

WINTER SPORTS BOOM

It's a healthy sign: more people than ever before are finding fun in Michigan Outdoors during the winter months. Throughout the State skating, tobogganing, skiing and ice fishing are winning new followers every week-end. Many a Chamber of Commerce has aroused the citizenry to realization of potential new tourist and vacationist business in areas where this type of enterprise was generally put in moth balls during the winter.

West Side Attractions

All the way from Kalamazoo in the south to Petokey in the north, the west side of the state is calling to winter sports enthusiasts, offering 12 specially prepared areas for every winter sport. The Boyne City sector boasts of two—Avalanche within the city limits itself, and the magnificent Boyne Mountain ski resort just 6 miles east. Visitors to Boyne Mountain marvel at the 1800-foot main slope served by a double chair lift for the skiers.

For variety skiers head for Cadillac, near Cadillac, with 17 ski runs covering a 645-acre development. Ski jumpers find their thrills at Briar Hill near Mesick where a new lower peninsula record was set recently, topping the 150 mark. Elberta Mountain near Frankfort is another ski jumper's mecca.

Closer to the populous southern cities, Ionia with a 2800-foot toboggan slide, and Echo Valley 8 miles east of Kalamazoo with 4 long toboggan runs attract thousands of "snow bunnies."

East Side Offerings

If you live closer to Michigan's "east side," try the picturesque attractions at Silver Valley near Tawas. In January and February this area is at its prettiest, and big week-end crowds thrill to the mile-a-minute toboggan rides and good skiing in the precipitous terrain. Tawas also boasts of "Perchville," the little city on ice on Tawas Bay, where ice fishermen throng every winter.

Houghton Lake's "Tip-Up-Town," and Lake Charlevoix's "Smeltania" are similar attractions. East side skiers congregate in the area between Gaylord and Grayling where well-organized schools teach the elements of controlled skiing.

Upper Peninsula Calls

And in the land of Hiawatha atop on Straits the new Porcupine Mountain winter sports park near Ontonagon is rapidly becoming a popular playground for Michiganders and trainloads of visitors from Chicago and Milwaukee. In February Ishpeming and Iron Mountain present the year's top wintertime spectacles with ski jumping tournaments in the land where the nation's best ski riders are born. With a bridge across the straits to speed the flow of traffic, these events may one day pull more than 50,000 spectators—many of whom will say Michigan Outdoors is at its best in the winter time!

Mort Neff's "Michigan Outdoors" television show may be seen every Thursday at 7:00 p.m. on stations WWJ-TV, Detroit and WJIM-TV, Lansing.

Speech Correctionist Conducts PTA Program

The regular meeting of the PTA opened with the Girls' Glee Club singing three selections. Jane Trumbull, speech correctionist had charge of the program. In her talk she said that a child is considered to have a speech defect when his speech hinders him from communicating with others. Some of the causes include malformation of teeth, severe illness, lack of proper hearing and sometimes physical such as hare-lip or cleft palate.

Another cause of stuttering is too much pressure put on the child at home or at school according to Miss Trumbull. She explained that the speech program is a three way program, including the parent, teacher and speech teachers each assuming one third of the responsibility. The speech teacher alone cannot hope to do the job.

She suggested that the parent can help the child by reading and talking a lot to the child and encouraging the child to talk a lot. She proposed that parents look at magazine pictures with the child and discuss them.

Two don'ts according to the speech correctionist include never to make fun of or mimic the child and try to correct him. Patience she said cannot be over emphasized.

Miss Trumbull has three schools in which she teaches in this area, Manchester Chelsea and Saline. There are about 125 children who receive her help and guidance.

The state pays part of her salary and demands that she meet with the children at least twice a week for one half hour periods. The speech correctionist proceeded to conduct a class of four boys, to bring out the various points she had told about earlier.

The business meeting followed the program and the treasurer reported $473 on hand. The group voted to donate $25 to the Cub Scouts. Despite the icy roads $83.54 was realized at the dance and box social held last Saturday. Mrs. Kenneth Kouba thanked her committee.

Willard Mann, Mrs. Rolland Grossman and Mrs. Roscoe Lannom, who assisted her on the Ways and Means Committee.

Also thanks was expressed to PTA President James Pratt and Mrs. Larry Soldan, who had charge of the ticket sales. Mrs. Jean Wheeler and Mrs. F. M. Reck handled the publicity and Mrs. Birdella Flood and Rufus Gillam were in charge of publicity. Also assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Earl Koebbe, Mrs. James Pratt and Mrs. Marvin Oates. Pat Roesch acted as auctioneer.

The PTA voted to contribute half or not more than $250 toward the lighting of the outside of the school building with the school board paying the balance and also voted to buy the television aerial that was placed on the school so that the children could see the inauguration ceremonies. The cost was $60.

Miss Ethel Brown's room won the book for having the largest percent of parents present.

Matteson School PTA

The Matteson School PTA held their chop-suey supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Kuhl on Friday evening, January 16. Mrs. Ralph Noggle assisted the hostess.

At the business meeting the question of consolidation was discussed and also the purchasing of more playground equipment. Bingo and euchre were the diversions of the evening.

Craft School News

Double A Products	29
Koebbe's Welders	29

There were some hot bowling matches this week in the Manchester Businessmen's League. The first and top one was between ABC Service and Mary's Tavern. The games were all very close and ABC Service got total pins by only five pins which gave them three out of four points. There was some heavy bowling done by the Service men, Bob Clark's 587, Elwin Benedict 571 and Dewey Hartbeck 513 series and on the Tavern team, Fritz Wurster had the night's top series 589 and Russell Wolff's 501 series helped along.

The Koebbe Welders and Mann's match was hotly contested as always when these two teams get together. Koebbe's outgunned Mann's for three points although things were very close all the way. Elwood Pniowski had a 540 series and Rollie Grossman 513 for Manns but it wasn't enough to keep up with the Welders even though they didn't have a 500 series (Johnnie Pippinger was high with 490) the fellows were in there pitching.

Kappler's Contractors and Walt Schaub's tangled which is the sign of some good bowling when these two teams meet, but the Contractors had a good night and took four points. For the Contractors, Speck Kappler had 565, Larry Dann 514 and Dick Pink 508 to lead all the way, while the Clothiers just couldn't get started this time.

Don's Dairy Bar took Carl M. Schable, Inc. to the cleaners by taking all four points although Duane Roller for Schable's had a 504 series.

Double A Products surprised K & W Farm Supply by taking three out of four points. Bob Diefenderfer had his biggest night of the season for Double A with a 519 series.

Short's Electric Service kept up their winning ways by taking on Klager's Hatcheries and going home with three points. Dornie Lamb with 501 and Ralph Wurster with 540 for Shorts were the top men in this match. Russell Hosmer for Shorts had a 217 game to help his team along.

In a postponed game from in deep hunting season, Walt Schable's met and took four points from Don's Dairy Bar. In this match Dick Wolff got hot and bowled a 602 series (170-207-225) games) which is fourth highest series for the season. Homer Kappler had a 517 series for Schable's.

Handy Jim's FIX-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

Two-Sided Easel for Child
AS A HOME entertainer and educational tool for young children, an easel is without parallel. The one illustrated is especially useful because it can be used simultaneously by two children. One side is for drawing on sheets of newsprint; the other is a chalkboard.

A panel of Masonite 3/16" tempered hardboard forms the backing for both the paper and the chalkboard. Sheets of newsprint are held in place with clips. Use two coats of unpigmented sealer in preparing the other, sanding the first down thoroughly and the second lightly. Apply a thick coat of slate surface, obtainable at paint stores, rubbing it down with a clean cloth when dry.

Legs are formed of 1 by 2-inch lumber. A center strip behind each hard-board panel gives it support. The troughs for colored crayons and bottoms of tempered hardboard. A strip of lattice-lumber at either end of the easel holds it steady when in use. Hinges at the top permit ready folding and storage.

The overall height is 49", the height of the hardboard panels is 27" and their width is 30". Length of the legs can be varied to suit the ages of the children who will use it. The top of each trough is 4" wide and the depth is 3/4".

New Farm Bureau Group Organized

A new Farm Bureau group has been organized in Sharon to be known as the Sharon Tower Farm Bureau group. The organizational meeting took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Alber with Mr. Ira Pfeifle and his sister, Miss Ada Pfeifle present to help organize the group.

Mr. Pfeifle acted as temporary chairman until the following officers were elected: discussion leader, Reno Feldkamp; minute man, Walter Haab; chairman, Jack Pfeifle; vice-chairman, Ellis Pratt, and secretary, Mrs. Ellis Pratt.
Mrs. Allan Alber was named committeewoman with Mrs. Raymond Jacob, Jr., the alternate. Mrs.
Walter Haab will hold the office of publicity chairman.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. and Mrs.
Elmer Below with Mr. and Mrs.
Raymond Alber assisting. Following the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

Ladies Aid and WSCS Hold Joint Meeting

The Rowes Corners Ladies Aid and WSCS met in the church basement with 20 members present.
Mrs. Fred Kennedy had charge of the devotionals. The topic was on Africa. Mrs. Henry Steinaway reported of having sent 20 boxes to shut-ins.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

STRIKE! Or at least that's what she's aiming for. And if you aim your camera at a subject like this, you're sure to make a hit with the resulting snapshot.

Winter Sports—Indoors and Out

THE mention of "winter sports" usually inspires us to mental images of graceful skiers flying down snow-crowned slopes, of ice skaters in gay costume gliding through a succession of turns and twirls... of toboggans loaded with laughing people.

But when it comes both to sport and picture taking, let's not forget the indoor variety that are truly a part of the winter sports schedule. Basketball and ice hockey draw spectators by the thousands, and the thrill-packed action that packs in the crowds offers exciting picture possibilities for the fan who carries a camera.

On the less strenuous but more personal side, let's not overlook bowling. Here with a camera that's equipped for synchronized flash, you can take snapshots of your friends having a good time. And, as I've written many times before, there is no better time for getting outstanding natural snapshots of people than when they are having a good time. Take your camera on your next bowling night and line up some good shots of the various members of your team. But be sure it is the pictures you line up, and not the people. You want to picture them in action. Snap one as he selects the ball from the rack. Another as he sizes up the pin situation. Catch a third one as he releases the ball.

A close-up of a score sheet that has recorded some outstanding marks is a picture you can get a lot of fun out of having and showing.

Of course, you'll have to have extra prints made of these pictures, because the other members of your team will certainly want them.

Make use of your camera in sports activities whether you are a participant or spectator, whether it's outdoors or in. You'll get pictures that will add sparkle to your album.

Silver-Gray Roof Draws Eye

Silver-gray asphalt roof shingles are typical of the modern look in building materials. Light-colored roofing draws the eye upward, making a low house seem taller than it actually is.

nance and improvement says. These reasons are given:

- 1—The roof is the largest continuous area of the exterior. When you look at a home the roof is normally the first thing you see. The roof color must be right if your color concept is going to be right.
- 2—The ranch house brings the roof down closer to the eye—closer to the line of vision—and enhances the importance of the roof color.
- 3—Roof colors are lasting colors. The colors on the sidewalls and the trim may need repainting every four or five years, but re-roofing won't be necessary for many, many years. The roof color needs to be selected with the greatest care.

The magazine says roofing is available today in "many patterns and textures, and in a wide array of colors—in solid colors or in blends, in colors that are gay and cheerful, in colors that are soft and subtle, in familiar deep tones and in exciting new pastels."

Compact House L-Shaped

A rectangular house is generally less expensive to build, but an irregularly shaped dwelling is often considered more attractive. A way to resolve these conflicting desires is found in this Plan No. 208 of architect Walter T. Anicka, 617 Forest, Ann Arbor, Mich.

The main body of the house is a 24- by 38-foot rectangle, complete in itself. The garage and a screened porch, under the same roof, are connected to the house proper, giving the whole structure an L-shape.

Vertical siding is used, except on the gable ends. The up-and-down lines help to make the building seem taller. The architect recommends a fire-resistant asphalt shingle roof. If light-colored asphalt shingles are chosen from among the variety of solid and blended colors available, they also will draw the eye upward and increase apparent size.

The interior is oriented toward the rear for privacy's sake. The living room opens onto a large terrace. The screened porch would serve admirably as a children's play area in rainy weather. It is open to view from the kitchen, enabling the mother to keep her children under observation.

The house has a basement, and a stairway leads up to second floor space. First floor area of the house is 860 square feet, a figure useful in estimating building cost. (Detailed building plans are available from Walter T. Anicka, 617 Forest, Ann Arbor, Mich. Refer to Plan No. 208.)

Chocolate and Coffee Make Mocha And Mocha Calls For More!

By BETTY BARCLAY

Here's a new and different recipe sure to stimulate raids on your cookie jar—Mocha Crisps—frosted with Coffee Butter Glaze—that requires no cooking. They're so good to have around when the youngsters gather to demand a dividend with glasses of milk, yet rich enough to become a delicious dessert.

Mocha Crisps are crunchy chocolate cookies topped with creamy rich, Coffee Butter Glaze... made with Instant Maxwell House Coffee, the easy economical way to add perfect coffee flavor to desserts. Just add instant coffee by the spoonful to your dry ingredients and your flavor results will be perfect every time.

And don't forget to serve steaming hot cups of instant coffee with these cookies, or later on in the evening. One cup, two or more—it's always economical and easy to prepare. You'll like the way this pure coffee flavor has been brewed for you.

Mocha Crisps

2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or other shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg, unbeaten
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 tablespoon milk
1 cup Coffee Butter Glaze

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add vanilla and egg and mix thoroughly. Add melted chocolate and beat well. Then add flour, a small amount at a time, mixing well after each addition. Add milk and blend.

Shape dough into 2 rolls, 2 inches in diameter. Roll each tightly in waxed paper. Chill overnight. Cut in thin slices and place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 10 minutes, or until done. Cool. Spread cookies with Coffee Butter Glaze, using about 1/4 teaspoon glaze for each cookie. Allow to harden before storing. Makes about 5 dozen cookies.

Note: If desired, cookie dough may be chilled for 2 hours and then rolled thin on lightly floured board, cut with floured 2 1/4 inch cookie cutter, and baked as above.

Coffee Butter Glaze. Place 2 1/2 cups confectioners' sugar, dash of salt, 4 teaspoons Instant Maxwell House Coffee, 5 tablespoons hot water, and 2 tablespoons melted butter in bowl. Blend well. Makes 1 cup.

Look Under Surface to See Real Worth of Old Dwelling

Old houses are like sloppily wrapped packages. What shows on the outside isn't any clue to what's underneath.

The fact is that many old houses are in considerably better shape than they seem to be. They're more worn out on the surface than underneath, and if new roofing, siding, and interior finish are put on an old framework a smart-looking, comfortable home is often the result.

The discerning house-hunter shouldn't be discouraged by poor exterior appearance. He should pry off a section of old siding to examine sheathing and studs, and he should closely inspect the roof deck and rafters, joists, sills, the foundation, and other structural parts.

If the structure, or most of it, is sound, chances are good that the house could be rebuilt at considerably less than the cost of a comparable new dwelling.

In remodeling the house pictured above in "before" and "after" versions, the first step was to patch the foundation and put in new sills. Then the roof was reconditioned with hexagonally shaped asphalt shingles. Contributing basic weathering ability, fire-resistance, and a choice of solid and blended colors, new asphalt roofing usually can be applied directly on top of the worn-out material.

To complete the major work on the exterior, the old broken siding boards were covered with new white siding shingles.

Interior improvements began with new flooring. The remnants of old plaster were removed and insulating board was laid over the plaster-lath. New wiring, and plumbing and a new heating system were installed.

How to Even Up Chair Legs

WHEN a chair is out of level, one method of evening the legs is to trim the legs which are too long. A simple method of performing this tricky operation is described in Family Handyman.

Form a tube of paper, fastening it together with paste. Now slip it over one leg, cutting off the tube at the exact tip of the leg-as the other end rests on the rung.

To assure getting each leg the identical length, slip the tube over each other one in turn, marking them to the same length. Now adjust the length of the tube to the shortest leg and mark all others for cutting.

Leaky Roofs Cause Fires on Farms

A leaky roof can cause fire. That paradox occurs on farms, where weathertight roofing is necessary to keep hay from getting wet. Wet hay, which can ignite spontaneously, is a ranking cause of barn fires.

An economical way to apply new roofing to a barn, as well as any other pitched roof building, is to cover the old material with asphalt shingles. The fire-resistance of asphalt shingles also lessens the danger of flying sparks.

Hay stored in a barn mow should never have a moisture content of more than 25 percent. Average content of a large quantity of hay should be 20 percent or less.

CLEAN INSIDE DECANTER
To clean the inside of a cut glass decanter, fill it with a weak ammonia solution and let it stand for several days. Repeat the process with fresh ammonia if necessary.

HOW TO DO IT

Figuring Roof Pitch

Roof pitch is expressed as a fraction or as a certain number of inches of "rise" for each foot of "run." These terms and others that are relevant are defined in the sketch shown here.

If a roof rises 8 feet and has a 24-foot span, the pitch is 8/24 or 1/3. This same roof would have a rise of 8 inches for each foot of run. The pitch of the roof could be expressed in either manner.

Roof pitch should be known before roofing material is selected for a building. All styles of asphalt shingles, the most widely used material, are suited for roofs with a pitch of 1/6 (4-inch rise per foot of run) or greater. This includes virtually all pitched roof houses. For roofs only slightly pitched, properly specified asphalt roll roofing is recommended. For roofs with less than 1 inch of rise per foot of run, built-in roofing is used.
