

SCHOOL REPORT

Teacher salary improvements and rising operational costs make it necessary for most local boards of education to increase their request for extra millage.

On Monday, April 22, 1968 the Board of Education met with the Finance Committee of the Citizens' Group and appraised them of the need for extra millage. After the projected 1968-69 budget was reviewed by all persons in attendance, it was the consensus that extra millage was necessary for operational purposes.

Mr. Luther C. Klager, President of the Board of Education, indicated that this was a difficult decision to make, but went on to say that if we all are truly interested in our young people and the kind of education they are to receive in the local schools, then we have no alternative but to request these funds.

The millage request will be presented to the district's voters at the annual school election to be held Monday, June 10, 1968. In addition to the millage item there will be two vacancies on the board of education to be filled.

CITIZENS COMMITTEE

The Citizens Committee met with the School Board April 29 at the high school. Reports were given from individual committees.

The Budget Committee met with the school board on April 22 to discuss the budget.

The Old School Committee is in the process of checking into the possibility of repairing the ceilings and will be meeting with the architecture to discuss costs of all areas which need improvements.

The Curriculum Committee had viewed films on non-graded schools. In this program, there would be no grade from the kindergarten through the fourth grade. Students would be divided as to ability to progress. Concentration would be placed on students' weak points, with no pressure to accomplish a certain level at a given point.

Elmer E. White, Jr. of 1924 Western Drive, Ann Arbor has announced that he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Prosecuting Attorney.

Mr. White is a graduate of Wayne State University, A.B. degree and graduate from the University of Michigan Law School.

Mr. White states, "The Washtenaw County Prosecuting Attorney has only one responsibility -- only one job -- and that is to protect the rights of the innocent. The Founding Fathers stated as forcefully as possible that all Americans are entitled to the inalienable rights of "Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness." It is the Prosecutor's job to insure that the citizens of our community enjoy these rights to the fullest measure possible.

Boy Scouts Plant Trees

by Carolyn Ahrens On Saturday, May 4 twenty-five Boy Scouts from Troops 426 and 436 planted 2,500 trees as a conservation project. Camping out the night before the boys began early the next morning to plant the 500 Red Pine and 2,000 Scotch Pine. The project was completed that day.

Working on the project was Scoutleader of Troop 426 Ted Roberts, Scoutleader of Troop 436 Larry England and members of their troops as follows: David Roberts, Greg Bertke, Paul Meinhart, John Roberts, Greg Strong, Mark Diferderfer, Billy Plaus, Russell Aulto, Mike Ruth-erford, David P. Kraus, Dave Benedict, S. P. L. Chuck Hough, Scott Gormely, Mike Schlosser, Anton Schlosser, Ron Riggs, Max Gormely, P. L. Alan Hane-wald, S. P. L. Don Brown, P. L. Don Steele, Joe Kryzaniak, Eddie Steele, Cory Altohouse, Mike Gonyer and Larry Bowers.

"This conservation project is designed to teach the boys wildlife protection, the importance of trees in soil erosion and to stress added care for young trees especially when camping out," Ted Roberts noted. The Manchester Scouts also participated in a Spring Campa-re recently held in Saline.

Election Spending Controls Needed

In 1967, the Michigan Legislature made 50 revisions in the state's election laws - and not one dealt with the growing problems of campaign expenditures and accounting.

It is not surprising, in the states and in the nation, laws adopted through the years have sought to control money spent to gain political office, but with little tangible result.

is particularly concerned with several things: 1. Some political committees in Michigan have spent large amounts of money and failed to report the full amounts. 2. Because contributions received at testimonial dinners in non-campaign years presently have no place to be reported, this raises a question of interest to the Internal Revenue Service. 3. The Bowles Grand Jury of last year found that there was no clear requirement for identification of campaign expenditures. 4. There were no requirements to show the payment of debts following an election to be reported. 5. There was no requirement that office holders or office seekers report their income or assets. 6. There was no present enforceable limit on the spending for any office. 7. Reports from some committees gave no true indication as to what candidates were being supported in that report.

Hare says the present law appears unenforceable, noting: "We've never had a case in which the attorney general thought we had a legal leg to stand on." "Hare's aides, therefore, have drafted and redrafted legislation to come up with some 'better ideas.'"

Hare notes that Michigan has been relatively free of major political spending scandals. "But the facts make it clear that Michigan must act to close the loopholes and bring greater clarity, reason, and responsibility to political finance," he says.

Hare cited these major loopholes in the current law: 1. Despite the limit on a candidate's spending, he may set up any number of committees, each of which under legal interpretations may likewise collect funds within the specified limit - which in effect means no limit at all. 2. Some of these committees report their contributions and expenditures in states other than Michigan, making it impossible to get a true picture of the total amount spent.

Dear Herb:

You made some very good points in your letter. I appreciate the criticism. I also hope to answer a couple of these points.

In the first place, I have never made a claim that I am right and the other planning commission or council members are wrong. I am presenting only my side for one reason, to get two sides of every issue presented. This hasn't always been done. Due to some research on my part concerning issues that have been decided during the past few years, I've found that some projects were turned down without evidence of a good reason. I won't go into detail because I already have enough people mad at me. However, as long as I am on council or planning commission, projects are going to be judged on their merits to the town and these are openly discussed. No more pre-council or pre-planning commission meetings where things are discussed and decided before the actual meeting takes place. My purpose in voicing my side only is that it will raise questions as to what the other side is. I think this way when an issue comes up everyone who comments will do so after careful research and thinking because they are going to have to answer to the public for their stand. Once this is done I will be glad to go back to reporting both sides.

I hope I don't lose your or anyone else's friendship because of it. I'm going to continue in this manner until we as a council and planning commission get things back in their proper perspective; that is, judging a project on its merit for Manchester. Taxpayers aren't interested in personality problems between council and those making the requests.

The only thing I wish to comment on is your statement about my "natural impatience." The reason I'm impatient is because I've heard too much talking and have seen too little doing during the three years I've lived in Manchester. I'm not criticizing, just pointing out something I've noticed. While reading old issues of the Enterprise, I keep coming across discussions of our same basic problems. People were discussing parking and streets ten years ago. What has been done? Businessmen formed clubs to attract new business and industry to Manchester. Where is it? People have been looking at the river for years and shaking their heads. What has been done? People can't find a parking place. What is being done? I didn't make a count but we've had a considerable number of different clubs and associations formed with the common goal of helping Manchester. Where are they? They didn't die out because of not discussing the problems; they died because they didn't act after they finished talking. I've listened to talk about problems until I'm tired of it. We can talk for the next ten years but that won't solve our problems.

Other towns are leaving us in the dust. Why? Because we talk and they act! If the answer means taking up all my personal time, then I'll do it; not to get recognition or personal glory, but because I believe if a man opens his mouth to voice an opinion he had better be ready to take the necessary action to carry it out. I'm probably overly impatient, but I'd rather be branded that than be compared to someone who just sits and complains.

I know I talk a lot for a "young squirt" but this doesn't in any way mean that I disrespect the opinions of others in town. I listen and welcome any comments. It's just that I've decided, personally, why Manchester isn't growing and I'm going to try and change it. In spite of, or with the aid of helpful criticism.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir: Friday, after reading the appalling (to me) letter from the gentleman from Howell, I read your "Running Scared" editorial and dictated a too lengthy letter to you mentioning the inconsistencies of your expressed thoughts and denouncing the implied provincial viewpoint which discredits the thinking and feeling population of the Manchester area, who surprised me by their silence.

Instead of sending that letter, as one who mourned the death of Dr. King in private and in public and as one whose convictions were rooted in the families, churches, and schools of Manchester, I ask you to publish these closing remarks of a service which was only one of hundreds in greater Cleveland churches and temples.

Label me a "liberal" or a "meddling do-gooder" if you wish. I shall wear the labels proudly in memory of my mother, my grandfather, J. T. Feldkamp, H. S. Rague and my first husband, Capt. Karl M. Rague. Sincerely,

Ragene Lamming Rague Rowland

Mrs. Vernon Rowland

Mrs. Rowland:

Thank you for the letter. I am not going to defend the letter from Howell. I printed it because it stated a viewpoint.

I am printing yours for the same reason. I will not print the memorial service you enclosed because I in no way attacked what Dr. King believed in. I also will not use anyone's memorial service for the sake of argument.

As for the people in Manchester, those who commented did so favorably. If anyone disagreed, they have yet to tell me so.

"Liberals" too often think that if a man's stomach is full he has got to be happy. Maybe there are people who can live their entire life on welfare; who don't care that the level of their existence depends on the generosity of some politician. We've seen quite a few Civil Rights Laws passed by Liberals, but how much better off is the Negro because of them? Have the laws changed the thinking of the majority of Americans about the Negro? I don't think so. The only person that can change a Negro is a Negro.

I haven't made any racial study financed by the federal government, but common sense tells me that if they would take the men that participate in the marches and give them hammers, saws, paint and just plain hands, they could transform a ghetto into a pleasant living community overnight. If every Negro would go without cigarettes for a month or scrap a few cents off his pay and buy five gallons of paint and then on a given day all get together and paint, they could eradicate the sub-standard housing problem. But, more important, they would gain the respect of white America.

What people freely call white racism is closer to anti-laziness. If I were matched with a Negro of the same intelligence (I don't mean schooling) and we switched colors we could both make it with hard work. If a typical rioter and welfare recipient were to trade skins with me he still wouldn't make it. A white skin doesn't mean free success just as being born in America doesn't guarantee a free living for everyone.

Thousands of Americans have fought and died for the simple right of freedom. Freedom to earn as much as possible, to buy a house, to work at the job of their choice, to live where they please, to worship freely. No where do I recall anyone fighting to be enslaved. Which is what the Negro who looks to the federal government for help is doing.

Dr. King had my respect because he had courage enough to do what he believed in. My only criticism of him lies in the fact that I think he was leading the wrong way. The place for Negroes to be marching is into the ghetto not out of it.

You call it white racism when a store owner stands with a shotgun and guards his store. If I threaten to shoot a Negro looter, I'm branded a white racist (my saying a Negro is smart enough and capable of taking care of himself and that I don't intend to help will probably be called white racism). The fact of the matter is I'm tired of the long hours of work it took to build my business. The two jobs my wife held to make ends meet, the bologna sandwiches twice a day. The reasons I want to protect what I've earned is as far from racism as you can get.

I find it hard to believe my ears when I hear talk about this problem being solved with millions of dollars in doles. That the answer lies in the federal government. What are we doing? If they carry out the present demands, we are going to have a race of people as permanent wards of the government. You won't be able to see it, but on the back of every Negro will be a stamp "Property of the U. S. Government".

I don't think it's possible to belittle a man more than to make him a "kept animal."

I don't feel guilty because of what I've earned, because I worked long hours to achieve it. I feel pride of my accomplishments as a man. What else is there in life? What makes the people of Manchester work to put on a centennial, to fix up their store or business, to pay extra taxes for a park? It's pride of accomplishment. It can't be given, but I believe Negroes have the same feelings.

The mistake they make and we make is not letting, even forcing them to achieve for themselves. As far as I'm concerned, the less government intervention the better. All they need to concern themselves with is protecting individual rights. They haven't had the courage to do that for years. I hope they start before these "enslavement policies" are enacted and we destroy the Negro as a man.

FALSE HOPES OF HEAVEN

by Rev. Ralph Janofski of Iron Creek Community Church

"The Sermon on the Mount" recorded in the book of Matthew, is often interpreted as purely a social gospel which fails to recognize that God has provided salvation for lost mankind through the great price and sacrifice of Himself through His Son, Jesus Christ, on the cross. The following statement by Jesus gives us two ways in which man may go. One leads to everlasting life and the other to everlasting torment and hell. He said, "Enter ye in at the strait gate, for wide is the gate and broad is the way which leads to destruction and many there be which go in theret; because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it." Matt. 7:13, 14.

We understand that most people are on the Broad Way that leadeth to destruction; while the few have found the "strait and narrow way." It is lamentable that many false prophets have propagated false hopes of heaven and many people among the churches have received this false hope. Jesus warned in the following verse of those who would come in "sheep's clothing" but inwardly they were ravening wolves. We would like to speak of some of these "false hopes."

First, some believe their church or church membership will get them to Heaven. Though I believe in the church and appreciate the more intimate fellowship of the Christians in the local church, I strongly declare that becoming a member of my church, or any local church, does not make one a Christian.

Second, many people depend on sincerity as their hope of Heaven. It is true to say, they are sincerely wrong. Men in all ages have been sincere in one thing or another. The man, Saul of Tarsus, was sincere in fighting against those who were Christians in the early church - but when he had an experience of meeting Christ on the road to Damascus he turned right about face and became a true believer in the One who showed him the Way, the Truth and the Life.

Third, there are those who trust in their good works, which in God's sight are filthy rags. Can we hope to earn our way to Heaven by offering some kind deeds or act of benevolence? Surely if man could merit God's favor and an entrance into the Pearly Gates, God would not have made the supreme sacrifice of the death of His Son on the cruel cross. We may have a robe of righteousness only by trusting in the shed blood of Christ, this being the requirement for admission into Heaven.

There are many forms of deception. In one of the great art museums there is a famous bronze horse, long considered to be a masterpiece of the ancient Greek art and dates back to an estimated 470 B. C. Recently it has been discovered by examination to be a fake. Deceivers can produce a nearly perfect duplicate of the genuine. We find deception in almost every phase of life, but none are so serious as in religious and spiritual areas. To accept a sham or stake our hope of Eternal Life in any form of deception is nothing short of a tragedy without remedy.

There is One God and Mediator between God and man, the Man Christ Jesus. I Tim. 2:5, and when we place a personal faith in a personal Savior He will save us and give us assurance of salvation. Don't be deceived by false prophets who offer fake hopes to lost sinners. Receive Jesus Christ by faith for "There is no other Name under Heaven, given among men, whereby we must be saved." Acts 4:12.

FARM NEWS

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

"MYTH OF FERTILITY"

Those persons who call for dramatic cutbacks in the use of farm chemicals to avoid potential soil, air and water pollution, may have fallen for what has been called "the myth of fertility."

Further, even though most soil may be coaxed into some form of fertility by the best of handling practices, it does not necessarily follow that such modest methods will be good enough to feed our growing world population.

"Virgin" lands have no special virtue, and whether the wind-blown steppes of Russia or the rain-forests of Africa, they may be more barren than soil under intense cultivation for centuries.

the hard way when he and his agricultural "experts" placed so much confidence in expanding Russian food production through the Siberian virgin-lands program. Fertility or its lack links into dozens of soil-management problems. In Australia as one example, lack of fertility has caused scant ground-cover over large areas, and this cover is easily eroded by wind and rain.

But hardest of all to understand is that jungle rain-forests do not necessarily build the soil, that cleared jungle more often than not proves to be disappointing farmland and must be supplemented at once with chemical fertilizer before it will produce.

Food production remains the most challenging crisis of the century. It is a challenge that must be met by a free agriculture free to use modern farm machinery, chemicals and know-how.

Rogers Corners Farm Bureau will meet Friday, May 10 at 8:00 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Horning on Waldo Road, Manchester.

1967 WOOL PAYMENTS IN MICHIGAN

Payments to Michigan wool and lamb producers under the 1967 National Wool Program have now been completed. This was announced today by Frank Light, Chairman of the Michigan ASC State Committee.

As of April 30, 1968, Michigan producers who sold wool during 1967 had received $465,901 and lamb producers who sold unshorn lambs during the past year received $94,200 in incentive payments. This represents a total of $560,101 in wool payments for 1967.

Michigan wool and lamb producers contributed $37,302 to the National Sheep Producers Council for advertising and promotion of wool and lamb products. This contribution was deducted from each producer's earned incentive payment at the rate of 1 1/2 cents per pound for each pound of wool sold and 7 1/2 cents for each 100 pounds of lambs sold.

Mr. Light also reminded producers of the continuing need to keep complete records of their sales of wool and lambs and to report their purchases of unshorn lambs when filing applications for incentive payments during 1968.

The 1968 support price for wool, announced last June, is 67 cents per pound. This is 1 cent per pound higher than the support price for 1967.

The Wool Payment Program was first authorized by the National Wool Act of 1954. It was extended by the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965 to cover marketing through December 31, 1969.

HORSE SHOW SCHEDULED

The ninth annual Ann Arbor Horse Show will take place on May 25 and 26 at the Farm Council Grounds which is located about four miles southwest of Ann Arbor on Ann Arbor-Saline Road. The two-day sport event, which is sponsored by the Hawthorne Hills Riding Club of Ann Arbor, attracted 150 entrants last year and drew exhibitors from not only much of southeastern Michigan, but from Ohio and Indiana as well.

The show will begin Saturday, May 25 at 1:00 p.m., continue through Saturday evening, and resume Sunday at 10:00 a.m. The Saturday afternoon schedule includes equitation classes for all ages on the flat and over fences. The evening program, containing all jumping events, is held in the ring under lights and begins at 7:30. Sunday will be devoted to hunter classes, many of them to be run over the eight-acre outside course.

Food can be bought on the grounds. There will be a tack shop available for those wishing to browse or buy. All those who love horses or are seeking an exciting way to spend a weekend are invited to attend. Admission is $1.00. Children under twelve will be admitted free. The proceeds will benefit the United States Equestrian Team which competes this year in the Summer Olympics at Mexico City.

NOMINATIONS DUE FOR GOVERNOR'S AWARD

Deadline for nominations for the Governor's Award for outstanding work selling and promoting Michigan is being extended to Monday, May 13, Harold Schumacher, chairman of the Michigan Minuteman state committee, announces.

The Governor's Award will be presented by Gov. Romney during Michigan Week, May 19-25, to 50 individuals selected by a panel of judges from hundreds nominated by state associations and local governing bodies for extraordinary service to the state as Michigan Minutemen, citizens who habitually take a minute to talk up Michigan when meeting visitors to Michigan or when traveling outside the state.

Individuals are nominated for the Governor's Award by receiving Michigan Minuteman citations from state associations or from county boards of supervisors or city or village councils. Local Michigan Week committees are usually relied upon by the local governing bodies to recommend citizens who have earned citations for their state promotion efforts. The state committee emphasizes that promoting one's own community is promoting Michigan.

Nominations for the Governor's Award were supposed to be in by the end of April. Chairman Schumacher, who is manager of the Michigan Retail Hardware Association, moved the deadline to May 13 upon appeal from several state associations that they needed more time to get agreement of officers or committees on members to be honored.

Rules call for names of those being cited to be sent, with supporting data, to the Michigan Minuteman committee at the state office of Michigan Week, 809 Center St., Lansing 48905. Citation certificates are then prepared and mailed to the association or local governing body to be signed and presented, and the information on what the individuals did for Michigan is turned over to the Governor's Award judging panel.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Since I do not choose to run for a third term on the Manchester Board of Education, I wish to thank the voters of the district for the support and cooperation I have received during the past eight years. Many difficult decisions have had to be made in this time and many more will have to be made in the future. I have enjoyed working with each member of the board and administration. It is only after having served on the School Board that one realizes the problems that face an administration and knows the effort that is made to serve the community to their best ability.

With the backing and understanding of our citizens, I am sure the Board will continue to provide quality education.

logical that the government should be willing to cutback an equal amount or more -- something that appears highly unlikely.

"While our efforts last year were successful in cutting $5.8 billion from the President's appropriation requests, much more remains to be done. By establishing spending priorities and enacting reasonable reductions to non-essential areas, Congress can effectively combat inflation without jeopardizing needed social programs and our military obligations. Surely we cannot hide from the problems of our cities, but neither can we continue high expenditures on all fronts.

Until a sensible approach to spending control is put into motion, the surtax scheme is not worthy of consideration. And even if Congress was to accept its responsibility to move in the direction of significant reductions, further assurances must be made that new revenue from a surtax would be applied against the mounting federal deficit rather than be used for additional inflationary spending. Only in this way are we going to show the world that we are sincere in our desire to protect the value of the dollar.

Putting our national fiscal house in order requires something other than another piece of patchwork on a structure which is already decadent and mismanaged. Unless government spending is dramatically reduced, the cost of living may reach the moon before our astronauts.

The reason for this overwhelming citizen disapproval is clear to me. The people have realized something that government is unwilling to admit -- that is the fact that the present fiscal mess in this country has been brought on by the fiscal mismanagement of the federal government. Further, in the light of this fact, the taxpayers do not feel it is their responsibility to bail out the government, nor do I.

With the surtax proposal coming closer to a vote in the House each day, my position remains the same. First, I am not convinced that this additional taxation will save us from what the Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board called "the worst financial crisis that we've had since 1931." Second, if the government which brought on the crisis is asking $10 million to bail it out, it seems only

HELMET LAW OVERTURNED

The Michigan Court of Appeals this week declared unconstitutional the 1966 law requiring motorcyclists to wear protective helmets. The three-judge panel said the law could lead to "unlimited paternalism", holding an individual could not be forced to protect himself. Agreeing the Legislature has power to protect citizens from each other, the court said of the 1966 law "the difficulty in adopting this as a basis for decision is that it would justify a requirement that automobile drivers wear helmets or buckle their seat belts for their own protection." An appeal to the Supreme Court is possible. The Appeals Court decision, overturning an Ingham County Circuit Court decision in favor of the State Police, presumably will mean the death of two other motorcycle protective bills now being considered in the Legislature. One would require motorcycle passengers to wear helmets and the other would require protective windshields or face guards for cyclists.

SCHOOL REPORT by Robert Swartz

At the annual school election to be held on Monday, June 10, 1968 the people of the Manchester School District will be asked to vote on additional millage to be used for operating purposes by the school district. Over the past several years the board has requested and received five (5) mills of extra voted millage for operational purposes. Because of rising costs, the need to improve the teachers' salary schedule, and a new elementary building to be occupied in November, it has been necessary for the board of education to increase their request from the five extra mills to nine and one-half (9 1/2) mills. This is an increase of four and one-half (4 1/2) mills over last year's request. Four and one-half mills will bring approximately $90,000.00 to the district. A total of approximately $117,000.00 more is needed to operate the 1968-69 budget than was needed this current year. The balance of some $27,000.00 will be forthcoming from the state in the form of improved state aid. Below is a breakdown on the proposed expenditure of these additional funds:

1968-69 IMPROVED OR INCREASED COSTS OVER THE 1967-68 BUDGET

ELEMENTARY INSTRUCTION:	$60,502.00	51.6%
Salary increases, extra teachers, materials and supplies
SECONDARY INSTRUCTION:	22,299.00	19.0%
Salary increases, materials and supplies
SPECIAL ED. INSTRUCTION:	4,450.00	3.8%
TOTAL INSTRUCTION INCREASE	$87,251.00	74.4%
ADMINISTRATION:	$ 3,800.00	3.2%
Salary increases for administration and clerical, increased audit expenses, and materials
TRANSPORTATION:	4,700.00	4.0%
Bus driver's salary increases, new bus and expenses
OPERATION OF PLANT:	14,700.00	12.5%
Additional custodian, increased costs of custodial materials and utilities for new building, etc.
MAINTENANCE OF PLANT:	3,300.00	2.8%

FIXED CHARGES:	2,600.00	2.2%
Increased insurance costs, interest, etc.
SUMMER SCHOOL:	1,000.00	.9%
Driver Education, Summer Band, Remedial Reading and Math
	$117,351.00	100.0%

The above figures do not represent the total costs in the areas indicated, rather the improvements necessary to maintain the program and within the $117,351.00 necessary increase.

Each week from now on until the annual election information relative to the school budget and the need for operation millage will be printed in the Manchester Enterprise and the school's Report Card. Below are listed a few of the questions being raised about the millage request.

Q. What is the total proposed millage and the breakdown? A. The total amount of the proposed school millage for the 1968-69 school year is 25.97 mills.

Allocated or fixed millage from county	11.22
Proposed extra voted operations	9.50
TOTAL OPERATIONAL MILLAGE	20.72
1958 Debt: Nellie Ackerson Addition	1.30
1966 Debt: High School Addition	2.00
1967 Debt: New Elementary	1.95
TOTAL MILLAGE	25.97

Q. How does this total school levy compare with neighboring districts? Total millage levied during the 1967-68 school year in neighboring districts is indicated below.

	Fixed Allocation	Extra Voted	Debt Retirement	Total
Ann Arbor	11.22	9.78	4.88	25.88

MICHIGAN LEGISLATIVE REPORT - Thomas C. Sharpe

For some time now, I have been deeply concerned about the alarming increase in welfare costs. Michigan has enjoyed six years of record-breaking economic growth, of unprecedented prosperity. Yet through those same six years, the total welfare costs in Michigan have shown an overwhelming increase of more than 125%, rising from $183,241,416 to $413,173,940.

The most puzzling aspect of this alarming picture is the incredible growth in the Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) caseload throughout the last 10 months. During this period, there has been an increase of 9,500 cases - from 38,500 to 48,000. Each ADC case costs an average of $185 each month.

Why has this surprising and expensive increase occurred during a period of continuing high employment? I have been asking myself that question repeatedly, and I have been seeking out and putting together the essential pieces of information involved in this puzzle.

I have the answer, and I don't like it! The fact is that this troublesome situation can be attributed directly to the federal government's Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), one of the so-called "Great Society" programs.

The federal army of OEO employees has been referring increasing numbers of people to Michigan's Social Services offices to be placed on the ADC program. These are people who getting along without public hand-outs, but are technically eligible for aid under the standards that have been imposed on our state by Washington.

This is a strange situation. The OEO is actually spending your federal tax dollars to recruit welfare cases. By so doing they are causing an expense that Michigan taxpayers can ill afford. A look at the price-tags of some of the more costly current programs will readily show why:

Old Age Assistance fell from $58,954,400 in 1967-68 down to $33,214,835 in 1968-69. Aid to Disabled from $17,726,792 up to $19,209,252; Hospital Care from $42,000,000 up to $50,500,000; Medicaid (Nursing Home Care) from $82,000,000 up to $86,400,000; Physicians 10

DUTCHMEN WINLESS LAST WEEK

The Dutchmen lost both of their games last week. The loss to Clinton was a hard one to take. The Dutch had gone ahead in the sixth inning 4 to 2 only to have Clinton come right back to tie it in the bottom of the sixth and then go on to win it in the final inning 5-4.

Rick Lowery's hit in the first inning started a two-run rally for the Dutch. Freight Train Mike Stockwell drove home two runs in the sixth with his base hit.

The Columbia-Central game was all Columbia-Central for their pitcher, Larry Allen set twelve Dutchmen down on strikes. The Dutch did not hit them 4 to 3 but they made six errors. The final score was 5 to 0 for Columbia.

The Dutchmen will play Whitmore Lake this Thursday at Whitmore Lake. Then next Monday and Thursday, the games are here. Monday against Novi and Thursday against Grass Lake.

All games start at 4:00 p.m. Go Get 'Em Dutch!!!!

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

Services from $11,000,000 up to $1,000,000; and Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) from $98,088,000 up to $105,130,755.

As can be seen from the above figure, the Medicaid program is also a major factor in the skyrocketing costs of welfare. Yet this is the program, it may be recalled, that was sold to the public under the pretense that it would be financed solely by Social Security.

I played an active part in the recent investigation of Detroit's "Total Action Against Poverty" or TAP program, when it was learned that only about 15% of the money was going to poor people. The rest went for "administration" -- which clearly included such functions as recruiting welfare cases to add to the already critical burden on the Michigan taxpayer.

This coming fall is a most certain to see further difficulties in many school districts, with teachers' negotiations for higher salaries unresolved and a taxpayer rebellion becoming ever more evident as one millage request after another has been turned down throughout the state. The inevitable result of the current trend will be that school districts and other local units of government will be turning to Lansing ever more frequently and insistently for financial help. When all these factors are considered, I can clearly foresee grave fiscal problems ahead for the State of Michigan.

I am certainly not advocating, as a solution, that welfare help be denied those who really need it. I recognize the fact that there are many deserving mothers on the ADC rolls who are keeping their families together and raising their children at less cost to the state than would be the case should such families disintegrate, with the expense of foster-home care then resulting.

I am advocating, however, that we find some means of separating those who really need help from those who are just riding the welfare train. This latter group needs to be identified, located, and dropped off at the next station.

If things seem unbearable, did you ever stop to think maybe you're the bear.

The people to get even with are those who help you. Don't be disturbed by persons who do nothing but criticize people who get things done.

clear any suspicion of taint from the many honest and sincere people who take part in political activity," he said.

Under the proposed law, the limit on a candidate's expenditures would be raised from $40 to $100 per 1,000 votes cast for president in the last national election. But the law also would make this sum the limit for any candidate and his campaign committees combined.

It would also make the candidate personally responsible for all spending, including the spending of funds collected by sources outside the state.

There would be no solicitation of funds or spending, except by the candidate himself, his own committees or the state central and county committees. And each of a candidate's committees would be authorized to function only by the candidate himself, who also would be responsible for their accounting.

The candidate and the authorized treasurers of his committees would be required to make sworn statements as to disbursements before the primary or general election and after same and to make annual reports even in non-election years.

In a further major change, candidates would be required to make annual disclosures of his net worth and all income - a step designed to prevent candidates from using political funds collected in their behalf for personal use. This would forestall scandals such as that in which Senator Thomas Dodd, of Connecticut, was censured by the United States Senate.

The new law also would prevent corporations from contributing money for campaign purposes, put a limit of $5,000 (as in the Federal Hatch Act) on contributions of any individual, prohibit anonymous contributions of more than $5 (with excessive amounts going to the state general fund) and give the Secretary of State subpoena power to determine the validity of campaign spending reports.

"We need all these things in this day of big spending -- or we need more Abraham Lincolns," Hare observed. "When Lincoln ran for Congress in 1846, friends collected a campaign fund of $200. Lincoln spent 75 cents for a barrel of cider to treat farm constituents and returned $199.25.

Township Brings Suit Against "Night Hawks"

On Monday, May 20, Manchester Township, represented by attorney, Stanton Roesch, will bring forth in the legal courts of Washtenaw County a public health violation, public nuisance and disturbing the peace charges against the Hunon Valley Night Hawks, a motorcycle club which owns property in the southwest corner of Manchester Township.

The Night Hawks have been charged with violating the health laws concerning the serving of food to the public in a partially completed building without a roof, cover or screens within several feet of an open latrine according to supervisor Clayton Parr. When warned several times by the Washtenaw County Board of Health, the club would promise to comply with the laws but there appears to be no change in conditions at the site.

Also Manchester Township charges that the Night Hawk motorcycle club has become a public nuisance and are disturbing the peace to the point that the township board feel they must take the necessary action to file an injunction against them to refrain the motorcycle club from using the property for motorcycle events and other such activity.

The original suit against the Night Hawks also involved a violation of zoning. This ran into difficulty when Mr. Clan Crawford, legal counsel for the Night Hawks challenged the validity of the township zoning ordinance as the following court stipulation states:

"Now come the parties hereto by these attorneys and stipulate: "1. That they file herewith a stipulation of facts pertaining to the adoption of a zoning ordinance by the township of Manchester plaintiff herein.

"2. That based on the facts set forth in said stipulation, the court shall determine whether the plaintiff township herein validly adopted a zoning ordinance so that the same is now in full force and effect.

"3. That if the court determines plaintiff township does not have a valid township ordinance now in full force and effect, the question of violation of said zoning ordinance by the defendants herein shall be dismissed and considered not a part of the lawsuit and the issues in said lawsuit on trial shall be limited to whether defendants conduct as alleged by plaintiff constitutes a public nuisance in accordance with the statutes in such case provided."

Although the charges involved apply more directly to a public health violation and disturbing of the peace; if the zoning ordinance should be challenged, only the decision of the trial judge could uphold or deny its validity.

The chances of the validity of the ordinance being on trial is lessened somewhat as this latest court record states:

"The 'Stipulation of Facts' as to the passage and recording of the zoning ordinance has been submitted by the court, and the court has examined the stipulation and read the brief filed by Mr. Crawford, and also the brief filed by Mr. Roesch, and that matter will be taken under advisement while we consider the matter of law set forth therein.

"The plaintiff is withdrawing his claim against the defendant alleging that the defendant violated the zoning ordinance of the township of Manchester, and the case will proceed only on the allegations of public nuisance upon which plaintiff is asking for an injunction.

"The court has indicated to counsel that after examining the briefs and stipulations of facts as to the condition of the records, and publication of the zoning ordinance is that there is a serious question as to the validity of the ordinance, but in view of the fact that plaintiff is not proceeding on the claimed ordinance violation, it will not be necessary for the court at this time to decide as to the validity of the ordinance.

Manchester Township isn't the only township with a possible problem in its zoning ordinance. Several neighboring townships - also adopted much the same ordinance under the guidance of the Washtenaw County Planning Commission several years ago.

Along with "questionable" adoption, the townships have often been lax in enforcement, as their policy on house trailers shows. One township permits one house trailer per dwelling if sewage, water and the public facilities are approved by the Washtenaw County Board of Health. Although the owners must renew the permits yearly, there is no definite time limit on how long the trailer may remain on the property.

Another township permits house trailers for a limited time but special consideration is made in hardship cases such as the completion of a house.

A third township allows house trailers for an indefinite period of time, permits renewable yearly, as long as there is no harm or complaints by local residents and again the Board of Health approves the facilities. But the township board can change their mind about the particular house trailer from year to year.

In Manchester township, with much the same zoning ordinance, the house trailer policy has not been enforced and this never challenged. As in several townships, violations are "overlooked" in preference to strict enforcement of zoning policy. The question remains as to which township will get the validity of its ordinance challenged first.

In the pending case, zoning may not be the issue. However, the consequences of lax adoption and enforcement may soon become the main topic of several townships in the area.

The motorcycle club is asking for a return of $300.00 which was paid to the township in special permit fees. They also are asking for payment of court costs.

This trial is open to the public.

The fire departments will destroy the building with controlled fire-fighting techniques that will pose no problems or threats to the other buildings in its vicinity.

Five Running For School Board

There will be five names and a proposed millage increase on the school election ballot Monday, June 10.

The increase of 4 1/2 mills will be used for increased costs of operating the new elementary school on Ann Arbor Street and increased teachers' salaries. A public meeting on the proposed millage increase will be held at 8:00 p. m., Monday, June 3, at the high school auditorium. All residents of the school district are invited to attend.

The five candidates for the two empty seats on the school board are Carl Pedersen (incumbent), Glenn Lehr, Rita Limpert, Andrew Luckhardt, and Donna Gill.

Carl Pedersen, who has served one four-year term on the board, owns a farm at 13560 Schleweis Rd. and also serves as a mail carrier. He has resided in the Manchester district 15 years and has two daughters, Sue and Carol, both of whom graduated from Manchester High.

Glenn Lehr, 1922 Sandborn, received his degree in dentistry from the University of Michigan and plans to open his new office on Territorial Rd. in July. The Lehrs have lived in Manchester four years and have two sons in elementary school and a pre-school daughter.

Rita Limpert and her husband, Don, have resided in Manchester five years and have four children, Bruce, Denise, Ryan, and Scott. Denise will graduate from college this spring and Ryan and Scott both attend Manchester Schools. The Limperts own D. E. Limpert Construction Co. and the Manchester Cracker Barrel where Mrs. Limpert often works as a hobby.

Andrew Luckhardt owns a farm at 13130 Luckhardt Rd. and has four children; Wayne, 18, Gary, 15, Russel, 12, and Judy, 9. He has lived in Manchester all his life.

Donna Gill and her husband Irvin own the Gambles store in Manchester. Mrs. Gill has lived in Manchester all her life and has a daughter, Kim Ann, in elementary school.

Willis Uphaus, who has served on the school board eight years, is not running for re-election this year.

He who can bottle up a little sunshine for a rainy day is a corker.

Planning Commission OK's Two Requests

At last month's regular Planning Commission meeting, members discussed a variance set back for an office building on Hibbard Street. The Commission after a lengthy discussion recommended to council that the variance be granted.

This is a new building proposed by the D. E. Limpert Co. It will be located on the corner of Hibbard and Duncan.

Also before the Commission was a request by council that members study a proposal that would close Duncan Street near the east village limits and relocate traffic down the abandoned railroad property. This section was the issue of controversy when D. E. Limpert Co. requested they be allowed to purchase that section of railroad property which crossed their proposed industrial site. After some discussion and the recommendation of Villcan-Leeman, the commission voted to recommend to council that they abandon Duncan at the time the railroad property is ready to be used as a road. The council's representative stated that he would like to see the project done this summer so that work could start on the industrial site.

A preliminary survey has been taken and a cost of $800 was given to grade the right-of-way to become a street. D. E. Limpert was asked if this would allow him to build his industrial site. He said he thought it would as he needed a certain amount of usable space to make the project financially feasible.

Both recommendations were reported to council by letter.
