Porch Lights On at 7 For Dimes Climax; $1,100 Still Needed

The mothers of Manchester will march tonight!

Promptly at 7 o'clock, Mrs. Erwin Huber and her committeefor the Mothers' March on Polio will start ringing doorbells, to the accompanying peeling of church bells, as the March of Dimes campaign reaches its climax here.

With nearly $1.100 still needeed to equal last year's record total of $1.300.71, all householders are urged to have their porch lights lift at 7 p.m. so the mothers can bring in the necessary funds to help surpars that figure.

Deep Cleated Tires Provide Safety For Driving In Mud and Deep Snow

THURSDAY, JANUARY 27, 1955

NEW YORK—In its present day mud-snow tire, the rubber manufactuming industry has come up with a long needed answer to the motorist's prayer—the motorist, that is, who lives in the snow belt or who must drive at times on unsurfaced roads. The accompanying pictures tell the story. A few years ago, the average driver would be stuck help lessly at the foot of this hill. Riding on today's high-flotation tires—deep cleated with mud and snow tread—motorists take snow covered grades and muddy roads in their stride.

Our Goal Is Eternal Happiness

I WONDER IF THE HISTORY OF LAW does not show that from time to time there has been a dangerous emphasis on either the rights of the individual man or on the importance of human society. It has been rather difficult at times to find the proper belance between man and society.

During the 19th sentury the emphasis was on the rights of the individual.

We can see it was wrong to allow the strong to crush the weak. Rights have meaning for all men and for all men and not only for those who have the power to enforce them.

Cushing TODAY WE ARE STRIVING desperately to avoid the danger of state absolutism. When the stave becomes ton powerful it coreats its own purpose; the helping of its members to help themselves. St Thomas Aquinas indicated the middle path for us "Twery creature belongs naturally to God. Hence both angels and men love God before themselves and with a greater love. If they love themselves more than God, their love is perverse."

IN OTHER WORDS, the strongest tendency in the human soul is to love God, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love God, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love God, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love God, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love God, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love God, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love God, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love God, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love God, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love God, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love God, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love God, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love God, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love God, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love God, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love God, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love God, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love god, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love god, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love god, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love god, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love god, not to love self reference for God's law, and when the love god, not to love self reference for God's law,

Those from here who attended the funeral of her sister. Ms. Gertfude Stockinger, Raymond Stockinger, Mr. and Mrs. Max Radke and Mrs. Esther Philips and son Elmer, of Tecumseh, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark of Brooklyn, and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Stockinger, of Jackson.

Kitchen Ease Is Discussed

en" was the topic of discussion at the Freedom Ideal Homemakat the Freedom Ideal Homemakers meeting in the home of Mrs. Carl Stevens, of Cheisea. The lesson was given by Mrs. Alton Grau and Mrs. William Stark. The Carl Stevens recently moved to Chelsea from Fletcher Road, Freedom township. Assisting the hostess was Mrs. Ralph Casemen.

The February meeting will be held with Mrs. Ben Breitenwischer.

Breaks His Leg In Farm Mishap

Richard Stark, 16-year-old son of Mr and Mrs. William Stark, broke a bone in his right foot in two places Saturday when the foot became pinned under a grain elevator at their farm.
Mr. Stark and his son had been picking corn and had brought the grain in for unloading when the accident occurred.

A brand new and exciting recipe has just been developed in the Lever Test Kitchens. Called "GOLDEN TASSIES". "Golden" of Good Luck margarine and "Tassies" after an old Scottish word meaning "small cup", they are miniature shells made of an unusual kind of dough. It's neither pastry nor cake but something completely unique.

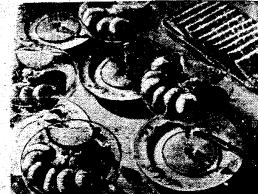

Including baking time you need only half an bour to produce these heavenly little dainties. A variety of fillings can be used, but this recipe uses a simple and delicious jam-nut filling.

Let I har Good Luck margarine soften in mixing bowl at room temperature about 1 hour. Add one 3- ounce package cream cheese. Metaspoon grated lemon rind, and mix until smooth. Add I cup sifted all-purpose flour gradually, blending therefore and input the mix until smooth. Add I cup sifted mix until smooth Shrimp is on the U. S. Government's Plentiful List. Prices are down; supplies are high. That's welcome news for Americans, who consider shrimp their favoring shellifish. Now that shrimp is frozen and shipped throughout the country, there's an exact why all of us can't take advantage of this delicious sasfood, especially when shrimpper can'ts are abundant. One of the most popular shrimp dishes is a cock tail. It's easy to see why. Besides being delicious, a shrimp cockrail is one of the most apectising first courses—pink shellish on a bed of crisp greens.

The first rule in preparing shrimp for any dish is not to overcook. While the simplest way to cock it for cockrails is boiling in salted water, you'll find that cooking in a quart of water to which a teaspoon of pickling spices has been added or in a court bouillon (recipe below) will give the shrimp a spicy flavor. Regardless of which method you use, boil rhe shrimp three to five minutes, iming from the moment the water states so boil after adding the shrimp intee to five minutes, iming from the moment the water states so boil after adding the shrimp a shrimp cockrail, of course, is to place six chilled shrimp on a bed of shreedded letruce in a seafood cockrail glass or a large sherbet glass. AAA Reports Good Highways Along Routes to Florida

A good variety of routes to Florida are outlined by Automobile Club of Michigan. The heavy lines indicate the routes preferred by most motorists. They are the picturesque Eastern Route, which winds through 100 miles of mountainous country; and the longer Western Route, suggested for families hauling trailers and those disliking mountainous driving. The Western Route, while 125 miles longer, requires about the same amount of driving time.

The industry has changed radically from the days in which a pocketsized book was a "thrill" book, packed with violense, alcohol, and a generally cavalier approach to moral problems. To baiance the vigorous weight of Mickey Spillanc on one side of the shelf, the casual reader may now run into such astruse titles as Alfred North Whitehead's Science and the Modern World"; Lincoln Barnett's "The Universe of Dr. Einstein"; George Gamow's "The Birth and Death of the Sun"; "The Confessions of St. Augustine"; Veblen's Theory of the Leisure Class"; and many others of similar importance. Pocket-sized, fiction has henefited to Along with such recently important novels as "The Catcher in the Rye," "The Cruel Sea," "The Naked and the Dead," and "The Caine Mutiny," the reader is permitted to select from the giants of American literature in the earlier twentieth century: Hemingway, Faulkner, Anderson, Fitzgereid, even the poetry of Robert Frost. This is not to mention such compilations as "Discovery" and "New World Writing." with their emphasis on younger writers and unpublished material, some of it difficult, and good and some merely difficult.
