'Garden' Will Be Central Office Name

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company has announced plans for the major change in telephone numbers here late in 1953. It will inaugurate the two-letter, five numeral numbering plan and introduce a central office name.

"Garden" will be the central office name. The change is a part of a series of changes that will take place at the same time in this area, including Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Dexter, and Whitmore Lake. The new numbering plans will conform to the standardized pattern now being adopted throughout the Bell System to help speed long distance calls.

N. J. Praken, local manager for Michigan Bell, pointed out that business telephone customers should remember the change when they order stationery or advertising that shows their telephone numbers. The change of numbers will be coordinated with the delivery of the new Manchester telephone directory next November.

All who do not have such a devotion started in their area, may assist at Holy Mass at thony Chapel at Duns Scotus College. After Mass, there will be the recitation of the Rosary and an interesting and inspiring instruction by one of the Franciscan Fathers.

Those who assist at this Holy Mass and receive Holy Communion in reparation to the Immaculate Heart of Mary may gain a Plenary Indulgence under the usual conditions; and by making the First Five Saturdays, one will aid greatly in the conversion of Russia and in the peace of the world. In return, Our Mother promises all who participate to help them at the hour of death with the graces needed for salvation.

Memorial Day

May 30th

A DAY OF MEMORY

Each springtime brings a day of memory.
A day when work is laid aside;
We turn our thoughts to those who fought for us,
Who fought for us, and bled and died.
The bands play martial music on this May day.
The children march, and flags go flying in the breeze,
We carry flowers to lay among their resting places.
We pay a silent tribute as we lay our wreaths.
We lift our voices high to sing our praises
For a land that made this dear land free;
Now we must offer world wide peace and brotherhood
As our high offering for this sweet liberty.

—Grace E. Stevens

'Water Wonderland' Selected As Slogan

"Water Wonderland" has been selected as the slogan for Michigan's automobile license plates, Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary announced today.

The slogan was chosen by a committee representing the Michigan Tourist Council, Automobile Manufacturers, Michigan Farm Bureau, Michigan State Police, Department of Public Instruction and Department of State from more than 20,000 entries submitted by Michigan citizens in a contest to select a suitable motto to advertise the state's attractions.

Cleary said the slogan will go on the 1954 license plates which will go on sale next December.

Cleary said, "Michigan has 11,037 lakes and 2,000 miles of shoreline, and the judges' selection could have been no more appropriate."

In addition to advertising our tourist attractions, the word "Wonderland" embraces our tremendous agricultural and industrial development. I know of no state that is more of a "Wonderland" than is Michigan.

The winning slogan was submitted by 61 persons who entered the contest. Each will receive a certificate from the Department of State certifying that he or she submitted the winning slogan.

All the winners are being invited to a luncheon in Lansing May 28 when a drawing will be held to determine who will receive the one-week expense-paid vacation at Mackinac Island offered as a grand prize by the Michigan Tourist Council and the Mackinac Island Grand Hotel. Hosts at the luncheon will be Frank Davis of the East Michigan Tourist Association, Chester C. Wells of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, J. Lee Barrett of the Southeastern Michigan Tourist and Publicity Association, and George E. Bishop of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.

Changing Times Present Challenge To Dairy Farmers

"Changing times and conditions present a constant challenge to dairy farmers and their industry, especially on the market front!"

This statement was made recently by Bruce F. Clothier, President, American Dairy Association of Michigan, North Branch, Michigan, as the dairy farmers of this state joined their farm neighbors across the country in the annual promotion set aside of the American Dairy Association.

"While great changes have occurred in milk production methods through the years, so have many significant changes come in marketing of dairy products," he said. "Not only is the average dairy cow a more efficient producer than she was 50 years ago, but the machine age has brought many changes in the dairy barn and other farm operations."

"The selling of dairy foods and other dairy products also has changed greatly," he said.

"More and more dairy foods are moving through the food stores. With the coming of supermarkets, which now sell 40 per cent of all foods, homemakers are making their own choices at point of sale where there are now no clerks and preselling must do the job."

"In the face of keen competition for the consumer's dollar, national advertising and merchandising plays a more important role than ever in winning friends and influencing people for dairy foods," he said. "The support of the American Dairy Association set aside is a wise investment in our future. Through this program, the dairy farmers will have the necessary voices in these national markets where the price of our products is determined."

Memorial Day Weekend Be Careful on This

Memorial Day would be truly memorable if all of our Michigan residents came back from their weekending alive. Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said in urging folks to use care and common sense in their holiday activities:

"Those who think that advice on safety applies to the other fellow, too often end up in our state health department's record vaults as Form No. B-36, a 7 1/2 x 8 1/2-inch piece of paper certifying that a person is dead and designating the cause of death," the commissioner said.

The Department's death certificates show that last year the No. 1 Memorial week end hazard was traffic, followed by drownings and home accidents.

Carelessness is the greatest single cause of accidental death, in the home, on the highway, and in the water.

The commissioner urges travelers to drive at a sensible speed, to obey all traffic laws, and to make sure their cars are in safe mechanical condition.

Lake waters are cold this time of year and swimmers are cautioned to cool off and rest before going into the water after exercise or a long, hot, trip. They are also cautioned to swim only during daylight hours and always with companion, and if possible, to swim only at guarded beaches and not in isolated gravel pits.

Other rules for water safety: don't break your neck by diving into unfamiliar waters; don't show off; leave the water when you are chilled or tired; don't overload your boat or stand up in the boat; start for shore immediately if a storm threatens. In stressing care and common sense as the key to a safe holiday, the commissioner cautioned against overexposure to the sun and overexertion. Sunburn can be serious as well as painful, so take the sun in easy doses.

As far as golfing, swimming, tennis, and other outdoor physical activity is concerned, too much of it puts a strain on unused muscles at the beginning of the season when you may still be "soft" from winter inactivity.

To those planning picnics: be on the safe side—keep your hot foods hot and cold food cold to avoid possibilities of food poisoning.

"With Memorial Day falling on Saturday this year, we should see a reduction in the accident toll," the commissioner said. "However, this is the traditional launching of the summer season, and if the weather is good, the highways are likely to be jammed and the play areas crowded."

Last year over the Memorial Day week end 19 persons were killed in traffic, 5 were drowned, 2 were victims of home accidents, and 7 met death in a variety of other accidents.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Walsh and Michael were recent guests of her mother, Mrs. Margaret Flynn, and Dr. and Mrs. Leo Timma at Milford.

Saline Hatchery

News and Notes

Dear Folks:

A very successful Hatching season for the Saline Hatchery is drawing to a close except for broiler plants. We expect to hatch rather extensively during the rest of the year to supply some good customers that we have that raise broilers all year round. If you are raising broilers during the year we would like to contact you to solicit your chick business.

Up until about four weeks ago we had been unable to accumulate very many started chicks. At that time we set the incubators rather full anticipating some good weather where farmers would get their crops in and then the late buyers get their chicks.

But we got fooled on the weather and we now have a good assortment of started chicks on hand that we would like to move as soon as possible. We are not so desperate that we are giving these fine chicks away, but we can supply you with some April and early May hatched chicks at cost to you of probably less than if you had bought them day old and raised them to their present age.

I want to tell you something about these chicks. We have never had such excellent growth and uniformity in our started chicks as we have now. Thanks to the wonderful improvement in breeding and feeding. We have been amazed at their outstanding health and vigor.

All of our Leghorns are sired by pedigreed 300 egg Gasson males and their mothers were sired by the same kind of males. Our White Rocks are sired by 250 egg and up pedigreed males and their mothers the same. Our New Hampshires are from pure Christie females mated to trapnested pedigreed males from Twitchel at Exeter, New Hampshire.

If these prospects for attractive egg prices for the rest of the year and the fact that there are a lot less chicks on farms this year prompts you to consider a batch of these chicks, call us or come to see them. They are moving very well right now but we are interested in moving them as rapidly as possible to eliminate the nuisance in taking care of them. These attractive prices will only last until those two objectives have been accomplished.

And remember that every dollar spent at Saline Hatchery counts for votes in our big Kidie Popularity Contest in which there is almost $300.00 worth of Lionel Trains that will be given away July 1. If you are not interested in our chicks, come to see our trains and ask us to give you a chance to help play with them.

Very truly yours,
ART HAGEN,
Saline Hatchery.

MICHIGAN TROUT FISHING IMPROVES

Try to tell an "old-timer" in Michigan that trout fishing is better today than it was 20 years ago, and he'll probably tell you to stop kidding. He was fishing Michigan streams twenty years ago. Limit catches came fast day after day, any day in the season. "Today," he'll tearfully tell you, "I'm lucky if I get my ten trout limit one day out of every five I fish!" So by his standards trout fishing is "way off."

Creel Census Proof

The truth is this: There are more fish taken from our streams today than there were 20 years ago, but the increased quantity must be spread among many times more fishermen! So the individual may not seem to profit by the numerical increase. Nevertheless, the thousands of additional trout anglers are sufficiently well satisfied with their catch to come back time after time. And reports from Conservation Officers who check creels along Michigan streams definitely confirm the increase in the total annual catch of trout.

Effect of Planting

While the planting of more than one million legal-sized trout each year undoubtedly makes good copy for tourist resort folders, its actual effect on year round trout fishing success in Michigan is a subject that can be argued inconclusively for days at a time. Maybe three hundred thousand of the hatchery-raised fish are caught while the remainder mysteriously disappear. Even so, 300,000 trout is too small a fraction of the total catch to justify the high cost of the planting, according to a large group of sportsmen.

Others argue that the biggest turnout of trout fishermen takes place on the opening week-end right after a heavy planting of fish has taken place. The newly planted fish are easily caught. Everybody goes home happy, and Michigan trout fishing gets off to a wonderful start. It's a kind of psychological victory even when you recognize the green-hued species as fugitives fresh from the local hatchery.

1953 Off to Good Start

First reports of trout catches this year reflect one of two things: Either this year's crop of anglers is a lot more skillful, or the brooks, browns and rainbows are not as wary as they were a few years ago. This writer finds more large fish being taken in early season efforts than in many a year—and many of these tackle-busters rise to a fly in broad daylight whereas one might expect to find them feeding only at night.

If current indications are any index Michigan trout fishing in June should be outstanding on the record books—and here's hoping you get your share!

that there are many ways to improve grass land farming profits. He urges farmers to pick up this information from the Monroe County Grass Day program.

Farmers from Washtenaw County are urged to attend this last state wide promoted grass day which will be held Wednesday, June 10, in Monroe County. Activities will start at 9:30 a. m. at the Marshall Knapp farm, located one mile North of Ida on U. S. 23 and one mile East on Dunbar Road (Farmers from the northeast can come to Monroe, go one mile South to Dunbar Road, and 7 miles West to the Knapp farm. From the Northwest farmers can reach the farm by going through Dundee, Michigan, and then 5 miles East and 1 mile South on U. S. 23 to Dunbar Rd. and 1 mile East.) Mr. Knapp has put up grass silage for a number of years, now has a drier, milks 35 cows, feeds steers besides his general farm that includes many acres of corn and wheat.

Seeding, fertilizing and management practices will be stressed during morning tours and there also will be discussions and inspections of emergency pasture, special crops and silage. Insect and disease control will be other features. Farm equipment displays and machinery operation will be very worthwhile for farmers to see, points out Robert G. White, Michigan State College extension specialist in agricultural engineering. White, member of the M. S. C. Grass Days Committee, has been contacting the various farm equipment companies and expects a good turnout. An interesting feature, he notes, will be a wagon complete with cross-conveyor unloader—"all automatic, just turn on the power-takeoff and go sit under a tree!"

Lunch will be served on the demonstration grounds by the Elmer Evangelical United Brethren Church. Mrs. Donald Kurtz, chairman of the lunch committee, states that not only will

It was expected that when nine year old Judy Hazen, daughter of the Clyde Hazen, went to her doctor on Tuesday, that he would remove the cast from her leg. Judy broke her leg eight weeks ago while she was standing at the foot of a slide on the school yard as a child came down the slide.

Record Milk Production For May and June

Michigan's 936,000 dairy cows each year during May and June produce an extra supply of milk. Production of milk is presently running 7% higher than last year and will probably be at an all time record high of 600,000,000 pounds for the month of June, stated F. M. Skiver, Chief of the Bureau of Dairying, Michigan Department of Agriculture. Michigan dairy farms, number 115,000 located in every county of the state, and Michigan dairy cows are valued at $230,000,000 providing farmers with an annual income of $220,000,000 from the sale of milk and cream, said Governor Williams in signing the 1953 June Dairy Month Proclamation. The Governor urged everyone to cooperate with the June Dairy Month Committee to increase the consumption of milk, cheese, and butter during this period of higher production. While the thousands of dairy farms and plants operate separately, collectively, they amount to "Big Business." The dairy industry supports over 600,000 Michigan people on farms and in cities—it provides all of our citizens with good food and provides full-time employment to many people on farms and in the plants.

Michigan dairying plays a vital part in our national economy—butter, cheese, and evaporated milk are shipped to many other states and to foreign countries. This year, some of the record high milk production will go into the manufacture of products for sale to the Government. State dairy inspectors are doing the grading of these products and Skiver estimated his inspectors would grade about 1,500,000 pounds of butter,

1,000,000 pounds of cheese, and 4,000,000 pounds of dry skimmed milk in Michigan. This excess in production, which largely is seasonal, is not at all alarming in view of our present markets and the potential for greater consumption—if each of the 1,500,000 Michigan children of school age (5-19 years) drank an extra glass of milk a day and each dairy farmer bought an extra pound of butter a week for the months of May and June, our stock would be completely eliminated.

SECOND ANNUAL AIR TOUR

Next Monday will see many a Washtenaw County farmer going up "into the wide blue yonder" as a participant in the Second Annual Air Tour sponsored by the Washtenaw Soil Conservation District. Four planes at the Ann Arbor Airport on South State, will take off at 10:00 a.m. on the first of the 30-minute round-trip tours, and the planes will continue on the tour assignment until everyone who wishes to has flown it.

This year's air route will include visits at a number of farms in Pittsfield, Ann Arbor, Superior, Augusta and Saline townships, giving the air tourists an opportunity to see examples of effective soil conservation work on the farms of their neighbors in the county.

Special features which will be noted during the tour include examples of contour strip cropping on the Ellsworth Road farm operated by William McCalla, a sod waterway on the Bogos Farms on Plymouth Road, a tile drainage system installed last year on the Ridge Road farm of Gordon Gill, a field of wheat which has been fertilized with nitrogen, on the Talladay Farms in Augusta Township, a sod waterway at Ypsilanti State Hospital.

Don Maurer, Soil Conservationist, will brief each group of passengers before their take-off, and pilots of the planes will also double as commentators during the actual flights, pointing out the conservation features as they appear below. Tickets for the Air Tour are $3.00. No advance reservations are necessary. Flight admissions can be purchased at the airport the day of the tour. In case of unfavorable weather, the Tour will be held next day—June 2, (Tuesday).

INSIDE THE CAPITOL

By D. Hale Brake

Local government borrowing in Michigan continues at a high rate and at increased interest cost.

County borrowing has fallen a little. The first four months of 1953 found Municipal Finance Commission approvals for but 2 bond issues, both for construction purposes. The first six months of last year there were 6 such approvals for a total of $1,207,000.

School districts continue to be the largest borrowers, both in numbers and in amounts. There were 36 approvals covering $19,600,000 in the first four months of 1953 as compared with 81 approvals for more than $24,000,000 in the first six months of 1952; and, of course in addition, school districts have been borrowing in unprecedented amounts for operating expenses, using for that purpose tax anticipation notes and pledges of anticipated state aid. Cities are second in number and in volume with 25 approvals in the 4 month period for a total of $18,730,000 as against 77 approvals with $28,000,000 involved in the first six months of last year. Most of the city borrowing is for sewage and water facilities and street improvements.

Volume has been small as to both villages and townships.

The upward trend in interest rates has been very noticeable during the past year. Many of the smaller issues now are selling with interest rates of 3½% to 4% higher than a year ago and the market is sluggish.

These conditions are not peculiar to Michigan. A tremendous amount of borrowing is still in prospect in Michigan and in the rest of the country. We have in sight the largest offerings of turnpike and road bonds that have ever been seen and numerous municipalities are still attempting to catch up with their needed capital improvements.

SEA LAMPREY CRISIS

The Congress of the United States is apparently working in the interests of conservation with a reverse twist. Those mystifying legislators may actually, 'tho unconsciously, help the perpetuation of the dreaded sea lamprey in the Great Lakes. They have just cut the operating budget for the control project from a needed $64,000 to $104,000, leaving barely enough to keep a skeleton organization going, and nothing at all for the construction of sorely needed new lamprey control devices.

Spawning Run Now On

In hundreds of clear, cold streams emptying into the Great Lakes, most of them in Michigan—the blood-sucking sea lamprey is now making its annual spawning run. The adult male and female, having fed and fattened on our finest Great Lakes fish for the past single year of their mature life, move far upstream to a carefully selected gravel-bottomed section of the river where they will spawn and die, their life cycle completed. Thousands of tiny lamprey will hatch, squirm deep into the mud along the river banks remaining buried there for four years of immature life as larvae. They'll grow about 5" in that time, and will then drift down into the Great Lakes for a one-year feeding spree, attaching themselves to fish, grinding thru scales and skin, and sucking away the blood of life.

Trout Exterminated

The sea lamprey is held responsible for the disappearance of the lake trout in Lake Huron and Lake Michigan—an economic loss placed at more than three million dollars annually. Whitefish, too, are disappearing, not to mention the once-prevalent walleye pike, steelhead trout, and other species. Despite the positive evidence that the blame for the rapid decline of our commercial fisheries can be placed on the sea lamprey; those in control of our national budget refuse to allocate funds desperately needed to help exterminate this predator. Our U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has made rapid strides toward striking at the lamprey at the one point where they are vulnerable: during the spawning run.

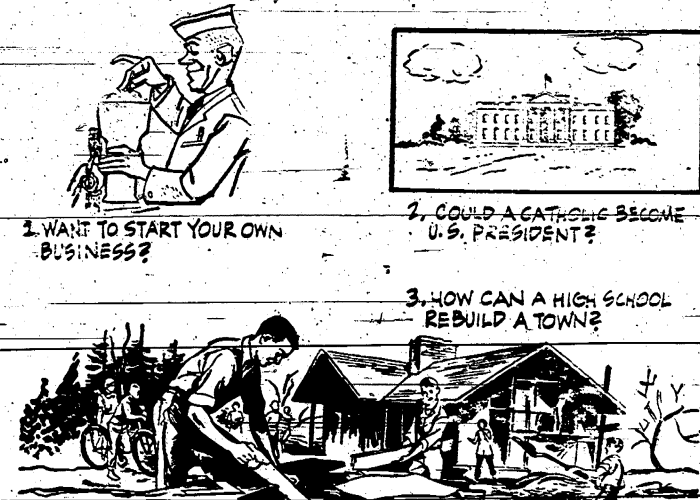

Electric fences stretched across spawning streams effectively block the run, and the lampreys die in a futile effort to spawn. Now, with virtually all spawning streams identified, and all plans ready for the final strategy of fencing the waters to block lamprey while permitting the runs of valuable fish, the federal government refuses necessary funds.

Write Your Congressman!

You and I may be able to help in this crisis affecting every kind of fishing in Michigan. Sit down and write your Congressman. If you don't know his name write Senator Ferguson or Potter. Ask for emergency funds to beat the Sea Lamprey in the Great Lakes before this terrifying vampire takes over our inland waters, destroying sports fishing in the Michigan Outdoors we love so well.

Knowledge is Power

(1) Then take the advice of Lester David in Bluebook magazine. "Scour your area thoroughly. Ferret out a gap, some service your community needs and hasn't got. Armed with the business idea, get advice on how to put it into action. Go to your local banker; he will give you some vital do's and don'ts.

(2) In theory, a Catholic could be elected president; but bigotry makes it highly unlikely. A nationwide survey of U.S. adults shows that only 42 per cent of the Protestants and 59 per cent of the Jews would vote for a Catholic for president if he were fully qualified for the office. These two groups represent about 31,900,000 voters. The chances of 23,700,000 adult Catholics voting as a bloc are about nil. In other words, the U.S.A. probably will never have a Catholic as president.

(3) In some cases a high school actually rebuilds the community in which it is conducted. John Lagemann describes such a town in Redbook magazine. In 12 years Frank Joswick, the high school principal at Pulaski, Wis., started a local home-building boom; brought in a new industry, doubled the retail trade volume and started a weekly newspaper.

He did it by putting his high school students to work on the community's problems. The students were directed to apply their classroom information to the immediate problems of the town. Results were surprisingly good.

YOUR HIGHWAYS

by JAY SCOTT

(No. 8 of a series)

Etternal Vigilance, every school boy knows, is the price of Liberty.

Etternal vigilance is also the price of good highways. Proper and regular maintenance is the most important factor in road life.

There's No Such thing as a permanent road. A highway is a piece of construction, like a house or any other building; if you fail to watch it constantly, if you fail to make those repairs necessitated by weather and wear, you're in trouble!

The Surface of a road serves as an umbrella. That is to say, it pro-

TECTS the foundation and sub-grade;

it screens off the water, which strikes in the form of rain, sleet and snow.

Thus, the foundation cannot be attacked directly.

The Cost of maintaining each mile of a 20-foot wide, cement concrete highway may run from $275 to $550 per mile per year. If the road is a bituminous mix, it will average

$375 a mile per year, and if untreated gravel, the price may average

$875 per mile per year.

This Sounds High to the average citizen, of course. But consider this:

the original cost of a cement road is estimated at $35,000 per mile. If you owned a house worth $35,000 would you consider an annual maintenance cost of $275 to $550 as high?

Keeping Roads in good condition, apparently, is an excellent investment.

Gretchen Hardenbergh Celebrates Birthday

Twelve of Gretchen Hardenbergh's schoolmates boarded the school bus on its routine run Monday for a ride out to the Hardenbergh home where Mrs. Roger Hardenbergh had arranged a clever party for the girls, a Peter Pan party.

This unique affair called for a treasure hunt—with the treasures silver foil covered peanuts. The girls enacted characters from Peter Pan stories and among the games was one where the players walked the plank blindfolded—supposedly dodging glasses which were placed along the way. After the player had seen the glasses and where they had been placed someone whisked them away after the player was blindfolded.

Even the refreshments were named in true Peter Pan fashion—with grilled hamburgers called deep sea burgers, the pickles were emerald boards, potato chips were golden ducks and orange pop was pirates gold. Pale yellow frosting covered the cake with green candles and colored marshmallows representing jewels covered the cake. The favors were gaily colored silk scarfs. The party marked Gretchen's tenth birthday.

Baptised Sunday

David William, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Roberts was baptised Sunday at St. Mary's Catholic church by Rev. Fr. Walter Hennes. The sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Roberts of Dearborn.

Mrs. William Stone, who has been spending some time with her daughter and family and helping care for her new grandson returned to her home at Pontiac on Monday.

Boy Scout Executive Board Meets in Milan

The executive board of Portage Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America, held their May meeting at the Peoples Presbyterian church in Milan, Tuesday evening. Fifty members, their wives and guests were seated at the bounteous dinner served by members of the church auxiliary.

Among those present was William Morgan from the Regional B. S. A. office in Chicago. Eleven Milan scouts were present.

The Portage Trails Council covers two counties, Washtenaw and Livingston. Judge James R. Breaker, Jr. is the president.

After the dinner, the group divided, the men attending the council business meeting and the women were entertained by P. E. Ross, who showed his colored pictures taken in Peru the previous winter. These were greatly enjoyed and the meeting was voted very successful.

MEMORIAL DAY

By Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr.

Every year, in the full tide of spring, at the height of the symphony of flowers and love and life, there comes a pause, and through the silence we hear the lonely pipe of death. Year after year, lovers wandering under the apple boughs and through the clover and deep grass are surprised with sudden tears as they see black veiled figures stealing through the morning to a soldier's grave. Year after year, the comrade of the dead follow, with public honor, procession and commemorative flags and funeral march, thus receiving honor and grief from us who stand almost alone, and have seen the best and noblest of our generation pass away. But grief is not the end of all. I seem to hear the funeral march become a pagan I see beyond the first the moving banners of a hidden column. Our dead brothers still live for us and bid us think of life, not death—of life to which in their youth they lent the passion and glory of the spring. As I listen, the great chorus of life and joy begins again, and amid the awful orchestra of seen and unseen powers—and destinies of good and evil—our trumpets sound once more a note of daring, hope and will.
