalries when the Cadets and Midshipmen clash at Municipal Stadium in Philadelphia.

The telecast of the Army-Navy game will start at 1:15 (EST) on Saturday. The game will start at 1:30 p. m.

In addition to the Army-Navy game telecast, there will be a radio broadcast of the annual service team classic over the 200-station NBC radio network. The radio broadcast will start at 1:15 p. m. (EST).

The two games scheduled for national television this week will be the 11th and 12th on the 1953 Game of the Week TV schedule. The 13th and last game of the NCAA-approved series will be telecast on December 5th from South Bend, Indiana, when Notre Dame plays host to the Mustangs of Southern Methodist University to end the 1953 collegiate football season.

More Jobs Open

For Older Workers

Industry is making real progress in opening up more job opportunities for older workers, knowing that those over 45 years of age have a know-how and experience that can make them valued employees. Since 1942, nearly 4,500,000 older workers have been added to payrolls; today about 36 out of every 100 men and women working in factories are over 45. Nine years ago, less than 32 out of 100.

Red Rule Cures 2 'Commie' Fans

The Italian Communist party is short two once enthusiastic members.

Domenico Faticati and Pietro Merlino were such enthusiasts that three years ago they decided to go to Russia and enjoy the full benefits of Stalinism. They got as far as Hungary, where Communists threw them into a concentration camp, then into a forced labor camp.

The Red bosses ignored the Italians' praise of Stalin and Communism in general. Recently the Italian Consulate got them free and sent them home. Their first act was to resign from Italy's Communist party.

Words to Remember:

Quite aside from the tyranny involved, no government—Communist, Socialist or any other kind—is a source of wealth. Everything produced is produced by the people. Everything a government says it will give the people, it must first take from the people. This is as true in our own America as in Russia or any place else.
—Henry J. Taylor.

Dairymen to Get Breeding Calendar

The new 1954 Dairy Breeding Calendar is being furnished to 35,000 dairy farmers who are members of the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative.

Extension Dairymen A. C. Baltzer of Michigan State College, who is manager of the MABC, says calendars are being distributed to local inseminators who will turn them over to dairymen.

The calendar contains a timing chart to help dairymen get good cattle breeding results in their herds. The sheet will be distributed in 68 Michigan counties where the 140 artificial breeding associations are located. Copies are also being sent to all county agricultural agents, 4-H Club agents and vocational and veterans agricultural instructors.

Detroit 4-H Show Competition Stiff

Michigan 4-H Club members will exhibit at least 117 hogs, 395 steers and 180 lambs at the 24th annual Junior Livestock Show at Detroit, Dec. 8 through 11.

That's the latest count by Michigan State College's 4-H Club leaders. The steers, sheep and hogs will arrive Dec. 8 at the coliseum and dairy barn of the state fairgrounds.

The 4-H Club members will compete for several scholarships and special trophies with their exhibits this year. The scholarships, one of them for $500, will be announced at a banquet the second night of the show.
M. S. C. animal husbandry specialists and 4-H Club leaders will supervise show activities.

Farm Outlook Sees Little Change In '54

Prices of products the farmer has to sell will be no higher in 1954, and they may be slightly lower. Prices of things the farmer has to buy will be about the same on the average—some up and some down.

That's the way the farming situation looks to Michigan State College agricultural economists. And they add this:

Prices of land will be steady or lower.
There will be wheat acreage allotments and marketing quotas. For corn there will be acreage allotments only.

Credit will be tighter, but it will be available where needed.
To help maintain income, the economists have this advice for farmers:

Look for ways to expand operations—rent more land, use capital in places that will yield the largest returns; postpone large investments for family living until the farm plant is built up.

Cut down on capital needs by joint ownership of machines or by purchasing good used machinery, exchanging labor, doing as much farm construction as possible with family labor, and custom hiring.
Protect the family through insurance.

WIN NATIONAL POULTRY AWARD

SPECIAL — FORREST, ILLINOIS — A. P. Loomis, Honegger's Vice-President in charge of poultry breeding is shown (right) above receiving the 1953 Poultry Tribune Trophy from J. H. Florea, Editorial Director of Poultry Tribune. This trophy was awarded for achieving the highest average production per bird of any breeder (who had 5 or more pens entered) in all official U. S. egg laying contests held this year. Also shown are trophies awarded the Honegger Leghorn for winning first place in the California Net Earnings test and also first place in their point system test. In the California Net Earnings test, Honegger Leghorns made an egg profit above feed costs of $7.90 per bird which was $2.31 more than the average of the other birds in the test. In the Random Sample test on the same location, Honeggers made an income of $6.35 per chick started above feed costs.

burdensome, consolidate and convert to a long term loan, and pay particular attention to management tips.
The key to profits will not be in favorable prices for farmers, say the economists, but in good, efficient management.

A $60,000 Car

The automobile people figure it would take at least $60,000 to make one of today's automobiles with the tools and methods used in 1910. Thanks to our modern industrial machinery, our mass production techniques and all-around productivity, the price of cars has been cut 30 times.

Egg Prices Fall, Good Time To Cull

Eggs are sliding from a period of high prices to one of low prices. That means poultrymen should use every means at their disposal to cut production costs.

That's a reminder from J. M. (Mac) Moore, extension poultry specialist at Michigan State College. He says that good weather has kept production high and that prices have fallen earlier than expected.

As one of the major ways to cut costs, he recommends a better job of culling. The next two months, he adds, is the best time to cull out unproductive pullets and fat hens.

Preference

I'm mighty glad I didn't live When Knighthood was in flower; I much prefer our modern clothes (And modern pay per hour.)

To pity distress is but human; to relieve it is Godlike. —Horace.

Double A	8 1/2	24 1/2	8 1/2

Things were pretty quiet in the Manchester Bowling League as deer hunting cut down the teams to only six that took part in the league activity. Mary's Tavern bowled against Klager's Hatcheries and continued their winning streak by taking 3 points. This enabled the Tavern team to go into undisputed leadership as A. B. C. Service, the team they were tied with, was idle.

K. & W. Farm Supply remained hot on the heels of Mary's Tavern as they sunk Double A Products for 3 points. The Farm Suppliers moved into second place in the league shoving the A. B. C. Service team into third place.

Kappler's Contractors moved in to fourth place by grabbing three points from Mann's in three close games.

There wasn't much good bowling done as only three 500 series marks were posted; Speck-Kappler (Kappler's Contractors) 563 series, Rolie Grossman (Mann's) 509 series, and Fritz Wuerthner (Mary's Tavern) 505 series.

U. S. Economy to Remain High, MSC Group Told

Although the business boom is ending, the American economy will continue at a high level, and a sharp and disastrous decline is out of the question.

That is the opinion of Raymond Rodgers, professor of banking in the Graduate School of Business Administration, New York University. Prof. Rodgers spoke to members of the Michigan Bankers Association in a session at Michigan State College.

He said that most statistical indicators have been showing a downward trend since the early part of the year. This, he said, has occurred in spite of record-breaking sales, high levels of manufacturing activity, high rates of steel production, growing earnings reports, and large dividend payments.

As indications that the boom is ending, he pointed out that inventories are growing larger; farm prices are 12 to 14 per cent lower than last year; industrial activity is declining, and unemployment is increasing slightly in some areas.

The American economy is inherently sound and will cushion the change, he said. "Banking in particular, is in good condition, especially when supported by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation; and the increased security of the people through pensions and welfare funds, old-age and survivors insurance, and unemployment insurance are favorable factors."

He also cited the increase in home ownership as an element of strength.

"The main reason why our economy will not go into a tailspin," he added, "is the dynamic character of the American economy."

By this he meant America's rising standard of living, the rapidly increasing population, the desire for new productive equipment, new and improved products brought about by research, and the free nature of the economy.

He said he believed that military expenditures will continue large, especially with the official warnings of an atomic threat. The business pattern, he concluded, will be marked by competition, increased efficiency, strengthening of sales forces, and smaller profit margins.

"The readjustment, at best," he said, "will be of the order of 1948-49; at the worst, 1938; but in no event will it approach 1932."

Size of Antlers Influenced By Deer's Food

Looking for a large rack of deer antlers to hang over your fireplace?

Hunters seeking such a prize had best stay clear of the "old bucks," according to a University of Michigan professor.

Prof. Warren W. Chase, chairman of the U-M wildlife management department, points out that bucks boast the largest antlers between the ages of three and six years. After that age, he says, the antlers become smaller due to lack of vigor, which prevents development.

The young deer will have small antlers, usually spikes, at about one and a half years, the professor continues. Nutrition plays a large role in antler development, and the larger deer can reach food unavailable to the young buck fawns.

Professor Chase explains that "hunters who want large racks of antlers are most likely to get them in areas of rich land with plenty of food, where the buck law has not been in effect continuously."

The buck law has been in effect in most areas of Michigan since 1921, and hunters have been allowed to take one male deer with antlers at least three inches long. Speaking of deer longevity, Professor Chase states that deer can live "quite long," but seldom are given the opportunity. He points out that wild deer are seldom more than seven or eight years old, and if they are being hunted heavily, the average is usually two to three years.

Dr. Chase explains that there usually is a high proportion of young in the hunters' take, especially since the yearly deer population is approximately one-third young and since, under the buck law, only the younger bucks are left.

This take in 1952 was 162,630 deer for 417,560 gun hunters and 1,840 deer for 28,530 archers, according to figures released by the Michigan Department of Conservation.

Among deer kept in captivity, Professor Chase explains, the average age is 15 years. He points out that one Michigan doe, recorded as being 17 years old, gave birth to a fawn.

A vacationist is a person who thinks people back home care how many blankets he is sleeping under.—Journal, De-Pere, Wis.

A political argument is like kissing a woman; you don't have to be so good at it to enjoy it.—Grit, Williamsport, Pa.

WINNER, NINTH NATIONAL TRAFFIC SAFETY POSTER CONTEST

November's longer nights and uncertain weather conditions combine to make city streets and country roads hazardous paths for children. Drivers will have less difficult time spotting pedestrians when the youngsters wear some conspicuous article of white clothing when out after dark. Automobile Club of Michigan urges parents to see that their children are wearing white when out late. To further remind the kids, Automobile Club has distributed 10,500 full-size copies of this poster to schools all over Michigan.

'Cloth of Gold' Made Cheaply

Two American companies are now making yarn for a 'cloth of gold' more practical than the luxury fabric called by that name in the 16th century.

The modern yarn is not gold, but aluminum coated with plastic which has the color inside. True gold thread was made by winding a fine strand of gold around copper wire.

Manufacturers say the modern product doesn't tarnish, can be washed or drycleaned, and costs only $3 to $5 a pound compared with $60 a pound for gold.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

The Missus Keeps Posted

Ever since our electricity was cut off last year on account of me forgetting to mail in the payment, the Missus has been sort of leery about giving me letters to mail.

At first she'd ask if I mailed them, then double-check my coat pocket at night. She stopped that, and I figured she was convinced I'd learned my lesson.

Then yesterday, I got a postcard at the office in a familiar handwriting. I turned it over and by golly it was from the Missus herself! It read: "Thanks, Joe, for mailing my letters." Well!

Looks like she figured I still needed some checking-up and slipped that postcard in the last batch of letters.

From where I sit, an occasional check-up is a good thing. Check-ups on just how tolerant we are of other people's preferences and tastes, for example. I like a glass of beer with supper, you may prefer cider—but if I ever try to switch you to my choice, simply "address" me with a reminder of your rights.

Grand Remodeling
Sale At Saline's
Gamble Store
The Gamble's store, located at 104-106 E. Michigan Ave., Saline, is holding a grand remodeling sale
Friday and Saturday, Nov. 27 and 28.

The store has just been expanded to take in the building formerly occupied by Saline's restaurant.
This expansion adds 1500 square feet of sales area and 1500 square feet of storage space to the original store.

According to store manager Bob Harrison, the recent expansion is designed to fill out lines of merchandise already carried. The store handles Coronado Appliances, Artisan tools and garden supplies, Crest tires and tubes, Hiawatha sporting goods, Varcon and supplies, Lady Helen houseware, Home Guard paint and supplies, and Haddon Hall furniture. Gamble's store also features a complete basement toyland.

The remodeling sale will feature many outstanding bargains in all types of merchandise, and the basement toyland will be open. Refreshments will be served, and gifts and special prizes will be offered.

Gamble's has been completely remodeled, with new fixtures and color styling. Harold Socks was the contractor on the job.

The Gamble's store was first opened in Saline in the spring of 1949. Bob Harrison became manager of the store in Oct. 1952, after working four years for Aero Radio in Ann Arbor. In the summer of 1952, the basement was developed into a sales area and is now used exclusively as a toyland. The present remodeling was started in September, with the wall being removed from the present store and the building at 104
E. Michigan.

The store also maintains two warehouses in Saline. One is located on N. Ann Arbor St., just beyond the city limits, and the other is at the rear of 98 Maple St.

Gamble's will be open Friday and Saturday from 9 to 9. The management invites you to come in, and to let them help you with your shopping problems.

Mrs. Dorothy Donner, Detroit Edison's Home Economist, will be present to answer your questions on electric cooking, washing, drying, and proper use of home freezers. She will also bake cookies for you are invited to sample.

Quotable Quotes
A leader is never able to realize that a busy man has anything to do.

When people make fools of themselves, their second mistake is the belief that no one is noticeing it.

What a woman doesn't know about a neighbor is just what she wants to find out.

An open confession may be good for the soul but it's apt to disfigure the reputation.

Love levels all things, when love is on the level.

If there is any time a woman longs to be beautiful, it is when she knows she will meet some of her husband's previous girlfriends.

"Most people stay poor not because they don't make enough, but because they spend too much."

Short sighted people are naturally close observers.

When fortune begins to smile on some men, they think it is up to them to sit down and bask in the smile.

It isn't always the most attractive woman who attracts the most attention.

A boy isn't necessarily good for nothing because his parents refuse to pay him for being good.

A conceited man is one who wants to talk about himself when you want to talk about yours.

He is a successful business man who can make more money than his wife can spend.

A small boy who doesn't get into a scrap once in a while has made a mistake in not being born a girl.

Most of us are good because we dare not be bad.

Some people don't care for small talk; but it's often a relief after listening to a lot of big talk.

Farm Leaders
Say Post War
Readjustment Is Here
More than 1000 farm men and women representing the Michigan Farm Bureau membership of 60,000 farmers heard Allen Kline,
President of the American Farm Bureau Federation and John Hannah, President of the Michigan State College, say the post war adjustment is here and the going may not be so good for awhile.
They spoke at the 24th annual meeting of the Farm Bureau on Nov. 12 at Michigan State College.
Shown in the picture is Mr.
Kline saying that farmers face the unpleasant prospect of lower income as a result of anti-inflation measures and readjustment of the federal government's price support program. Both Mr. Kline and Mr. Hannah said these steps are necessary to strengthen American economy for the long-haul struggle against Communist Russia's design for world domination.

Clark L. Brody, executive vice president of the Michigan Farm Bureau said farmers can trace their troubles to themselves and the vote-buying politicians.

"Getting away from Uncle Sam while the getting is good has come to dominate the aims of millions of voters in all walks of life," he said. "The habit of depending on Government to bail them out of their troubles has become so fixed that they place votes on the mission block to go to the candidate promising the most favors. It seems evident that the present and future prosperity and freedom of the American farmer and an adequate supply of food and fiber for a rapidly increasing population will require the judicious national economy and the long-haul struggle against Communist Russia's design for world domination."

YOUR HIGHWAYS
by JAY SCOTT
(No. 11 of a series)

Modern life, as we know it in this country, would be almost unthinkable if it were not for the automobile and the motor transportation system. There is no home, no farm, no factory, no business, no hospital that can be reached without some degree of motor transportation.

It is, therefore, not surprising that the motor vehicle has become the most important factor in the development of our civilization. It is the backbone of our modern life.

It is the backbone of our modern life.
