Pretzels Anyone?

Dick Way's "Swan Song" or "Piece de Resistance" is the giant German Pretzels shown above. These were the last things to be baked in the bakery ovens which were turned off Saturday for the first time in 37 years.

We would like to take this opportunity to wish Dick and his family best of luck and success in their new ventures. I'm sure that everyone in the community will echo this sentiment, and will miss all of the "goodies" that have fed our "sweet tooth" over the years.

Donna is President and Executive Secretary of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce and has been Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Boat Race. She helps plan the Community Christmas Party for the children of the area and is also a past Cadette Troop Leader of the Girl Scouts. She was a member of the Committee which planned Manchester Day and the bridge dedication.

Donna was awarded the Outstanding Service Award by the Jaycees -- the first time this award has ever been given to a woman.

MARV ESCH

Congressman Marvin L. Esch (R-Michigan) said today that he was increasingly optimistic about the chances for approval of a two-year Monitoring Program of the River Raisin. The program would be undertaken by Environmental Research Associated, Inc. on a five mile length of the River from the western city limits of Monroe to Lake Erie. "The proposal will include a continuous automated monitoring program, 24 hours a day, for three selective weeks. Weekly samples will also be taken at six sampling points along the River," said Esch.

"In addition," continued Esch, "two critical sampling areas will be included in the project. The Municipal Sewage Treatment Plant will be one of these areas so that sampling above and below that plant will be most important. The second critical area of sampling will study the effect of major water usage by the Fossil Fuel Power Plant which is to go on stream initially for 25% production."

Congressman Esch who has pushed on a number of environmental projects in Monroe County said he was hopeful that the Environmental Protection Agency would approve this proposal. "This is a program," said Esch, "that will clearly be of great environmental value for the Monroe area. Further, it is a program which will be administered by a group that has the necessary expertise to carry it to a successful completion. I am hopeful that EPA will recognize these important factors and give it expeditious approval to the proposal."

Esch said the proposal has already been given the go-ahead from the Chicago regional office and is in Washington. The site for the study would be the Environmental Research Center, located on the River where it empties into Lake Erie. In addition to the professional and technological staff at the center, continuous guidance, direction and study is provided by the staff at Monroe County Community College.

Flood Relief Goal Exceeded By Red Cross

At its Executive Committee Meeting Tuesday, July 25th the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross announced exceeding its goal in the month long campaign to raise $15,666 for Hurricane Agnes Flood Relief.

David Parkes, Chairman of the Board, announced that the Chapter has received $15,598.25 as of July 25th. The largest single gift was $5,000 received from the Green Hills Foundation and gifts ranged from a few cents from individual givers to $1,000 from the Saline Area United Fund and $500 from the Chelsea Community Chest. Mr. Parkes said that he was most gratified in the response of the citizens of Washtenaw County showing their concern for fellow citizens in as far away places as Rapid City, South Dakota and Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania.

Nationwide the Red Cross has already spent $14,000,000 for emergency relief to help families and continue to operate shelters, housing thousands of people in the Pennsylvania area.

Before busing...the auto excise tax... pollution...and tax reform were popular issues:

Our Man in Washington Was One Step Ahead

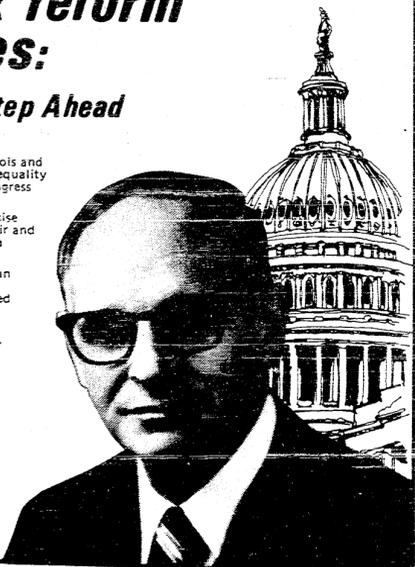

"I have never favored forced busing to achieve racial balance in our schools and that I feel we all must share, and my votes on civil rights legislation in the Congress make this very clear.

The very first bill I introduced in the Congress was to repeal the automobile excise tax. This was my first campaign piece. Last year, we finally repealed this unfair and discriminatory tax. I am proud to have led and won this fight, for this has been a great boost for the economy, for employment, for consumers, and for Michigan.

Long before Earth Day 1970 I had voted for Federal Water Pollution Control, Clean Air Act Amendments, the Clean Water Restoration Act, and the Air Quality Act. Since then, I have voted for more than a dozen major environmental bills, and helped secure over a million dollars of federal funds for M.S.U. for environmental research.

As a member of the House Ways and Means Committee, I helped to shape the Tax Reform Act of 1969. It reduced individual income taxes by $13 billion while increasing corporate taxes by $5 billion. But still more must be done. For example, right now I feel there's an urgent need to provide property tax relief."

4-H'ers Think...Drink Milk

Milk, cheese and other dairy products are among the most popular and basic foods in our diet. We use dairy products as beverages and appetizers, in baked foods and desserts; in entrees and salads. Yet many people don't get the three or four servings of milk or their equivalent, that nutritionists of the Extension Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, say is the minimum amount of milk or milk products needed daily.

However, there are some people, young people, who not only eat and drink more than a minimum amount of dairy products, but who go into their communities and spread the good word about dairy foods. They are the 655,000 boys and girls enrolled in the National 4-H dairy foods program, sponsored for 25 years by the Carnation Company.

The 4-H members enrolled in the program learn how milk and milk products are produced and a lot more about their nutritional value.

They demonstrate many appetizing ways to enjoy an unlimited variety of dairy products ranging from milk, fresh, powdered, fat-free and evaporated; to cheeses, sour cream, yogurt and ice cream. The 4-H'ers also hit hard for good nutrition.

And to encourage youth participation and recognize their achievements, the Carnation Company provides awards to 4-H'ers who excel in the 4-H dairy foods program at county, state and national levels.

Four gold-plated medals of honor are awarded to county winners. The state winner receives an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 26-30. And at special ceremonies six national winners received $700 educational scholarships. All winners are selected by the Cooperative Extension Service.

For more information about the 4-H Dairy Foods program, contact the county extension office.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

So far, Michigan consumers have been protected from having the quality of the meat they buy lowered. For some time, Michigan has had a law which contains stricter ingredient standards for comminuted meats than the federal law provides.

Recently, the U.S. House Agricultural Committee considered an amendment to a bill which would, in effect, force Michigan to lower its high standards of quality in packaging various meat products such as hot dogs, sausage, bologna, etc. to conform to lower federal standards.

After a strong protest from farmers, meat industry officials, Farm Bureau representatives, state officials and consumers the House committee rejected the proposed amendment. But, the battle is not won.

Strong opposition to our state's position is expected when the bill comes to the House floor. Opponents contend that our higher standards impose a problem for the meat industry in trying to meet varying regulations. Many meat packers want uniform standards. Why shouldn't Congress consider the higher Michigan standards when studying a basis for national meat inspection uniformity?

Michigan consumers are disturbed about this attempt by the federal government to dictate standards for states. They are also upset over having their meat quality diluted. After all, they are the ones who eat the meat.

The question is a variance of the "age-old" one of federal supremacy and states rights.

Congress must realize that Michigan consumers, or those of any other state for that matter, have a right to stricter meat standards if they desire them. In recent months this right has been upheld in court twice.

SHOOTING STARS

The Perseids - a shower of meteors that appears annually - will flash across the evening skies of August, notes University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

She says these bright "shooting stars" will reach a peak of about 70 per hour around Aug. 11. The iron or stone meteors, which burn up when they enter the earth's atmosphere at high speeds, grow more numerous with the approaching dawn.

The U-M astronomer says the meteors are believed to be debris spread out along the orbit of a comet and they appear to radiate from a point in the constellation Perseus in the northeast. Although the shooting stars' paths may seem divergent, Prof. Losh notes, they actually move along parallel lines. The meteors can glow as brightly as the North Star upon hitting our atmosphere, she adds, but they are probably no larger than the head of a pin.

August constellations include Aquila the eagle, in the eastern portion of the Milky Way, Prof. Losh notes. Aquila contains the conspicuous star Altair, easily identified by two attendant stars. With Altair in the middle, the three stars form a striking line, Prof. Losh says.

Near the zenith is the constellation Cygnus, the swan. Also known as the Northern Cross, Cygnus seems to be flying west through the Milky Way, the U-M astronomer notes.

Venus continues as a morning planet and will reach its greatest angular distance from the sun on the 27th, Prof. Losh says. After that, the planet will draw closer to the sun. Jupiter will be found well above the southern horizon in the early evening.

By the end of the month, our day will have lost two hours from the June high of 15. Even at the beginning of the month, Prof. Losh says, a marked decrease in the daylight hours will be visible.

One of summer's most delicious treats is fresh Michigan sweet corn, luscious and yellow, dripping with butter and splashed with salt. That's real eating! And Michigan produced 73.5 million pounds of sweet corn in 1971, valued at $3,381,000. We rank sixth among the states.

Now open to the public for tours is majestic Meadow Brook Hall, former home of Matilda R. Wilson, widow of automobile pioneer, John F. Dodge. Entering Meadow Brook Hall is like turning the clock back to a bygone era. Quiet, spacious, splendidly furnished--an aura of elegance engulfs this grand manor house of a hundred rooms. The old mansion, steeped in culture, mellowed with graciousness is on the same estate with Oakland University, near Rochester, Michigan--only a 45-minute drive from the city of Detroit, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Colon is a small, southwestern Michigan town with a population of slightly more than 1,000 perfectly normal people. . . for 361 days a year. For the other four days it's a scene of one illusion after another. Colon is the home of Abbot Magic Company and the great Blackstone was one of its illustrious citizens. It is known as the magic capital of the world and for those four unbelievable days in August, magicians from the world over gather to swap tricks and entertain the public, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Leave your pet bird at home if you're traveling to southern California, western Arizona or abroad this summer, advises Michigan State University pathologist Dr. E. S. Weisner.

Mynah birds, parrots, parakeets and other birds of the parrot family are temporarily banned from the United States because they might carry exotic Newcastle disease, an ailment fatal to pet birds and poultry.

The disease, which does not harm humans, has taken a heavy toll of poultry in California since last August, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Dr. Weisner explains.

Quarantines for exotic Newcastle have been placed on eight southern California counties and two counties in western Arizona. Though you can take your pet bird into quarantined areas, you cannot bring it back out.

The United States Department of Agriculture reports that about 42 million healthy poultry have been vaccinated and more than three million infected birds destroyed in an effort to eradicate the disease.

Before busing was an issue: Our Man in Washington Was One Step Ahead. I have never favored forced busing to achieve racial balance in our schools and voted against it as far back as 1964. I have always supported the goal of equality that I feel we all must share, and my votes on civil rights legislation in the Congress make this very clear. We need Congressman Charles E. Chamberlain

Luther C. Klager Board President

At the annual reorganization meeting of the Board of Education held July 10, 1972 Luther C. Klager was re-elected President, Louis Vogel was re-elected Treasurer and Andrew Luckhardt was elected to serve as Secretary. Harold J. (Jim) Walkow was seated as a newly elected member.

The Board designated the second Monday of each month as the regular Board meeting session. The Board meets in the High School Library at 8:00 P.M.

In other business the Board designated the Union Savings Bank as the depository for school district funds.

Superintendent Swartz reported that the June Financial Report was not ready for this meeting. The auditor is to present this week and copies of said report to be sent out at a later date. The board also reviewed the bills for payment and approved them as presented.

There were no communications or unfinished business.

Under new business a student and athletic insurance proposal was presented for discussion. After due consideration, Eugene Bentschneider moved that the insurance coverage remain as is. This motion was supported by Reno Feldkamp and unanimously approved.

Chester Kocesk, High School Principal, presented an Attendance and Tardiness Policy and after some discussion it was moved by Eugene Bentschneider, supported by Louis Vogel, that the Board of Education adopt said policy for implementation. Carried.

Superintendent Swartz reported that a request had been received from the Auxiliary Police Department requesting an additional $100 over the previous contribution of $300. Said increase was based on the increased activities of the Auxiliary Police Department relative to school activities and services. It was moved by Donald Walter and supported by Reno Feldkamp that the Board of Education contribute $400 to the Manchester Auxiliary Police Department. Motion carried.

Superintendent Swartz presented the preliminary report of the Washtenaw County Career Educational Program and reported that a director for the six outlying school districts would be furnished for one year by the Washtenaw Intermediate School District. Said director to be available to Manchester, Chelsea, Dexter, Whitmore Lake, Saline and Milan on a 50% shared time with the Intermediate School District.

John Kortcan, Athletic Director, presented a report of the past year's athletic activities and his projected budget for the programs for the 1972-73 school year. The report was accepted by the Board of Education and placed on file. The matter of issuing passes for athletic and school events to school personnel and other persons was discussed by the Board of Education. The Board requested the administrators and the athletic director research what other schools are doing in this matter and report to the Board at a subsequent meeting.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:40 p. m.

Ask Senator GRIFFIN

I read in the newspapers that legislation going through Congress will actually force Michigan to lower the standards of our state meat inspection law. This would be ridiculous and a terrible blow to consumers. Can't you do something?

—G. R., Utica

After a recent emergency meeting of the Michigan Congressional delegation, we were able to persuade the House Agriculture Committee to back down on the amendment which would have had that effect. As you know, our state has strict meat inspection requirements that assure Michigan consumers the purest hot dogs and sausage in the country. Since the Federal government pays part of the cost of administering state meat inspection laws some Congressmen were pressing for absolute uniformity among all the states on meat inspection standards. However, as now modified, the legislation would require states to meet minimum federal standards, but it would not penalize a state like Michigan that maintains a higher standard.

Recently, I read about a Congresswoman who was asked to remove her hat while on the floor of the House of Representatives. Can't you wear a hat while you're in the Capitol of the United States?

—M. T., Flint

Wearing a hat while on the floor is against the rules of the House of Representatives—and is under unwritten rules observed by Senators. Until 1837, Members of the House sometimes wore hats while attending sessions of Congress. Like so many others, this practice was inherited from the English Parliament. However, in 1837, the House adopted a rule which prohibits members from covering their heads until after they leave the House chamber. Of course, anyone can wear a hat in areas of the Capitol other than in the legislative chambers.

Delightful Summer Eating

We can't promise there'll be any leftovers after barbecuing a whole turkey, but the eating will be superb! Turkey is never better than when barbecued and on a spit.

The meat itself, so tender it falls from the bone, is delicious served with hot stuffed baked potatoes (these can be prepared ahead of time and heated over the grill), broiled whole tomatoes (put these onto the skewer for the last 20 minutes of cooking), relishes, and chilled melon wedges for dessert. The menu fits perfectly summer's requirements for a good meal — satisfying without being too hearty.

Turkey is ideal for serving in summer. It is not only easy to prepare, but it provides real nutritional boost at a time of rather poor eating. Highest of all meats in protein content, lowest in fat and cholesterol, generous in its amounts of riboflavin and niacin, turkey takes care of some important nutritional needs. Add to these virtues the fact that turkey has remained approximately the same in price for the last 15 years, and it all adds up to turkey's being the homemaker's best summer meat buy!

a home is a blue chip investment

Despite all the talk these days about protecting your dollar, sound investments and hedges against inflation, the purchase of a home is seldom mentioned. Yet, a well-built home in a good neighborhood is one of the best hedges against inflation your money can buy.

In the recent years of inflation, for example, home and land values have more than kept abreast of the general rise in prices.

This means that your home investment puts you considerably ahead of the game financially. Not to mention the pride and pleasure that home ownership can bring you.

There is no reason to believe that this situation will change in the near future. During the 1960's American households increased about one million a year. During the 1970's households will probably increase at an even greater rate; some estimates are as high as 40%.

Ann Arbor Federal Savings helps more people buy homes than all other financial institutions combined. We provide about $50 million in mortgages for home buyers each year.

Happily, home mortgage interest rates are lower than they have been in recent years. Savings deposits are up and the supply of mortgage credit is ample.

When you are ready to turn that dream house into reality, talk to your realtor or builder, and then make your next stop Ann Arbor Federal Savings.

They're golden corn muffins sweetened with honey and flavored with bits of smoky bacon. Served piping hot with honey butter, they're flavorful components of luncheon, supper or brunch menus. You can well afford the few extra moments for seasoning these muffins because they start with a convenient, dependable corn muffin mix.

SUMMERTIME

By C. Chapin

Such a summer!

The weather is strange -- cold, hot, wet -- the countryside is green, green, and lushly rich with the corn coming along fine.

A leisurely drive is a delight to the eye and brings the startling information that a lot of new houses are being built.

While we are taking this drive in the country, please notice that in this mechanized age we live in, with automobiles a necessity, the number of horses is truly astonishing.

Swinging into Sharon, the land rolls and the hills get higher - really one of the loveliest spots in the country. Never have we seen so many rabbits as this year - along the gravel roads whole families of little ones, brown and soft, and when the noise of the car approaches they tum and scurry into the tall grass. It would be interesting to know how the deer population compares with other parts of Michigan, for it seems to us that they are steadily increasing. Sometimes an entire herd will appear, like liquid motion, with a flick of the tail, they can vanish in seconds.

The sheep stand almost motionless on the hillside and seem a part of the landscape.

Fat pigs, sprawled in the dirt, and suddenly a smaller one begins to run and another follows, and the foolish sight brings a chuckle. If they get too near a fence, a dog, like a shot is after them and informs them to get back -- and they do.

ATTENTION ATHLETES

Physicals will be given to all high school and junior high school athletes at 10:00 a.m. Friday, August 18, at the high school gym.
