A Personal Look At A Local Entrepreneur

Lori England - ambitious, outgoing, everybody's friend. Only words to describe someone I have known well for over 13 years, yet words that are still accurate. She's always had a drive to achieve, to become somebody not to be better than someone else, only to become all that she can be. She's always been the one to take on responsibility, from handling little projects to being president of many groups all at the same time. Yes, I've always admired Lori for this ambition and drive, especially since I can't think of a time when she didn't carry out her responsibilities well. But, a little over a year ago, I thought she just might be taking on a little more than she could handle.

It started in a management class at Western Michigan University where we were both students. She decided to apply for the manager position in a semester group project; and, she got it (along with all the that headaches type of responsibility carries with it). She and her supervisors and subordinates were to come up with an idea for a feasible product which was not marketed, sell the

Boy Scout Troop 426 Unload Paper Trailer

We would like to thank the community for all the papers delivered to our paper trailer at the landfill. We recently unloaded the paper trailers and sold 33 tons of papers in about seven months. This money goes to help the boys in projects and go to summer camp at Wrights Lake which is near Clare, Michigan this summer.

Please continue to deliver your papers to the landfill. If you have large amounts of papers and can't deliver them please call Bruce Hunt at 428-8001 or Francis Cousino at 428-8607. If you deliver papers on Thursdays please put them in the bins provided under the dock.

by Vanessa (Ames) Albee: idea to the president (professor), and research and design the product as if it were to be marketed.

> Lori kept me posted on the ideas the group had, which were finally narrowed down to a waterbed for cats and dogs. The group chose to name their company "Critter Comfort." I saw Lori struggle as she tried to coordinate the group-to arrange meeting times, to get this person to do his/her assigned task, to get charts drawn up and information gathered, and to motivate the group. ("Only two more weeks and we'll be done with this project, so let's give it all we've got!"). And the group, under Lori's direction, did such a good job that her professor suggested that they actually produce their product.

> The semester ended and Lori was tired, but proud of her group. She asked me to join them in a celebration of the end of the project. I went, expecting the conversation to be about anything except the project which had taken up so much of their time recently. But, they talked about the project all evening, and Lori said that she wanted to form a real company and manufacture the waterbeds. She asked me to help her write a formal statement in which those of the group who wanted to join her could do so. (Those who didn't want to join signed over all rights for the idea and research of the product to her).

> Within a month she had begun the preliminary stages of starting a compnay, and I began to wonder if she wasn't taking on a bit too much, even for her.

> She still had another semester of college to finish; she was so young; could the product really

> But now, at the celebration of our graduation from high school five years ago, I still have that same admiration for Lori because she's done it! She incorporated Critter Comfort in April, 1983; graduated from WMU in December, 1983; and, opened the

Severe Wind Storm

Struck This Village Last Thursday Afternoon. No Lives Lost But Great Damage Done.

The village was struck by a severe storm last Thursday afternoon which created great havoc and did much damage. It is the first storm of the kind that ever visited the place and amid so much devastation it is a wonder that no lives were lost.

Situated as we are in the valley of the Raisin river, with hills surrounding us, we had grown to believe that we were out of the path of cyclones and other storms. Time and again we have escaped. The storms seemed to part west of the village, going north or south, but we have come to the conclusion that "all things come to him that waits."

It was nearly five o'clock p.m. when a fierce looking black cloud was seen in the west and in a very few moments the storm of wind, rain and hail was upon us uprooting or wrenching limbs from our beautiful maple or elm trees which furnish us such abundant shade, overturning small houses, unroofing buildings, blowing down chimneys.

The first real dip the storm made it unroofed Dr. Lynch's and J. Fred Schiable's barns and blew over or broke down trees in that vicinity. That beautiful row of maples in front of Haeussler's, Burtless' and Merithew's seemed to be the object of the storm's wrath as five or six of the giants were badly demolished. Chimneys on the Merithew and Haeussler buildings were blown over and Hauessler's wind mill met the common fate.

The storm then grasped the tin

Manchester Enterprise roofs on the Freeman house and of Fred Widmayer's store and with a mighty crash they were torn off and hurled upon adjacent roofs, then the rain came pouring down and flooded the buildings. Water stood an inch deep upon the floor of the beautiful dining room of the Freeman house and the proprietors and help could do little to save their property from ruin. Fred Widmayer's hardware store was drenched and presented a sorrý sight. Other roofs were lifted.

J. Fred Schaible's new addition received a call and the post office roof was damaged so the water poured through into the office. The rear of Al Kiebler's market was also flooded.

Windows in masonic hall, a plate glass in Fred Steinkohl's store and several glass in W.H. Lehr's store were broken.

The scene on exchange place was exciting indeed. All sorts of stuff went flying through the air and the dust and leaves together with the rain and the darkness which fell rendered sight almost impossible for a few minutes.

Most of the teams had been hurried away to the barns for safety but there were three carriages left. Mr. Stockinger's horse and carriage were rolled over and over and it is a wonder that the horse was not killed and the vehicle demolished, but when clouds rolled by the stockinger was seen gathering up his belongings. Frank Lerg's rig was also dismantled, as was Mrs. Fred Spafard's. The horse after breaking away from the carriage, ran home. Mrs. S. was at the dressmaker's, so was uninjured though badly frightened.

The streets were strewn with tin and iron from the roofs, boards, shingles, etc., and it is miraculous that people escaped injury from them.

On the east side of the river the storm seemed to go on with renewed vigor and destruction of shade trees was great. Beautiful trees which were the pride of the owners were uprooted or broken off completely blockading Beaufort street in some places. That tall elm in front of Mrs. Ayres' place was uprooted and fell against the house crushing it in like a pasteboard box. Mrs. Avres who was alone in the house escaped with slight scratches.

The perch on Peter VanGieson's The Manchester Men's Club house was torn off and part of the Continued on page 3

Agriculture In Action

Severance Pay For Farmers

Charles B. Shuman, Illinois farmer and former president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, has an idea. He knows that government farm programs have cost taxpayers about $114 billion since their inception in the 30's and that farm income continues as a perennial problem. To those who ask, "Is he His idea is to get rid of serious?"—the answer is that Mr. government farm programs by giving farmers severance pay to simply get out and be done with

It would work this wav: Farmer's Share Declines

The farmer's share of the consumer's food bill is now 27%, compared to 37% 10 years ago, according to a recent Purdue University study. The study listed labor costs in marketing and processing at 33%, packaging at 8%, rail and truck transportation at 5%, fuel and power costs at 4% and profits of marketing and processing corporations at 4%. Miscellaneous costs, such as advertising, depreciation, taxes and other marketing costs were pegged at 19%. These figures are for food bought at the supermarket. The farmer's share is even smaller for food purchased at a restaurant. In 1983, the value of farm products accounted for about 16c of the restaurant food dollar.

Shuman is a serious economist. The problem is that Congress is not a serious economist. It has no plan to release farmers now in government programs to broader opportunities in the marketplace, which the Shuman "school of agricultural economics" insists is the best place for farmers to really make money and where taxpayers are shed of uncommon burdens that sully the good image of farmers. This year, farm necessities-food, clothing, and program costs have reached an shelter. That percentage today all-time annual high of $20 billion. And what's the new problem? It's the same as the old problem-

At the very least, what Mr. Shuman's idea can do is to stimulate some long-needed thinking on a long-term farm income solution. It's a blow struck for those who believe, like Mr. spending, workers would not have Shuman, that farmers should stop the stop-gaps and insist on a clear road to deliver their produce to consumer markets and not to government storage bins.

Apply Now For Camp For Asthmatic Kids

Summertime doesn't have to be "bummertime" for asthmatic Knauss children ages 7 through 14. They can have fun at Camp Michi-MAC, a resident summer camping program for children with asthma, designed as part of YMCA Summer Camp.

The time to apply is right now. The American Lung Association of Michigan is providing a limited number of camperships (similar to scholarships).

Camp Michi-MAC provides one or two weeks of summer activities at two Michigan YMCA Summer Camp areas. Camp Ohiyesa in Holly for 7 to 10 year-olds will run from July 22nd - July 28th, and July 29th - August 4th. Camp. Nissokone in Oscoda for 10 to 14 year-olds will run from July 21st -July 28th, and July 28th - August 4th. A two-week session from July 21st - August 4th is also being offered. At Camp Michi-MAC asthmatic children enjoy swimming, canoeing, horseback riding, and team games and sports alongside recently graduated from Chicago non-asthmatic campers. In addition, campers can see how other asthmatic children have learned to handle their disease.

Camp Michi-MAC's staff makes it special too. The camp is staffed by volunteer physicians, nurses, and pharmacists. Specialized supervision allows asthmatics to participate with all campers in a total camping experience.

Now in its fifth year, Camp Michi-MAC is co-sponsored by The Michigan Allergy Society, the American Lung Association of Michigan, Metro YMCA Camping Services, and The Michigan chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

Applications are coming in fast. To apply to Camp Michi-MAC, or to obtain further information about camperships, call the American Lung Association of Michigan at its toll free number 1-800-292-5979.

Summer First Aid

Have you heard the statement that a paste made from meat tenderizer can relieve the pain of bee sting and wondered if it was fact or fiction? This question along with many others will be answered at the upcoming Summer First Aid class to be presented at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center at Chelsea. This session will be presented on Monday, June 18, 1984, from 7-9 p.m.

"I am always surprised at the number of fallacies many people hold as truths in treating summer injuries and health problems," states Linda Warren, a nurse at the Family Practice Center. "Because of the need for accurate information, we have developed a special session on Summer First Aid for the community. There are some simple answers and cures, like relieving the bee sting pain with a meat tenderizer paste." Mrs. Warren continues "but the important thing about first aid is to be prepared to deal with the situation before it happens."

The course will deal directly with the types of injuries and health problems that specifically arise during the summer. These include the more common problems encountered in summer outings—from insect and animal bites, burns and sunburns, to the ill effects of heat.

The session will be useful to anyone physically active in the summertime. It will be especially

HISTORY OF THE FLAG

The United States Flag is the third oldest of the National Standards of the world; older than the Union Jack of Britain or the Tricolor of France.

The flag was first authorized by Congress June 14, 1777. This date is now observed as

The flag was first flown from Fort Stanwix, on the site of the present city of Rome, New York, on August 3, 1777. It was first under fire three days later in the Battle of Oriskany, August 6, 1777.

It was first decreed that there should be a star and a stripe for each state, making the time of both; for the states at that time had just been erected from the original thirteen the states at the

The colors of the Flag may be thus explained: The red is for valor, zeal and fervency; the white for hope, purity, cleanliness of life, and rectitude of conduct; the blue, the color of heaven, for reverence to God, loyalty, sincerity, justice and truth.

The star (an ancient symbol of India, Persia and Egypt) symbolizes dominion and sovereignty, as well as lofty aspirations. The constellation of the stars within the union, sovereignty each state, is emblematic of our Federal Constitution, which reserves to the States their individual sovereignty except as to rights delegated by them to the Federal Government.

The symbolism of the Flag was thus interpreted by Washington: "We take the stars from Heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing Liberty."

In 1791, Vermont, and in 1792, Kentucky were admitted to the Union and the number of stars and stripes was raised to fifteen in correspondence. As other states came into the Union it became evident there would be too many stripes. So in 1818 Congress enacted that the number of stripes be reduced and restricted henceforth to thirteen, representing the thirteen original states; while a star should be added for each succeeding state. That law is the law of today. law is the law of today.

The name "Old Glory" was given to our National Flag August 10, 1831, by Captain William Driver of the brig Charles Doggett.

The flag was first carried in battle at the Brandywine, September 11, 1777. It first flew over foreign territory January 28, 1778, at Nassau, Bahama Islands; Fort Nassau having been captured by the Americans in the course of the war for independence. The first foreign salute to the flag was rendered by the French admiral LaMotte Piquet, off Quiberon Bay, Pabrican 12, 1779. February 13, 1778.

The United States Flag is unique in the deep and noble significance of its message to the entire world, a message of national independence, of individual liberty, of idealism, of patriotism.

It symbolizes national independence and popular sovereignty. It is not the Flag of a reigning family or royal house, but of 205 million free people welded into a Nation, one and inseparable, united not only by community of interest, but by vital unity of sentiment and purpose; a Nation distinguished for the clear individual conception of its citizens alike of their duties and their privileges, their obligations and their rights.

It incarnates for all mankind the spirit of Liberty and the glorious ideal of human Freedom; not the freedom of unrestraint or the liberty of license, but an unique ideal of equal opportunity for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, safeguarded by the stern and lofty principles of duty, of righteousness and of justice, and attainable by obedience to self-imposed laws self-imposed laws.

Floating from the lofty pinnacle of American idealism, it is a beacon of enduring hope, like the famous Bartholdi Statue of Liberty Enlightening the World to the oppressed of all lands. It floats over a wondrous assemblage of people from every racial stock of the earth whose united hearts constitute an indivisible and invincible force for the defense and succor of the downtrodden.

It embodies the essence of patriotism. Its spirit is the spirit of the American nation. Its history is the history of the American people. Emblazoned upon its folds in letters of living light are the names and fame of our heroic dead, the Fathers of the Republic who devoted upon its altars their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor. Twice told tales of National honor and glory cluster thickly about it. Ever victorious, it has emerged triumphant from eight great National conflicts. It flew at Saratoga, at Yorktown, at Palo Alto, at Gettysburg, at Manila Bay, at Chateau-Thierry, at Iwo Jima. It bears witness to the immense expansion of our national boundaries, the development of our natural resources, and the splendid structure of our civilization. It prophesies the triumph of popular government, of civic and religious liberty and of national righteousness throughout the world.

The flag first mass over thirteen states along the Atlantic seaboard with a population of

The flag first rose over thirteen states along the Atlantic seaboard, with a population of some three million people. Today it flies over fifty states, extending across the continent, and over great islands of the two oceans; and two hundred and five millions owe it allegiance. It has been brought to this proud position by love and sacrifice. Citizens have advanced it and heroes have died for it. It is the sign made visible of the strong spirit that has brought liberty and prosperity to the people of America. It is the flag of all of us alike. Let us accord it honor and loyalty.
