We are dislocated and mobile and have lost our roots. Common nowadays are divorce, moving about, changing jobs and fat food restaurants. About all we have left of the past are the soap operas shown at times for ma while she does her housework.

The magazines that featured serials went out of business, and the movies and radio serials were replaced by TV, and even they have lost continuity. And in many instances retirees and teenagers have replaced ma as the soap opera audiences while mother went off to work with dad.

But I have noticed that nighttime soap operas have regained the serial adventure. I hope it is a sign of returning social continuity. At least it's a beginning. Maybe the whole family will sit down to breakfast again. Can America be great again? Or at least the American family.

Instant coffee was first introduced by a Japanese chemist in 1901, but it didn't become popular until many years later. Today 20 percent of our coffee comes in freeze dried or spray dried form. This is simply the process of dehydrating liquid coffee into easily dissolved granules or powder.

August seems to be the most popular month for having babies. In 1980 there were some 330,000 births in August, some 5,000 more than in October the runner-up.

There are said to be 600,000 dogs in New York City.

If you will bother to check, you will find that there is a vast difference between the way that Congress treats the "common" man and the way that they treat themselves. For instance it must be very convenient to be able to vote yourself a raise for any amount or any occasion at any time that you are in the mood so to do—not need-as that august body does, but the way in which they communicate with us is far different. For instance, when they outlined Social Security procedure they included a clause stating that whenever a recipient died during the current month no portion of that month's payment be made to the recipient's heirs. If the deceased was unfortunate enough to have passed away on the 29th of the month, for instance, his check for that month was cancelled in its entirety. That action saved the government a bit of money but not a great deal as compared with some of its other fallacies.

Then, when the cost of living factor was inserted, a similar process was used. A slip was sent out with the July checks stating that, in order to simplify the bookkeeping the amount of the check would be rounded off to the even dollar, and when the checks were scrutinized it was found that that meant that the dollar below the previous figure was used, not the highest.

For example if the check was $424.80 the check was "rounded off" to $424.00, a very big savings to the government of 80c—big deal.

But when it came to themselves things were different. For example, recent figures show, help the organization at the Market this year. Contributors are reminded that if they donate baked or canned goods, the article should be identified with their name in accordance with the Department of Health standards.

for example, that a Los Angeles school teacher made $19,300 and paid $3,579 in federal income taxes. Likewise a longshoreman in New York made $27,000 a year but paid $6,272 or 23 percent for his taxes, but if you were a member of Congress you received a $662 salary and paid a very small percentage of it in federal income tax.
 Last year, just before Christmas, Congress snuck a law into being that saved them an average of $10,500 a year. Many Congressmen claim that they are underpaid so instead of voting themselves a raise which they felt would not be popular they decreed that a Congressman could receive $18,000 a year from outside endeavor—speeches, books, etc.—and besides the Senate had already removed the ceiling on these activities. They also voted to allow additional business expenses.
 To add to all this, in January, 1982 they agreed to allow a $75.00 per day sum for every day that Congress was in session except when this was true for five days or more. Last year's schedule would produce $19,200 more from this source. This $75.00 per diem, they said, was because they had to maintain two homes, one in Washington and one in their hometown. An amendment was offered by one misguided Congressman to repeal this allowance but this was speedily defeated.
 So you see, as far as Congress was concerned, it makes a vast difference "whose ox was gored" and we "common" folks are still receiving preferential treatment—preferential in only one direction.

The thing about the White House is that every four or eight years we bring in a raft of amateurs to run the country. Can you imagine what would happen if industry did that best cash fund on the market...

- MONEY AVAILABLE IN 7 DAYS OR LESS
- WEEKLY MARKET RATE BASED ON U.S. TREASURY BILLS
- $100,000 INSURANCE
- BANKS HAVE THEM - WE PAY 1/4% MORE INTEREST AND COMPOUND CONTINUOUSLY*
- CHECK WRITING CAPABILITY*
- INITIAL INVESTMENT $20,000

HOW IT WORKS
Great Lakes Cash Fund offers high interest, plus insured safety. You can start a Cash Fund at any Great Lakes Federal Savings office with $20,000 or more and add to it in amounts of $500 or more at any time.

INSURED SAFETY
Unlike Wall Street cash funds, your Great Lakes Cash Fund is insured up to $100,000 with an agency of the federal government. If you have wanted the liquidity of a cash fund but wanted greater safety, then the Great Lakes Cash Fund is for you!

however they must pay 1/4% less than savings and loans. You still get the edge at Great Lakes Federal Savings.

The interest is pegged to the 91 day T-Bill auction rate. The rate changes every Tuesday. Your interest earnings can be transferred to checking or left to grow with continuous compounding.

LIQUIDITY
Your money is available to you in seven days or less, on the same day of each week. For example, if your account is opened on a Wednesday, your funds are available each and every Wednesday. You are therefore never more than seven days away from your money and in most cases less.

CHECK WRITING CAPABILITY*
With your Great Lakes Cash Fund, you automatically get a no minimum checking account. Unlike most Wall Street funds, there is no minimum amount for which your checks can be written and you can write all the checks you want. When you want dollars transferred to your checking account, just let us know. We then Tele-Transfer the money to your checking account on your designated withdrawal day. Checkraft protection is also available. So, if you want high interest and liquidity, but more security than a Wall Street fund can offer, come to GLFS!

When you open a Great Lakes Cash Fund, you receive a certificate and an I.D. card. Each month you will receive a statement showing the interest earned, account activity and balance.

WE PAY 1/4% MORE THAN BANKS
Banks can offer this type of account, too.

What's In It For Adults

The traditional image of Girl Scouts is little girls dressed in brown or green. But Girl Scouting is for adults, too.

"Women and men alike are involved in volunteer structure of Huron Valley Girl Scout Council," says Patricia Leves, President of the Council's Board of Directors. "And our volunteers do a lot more than lead troops," Pat continued.

Adult volunteers are able to key into whatever facet of Girl Scouting they are interested in. "Quite often," Pat added, "community leaders come to us with a desire to share their management skills, bankers will express an interest in working on the Finance committee, media representatives will assist with our Public Relations work, or an engineer may serve on the Properties committee. It's exciting to see such a variety of people involved."

You still may be asking yourself, "What would I get out of becoming a Girl Scout volunteer?" Most volunteers get involved for one of two reasons. First, because their daughter(s) want to join. This involvement may come because of the obvious lack of volunteer help or because parents want to be active in their children's activities. Many volunteers who start for these reasons continue years after their daughters move out of the program.

The second main reason is because Girl Scouting was part of their own happy memories. A large percent of these volunteers are young career men and women, and mothers of boys.

Being a Girl Scout volunteer can help individuals develop a number of skills, including: budgeting and record keeping, career and community contacts, improved interpersonal-relationship techniques, recognition; confidence, creativity and lasting friendships.

An important development for Girl Scout volunteers is the awarding of Continuing Education Units (CEUs) for attending council and nationwide Girl Scout training events. CEUs not only make it possible to document non-credit work completed, but also can be used as evidence of increased performance capabilities and for job advancement.

"Job advancement in many cases translates to a return to the job market," says Leves. "Volunteers in Huron Valley are encouraged to keep a record of their troop management experience, training events, workshops attended, and anything else they feel may apply to a job in the future. Potential employers are taking more notice of volunteer experiences in reviewing job applicants."

Girl Scout volunteers are female and male, homemakers and executives, parents and non-parents. Yet even with this diversity, they all share certain things. They are all committed to the ideals of Girl Scouting and they can all call upon their Girl Scout experience in future endeavors of education, employment and personal fulfillment.

Huron Valley Girl Scout Council's annual recruitment drive is underway September 12 through October 1. Whether you can volunteer on a temporary or weekly basis, there is a position in Girl Scouts waiting for you. Men and women of all ages are invited to "get going and growing" with Girl Scouts by calling Huron Valley at 483-2370.

Huron Valley is a United Way Agency serving nearly 10,000 girls in Washtenaw, Livingston, southwestern Wayne and Monroe Counties. Get going and growing with Girl Scouting; call 483-2370 (collect), and join the fun--today!

News Of Good Things Growing

by Margaret G. McCall

For a lively introduction to Michigan wines, or a chance to renew old friendships, plan to visit the Wine festival in southwestern Michigan.

Activities during the four-day celebration, September 9 through 12, are spread between Paw Paw and Kalamazoo. Everywhere you go, you'll see good things growing in Michigan. The rolling hillsides, covered with vineyards and orchards, are a feast for the eyes.

Free winery and tasting tours are offered in Paw Paw and in Keeler, just a short distance south of I-94 at the Hartford exit. There will be ethnic foods and wine tents in Kalamazoo, arts and crafts fairs in Kalamazoo and Paw Paw, entertainment and parades, orchard tours, an ox roast and chicken barbecue.

There is literally something for everyone, including such off-beat events as the fifth annual Kalamazoo bed race, grape stomping, bicycle and turtle races.

Tons of grapes are trucked from thousands of acres of vineyards in September and October to the Michigan wineries and processing plants. Last year, growers harvested about 106 million pounds worth almost $15 million, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. There are more than 15,000 acres of vineyards. About 90 percent of the harvest goes into jams, jellies and juice, with the remaining used for fresh market sales and wines.

In Europe, wine is as much a part of meals as bread. In this country, we are still learning how best to use our wines, so the opportunity to taste a variety of wines during the festival is appealing. Remember the old rules about serving white wines with fish and poultry, red wines with red meats have been discarded. You can choose whatever you like.

If you are new to an appreciation of wines, you might like to try two recipes which are particularly nice for hot summer days. Sangria is of Spanish origin, and can be made with either red or white wine, though the red is more traditional.

To make one quart, combine 1/4 cup sugar and 1 cup cold water in a saucepan, stir with a wooden spoon over moderate heat until sugar has dissolved. Just before the syrup boils, remove from heat and add 1 orange and 1 lemon, both thinly sliced. Allow the fruit and syrup to meld for at least 4 hours at room temperature. Combine with a tray of ice cubes and 1 bottle of red wine. Garnish each glass with a slice of the lemon and orange.

Kir is served in many European restaurants as an aperitif before dinner. It has a refreshing flavor and a distinctive color. For one serving, place 1 tablespoon of creme de cassis (black currant liqueur) in a large wine glass. Add two ice cubes and pour over them 6 ounces of dry white wine. Stir gently. If you wish, you may also add a twist of lemon peel.

HEALTH BEHAVIOR IN SCHOOLS

Labor Day is behind us and the kids are back in school for another year. All of which reminds me of something I heard Dr. Jonathan Fielding of the School of Public Health, University of California, say at a conference this past summer. He said that better behavior in everyday living means better health. Then he added that we should begin promoting this idea among school children.

I heartily agree with him. And while schools are not the only place where good health behavior should be promoted, they definitely are the place to start.

As Dr. Fielding pointed out, there are many excellent opportunities for health education that are being passed up in our schools. For instance, when our young people participate in sports, there is little or no attention paid to how beneficial exercise can be for the body; the big emphasis is on winning. And that's only one example of an opportunity missed.

Take a look at the vending machines you find in many schools. Check out the items they dispense. You're quite apt to find the machines contain nothing but candy, pop, potato chips - junk foods - instead of fruits, nuts, milk, or other items that would be good for children. If the machines at your school are dispensing only junk foods, use your influence to bring about change.

You may be wise, too, to investigate what is sold at bake sales and other fund-raising events at school.

What this is all about is simply this: only by exposing our children to the right food choices in their growing-up years can we get across to them the knowledge they need for making informed choices in the years ahead.

Maybe your school is not guilty of missing the golden opportunities to educate the children in good health behavior patterns. But if you don't check up, you'll never know.

Just remember that the way in which your children's behavioral habits are molded during their school years will serve them for good or bad when they're older.

contact the Middle School office for a recommendation form to fill out. We must have these back by September 17. All 6th, 7th, and 8th graders who were selected last year will be invited to participate again this year.

If you have any questions regarding the program please call the Middle School office, 428-7442.

SPORTS AND ATHLETES

In our Manchester Township Library we have several shelves devoted to books about sports and individual athletes. The three different Encyclopedias have very well written descriptions of the various sports and how to organize and play. Specific team and individual sports are covered in a variety of volumes including some very unusual and interesting stories about sportspeople. The Olympic Story, 1980 is a short, but complete review of that event, and Highlights of the Olympics gives an overview. Many young people are now becoming involved in school sports, and might wish to read Balancing and Sport Acrobatics, Wrestling, Inside Track, Basic Basketball Strategy, Weight Training, or How to Play Hockey.

Families with interest in outdoor sports would find many books helpful in planning activities - Snowmobiles and Snowmobiling, Bike Ways (101 Things to do with a Bike), Skating Naturally, Skate Paradise, and Underwater Sports, to name a few. The Marathoners and Bowling for Women as well as Advanced Tennis and Contemporary Squash, are geared to specific interests. The Detroit Tigers by Falls and the Biography of Ty Cobb should appeal to baseball fans, as would The Umpire Strikes Back Library patrons with other requests for sports-related information will find books just about everything from Automobile Racing to The Space Age Sports.

Wheat Insurance Need Obvious

Barbara Cranson of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation reminds wheat farmers that the sign-up date for All Risk-crop insurance is rapidly approaching. September 30 is the final date, with only a few weeks left to contact a local insurance agent.

Cranson stated that the need for this coverage has been quite evident in 1982 as many farmers suffered extensive losses to wheat crops planted in 1981. Winter kill and excessive moisture were the main causes of these losses.

The list of items to be checked when planting wheat should include All-Risk crop insurance. The coverage is fully backed by USDA's Federal Crop Insurance Corporation with premium subsidies up to 30 percent.

Washtenaw County Historical Society

Washtenaw County Historical Society bivouacs for "Hardtack and Coffee" at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, September 12, 1982 in the Henderson Room, Michigan League, 227 South Ingalls, Ann Arbor (between Washington and North University) to hear a "Livingston County Civil War Soldier" and a "Detroit Housewife of 1864" show and tell us what their lives were like on the battlefield and home front. A couple from Detroit Historical Society play the roles and bring authentic artifacts. FREE, OPEN TO PUBLIC BUT reservations are required by Thursday, September 9 to 662-2834 or 668-9620.

From The Attorney General

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley today proposed consumer protection guidelines for service stations which advertise discounts for cash payments on the sale of gasoline.

"It is always heartening to see a program that reduces the costs that buyers must pay for goods or services, but it is clear that a great potential exists for misleading advertisement, whether intentional or not," Kelley said.

Kelley listed five standards a retail gasoline dealer's advertising should follow to avoid being considered false, misleading and deceptive:

1. The price indicated on the roadside sign should be the same price as the price indicated on the pump.

2. The decimal portion of the price displayed on the roadside sign, for example, the .9 in a 127.9 cent price, should be "at least one-half the height and width of the numerals representing the whole cents."

3. The prices of all grades of gasoline sold at the station should be advertised or, alternatively, if the price of only one or two grades is advertised, the fact that one grade is a sub-regular grade should be clearly and conspicuously shown.

4. The station that advertise a "no stamp price" or "minimum service island" should also advertise the conditions for the special price (such as a certain island or pump) clearly and conspicuously.

5. Those stations that offer a discount for cash should post roadside signs that reflect the amount and terms of the discount in relation to the amount of gasoline dispensed at the pump; e.g., self-service regular 124.9, 4 cents per gallon discount for cash. Those stations that dispense fuel in liters may display a price per gallon and the discount in conjunction with the price per liter.

Kelley noted that the Michigan Department of Agriculture, through the Weights and Measures Act, can insure that the price on the pump is accurate. Kelley's office and the Department of Agriculture have been working together to insure that consumers receive the benefits of the program.

Today's action by Kelley begins a formal 30-day period during which the public comment is sought on these proposals. Persons who support or oppose the guidelines should send their views, in writing, to: Department of Attorney General, Consumer Protection Division 6th Floor, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913. Care Inservice

The National Institute for Burn Medicine a national, non-profit health care organization in cooperation with the University of Michigan Burn Center is sponsoring an inservice on Emergency Burn Care at Saint Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor on October 13, 1982.

Ms. Marianne Thelen, Assistant Head Nurse, Burn Unit, University of Michigan Hospitals will show the film, Emergency Burn Care, lecture and answer questions. Each year 100,000 people are burned in Michigan, 400 die, and 3,200 are hospitalized. Immediate, decisive care at the scene of the accident and in the Emergency Department not only results in saving the patient's life but also can reduce the severity of complications. Providing excellent burn care to all burn victims in the state of Michigan is a goal of the Burn Information and Triage System sponsored by the National Institute for Burn Medicine.

Bud Lauderback, Head Nurse, Emergency Department is coordinating this program and an invitation is being extended to all local medical providers, physicians, nurses, emergency medical technicians, and others. If interested, contact Mr. Lauderback at (313) 572-3385. No fee is required. More information about the National Institute for Burn Medicine can be obtained by writing the National Institute for Burn Medicine, 909 East Ann Street, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48104, Attention: Education Department.

MICROWAVE BASICS

Microwave Cookin' Bags

Midnight munchies, afterschool snacks, or solo suppers: frozen Cookin' Bag single serving entrees, heated in a microwave oven, deliver satisfaction in only 5 minutes. With such easy microwave preparation, there is no excuse to settle or suffer through cold, unsatisfying food. Just follow these simple steps.

- Remove the Cookin' Bag from the carton.
- Place the bag on a microwave-safe plate and cut a slit in the center of the bag.
- Microwave on HIGH (or 100%) power for the time indicated on each package, usually from 3 to 5 minutes.
- After a short stand time, enlarge the slit, being careful of the steam, and slip the heated contents right onto the same plate.

Most people enjoy these bag meals when served on a toasted slice of bread, split English muffin or cornbread. With little added effort, these meals create wonderful, warm toppers for a split baked potato, rice or pasta.

Additionally, a simple tossed green salad can turn these Cookin' Bag entrees into satisfying supper fare. Other slightly more adventurous folks use their favorite variety Cookin' Bag as the base for intriguing entrees. One quick, yet different idea from the Banquet Foods Test Kitchen is turning creamed chipped beef into a spicy Mexican supper. The recipe below shows how simple it can be with just the addition of green pepper, onion and cheese. A topping of corn chips brings crunch and authenticity to this ten minute entree.

- Mexican Dinner For One
- 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
 - 1 package (4 oz.) frozen prepared creamed chipped beef
 - 1 tablespoon chopped onion
 - 1/3 cup crushed corn chips
 - 2 teaspoons butter or margarine
 - 1/3 cup (1 1/3 oz.) shredded Monterey Jack cheese.
- In one quart round glass casserole combine green pepper, onion and butter. Cover with plastic wrap. Heat on HIGH 1 to 2 minutes, or until tender crisp. Set aside.
- Prepare creamed chipped beef according to microwave package instructions. Combine with vegetables. Top with corn chips. Sprinkle cheese on top. Heat on HIGH 30 seconds to 1 minute, or until cheese melts. Makes one serving.
- Choose among eight savory varieties of Cookin' Bags, from spicy smoky barbecue to comforting, home-style chicken a la king. Keep a selection in the freezer and you will be ready to fulfill any craving, no matter how unusual.

Fays Lair

By Fay Lair

The Lord knows we've heard enough about women's lib, or at least a great deal about it.

But just last week there was something on TV about men's lib and every man knows that the arrival of the cavalry has got to take a back seat timely wise compared with this long-overdue movement.

I think many of us felt the recently divorced guy on camera had been reading our mail when he started the show off by saying that he now has no say-so in what direction his children take.

"First I was a source of sperm and now I'm a source of income," he said, to which many of us out here in TV land said "amen." Although some of us may not have said it too loudly, for fear wifey poo might not agree.

We live by a multitude of misconceptions in this country. The media says black is white, and our young, educated (?) college graduates don't understand why we can't readily see it - if their colleagues in the media say so - and the first thing you know we believe that black is white.

But what has to be right in the forefront of these misconceptions is the image of the poor little downtrodden wife who caters to her husband's every whim.

Now don't get me wrong. I think women are great. I think they should get equal pay. I think history is liberally strewn with examples of their greatness. And I certainly think that men should have equality with them.

(I might also mention one of my beliefs that isn't as obvious as you may think - I believe that women are different from men.)

I have been around women all my life. As a matter of fact, one brought me into this world, and raised me, and did a very good job of it, but she never got close to my father again.

Now I may be different, (and there are those who say "definitely") but I have yet to be closely associated with one of those women who get up first in the morning (or in the morning at all, for that matter), who make breakfast, who wash and iron shirts and generally "take care" of their husband.

The trauma associated with getting them up in the morning (first, or at all) proved so great that I barely touched that area of human endeavor, but I have, from time to time, experimented with the laundry bit.

This works out all right provided you can afford 93 shirts, 93 pairs of socks and 93 suits of underwear. That is the number, I've found, that is necessary for your clothes to get through the feminine laundry pipeline.

It may take a few more socks, because they will wear, with a straight face, that the washing machine eats socks.

And don't try to rescue a shirt from the pipeline and do it yourself, thereby making do with less than 93. Your clothes disappear once they have entered this pipeline and no mere man can ever find them again.

Women have other ways of proving their superiority too.

Take, for example, preserving food. Man worked for 5,000 years of recorded history, and probably some time before that, to perfect a way of preserving food.

Finally he invented refrigeration, but do you think women use the refrigerator for preserving food. Oh no. They think the refrigerator is where you put food until it is rotten enough to throw away.

But I'll tell you what they are worst at. I'm going to suffer the big one and you won't be subject to this drivel someday when I start to put my shirts in the dryer and find that the lint trap has been cleaned. Later.

Hit Or Miss by farley

Nowadays reminiscing about the "good old days" seems to be quite a popular sport, perhaps in an effort to forget some of today's problems. We've quoted prices of food, etc. during the depression of the early thirties but we didn't stress the fact that the ingo was about as low as the outgo and that we were just about as bad off then as now, or even more so.

The other day the business editor of the Toledo Blade wrote a column of comparisons which I hope he will forgive us for copying which point up some interesting comparisons, both of prices and of wages which tend to prove that the "good old days" weren't so good and that we tend to remember the nice things about those days and to forget the unpleasant side of our existence in those days. Among the things remembered were the following:

From the newspaper of 1962 he finds that you could drive up to the Toledo Beach Amusement Park and get 10 rides for $1.00. Down at the movie theatres was being shown Ronald Reagan and Doris Day in "The Winning Team" with a "spook" show thrown in at midnight for free. At other theatres was being shown Gary Cooper in "High Noon" all for 35 cents - 20 cents for the kids.

If you were looking for a new house, $26,000 would get you one in a better part of town and in the subdivisions they ran from $14,200 to $14,900. Out in the wilds of Maumee one could be had for $9,950, lot and all.

The bus fare was going up to 13 cents but 20 cents would buy an ice cream sundae, and it could be noted that house paint was only $1.94 at the Bargain Barn and a new Willys could be financed for $38.00 a month.

But on the other side of the coin it should be noted that folks wondered if the war in Korea would ever be over. A steel strike had just ended and many laid off because of it. The 40-hour week was coming into being.

Wages quoted were as follows: payroll clerk, $40 to $50 a week, a typists $175 a month to start, experienced stenographer $275.00 a month, keypunch operator $210.00 a month, elevator operators $177.00 a month.

A portable radio which weighed "only" 3 1/2 pounds was $29.95. A 2 inch (black and white of course) TV was $395.00, 7 or 10 inch used TV's were going for 295.00.

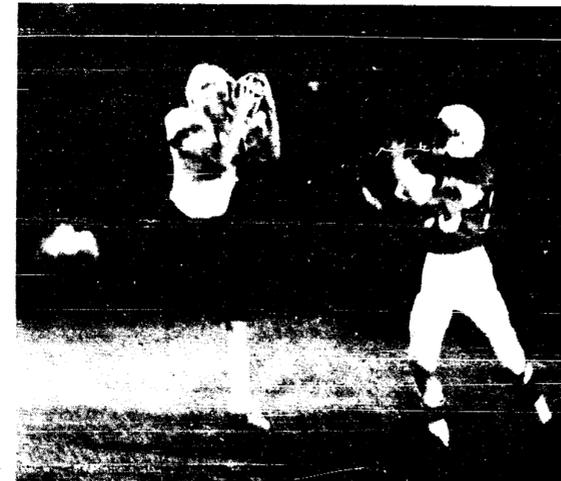

A financial company boasted of its 2 percent rate for savings.

So, you see the struggle for existence was not too far different then than now.

Back in World War I men unfit for military service were judged 4F and among the group for some mysterious reason were the men with flat feet. Now it's known that men with flat feet aren't handicapped, but they can be an asset to some athletes. By distributing the weight more accurately over the bottom of the foot, the flat feet tend to give athletes more endurance.

An old timer is one who can remember when the weather was worse and everything else was better.

Dutch Crush Trojans

Mark Ball intercepts Trojans quarterback pass

by Jon Hardenbergh

We sure started off the football season in grand style as we blew apart Whitmore Lake. We put together a vicious offense that ripped thru the Trojans to the tune of 121 yards in the air and 272 yards rushing. The 3 major ground gobblers were Dave Rodriguez, Jim Krzyzaniak and Carl Weidmayer with 85, 58 and 49 yards respectively. Sophomore quarterback Pat Ridenour had a solid performance as he threw 14 times completing 8 while scampering for 80 yards. Our offense went right and so did our defense with standouts being Jim Krzyzaniak, Mark Ball and Roger Day.

We wanted no time in scoring our first touchdown in some 2 years as Dave Rodriguez ripped off 31 yards at 9:44 of the opening period for six-Carl Weidmayer ran the conversion in so we sat atop 8-0. It was just over 4 minutes later when Jim Krzyzaniak motored 25 yards for six more.

Still in the first period Krzyzaniak hauled in a 15 yard toss from Ridenour for six.

The Dutch kept crossing the goal line as Rodriguez drove from the one yard line at 8:57 and Dave Malcolm snatched 2 passes-one here for a 2 point conversion and his second for a 40 yard touchdown at 2:36. Ridenour ran in the conversion to make the tally 36 to 0.

Again Ridenour hit Malcolm for a 20 yard pass touchdown with :37 seconds left in the third period to open the score to 42-0. The Trojans did tally as they got a 44 yard run with 1:19 left to play.

On Friday, we took to Ida - Ida was downed last Friday by Monroe Jefferson 22-19.

Inducted Into Hall of Fame

Donald "Lefty" Ross and twenty-six other men and two women were inducted into the Michigan Amateur Softball Association Softball Hall of Fame, Friday, September 3, 1982.

Ceremonies were held at the Lansing Hilton and the Lansing Mall. The final induction was held at Ranney Field. There will be a plaque in the Hall of Fame with Lefty's picture, which will read as follows: Michigan Amateur Softball Association is proud to induct Donald "Lefty" Ross, Manchester, Michigan into the M.A.S.A. Softball Hall of Fame. Category - Player, September 3, 1982.

Lefty Ross pitched his team to the State Class C Championship in 1956 and to the Class A runner up spot in 1965. He also played in the Class A State Championship three other years in his long career as player and manager.

In 1962 M.A.S.A. honored Lefty for his long record of fielding top level teams which consistently competed for state titles. His career was interrupted in his forties by a heart attack, but he returned after a year layoff to play for another decade in Class A ball. He suffered a fatal heart attack in June 1981.

Substance Abuse Committee Continues

The Manchester Substance Abuse Committee is back in action. To facilitate educating the total community SAAC divided to form two sub committees: (1) The Programming committee for planning informative presentations for the total community. (2) The Curriculum committee to plan an educational curriculum regarding substance abuse for use in Manchester Community Schools.

The programming committee is now working on a presentation to be given in early October.

SAAC would like to thank all those who participated in last year's programs and hope to have their support again this year.

Further information about the October meeting will be forthcoming.

United Way Campaign Leaders Named

COOKING TIP

Beef gravy makes it easy to create magnificent Beef Rouladen.

Create Magnificent Dishes With Easy-To-Use Gravy

Even if a standing-rib of beef is not in the budget, rich and tasty Franco-American Beef Gravy can provide flavor and consistency for magnificent main dishes, like Beef Rouladen. This recipe uses only a pound and a half of beef for six people.

BEEF ROULADEN

- 1 1/2 pounds thinly sliced round steak (1 1/2" thick)
- 1 tablespoon mustard
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- 3 small dill pickles, cut in half lengthwise
- 2 tablespoons shortening
- 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) Franco-American Beef Gravy
- 2 medium carrots, cut in 1" pieces
- 1 cup chopped celery

Cut meat into 6 pieces (about 6x4") pound. Spread each with mustard and onion. Place a pickle half on each piece of meat. Roll up; tuck in ends. Fasten with tooth-picks or skewers. In skillet, brown roll-ups in shortening; pour off fat. Stir in gravy. Cover; cook over low heat 30 minutes. Add carrots and celery; cook 45 minutes more or until meat and vegetables are tender; stir occasionally. Thicken gravy if desired. Makes 6 servings.
