About the Council

The River Raisin Watershed Council was officially formed in 1974 permitting counties, cities, villages and townships to maintain uses and conditions of the river.

The Council contracts for parttime consultant/administrative services. The membership representatives to the Council have adopted by-laws, elected officers and established committees.

Summertime clean-out projects are sponsored by the efficiently. Council with each County utilizing the State and Federal funded youth employment programs for removing fallen trees and junk from most ence and must help in some way. serious problem areas.

The Council encourages local service club organizations and units of government to undertake projects to improve the river in local communities.

Public awareness, education and demonstrations are principal objective functions of the Watershed Council. Recognition of the various interests and problems associated with the river in each community can then be followed by a joint effort toward long-term co-

The Council hopes to persuade landowners and farm operators to use improved farming practices to protect the top soil on the land and reduce sedimentation in the river drainage system. The Council helps sponsor soil erosion control demonstration projects to show how that can be done effectively and

Do you know how safe your drinking water is?

Drain Commissioner

The quality of drinking water for some Washtenaw County residents is no longer a sure thing. I am campaigning to clean up our water supply, one of the most critical environmental problems affecting our communities today. Cleanup of toxic substances, prevention of toxic waste facilities, control of soil erosion, and maintenance of county drains are other related concerns that must be resolved.

I would like to thank the thousands of voters -- Republicans and Democrats alike -- who supported me in the August primary as the Republican nominee for Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner.

As your Drain Commissioner, I will dedicate myself to managing the office in an efficient and responsible manner. I want to promptly improve levels of service to increase your satisfaction with work completed.

Your opportunity to make a difference is here. It will take your continued assistance throughout the fall campaign -and your vote on November 3 -- to elect a Drain Commissioner with the experience, qualifications and integrity for

PROPOSED SYNOPSIS of a Regular Meeting of the Manchester Township Board held Monday, September 14,

The meeting opened at 8:02 p.m. with members present: Hakes. Mann. Turk, Macomber. Absent: Widmayer. Also present: Dorothy Davies. Char

After review, the Board approved the minutes of their August 10, 1992 meeting, and accepted the minutes of the Planning Commission, Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority, and Library Board.

A list of bills paid since last meeting was examined. Treasurer Turk reported $33501.58 in the General Fund. Approval was given for payment of bills totaling $8333.94 from the General Fund, $6030.29 from the Road Fund, and $422.25 from the Fire Equipment Fund.

The constable has had discussions with the sergeant that submits requests for "No Parking" signs. The county has received permission to put the signs on Wolff Rd., but has not yet received permission on signs for Ely or Sharon Hollow Roads. They would prefer to install all signs at once. If nothing comes through in the next few weeks the township will ask that they install the signs they do have Also, County Commissioner Mike DuRussel has been apprised of the situation and has contacted the Road Commis-

Dorothy Davies and Char Major were present to inform the Board that the Library Board has voted to pursue formation of a District Library to include the townships of Manchester, Sharon, Freedom, and Bridgewater. They need Manchester Township's approval before going further. Some questions were discussed, and it was suggested that a formal written proposal be presented to the Board. The matter will be further explored next month.

Mann, as representative to the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority, reported that the building will be delivered in two weeks. People may have noticed new bins at Walco Foods with a new set-up for milk jugs. He noted that volunteers are still needed for recycling promotion and education.

Constable Moore's report for August was reviewed and accepted. It was voted to make

The forests and wetlands around Sharon Hollow, however, remained relatively intact and eventually became well known to naturalists and wildflower seekers, and later used by educational and scientific institutions such as the University of Michigan for academic study and research.

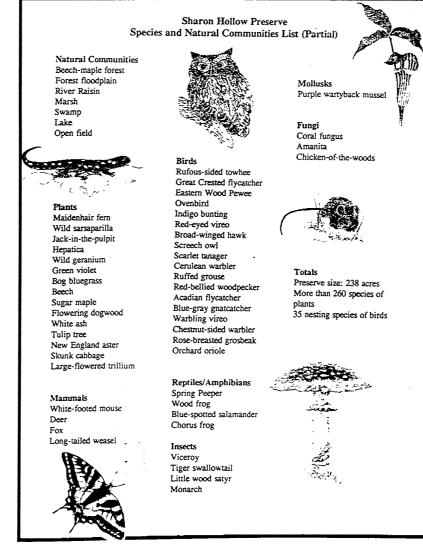

Having been provided with this information, we were then led by staff members Laura Matthei, Preserve Design Ecologist, and Nancy Sferra, Preserve Land Steward, on an expedition into the woodland.

The intent of the Conservancy is to provide accessibility to people, without gross intrusion on fragile ecological systems, so paths are not concrete byways but rather narrow trails meandering across hard clay surfaces and marshy muckbottom ground; across dead-fall trees; alongside brambles and brush; over roots; and up and down the Sharon Short Hills. Editor's Opinion

Emory Garlick

Last week the Townships of Bridgewater, Freedom, Manchester and Sharon listed the proposals that will be on November 3rd ballot. Two proposals, A and C deal with increases in the property tax assessments that will be levied against property values. Bob Goss, Manchester Township assessorsaid earlier in the year, "Because of the one year assessment freeze township residents might be assessed as much as 15% to 20% increase in property values".

That would be unconscionable. However we quite often are tuck with what happens in Ann Arbor and Washtenaw County regardless of our local conditions. Tax assessment increases in valuation are mandated by State and Washtenaw County

I like proposal C over proposal A; because the maximum ncrease/inflation rate factor in C is 3% and A is 5%. A property exemption/school operating taxes, in proposal C has a reduction of 10% in 93: 15% in 94: 20% in 95: 25% in 96; and 30% in following years. Both proposals would address major value differences when a property is sold.

Let us not kid ourselves however, funds would have to come from another source, be they from an expanded economy as Governor Engler believes or from an increase in Income or Sales Tax. As I have been given to understand school administrators do not like these proposals as systems will be dependent upon the State for a funding source. That in the past has been unreliable and may create the problem of richer districts having to share more funds with less affluent districts. So Be It!

Let's get behind Proposal C and put an end to indiscriminate assessment increases caused by neighboring areas that are more affluent. I urge a YES vote for C.

To the Editor:

Each year Directors of the Saline Community Fair try to do the impossible by pleasing all of the spectators who attend. Unfortunately on Saturday, Sept. 12, 1992 we failed to please approximately 20 people when they were not allowed access into the grandstands to view the beginning heats of the demolition derby, and when they requested a refund of the gate admission, we refused.

As a result of our past experience with this popular event we added approximately 500 more seats of bleacher space this year. However, when the grandstand became filled, approximately 10 minutes before the first heat, we limited access to the area. It is our policy to shut the gates during the running of a heat to ensure safety of the spectators as well as increase the visibility of the event. After the heat is over, the gates are opened and spectators leave and new spectators enter. Because many people chose to see only one or two heats, and enjoy the rest of the fair's activities, it takes a few races to work out the seating arrangements so everybody who wants a seat has one. By the time the second to last heat and the championship heat were run, there was ample seating avail-by the upset people for refunds, I apologized to them, and told them that we have a policy against refunds on the final day of the fair. (We have given refunds when the carnival is not running.) The demo derby is only one event and we are selling admission to all activities to the fair, including unlimited carnival rides. I also informed them that if they returned to the grandstand area and were patient they would eventually find a seat. This turned out to be true because after the derby was completed I encountered four people who requested refunds who eventually found seats and were satisfied with the show. Also after we realized we had only limited seating in the grandstand

Out and About

I returned Monday from Sunny California. A small area called Kelsey, maybe a couple of hundred people. Kelsey is a hard rock mining area about 12 miles from Sutters Mill where placer gold was discovered in the nineteenth century.

Although the gold in the ground is gone, or undiscovered, the true gold is in the skies, the sun. Yes folks there really is a sun, contrary to what we in Michigan believe this summer. Kelsey, not a cloud in the reunion with her sisters. What made the event so special was been together for 46 years.

Lest you think I am putting down the area, I am not. A more beautiful area would be hard to find. To sit on the deck and watch the sun come over the mountains is fantastic. The nights are cool and the days are hot, but when the sun drops over the mountain a magnificent red color illuminates the long shadows. When the moon comes up the stars shine very bright. Kelsey, California you are wonderful and I miss you.

Yes, they had seen each other in the meantime, but never had managed to get all six together at one time.

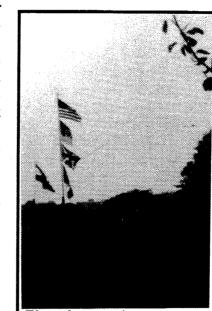

The other reason for making it so special was that the sisters live in different countries: three live in Germany (but each one in a different town), one in England, one in Canada and Walli in the United States.

Five large flags, one from each country, and the German province of Schleswig Holstein where the sisters grew up, were hoisted high on a pole above the children's playhouse and greeted every visitor.

The sisters range in age from 72 to 63 and some brought part of their family along. Canada was represented by the largest group for three of Hildegard and Heinz Wilhelm's children came with husband and wives and six grandchildren. Walli's daughter Christiane and

The most touching moment for Walli was when the two oldest sisters gave her a pillow with eyelet and embroidery done by their mother in the early 1930's. They had saved their mother's pieces of eyelet and embroidery through all these years and one of them came upon the idea to make small pillow covers from the pieces so that all six girls would have a reminder of their mother and the beautiful handwork she created.

The three days were filled with lots of reminiscing, laughter, tears of joy and tears of sentiment, and much good food. The heavens were smiling upon them, bringing warm weather and sunshine.

The host, Tom's, family, his parents, an aunt and his sister with her husband and the youngest son were part of this celebration.

Paul and Helen Kemner, long-time residents of Manchester, celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary recently at a family gathering. Paul and the former Helen Hanewald, were married September 20, 1947 in the parsonage at Emanuel United Church of Christ, Manchester. Best man was Bernard Kemner and maid of honor was Marian (Hanewald) Taylor. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H.S.VonRague. A reception followed at the home of the bride's father, Herman Hanewald at Wampler's Lake.

A little fellow said to a lady, "I'm selling pencils to raise a million dollars for a children's hospital.'

"Are you doing this by vourself?"

"No, ma'am," he said. 'Another boy is helping me.' I'm glad she didn't say, "It's hopeless.'

A Christian never says that. One day our Lord said, "Go into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature."

To whom did He say that? To eleven ordinary men. What did they do? They went everywhere preaching. What happened? Miracles.

Has the Lord told you to do something? Do it. He'll be with you. What can you expect? Miracles. You'll see.

St. Mary's Scripture Study Group Takes a "Field Trip"

"To Jesus Through Mary" is the topic under study for the new Scripture Study group meeting at St. Mary's Church. All in the community, both Catholics and non-Catholics, are invited to come to one or all of the eight sessions to explore the special respect Mary is given in the Catholic Church and examine how Scripture supports that regard.

The group regularly meets Thursdays from 7:45 p.m. until 9:45 p.m.

However, this Thursday, October 1st, a special activity is planned: A special seminar at Domino's Farms in Ann Arbor is being held and the Scripture Study group felt this might be particularly relevant to their

The guest speaker is Karl Keating, a writer, editor and noted lecturer on Catholic beliefs. "Are you unable to answer questions about Catholicism?" the seminar invitation asks. "Get the answers at this seminar."

The seminar is being held Thursday, October 1, at 7:30 p.m. at the Ulrich Conference Center at Domino's Farms. It is open to all. If you are interested in attending and need a ride or further information, please contact Bill Kwolek at 428-7674 or Janet Shurtliff at 428-9462.

Next Thursday, October 8th, the regular Scripture Study sessions will continue with an examination of the topic "Who is Mary?" The October 8th meeting will be held at the Blacksmith Shop, 324 E. Main, beginning at 7:45 p.m.

You are warmly invited to come and enjoy exploring this compelling topic through examination of sacred Scripture. You are also sure to enjoy good company and interesting discus-

Opera Night is Back!!!

New Fall Season Begins October 9th
Plain, simple fun and a musical masterpiece of comedic opera: The Barber of Seville, composed by Gioacchino Rossini in 1816, will be the premiere performance of the 1992-1993 "Opera Night in Manchester" season on Friday, October 9th.

Each month, an excellent cinematic production of one of our great operas is shown on the large screen video at the Blacksmith Shop on Main Street. The presentation is free.

All in the community are invited to come and enjoy this somewhat unusual fare. You need not be an opera buff to attend. Perhaps even, you are unfamiliar with opera. Here is an oppor-

The Barber of Seville is a remarkable work for opera fans and newcomers alike. In two acts, it delights audiences of all ages with sparkling wit and a happy, unpretentious humor.

The music includes some very familiar melodies by the composer who we know so well for his William Tell Overture (theme from "The Lone Ranger!").

Join the fun and adventure on Friday, October 9th, beginning at 7:30 p.m., at the Blacksmith Shop (324 E. Main), as "Opera Night in Manchester" begins its fourth season.

Rough Week for Middle School Girls

-Roy Shields Wednesday, the 23rd proed to be a tough night for our 7th and 8th grade girls basketball squads as both fell to the home teams of East Jackson.

Our 7th graders have experienced two consecutive nailbiters; this one on an overtime, one point loss. Losing is never fun, but for some reason the close ones are the hardest to take. These girls are capable of great things and as they learn the fine art of team play, they'll experience more success.

Our eight graders are frustrated by too many losses over the past two years, made worse by playing good opponents. We have a good group of girls here, so keep cheering them on.

Keeping Up With Fall Sports

Our Lady Dutch had two games this week, one in Stockbridge and they hosted Grass Lake for the other. In the JV games this week, Manchester dropped both; scores were 10-59 and 21-30. In the varsity match up, Stockbridge simply overpowered us to win 34-76. Sarah Riske had nine points and 13 rebounds. Grass Lake came to town on Thursday night and left with a victory of 25-42. Sarah again led all our scorers with eight points.

In every life a little rain must fall. This is because our JV football squad lost their first. contest in almost three years. We played in Addison and the Little Panthers were just too quick for us. Shane Goodell and Geoft Brooks were slowed in the rushing department with 47

"Where the QUALITY Used Cars Are."

the back yard. But my brother still had to shoot sparrows for them to eat. When he went outside with we had given it. He jumped out of his truck, grabbed his cane he carried in his truck and he killed this lovely bird we had raised from infancy. We were so very angry at him. I was heartbroken because he had killed Queen, my bird. I still feel rage every time I think of it. He said he thought it was a chicken hawk and was killing our chickens. Afterthat Rex was never so tame again. Finally he went back to the wild and never came back. What a wonderful summer we Another spring as my Father walked in the woods he came upon this tiny fawn. He brought it up to the house and we put him in one of the horse stables. We got a lamb bottle and fed him milk. He loved us and we loved him, we named him Benny. He grew and grew and would come when we called him. My father and brothers would put pieces of carrots in their jacket pockets and he would pick the pieces out and eat them. Benny would go out to pasture with the cows and would come back to the barn when the cattle came.

had with those hawks. I still get a thrill when I hear the skree call of a hawk.

There was a game reservation at Pinckney, Michigan and my father wrote them a letter and told them we had a deer. Some man from the reservation came one day to see Benny and said they would come and get him before winter. Finally he came with his trailer and took him away. We cried when they left. Part of our family was gone.

Another spring when the men cut trees, they found two baby raccoons in a hollow log they had felled. These also were brought to the house and put in our corn crib. We fed them warm cows milk with an eye dropper for a while. Finally they were large enough to lap up the milk. They loved my mother's homemade bread in milk, a large cake pan of water must be in front of them at all times. They wash everything before they eat it. They would eat table scraps and cracked com - almost anything we could find to feed them.

Baby 'coons' are a lovely pet to have. They dearly loved attention and would hang on to you like a little baby with their hands. Finally they got big enough to be let out of the com crib-and that's when the trouble began. They learned to open the screen doors on the front porch and to the back door. Instead of pets they quickly became Pests. They were into everything all the time. My father took them to the woods but they came right back to the house. At last he had enough, he took them to our

124th Year — No 51 DOWN MEMORY LANE

BY ROSE WINRIGHT

I Remember: 7

We had two barns on our farm. The one large red hip-roof barn up by the house was called the horsebarn. In it were the horse stables with mangers upfront. Also there was an oat grainary where the horses oats were put. Also the horse hay was put up in the loft.

Below the hay mow was a large storage place for the fanning mill, com sheller, cross-cut saws, mauls and wedges and axes and all kinds of tools that were used on the farm.

The barn across the road was very large. Almost like two barns. One side was the cow barn, the other side was the sheep barn. In the basement of the cow barn were the stanchions and when the holstein milk cows were called to come into the barn, each one went to her stanchion every time. We named all our cows and they knew their names. We had them for years so they were like old friends. My favorite cow was "Crumpled-Horn". She would let us ride her. We would give her some choice handfuls of grass and then quick as a flash jumped on her back, and away we went. What fun that was.

Every morning and evening the cows were milked. I remember my brother had an old black cat that followed him in the barn and when Bob sat down on his three-legged stool to milk, that cat would sit about four feet from him and wait for the squirts of milk sent his way. He was always ready and never missed lapping the milk. We had a silo fastened to the cowbarn and it was easy to get into it to feed the cows their silage. They always ate that while they were being milked.

48. 50. 50. 50. 50. 50.

There was a hay chute where you threw down the hay from the barn floor. And the oat grainery was on the cowside of the barn. There was a large fenced in barnyard out the back barn door and the huge straw stack was out there. The barnyard had a woven wire fence down through the middle so the sheep had their own yard. There was a large watering tank for both the cows and sheep.

The sheep were in the basement on their side and on their barn floor was the wheat grainery and a special room for the wool to be stored in. Once a year in early spring the sheep shearers came. They ran their machinery with a gasoline engine. And, as each sheep was shorn, the wool bundles were carried up the stairs and stored in that room. Later on a wool buyer came and bought the wool and trucked it away. Soon after the sheep were shorn, the lambs were born.

It was a great thrill for me to lambs being born. Sometimes there was a mean old ewe who would not be a mother to her lamb. So those lambs were brought up to the empty horse stable and we got out the lamb bottles and nipples. We always had several pet lambs begging for milk but it was fun to feed them warm cows milk. Even after they had been weaned and put back in the sheep barn, they would come when we called

When the corn was planted, a late field was planted with sorgum planted with the corn. This was the silage com and it was cut and shocked before the The defensive battle continued corn dried. When all the neigh-

School Crossing Guards

Our unsung hero's are the crossing guards, for our school kids, that use the village sidewalks and street crossings. Currently there are four locations that guards protect the school kids. M - 52 at Klager school, Reta Guernsy; M - 52 at Main, Robert (Buba) Ross and the DPW as interim guard: M -52 at Duncan, Marion Koffman; M- 52 at Wolverine, JoAnn Hendricks.

This is one of the very important jobs that protect our children to and from school. Unlike other bussed kids, and therefore transportation supported by the schools, the safety of children crossing the streets are the responsibility of the Village of Manchester.

Napoleon's stadium, packed with homecoming fans and news media, were disappointed in a double overtime, 13-12 loss to Manchester.

Wes Gall, Manchester varsity football coach has a defensive team he can count on. Proving themselves for the fourth week in a row against previously undefeated Napoleon team, the Dutch "D" have held all opponents to a total of 24 points.

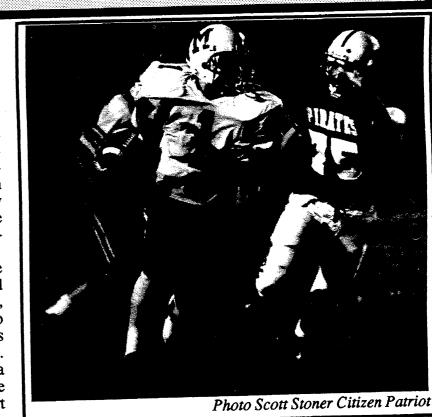

The Dutch received the opening kick-off on their 10 yard line, moved the ball to the 50, and Shayne Ahrens punted to the Pirates 20-yard line. Pirates managed but 2 yards in 3 plays.

Jeremy Strock attempted a sit on the steps and watch the 48-yard field goal late in the first quarter. Dutchman Robert Spork recovered a Pirate fumble on the next series. The second quarter was more of the same with the Napoleon offense struggling against a very determined Dutch defense led by seniors Rich Lutton, Jamie Sloat, Andy Corwin, Darren Hagen and Karrick Rentfro.

Spork intercepted a Pirate aerial and Rentfro sacked the QB for a 15-yard loss in the second quarter.

The second half was highlighted by Darren Hagen's fumble recovery and a Fielderto-Burkhardt pass completion. with no score at the last whistle.
