SWAINSON RELAX IN CENTURY OLD HOME The inside of the 14 room dwelling was completely gutted and reconstructed into 11 rooms. Mrs. Swainson, with the help of a lumber company draftsman from Jackson, redesigned the interior without the aid of an architect.

A porch was removed from the exterior and columns added. Arched windows with their beveled glass windows were retained. The house is painted white siding with green shutters.

What was once a summer kitchen at the rear is now a large family room with exterior walls of field stone. "I call it the barn room because some of the wood in the room came from a barn on the property. And too, I like to get away from calling it a rumpus room, or even a family room," Mrs. Swainson said.

Material for the huge split-stone fireplace came from the Swainson farm. The large beam forming the mantlepiece was found on a nearby farm. The two Early American style sofas in the room are covered with red and white small check and draperies and valances are of deep red burlap with a beige-tinted scroll design above the hems. A custom-built narrow drop leaf coffee table is as long as the sofas. The wainscoating is of lumber from one of the unused buildings on the farm and hand-hewn beams were found in this area. The new oak flooring is fastened with screws and pegged. A rocking chair in the barn room is a replica of President Kennedy's rocking chair and was a gift from the former governor of North Carolina, Terry Sanford, Mr. Sanford and Judge Swainson attended the University of North Carolina at the same time.

Judge and Mrs. Swainson share an interest in antiques: A prize possession is a lovely Welch chesser built in 1690 and was purchased from a dealer. It is a dining room accessory with three uncovered, namow shelves to stand plates on end or anange cups and small dishes. A massive piece, it has numerous drawers and cabinets. While the old Welch referred to the furniture as a dresser, it would be called a buffet or sideboard in this country.

Miss. Swainson plans to make the dining room the only formal room in the home. Her plant call for Williamsburg colonial funiture, small sofas and chains and a large chandelier. The room now contains less formal colonial pieces.

Above the rolling desk in the combination master bedroom and study is a framed invitation from President Johnson to a White House huncheds. The Swainsons attended the function in July, 1964. The chair at the desk was once in the House of Representatives at Lansing and was purchased when the state bought new ones.

The second floor contains four bedrooms and one of the times baths in the home. A bress bed in Stephen's room, decorated in shades of blue dates to 1840. Judge Swainson bought the piece in a small antique skop. It was green with age and repeated attempts at refinishing, surjecting and polishing brought back its original

The modern kitchen has hims of older times with its two long curboards curtained on the inside. An antique brass chandelier, made in Denmark about 100 years ago, hangs over the custombuilt table of the same light wood which fashioned the coffee table. Numerous cupboards in the conveniently arranged kitchen are of dark wood placed over and under light-colored counters. And in these curboards are table service for one hundred guests! Walls in the family room, dining room and kitchen are painted in off white. Predominating colors in the home are shades of gold and red. Bedrooms and the upstains hallway are wallpapered.

Staphen plans to place a wing-spread eagle plaque, given to his faction as commander or the state national guard, above the bod. There are many, many little family measures tucked away in the bic farm bouse.

The small antique desser in Aristina's room which has a rose and white color scheme, was a possession of Hiram H. and Lydia Clark Martin and their descendants who owned the home for 99 years

The Swainson purchased the home from Harriet Martin Mackintosh and her hisband, Donald and environ Hiram Martin. Mrs. Mackintosic and Me. Martin were grandchildren of the original owners. New Stamping Plant To Hold Open House

- by Marie Schneider

Three local men who have done a remarkable job in promoting this community in many different fields of service will be given special recognition Saturday evening at an "Appreciation Banquet". Honored will be Eugene Bentschneider, Clarence Fielder and Ted Stautz. The event will tie in with the open house at the new Manchester Stamping Plant, which is one of two which the three men own.

Manchester Stamping Corporation got its start in 1963 when the three bought the business and equipment from Brannock Construction of Brooklyn. Until January of this year, Ted Stautz, president of Manchester Stamping, spent most of his time at the Brooklyn operation while Bentschneider and Fielder worked at the Man chester Tool & Die, which they also own.

The new Stamping Plant was built two miles west of Manchester Tool and Die, across the village to the outskirts at 17951 Austin Road.

Referring to the three men, Ted Roberts, general chairman of the Saturday "Appreciation Banquet" points to the fact that "every civic venture promoted in the village for many years has had at least one of the three on its working committee,"

The banquet is open to the public and will be served by the Knights of Columbus.

Fielder and Stautz are both local boys and graduated in the Class of 1941 from Manchester High School. Bentschneider is the son of the E. L. Bentschneiders and was born in Jackson. He graduated from Napoleon High School in 1941.

The three have diversified interests and possibly this is the reason they enjoy working together. They are all tool and die journeymen and served their apprenticeship with the Ford Motor Company at the former Manchester

Stautz and Fielder entered service on the same day-January 21, 1944. Bentschneider joined the Marine Corps in March 1944. After their term of service they all went back to Ford Motor.

In September 1952 Fielder and Bentschneider left Ford Motor to work at Ratel Television in Grass Lake. It was during that time that the two decided to go in business for themselves. So, keeping their steady jobs they decided to set up shop in Fielder's garage. After their regular work day the two spent many long, hard hours working in their garage shop--while Fielder's car was left in the vard.

During that time Stautz decided that his dish would be "Go West, young man!" He and his brother, Robert, equipped with combines followed the harvest from June through September, from Oklahoma to North Dakota. It was a good experience but Stautz was glad to return to Manchester, where he operated a milk route for six years. le worked part time at Double A Products and finall went to Ratel in Grass Lake, too.

Fielder and Bentschneider outgrew the garage set-up and were looking for a location to put up a building and go in business for themselves. Bentschneider was the column which they are making for an automotive company. | first to leave Ratel and he worked alone in the garage while Fielder joined him on the night shift.

Stautz had some land, adequate for the building, so the three went in as partners, and Manchester Tool & Continued on page 8

A four-year-old girl was rushed to St, Joseph Mercy Hospital early Sunday morning by Manchester police after her mother told the officers she had stopped breathing. The child. Flora Ginter, was reported "doing fine" Monday by

Sgt. Donald Payeur and Officer Robert Noch said they were parked on Main Street when Mrs. Evelyn Ginter, 154 E. Main, ran across the street at 12:25 and said, "My God, my baby has stopped breathing, please help me," and ran back to her apartment. The officers followed her, carrying a resuscitator from the patrol car's trunk and found the giff lying on a couch choking.

The mother gave the child mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, and the officers loaded them in the car. On the way to Ann Arbor the oat's siren quit working and the car was escorted the rest of the way by of Columbus and a Past Grand Knight. a sheriff's hamol car.

Officers said the baby continue to have wouble breathing while on the way but Mas. Ginter kept applying mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, making it unnecessary to use the mechanical festiscitator. Doctors at the hospital said the ohild had broughttis, and was put ender an oxygen tent.

This was the beginning for the trio and they have worked togeth

Because of their community spirit several Manchesterites though it was about time the Community let these three know just how m the town thinks of them. A committee comprised of representative of every organization banded together to form one big committee to iron out the details for the banquet at 7:30 p.m. Saturday after the open house at the Stamping Plant. The committee is headed by Ter Roberts. Dan Boutell will act as toastmaster.

Bentschneider is currently village president and has been for five years, although not consecutively. He has also served as councilm for five years. He organized the Athletic Boosters Club and was in first president. For several years he was chairman of the United F Drive and was industrial chairman of the Community Chest.

Along with Fielder he is parade marshall at the Community Fai a joint post they have held for several years. He has been active the Emanuel Church council and as a Sunday school teacher. Ben schneider is secretary-measurer of Manchester Stamping and vicepresident of Manchester Tool & Die. He is married and has two son Stautz is primarily concerned with the Community Fair. On its board since 1960 this is his fourth year as president. While many small communities have discontinued having fairs the local fair increases in size every year and boasts the support of the community under the careful eye of its president.

But Stautz doesn't confine his efforts to the fair. He serves on t clumteer fire department with just as much real. He foined in 19 Also a member of Emanuel Church, he is in his third year as a Church Council member. Having two sons and a daughter he has eked out time to work for several years on the Boy Scout Council and as a manager of the Little League baseball team. Stautz is active in the newly formed Chamber of Commerce. He is president of Manci Stamping and secretary-treasurer of Manchester Tool & Die.

Fielder is president of Manchester Tool & Die and vice president of Manchester Stamping. Father of nine children, he is concentrating his efforts in school where he is currently on the advisory com mittee for the high school vocational program. He served on the school board four years and worked on the Washtenaw Community College Planning Committee. He is a Community Chest past year ident, a trustee on the Family Social Service committee, church board member at St. Mary's, member of the Ushers Club, Athletic Booster vice president, member of the village recreation committee for the children , member of the Building Committee for the Knigh

Interested and active in athletics, Fielder played softball more than 20 years until taking over management of the Klager Un softball team in 1963-a team which took the Class A District Championship in 1965.

Tool & Die now has two apprentice. Ron Fielder apparently is following in his father's footsteps. The other apprentice is Tim

The new stamping plant is a two mile jount from the Tool & Di plant. It is located outside the west village limits at 17951 Austin Road. It is of concrete block construction and contains 5, 600 square feet of space. Six to eight persons are employed and plans call for expansion. Raw material is made into fabricated parts, such as aux motive retainers, door latches, parts for heaters for cars. Then too, there are mops, mop handles and rug scrubbers. The public is invited to tour the new plant from 1 p.m. to 4

MOBILE UNIT TO VISIT MANCHESTER FOR MEDICARE

Nearly everyone 65 or older can get Medicare. The deadline for this sign-up period is March 31 and the program will start July, 1966. You don't have to have a medical examination. You don't have to have worked under social security, and you don't have to be retired! you have not yet signed up contact Medicare Alert, 502 West Haron Street, Ann Arbor, phone 665-8864. The Washtenaw County Office of Economic Opportunity in conjunction with the County Board of Supervisors are setting up the County Medicare Alert and are making funds available to carry on the project. According to Mrs. Sheta Ling, project director, Washtenaw is doing everything possible to see that every senior citizen signs up for Medicare.

The Social Security Office, in this all out effort to reach the people involved, is sending out a mobile unit into the various townships of the county where people can go and sign up and ask questions. Lake Road, Hillsdale, officers said

In Manchester Township the mobile unit will be at the Emanuel Church hall from 1 to 3 p.m. Thursday, March 17. It will be at the Sharon Township hall from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesday, March 16; in Bridgewater at the Township hall from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Friday. March 18 and on the same date it will be at the Saline Savings Bank from 7 to 9 p.m.

The mobile unit will be at the Pleasant Lake School in Freedom | a broken collar bone, broken ribs, Township from 1 to 4 p.m. Wednesday, March 23; at the Lodi Town-two breaks in her ankle and hip inship hall Tuesday, March 22 from 1 to 4 p.m. Although the unit has been in Chelsea it will make a return trip but the date has not been set. Anyone can go to any of the places regardless of whether wen live in that particular township or not. Which ever location best suits the individual is the one he should choose.

"This is the best bargain for senior citizens that has ever come down the pike. I cannot over emphasize the importance of people signing up. There is no charge to people over 65 for the hospitalizatien part of the program; it is paid for through social security and other taxes. Everyone is eligible whether they are on social security or not," Mrs. Ling said.

"But people who are not under social security must sign up in order for them to receive benefits. If you were 65 before March 31, 1966, if you want you doctor bills covered by medicare when it starts in July, you must sign. You will not have another chance to enroll until October 1967 and then your protection will not begin until July 1968 and will cost more each month than the $3.00 a month if you sign up now," Mrs. Ling pointed out.

She said that this part of medicare must be signed for-even if you are covered by social security or railroad retirement benefits. You must apply for it if you get it. It is as simple as that. It will cost you $3.00 a month and the federal government will match it.

To date about 12,000 have signed up in Washtenaw County with about 15 per cent still unsigned. A new type of application has just been received at the local office. These are for people who will not be able to sign up in any of the locations when the mobile unit arrives These special forms can be obtained by calling the Social Security office at 665-8864.

Mrs. Ling points out that many people say they are not retired at 65 years. This does not matter. You don't have to be retired. You have to be 65 by March 31. You don't even have to be a citizenyou can be a registered alien.

Persons who are 65 and under social security are automatically enrolled in the hospitalization phase of the plan which is two-fold The second part of the two package deal covers medical insurance.

Many people wonder what it really pays for? She explained,

"It goes something like this-If you have this medical insurance you (I to r) Eugene Bentschneider, Clarence Fielder and may the first $50 of your medical bills each year. Medical insurance pay $4 and a every $5 of your physician's bills and many of rether andical bills for the rest of the year.
