Spring Election Is Vital To Democracy

New records were set every time voters went to the polls, compensating in some part for the lack of showing made four years previously. Now, however, another election is coming-up, and many observers are wondering how much of last fall's voting interest will carry through for it.

There is not the excitement of a presidential campaign in this election which will be climaxed at the polls on April 6, but that does not detract from the seriousness with which it affects all Michigan residents.

Six of the nine offices to be filled have to do with education on every level from the kindergarten through college. One of the other three positions concerns highways, another concerns the courts, and the last is a judicial position, vital because the courts they involve is the last word in interpreting Michigan law.

Michigan voters now have before them something really unusual in a spring election campaign—a real issue.

Chas. Taylor, Republican candidate for superintendent of public instruction, has come out and stated flatly and firmly two principles which Michigan parents have been waiting a long time to hear. He is in favor of state aid to the schools, emphasizing "fundamentals"—reading, writing and arithmetic—in our schools, and he doesn't believe the state should force local school districts to consolidate.

The Democratic party whose candidate is Mack Monroe is on exactly the opposite side of the fence, for while Taylor was making his statement, the Democratic party announced that it stands for encouragement of school district consolidation, and that the State Department of Public Instruction should never push consolidation or other programs. He also made this statement, to which many of us will say, "Amen":

"It is necessary for the schools to keep up with the times, but we must not overlook the essentials—reading, writing, arithmetic and the other subjects that people use for a lifetime. A thorough grounding in those fundamental subjects is essential."

Supreme Court, Your Protector Without fanfare and without public acclamation, the Supreme Court of Michigan goes about its work quietly and persistently. It is more than just another court. It is the tribunal of last resort in all but the very few cases that go into the Federal courts.

The honesty and integrity and the diligence with which the jus-not political policy or social reform. For this reason it is important for voters to acquaint themselves with the duties of every voter. It is the duty of every voter to seek this important office. Two Justices of the Supreme Court will be elected at the April 6 election. Their names will appear on a separate non-partisan ballot. Under Michigan law, candidates for the Supreme Court are nominated by the political conventions of both parties. These names are placed on a "non-partisan" ballot—separate from the regular ballot.

The candidates named by the two parties for Justices of the Supreme Court are Clark J. Adams, of Pontiac, now on the Supreme Court by appointment and running for re-election and Talbot Smith, of Ann Arbor, a well-known attorney. They are the candidates nominated by the Democratic party.

The Republican party nominated the present Chief Justice, John R. Dehmers and Harry F. Kelly, former governor of Michigan, with an outstanding record of public service and accomplishment for the people. It is the duty of every voter to acquaint himself with not only the names but the records of these candidates.

1953 Resolutions

No. 1. Bonding of Markets and Livestock Buyers.

Since the growth of decentralized livestock markets throughout the state, certain steps have been taken to insure the payment of checks to farmers for livestock given by livestock auctions by a law requiring the bonding of each auction to protect the consignors of livestock; it has also come to the attention of farmer consignors that no provision has been made for the assurance that buyers at the auctions giving checks for the payment of livestock are covered by bond to insure payment; it is very evident that with the high value of livestock it is possible that when buyers do not have sufficient funds to cover their purchases, the consignors will become the losers.

We therefore favor the bonding of livestock buyers in amounts sufficient to cover their purchases and further that the maximum bond on livestock auctions be increased to more realistically cover the value of the livestock sold at auctions.

the value of the livestock sold at auctions.

The bond shall contain a provision that any person damaged by failure of the principal to comply with the condition clauses of the bond may maintain suit to recover on the bond even though such person is not a party named in the bond.

No. 2. Testing Cattle at Auctions
The livestock industry represents the largest single agricultural enterprise in the state of Michigan and returns, together with the livestock products, more than $300,000,000 annually to Michigan farmers. The control of diseases, particularly Bang's disease, is of utmost importance to Michigan farmers and the consuming public.

To expedite the sale of cattle offered for breeding and feeding purpose and to protect the cattle industry in Michigan, we actively support legislation as offered in House Bill No. 187 of the 1952 session of the Michigan legislature, permitting the Department of Agriculture to test cattle at livestock auctions and to charge a fee to the auction sale to be used by the department to cover the costs of such tests.

We understand that this bill was favorably received and passed by the House of Representatives in the 1952 legislature but did not come out of committee in the Senate for vote by senate members. We regret such action was taken by the Senate. We reiterate that House Bill No. 187 of the 1952 session of Michigan legislature is a step in the right direction in the sale of cattle and protection of the cattle industry in Michigan.

We favor the introduction and passage by the 1953 legislature of a bill equal to House Bill No. 187 of the 1952 legislature providing for the testing of cattle at auctions.

No. 3. Dipping Sheep

There has recently been developed a product known as benzene hexachloride which, when properly used, is an effective one dip treatment against sheep scab; and whereas the present law requires that sheep imported into Michigan be dipped twice at not less than ten days nor more than fourteen days apart; when supervision of the State Veterinarian which causes additional expense to the state and owner of the sheep. Now therefore be it resolved: That this organization go on record as favoring an amendment to the law which will permit the use of Benzene Hexachloride or any other one dip material for the dipping of sheep that are imported into Michigan.

No. 4. Market News Service at Auctions
For many years the livestock producers of the nation have had the benefit of government market news reporting from the large terminal markets such as Chicago, Omaha, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver and many others.

Since 1923 the percentages of different kinds of livestock sold direct from decentralized market points has doubled. More than one half of the hogs in the United States, one third of the calves, sheep and lambs and one quarter of the cattle are now sold direct.

The problem confronting the farmers is the obtaining of information on market quotations from decentralized points so that they may properly judge and compare the marketing strength at the available markets.

The increasing volume of livestock being marketed through auctions, concentration points and direct to packers in Michigan and the nation, warrants a more complete market news reporting service.

We recommend that the Michigan Live Stock Exchange co-operating with the entire marketing industry, State Department of Agriculture and United States Department of Agriculture initiate the development of a uniform livestock market reporting system for the livestock markets of Michigan.

No. 5. Versicular Exanthema
There has recently occurred in Michigan, outbreaks of Versicular Exanthema, a highly contagious and infectious disease of swine.

This has caused the State of Michigan and the Federal Government to pay several thousand dollars in indemnities and subjected swine producers to quarantines and possible loss of revenue.

With few exceptions the disease has occurred only on garbage feeding premises; now therefore be it resolved that this organization go on record as favoring House Bill No. 30 which provides for licensing all garbage feeding premises and the cooking of all garbage feed; and further that this bill be given immediate effect.

No. 6. Support of National Agriculture Program

As producers of Live Stock we wish to commend Secretary Benson in his stand against supporting Live Stock prices. We feel that a large part of the recent drop in prices is due to the fact that controls were not removed in time to allow retail prices to follow wholesale prices which would have removed a large part of the surplus.

We wish to reaffirm our belief that economic freedom is the basis of all our other freedoms. We therefore again emphasize our

Kalamazoo Stove To Operate Partially

The Kalamazoo Stove and Furnace Company is being liquidated, but its furnace business will be continued as the Kalamazoo Furnace & Appliance Manufacturing Company, a new organization.

Continued existence of what was at one time the city's largest enterprise was made known following a meeting of directors. Sale of the furnace department and a portion of the manufacturing facilities was approved.

A $2 liquidation dividend on the old stock was declared, payable March 3, to stockholders of record February 24. Operations were resumed March 1 and it is expected will be in full swing by April 1.

The new company is headed by Clyde C. Whitcomb, vice-president and general manager of the old company since 1948.

Saline Hatchery News and Notes

Dear Kids and School Teachers: How would you like to see how God creates baby chicks? If you do why don't you do as many schools and classes do, namely call at the Saline Hatchery on our regular hatch days, Monday and Thursday mornings and see thousands of chicks come out of the incubators.

If you care to have a few chicks in your school room to watch them grow and learn something about how to take care of chicks, we will be very happy to give you a few for that purpose.

Of course the natural way for chicks to hatch is under a mother hen. It takes 21 days for a hen to sit on eggs and keep them warm before they hatch. If you can get some farmer friend to loan you a broody hen that wants to be a mother and you do not want to wait the whole 21 days for the eggs to hatch right in your school room, we will gladly supply you with some eggs that have been incubated long enough so that they would hatch under the hen in just a few days.

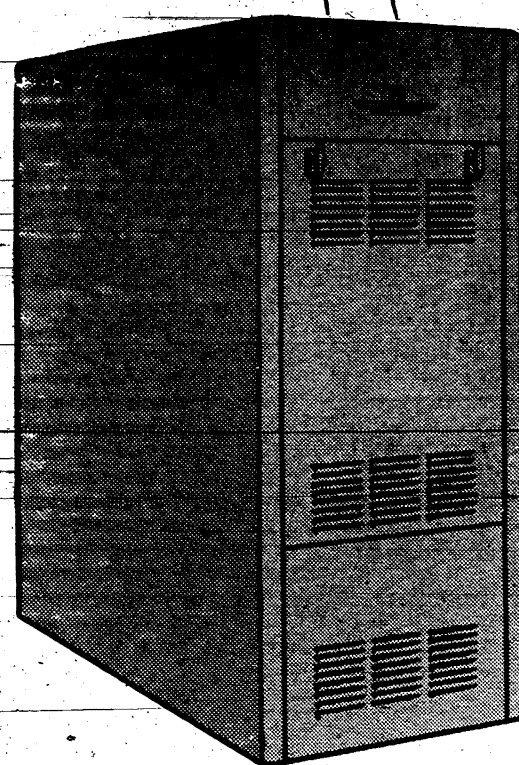

If you care to come to see us, just call us up in advance so that too many classes do not come at one time.

Very sincerely yours,
Art Hagen,
Saline Hatchery,
Telephone 52.

BOWLING NEWS

By Rolly Grossman

There was some good bowling in the Manchester Businessmen's League this week. One of the high lights was the clash between A. B. C. Service and Walt Schaible's first and second place teams respectively. When the action was over Walt Schaible's had taken three out of four points and cut A. B. C.'s lead to 10 points—which is a pretty good lead yet. Dick Wolff had a 560 series, that was high for the night and Homer Kappler had a 515 series to lead the Clouthiers, while Elwin Benedict's 544 series and Dewey Hartbeck's 517 series for the Servicemen wasn't quite enough.

Then on the other end of the League, Koebbe's and Double A Products had a battle for the cellar position. After a bitter session of some good bowling and some not quite so good, Double A had trampled the Welders for 4 points and shoved Koebbe's Welders into the basement.

Klager's Hatcheries and Mary's Tavern had a close contest with Klager's getting 3 out of 4 points, getting total pins by 12 pins. Paul Widmayer (520 series) and Ronnie Jener (517 series) lead the way for the Hatchers and Fritz Wurster had a 516 series for Mary's.

Short's Electric Service took 3 points from Mann's with Ralph Wurster having a 501 series to lead the way for Short's. Rolly Grossman had a 557 series for Mann's. K. & W. Farm Supply took on Carl Schaible's team and came home with 3 points with Jerry Bower throwing a 537 series for the Farm Suppliers. Duane Roller tried to keep Schaible's team in there with 540 series. Kappler's Contractors downed Don's Dairy Bar by taking all 4 points in their match. Larry Dann (520 series) and Ed Galloway (502 series) lead the contractors to their win.

The fellows that had a 200 game or better were: Elwin Benedict (2) games; 206 and 201 (good going, Bennie), Paul Widmayer 216; Duane Roller 221, Don Rhees 207, Richard Wolff 202, Ed Galloway 201 and Fritz Wurster 200.

Manchesterites Falter At State Tourney

The fellows who went to the State Bowling Tournament in Detroit March 14-15 had dreams of big games and good series, but it didn't go that way. Not too many of the bowlers could brag about their games, although Morgan Kern had a 639 series in the team event but the other fellows on the team couldn't help much. Dewey Hartbeck had a 585 series and Earl Bersuder a 568 series in the team event. These three bowlers, if memory serves right, had the best chance for all events.

Then came March 15, Sunday night—these fellows could not hold their paces in the single and double events. The rest of the bowlers couldn't "get going" so the five teams from Manchester will have to wait until next year to get better scores in the State Tournament. Everyone had a good time and didn't regret going except "Bud" Middlemiss, who couldn't find his bowling ball after the singles and doubles event Sunday night, but he has hopes of getting it back.

Baseball Practice Sure Sign of Spring

With spring only a few days old the Manchester baseball team candidates began working out in the gym Monday night after school.

With all but two lettermen returning the Dutchmen nine has at least a nucleus on which to build this year. The loss of Dick Kessler, veteran center fielder, now serving in the U. S. Navy and pitcher Jim Kroske will be keenly felt and hard to replace.

Kroske is going to aid the coaching staff by pitching and batting at practice, hitting to outfield and being an assistant in many phases of work.

All boys interested are requested to report to either Mr. Charles Mills or Coach Larry Soldan.
