The Audit Lottery

You finger the envelope gingerly - not quite sure what to do. You already got your refund check. Yesterday was your birthday, but it's not likely the Internal Revenue Service is sending you a birthday card. Should you open it now or wait for your spouse to get home? Curiosity gets the best of you. You sit down in your favorite chair, open the envelope and read the letter. Then, like every other taxpayer who has ever received an audit notice, you ask, "Why

According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, your chance of being selected for an audit depends a lot on how your financial profile compares with that of other taxpayers with similar income and deductions.

The greatest bulk of audits are selected through a computer screening process called DIF that stands for the Discriminant Income Function system. The DIF is a computer program of mathematical formulas which is designed specifically to select those returns that are most likely to contain tax errors. The DIF compares your deductions, credits and exemptions with the norm for taxpayers with similar levels of income, and assigns points to certain entries on chances of being audited. Returns are then screened by IRS examiners and those that have the highest probability of error are selected for audits.

There are certain risk factors that increase your chance of being audited. By far, the most likely item to trigger an audit is a claim of losses through a tax shelter the IRS considers abusive. In fact, if vou have invested in such a shelter, you might as well start preparing your defense. Generally speaking, the larger your income, the better your chance of being chosen for an (Taxpayers with income over $50,000 are more likely to be audited, probably because this group is more likely to claim the kinds of questionable tax writeoffs the IRS is on the lookout for.) Taxpayers whose occupations cause them to get paid mostly in cash also have a better than average chance of being audited. Claiming deductions that are higher than the average for those in your income bracket is likely to raise a red flag at the IRS. There are certain other deductions that the IRS likes to examine. Cash charitable contributions and large casualty osses attract the attention of the IRS because they are difficult to prove. Depreciation and bad debts are also likely targets because the IRS feels that taxpayers often don't understand the technicalities involved. Claims for what the IRS considers unreasonable business and entertainment expenses might also generate some unwanted correspondence.

The IRS also looks carefully at the returns of taxpayers who file Schedule C for unincorporated businesses, particularly if that is the primary source of their

Community Resource Benefit Banquet, April 20

Have you purchased your tickets yet to the Benefit Banquet for the Community Resource Center? Wednesday, April 20, at 7:00 p.m., the Dining Room of Chelsea Community Hospital will be host to a marvelous evening of a Surf & Turf Banquet, preceded by music and Hors doeurves, and followed by entertainment. Manchester thanks Chelsea Hospital exceedingly for its tremendous gift to benefit

Manchester's unemployed people. Major Businesses in Manchester are responding well to being Major Sponsors, and putting their financial backing up front to support the efforts of the Community Resource Center. Ticket sales, and further information, can be handled through the Center's office at 122 W. Main Street, or by calling 428-7722, Monday-Friday, 9-4 p.m. Manchester citizens realize that with the work of the Employment Counselors for the laid-off Double workers, the health of the Manchester community - both families and business - is enhanced. As we depend upon one another, let us support the efforts of those helping to find our people jobs.

Banquet Steering Committee members Dave Little, Dick Kuntz, Tom Gorney, and Rev. Bob

Macfarlane hope, through business sponsorships and individual tickets, to help underwrite the work of the Center for the forseeable future. Also benefiting from the Banquet will be the Manchester Social Service agencies which are now housed at the Center, including Manchester Family Service, Chamber of Commerce, Manchester Recreation Task Force, United Way, and newly opening in a couple of weeks, a cooperative counseling center sponsored by the local Churches, which is a satellite of County-wide Interfaith Counseling Service. The Steering Committee thanks all who take the time and committment to help in any way, and look forward to seeing you at the Banquet.

"Minutes Count" Could Save Your Life

To emphasize the importance of seeking medical attention immediately when a heart attack is suspected, Chelsea Community Hospital and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital have developed a public awareness campaign called Minutes Count. The campaign was developed by Steven A. Yarows, MD, an internist at Chelsea Community Hospital, and Frank Smith, MD, a cardiologist on staff at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

"Two-thirds of the people who die of heart attacks die at home without ever seeking medical care." Dr. Yarows states. "Many people don't realize that heart attack means heart damage," he

"Today, the damage can be minimized or arrested with special medication that dissolves blood clots. The sooner the blood-thinning medication given, the more effective it is in controlling heart damage," states Dr. Smith. "Studies have shown that if the medication is given within the first three hours of heart attack, damage is arrested in three out of four patients. However, after six hours, the medication usually has no effect."

The Minutes Count campaign hopes to increase awareness of the common warning signs of heart attacks. These warning signs include:

Front-Burner Issue

If the U.S. Department of Transportation has its way, farmers won't be able to secure their favorite nitrogen fertilizer unless they've got a branch line railroad and railroad siding on their farms, according to Al Almy, director of public affairs for the Michigan Farm Bureau. The DOT has proposed reclassifying anhydrous ammonia, widely used as a nitrogen fertilizer, from a nonflammable gas to a poisonous gas.

"If anhydrous ammonia is reclassified as a poisonous gas, it would not be legal to move it by truck over public highways, and it is public highways that farmers are dependent upon to move production inputs to their farms," Almy said. "The only way anhydrous ammonia could be legally moved would be by rail, and how many farmers have branch line railroads and railroads siding on their farm?"

Almy said prohibiting the movement of anhydrous ammonia on public roads would effectively stop all farm uses of it as a nitrogen fertilizer.

In a letter of opposition to the DOT, Michigan Farm Bureau President Jack Laurie said reclassification of anhydrous ammonia as a poisonous gas would impact on agribusinesses and rural communities as well as on farmers.

"The agribusiness infrastructure which produces and distributes anhydrous ammonia would be adversely affected. The substantial investments in anhydrous ammonia equipment would quickly be transformed into red ink from which some could not recover. Unemployment in rural areas would increase," Laurie

Laurie also told the DOT that reclassifying anhydrous ammonia as a poisonous gas would do nothing to improve the farm safety record.

"Farmers are very much aware that handling of anhydrous ammonia requires strict adherence to safety procedures. It is not uncommon for farmers to use protective clothing and recommended safety procedures. We believe the overall safety record is excellent," he said.

FB Wary Of EC Production Controls

The European Community's proposed farm support reforms represent a "mixture of promising and disappointing developments" in the drive to reduce world agricultural trade frictions, according to Michigan Farm Bureau commodity specialist Kevin Kirk. The EC's proposals include penalties for overproduction and their first-ever acreage reduction program.
"The programs, if EC member-nations make them work, could curb EC farm output and lessen the Community's need to dump its surpluses on world markets. However, similar efforts in the past have not worked," Kirk said.

"Perhaps most troubling is the fact that a key part of the package of so-called reforms is the increase in funding that will be made available to the EC to bail it out of its budget predicament. When budget pressures are eased, we invariably find that governments find a way to spend to the limit and then some," he said. The EC budget package provides for a 50% increase in funding from member-nations through 1992."

Kirk said that the EC has never taken land out of production as the United States routinely has in administering its various farm

Customers To Receive Credit

A typical residential natural gas customer of Consumers Power Company will receive a one-time bill credit of about $10 due to a refund settlement between Consumers Power and other parties which was approved today by the Michigan Public Service Commission (MPSC).

The utility's actual cost for natural gas it purchased in 1987 was approximately 2 percent less than estimated in its customer billings. As a result, Consumers Power is refunding the difference, with interest, a total of $16.7 million in 1987 gas cost overrecoveries, as required by state law governing gas cost reconciliation. The law took effect in 1982.

The settlement agreement also includes a refund of $3.0 million, which includes interest, from Consumers Power's gas suppliers.

6 important facts about wheel alignment

It's happened to almost everyone: buy a set of tires, and before long one or two tires are wearing out before the others. On today's cars, this applies to the rear tires as well as the front tires. The most common cause of unusual tire wear is improper alignment. Over the years, a properly alianed vehicle can save hundreds of dollars in tire wear.

2. Spor problems early A suspension system inspection is an inherent part of the wheel alignment operation. This gives the mechanic a chance to spot worn parts that would affect vehicle alignment. It also gives him an opportunity to spot small problems before they become big, costly ones.

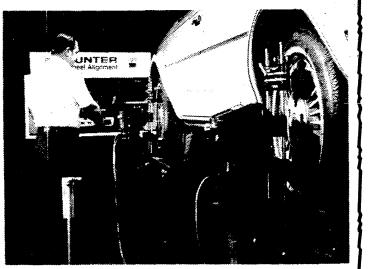

3. Ensure safe driving

A periodic four wheel alignment makes sure your car handles properly and, more importantly, provides an opportunity for inspecting the suspension system for defective parts. In some ways, the safe driving aspect may be the most important benefit of wheel

4. Stretch fuel mileage

Fuel mileage increases as rolling resistance decreases. Proper wheel alignment sets all four wheels parallel which, in turn, assures minimum rolling resistance. This plus proper tire inflation provide top efficiency for maximum. 5. Improve handling

Does your car pull to one side, does the steering wheel vibrate, do you have to constantly move the steering wheel to keep your car traveling straight ahead? These and other handling problems can generally be corrected by four wheel alianment.

6. Get a better ride

Proper alignment helps the front and rear suspension systems do their job. With all the system components in proper relation, road shock is efficiently absorbed, so the vehicle is more stable, and you get a smoother ride.

Tax Assistance Hours Extended

The Michigan Department of Treasury has expanded operator assistance hours for taxpayers wanting help in filling out their 1987 State income tax forms. Treasury representatives are available to answer State tax questions from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m., Monday through Friday, for those who call the toll-free Treasury telephone line at 1-800-292-MICH (6424).

"We are expanding telephone service to Michigan taxpayers about their questions income tax forms," Treasurer Robert A. Bowman said.

Taxpayers who have already filed their State forms and want to check on the status of their 1987 income tax refund can call the same toll-free telephone line and use Michigan's Computerized Refund Information System (CRIS). Callers can enter their Social Security and adjusted gross income numbers, and the computer will automatically report the status of their refund. Taxpayers who file their 1987 returns now can expect to receive their refund within 3 weeks.

Michigan residents with questions regarding the Michigan Education Trust (MET) college tuition guarantee program can call a new toll-free telephone hotline number, 1-800-MET-4-KID (638-4543). Since the IRS issued a favorable ruling on the taxexempt status of the program and Governor Blanchard announced the establishment of the MET telephone number just over a week ago, a team of 10 Treasury operators have answered nearly .000 calls. Operators are standing by to handle MET calls from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Stop Losing Sleep: Buy Time With An IRS Filing Extension

You wake up in a sweat. April 15 is closing in on you and your records are still an intimidating mess. Deadline anxiety is making you consider desperate actions. Should you rush to push the return out the door? Or maybe the IRS won't notice if you mail the forms out just a little bit late.

If you choose either action, at best, you risk losing money from a carelessly prepared return; at worst, you may suddenly find yourself paying penalties in addition to any tax due. According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, you have one choice that will keep you from losing both sleep and money: request an automatic filing extension by submitting Form 4868 by April 15. 1988.

An automatic extension pushes the filing deadline to August 15, giving you an additional four months to prepare and file your tax return. Take note that the key term here is file, not pay. While the IRS allows you an extension for filing your completed tax forms at a later date, any tax due must be paid at the time you request an extension or you'll face interest and possibly penalty fees. (Individuals who need more time to pay their taxes can submit Form 1127, which requires you to document the details of any extraordinary hardship preventing you from paying your taxes on

An automatic filing extension is easy to obtain. No one from the IRS will knock on your door demanding to know why you are not filing on time. In fact, if you happen to be traveling outside of the United States and Puerto Rico on April 15, 1988, you don't even have to submit Form 4868. Your filing and payment deadlines will be postponed until June 15, 1988 return, only one spouse need be out of the country on April 15, 1988 for the automatic extension to apply. Your only requirement is attaching a statement to your return, explaining that you were out of the United States and Puerto Rico on the due date of

Outside of this exception. anyone else desiring an extension must file Form 4868 - a simple, one-page, seven-question form liability for 1987 and pay any tax Paying less than your total 1987 tax bill triggers an interest charge. The IRS interest charge is levied on any amount you owe even when you apply for an automatic extension. A penalty of one-half of one percent (.5) a month is slapped on those who have not paid 90 percent or more of their tax bill by April 15. The month, but cannot exceed 25

To avoid the penalty, carefully calculate whether you have paid at least 90 percent of your tax. This can be a little tricky, especially for someone with lots of deductions and several sources of However, for an employee with few deductions and only one principle source of income, the calculations are relatively simple.

To estimate whether you meet the 90 percent requirement, you'll need a 1040 or 1040A form at your side. Check the W-2 mailed to you by your employer to see how much tax was withheld from your paycheck and how much income you received. Total any additional sources of income, and then calculate any adjustments to income. Refer to your tax form and follow the next three steps. First, compare your total itemized deductions with the of your standard amount deduction (formerly called zeroautomatically. If you file a joint bracket amount) and determine which is greater. Secondly, add to the higher figure the monetary value of any personal exemptions to which you are entitled. Finally subtract the total arrived at in step two from your adjusted gross income. The amount calculated in this step will be your taxable income. Check the 1987 tax table to estimate what your tax bill will be and compare this number to the amount you have already paid through withholding or estimated asking you to estimate your tax tax payments. If that amount is at least 90 percent of the figure in the tax table, you are safe from the penalty. If at the end of the four-month extension period you are still unable to file a return, you can request a second extension by filing Form 2688. If granted, the second extension buys an additional two months, making the filing deadline October 15. But don't assume that the second penalty grows by .5 percent a extension is automatic - this grace period is granted only to individuals proving hardship or reasonable cause. Incomplete reasons such as 'illness' or 'practitioner too busy' are not acceptable. You will have to supply detailed explanations, so don't count on a second extension unless you have a legitimate

> Remember, filing extensions are intended to help people who cannot conveniently file a return by April 15. If you are a chronic procrastinator, however, postponing the tax deadline is simply impractical. If you can calculate where you stand in relation to the 90 percent requirement, filing a 1040 may require just a bit more time and effort than the extension

One final reassuring note on extensions: CPAs say that there is no truth to the myth that filing for an extension invites an IRS audit. IRS officials also repudiate this rumor. Rather than breaking into a sweat over the April 15 deadline this year, you may want to look into filing for an extension.

Farm Bureau Leader Salutes Congressmen

Senator Don Riegle and Representatives Bill Schuette, Fred Upton, Carl Pursell, Bob Carr, and Howard Wolpe were saluted by Michigan Farm Bureau President Jack Laurie for cosponsoring legislation that would exempt farmers from having to pay excise tax when they ourchase diesel fuel and then file or a refund.

"It is gratifying that we have representatives in Washington, D.C., who recognize the folly of collecting the 15 cents per gallon tax on diesel fuel from farmers and then send them a refund when they request it," Laurie said. "Farmers have never had to pay the excise tax on diesel fuel used in farm equipment because the tax is designed to pay for highway construction." When Congress passed the recent budget reconciliation bill. they changed the way the fuel excise tax will be collected beginning on April 1. Previously, the tax was collected at the retail level and the new law shifts it to the wholesale level.

"The change for farmers is that now, they will have to pay the tax, then request a refund. Technically, farmers will still be exempt from the tax, but under the new law, they'll have to pay the tax at the time of purchase,

"Michigan agriculture could be the loser if the proposed state field sanitation standards are accepted," Kelly said. "The state proposal would cost farm expense on the part of farmers employers more money to supply the additional facilities for field workers and this would increase the farmer's cost of production. The end result could be that Michigan farmers will lose some of their markets due to higher production costs." Kelly maintains that Michigan agriculture should continue to operate under the federal field standards. "The federal rules are fair for both the farm employer and the employee," he said. Farm employers voiced their Double Good Walnut Bread is great for breakfast—it slices easily and toasts beautifully; but you don't have to wait for breakfast to enjoy it. Bake it ahead and take it on a spring picnic. You can store it, carefully wrapped, in the refrigerator or freeze it for later use.

Double Good Walnut Bread is the perfect accompaniment to luncheon salads or fresh fruit. It's especially delicious when spread with cream cheese or your favorite jam or jelly. For a light dessert, top a slice with strawberries and whipped cream.

DOUBLE GOOD WALNUT BREAD 11/2 cups Diamond Walnuts cups all-purpose flour cup granulated sugar teaspoons baking powder

1 teaspoon salt 1 egg, beaten

1½ cups milk
½ cup butter or margarine,
melted

Spread walnuts in a flat pan. Toast in preheated 350°F oven for 8 to 10 minutes or until very lightly browned. Cool. Finely grind ¾ cup of the toasted walnuts in food processor or blender; set aside. In a large mixing bowl, combine flour with sugar, baking powder and salt. Stir in ground walnuts. Combine beaten egg, milk and melted butter. Blend into the flour mixture just until dry ingredients are moistened. Stir in remaining walnuts. Turn into greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Bake at 350°F about 65 minutes or until pick inserted in center comes out clean. Remove from oven; let stand in pan 10 minutes. Remove to wire rack to cool. Makes 1 loaf.

Death of Henry Goodyear

all will sympathize with me in my loss. Your friend in sorrow.

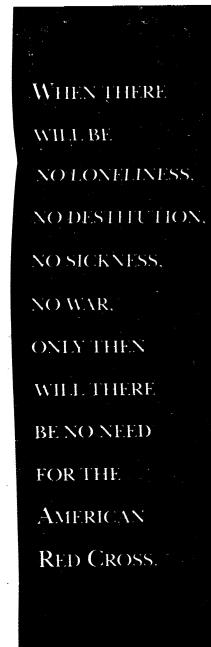

E. Goodyear."

The remains arrived here by express last evening. They were not expected until this afternoon, and but few were aware of their arrival. They were taken to Lockwood's undertaking rooms, from which at 1:30 this afternoon they were carried to Oak Grove Cemetery, followed by many old friends and neighbors of the deceased, and deposited in the vault to await interment. The business places were closed during the services.

At the vault Rev. W. B. Pope, of the M. E. church, read a passage of scripture and made some appropriate remarks, a male quartet rendered the Lord's prayer, and another beautiful piece of music, then the remains were laid tenderly away.

It is a singular coincidence that the building, Goodyear hall, which he erected and intended to stand as a monument to him, and from which his remains were this day carried to their final resting place, should this night receive another

Rita said this ride honors Brian, a leukemia patient at St. Jude. "With every turn of the wheel, riders become 'Spokes'-men for all the kids with cancer, like Brian." and wish him the best in the Rita said, "This ride is a vital part of the fight against childhood cancer at St. Jude. Riders are really needed. They make or break a Bike-A-Thon.'

Riders sign up sponsors who promise to make a donation based on each mile completed. All riders turning in money will receive a certificate. Those who raise $25 receive a certificate and a St. Jude T-shirt. When $75 is raised, the rider receives a sports bag, a T-shirt and a certificate.

"The general plan is to have a good time while helping a wonderful group of children counting on our support." Rita said.

Ann Arbor. The dedicatory speech made by Mr. G. P. Suky, of Ann Arbor was delivered in his most eloquent manner and the audience sat spell-bound at his graceful flow of rhetoric.

The double male quartette from Ann Arbor sang several very pretty songs and the audience cheered them every time they appeared. The gentlemen all had good voices which harmonized

Miss Jacquemain of Detroit played a few pieces on the piano. She is a fine player and showed her perfect understanding of music in the faultless execution of difficult parts. She responded to an encore.

Mr. Worsch of Jackson sang, and Mr. Kemper played several excellent pieces, but the musical part of the entertainment was entirely to short, being curtailed in order to give place to some reading which were not very well understood.

After the concert a large portion of the audience remained to either participate in or witness the dance. Everything passed off with perfect decorum and all appeared to enjoy the occasion.

About 12 o'clock a supper was served in the front room on the second floor, of which a large number partook. Other refreshments were served as a matter of course, but we have not heard of any disturbances resulting therefrom.

The dance and frolic lasted until sunrise when the last went went home with the word "Arbeiter" ringing in their ears.

The speaker grandfather's journals began was Professor Spencer Bennett of the Hisotry and Religious Studies Department at Sienna Heights

> The group had been reading the novel ORDINARY PEOPLE by Judith Guest. Professor Bennett began with an interesting analysis of the work, both as literature and especially as it represented the family in American history.

> The following points brought up and discussed: a) The inclination to make children selfsufficient at an early age. This was not always the case in American culture. b) The father's

Some very provocative issues opportunity to be a role model for his son is not as visible as it has been in the past. And c), the institutionalization of family roles, e.g., the caring for the old and sick being turned over to nursing homes.

The group, which has met three times (and always with a few new and welcome faces), really delved into the theme this book presented which coincided with the theme of the Reading and Discussion Series: Seasons in the Contemporary American Family. We were not all in agreement, and the discussion was full, varied, and sincere.

We appreciated Prof. Bennett's insights and the questions he presented which led to the spirited discussion.

At our next meeting, this Thursday, April 14th, we will discuss three short stories,
