BAILOONS! BAILOONS! Who'll find the balloons? Children belonging to the Sharon Evangelical United Brethern Sunday School are getting anxious for the "big blow-up" slated for Rally Sunday, Sept. 25. Pictured are Ann Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller, Rex Spiegelberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Spiegelberg, and Lori Ann Voegeding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Voegeding. After the 10 a.m. service each pupil will release a helium filled balloon with a card attached bearing his name and the address of the church. A note will ask the finder to write to him. Roy Clemons, Sunday School Superintendent, says that about a 150 balloons will sail through the skies. Of course there is much speculation as to whose balloon will travel the greatest distance and who will be the first to hear from the finder.

"We are well aware that this incident won't be the first of its kind--but it is the first for our Sunday School," Clemons said. The church is located about four miles north of Manchester on the Chelsea road and active in the Sunday School are some 130 members.

Lamb No.1 On List For Kidney Transplant

SEPTEMBER 8, 1966

Melvin "Red" Lamb is reportedly "holding his own" while he and his wife Jeanette live in an apartment across the street from the Cleveland Medical Center where he awaits a kidney trans-

According to his sister, Mrs. ictor Wurster, Lamb is next in ine on two lists at the hospital Last week the hospital did two transplants on patients using "O" type blood which brought Lamb next in line Mrs. Wurster said.

He has been at the top of the A positive" list for a few weeks. "O" is the type universally used.

She also said her brother goes on the kidney machine twice week-every Tuesday and Friday He is maintaining his weight at 25 pounds at which his "blood pressure is more stabilized than at 130 pounds, she explained.

Mrs. Wurster and her mother Mrs. LeRoy Lamb have returned home after spending several days with "Red" at their Cleveland apartment while his wife came to Manchester to attend the wedding of her sister and spend a little time with her children who are staying with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Guenther.

This was the first time home for Mrs. Lamb since her husband went to Cleveland. Both of his kidneys were removed May 27. In the Manchester, Chelsea and Saline area various benefits have been held to raise funds for the kidney transplant which reportedly will cost around $20,000

The latest of these included series of bake sales by 4-H groups in the area where eight 1-H groups have raised more than $370. This amount was sent directly to Mr. and Mrs. Lamb.

The Rev. Ralph L. Kuether of Emanuel, who has acted as a secretary in numerous fund raising campaigns says that $8,300 has peen banked at the Union Savings Bank here. This totals $8,670 plus other money which individual have sent directly to the Lambs during the past four months.

According to Mrs. Wurster the transplant will apparently come from a deceased person. The kidney must be removed no later than 30 minutes after the person has expired.

Five of the members of his amily have taken tests for the ransplant but their body tissues do not sufficiently match his. Twenty oints of blood have been donated o him from the Manchester Blood Bank. Those wishing to donate lood may do so at the Red Cros Center on Packard Road, Ann Arbor, but they should specify that the contribution is for the Manchester Blood Bank. The center is open from 2 to 8 p.m. the second Friday of the month

Norberto A. R. Reichart, Associate Director of the National Agricultural Technical Institute (INTA) of Argentina made the presentation speech. Mrs. Reck who had assisted her husband in many of his endeavors throughout Latin America was on her first trip to Rio for the ceremony. "I want to express our daughters! and my sincere appreciation for this marvelous recognition of Mr. Reck's contribution to hemisphere-wide rural youth program development. Our deepest thanks go to the many organizations and hundreds of individuals with whom he Brazilian National 4-S committee has cooperated in making this omage possible. Thank you," Mrs. Reck said.

Mr. Reck served as a member of the editorial staff and then as managing editor of the American Boy magazine for many years. He also worked as boys' editor of the Farm Journal. In 1950 he research ed and wrote "The 4-H Story". He is also author of several other books for and about young people.

In 1950 Mr. Reck became a consultant to the Ford Motor Co. Publications Department when he eventually deeply involved with the 4-H and 4-H type rural programs in Latin America. His travels and research in Latin America provided the materials for Anuarios (Annuals) which told the story of the progress of rural youth work in

He also prepared several supplements to the annuals as well as a moving picture and filmstrips on rural youth organizations. His work was significant in the development of rural youth programs in Latin America. So, when the leaders of these programs from more than 20 countries witnessed the unveiling of his bust, they recognized a friend of theirs and a friend of youth.

The author died last October 14th. at his typewriter in his home "Off Hand Manor" at 665 W. Main Street, Manchester on the eve of the release of his 25th book. After the demise of The American Boy, the Recks came to Manchester to live in 1941, where he became a full-time free lance writer. He handled the Ford Motor Co. Recreation Unlimited department and wrote the Ford Guide to Outdoor Living and Station Wagon Living.

In the posthumous homage to Franklin Reck given by Norberto

Reichart at the conference he said in part: "We cannot disguise the absence of one of our true leaders, Few men like him have dedicated their entire lives to the service of the intellectual development of youth. Graduating in agricultural journalism from Iowa State University where he discovered his academic vocation after serving his country in the First World War, he dedicated all his talent and affection to literary career as writer and editor of stories, books and magazines for youth. His poem "The Service Flag" written at the age of 25 touching tributes paid to the men of Iowa who had given their lives for their country. "As a Ford Motor Co. consultant he dedicated a special attention to the activities of the rural youth clubs of Latin America; toward this task he traveled through most of the countries of Central and South America, generally accompanied by you, Mrs. Reck, and dedicated to the service flag of the State of Iowa, was one of the who acted as his secretary. . . . "But even beyond his literary work Frank Reck possessed personal qualifications out of the ordinary. "Frank Reck was the archtype of the man whose innate personal ity shines forth. It sufficed to see him and deal with him only once to feel the effects of his fine personality and remember it forever. Frank Reck knew nothing of artifices; his gestures, his thoughts and his actions were always natural and spontaneous, free of all personal

"He had the personality which makes for exemplary conduct and makes a work of an entire lifetime dedicated to an idea'. Being with Frank Reck was like quenching a spiritual thirst; with lines strongly drawn, with grave but always soft voice, his look was always accompanied by a sweet, clear smile, he always projected optimism, surety and faith the the present and the future.

"The author fulfilled, as few others, the teaching of the Bible, of sowing love among men. He created an ideal and loved Rural youth. "The bust of Frank Reck which we unveil in his memory is the

FROM HOSPITAL POST recognition of the generations of youths and rural leaders who have lived with him and who have known him through his work, to perpeuate his personality as an example for future generations.

"For us, those of this generation, Frank Reck is and always will be among us in the ineradicable memory which he has left with us, and in the commitment, as his friends, of not defrauding him in carrying out his work in pursuit of the same ideal. "We now dedicate to him the last verse of his own poem, "The Service Flag":

"If you can read my tale of triumph won through service, then my challenge you will take; then will you carry on the work begun by other hands.'

Mrs. Reck was in Rio de Janeiro for the unveiling of the bust of her late husband -- a tribute to his interest in rural youth.
