Girls Cross Country Wins Regionals; Ready to Vie For State Meet

The boys and girls Cross-Country teams competed in Regional number 22C at Ann Arbor Pioneer high school this past Saturday. The results were fantastic for our squads. We were able to qualify three boys as individuals and our girls team for the State meet next weekend at Michigan Speedway in Brooklyn. This was a well deserved honor for these student-athletes who have worked hard all year long to accomplish their goals.

The boys team finished a respectable sixth out of 17 schools in their regional competition. Leading our boys squad was sophomore Kyle Harris who lowered his own school record to 17:30 on Pioneer's demanding course. This was good enough for sixth place and all regional honors.

Fellow sophomore Kevin Sahakian ran a career best time of 18:02 to finish 16th and earn a trip to the State finals. Charging in to the finish line was junior Eli Bragg to finish right behind Kevin in 17th place. This earns Eli a trip to the state finals also. Senior Jeremy Smith and sophomore Philip Krall finished 25th and 83rd, respectively, to round out our team's score of 143.

This capped off a very successful season for these five guys. They've run to a 6-1 dual meet record and a third place finish overall in the Conference. This was outstanding and puts them as one of the best teams in Manchester history. Great job, guys!

The girls team broke through with a spectacular meet and earned the title of regional champions. The girls finished ahead of 12 other teams to take their first regional championship of their short three year existence. It was a great display of running and determination as we placed three girls in the top ten, four in the top 20, and defeated our best opponents soundly.

Our extremely young team of freshmen and sophomores didn't let the pressure of the big meet get to them as they scored a low total of 66 points. Rachel Fleck led the way once again with a fourth place finish in 21:23. This earned Rachel her first all-regional medal. Crossing the line a step behind Rachel was Jackie Palms in fifth place in 21:23, earning Jackie her first all-regional medal.

Running her best race of the season was Erin Fox. She finished ninth in 21:52, holding off two other runners down the backstretch. Erin joined Rachel and Jackie on the all-regional team. Our fourth runner was Cassie Clark, finishing in 18th place in 22:32. Cassie provided us with the depth that the other teams didn't have out of their fourth runner. Lauren Adler continued to run through her nagging foot injuries to put in her personal best time of 23:49 and round out our five scoring runners. Her efforts were worth a 37th place finish. Kristen Taddonio ran a tough race in 25:22 to help us accomplish our goal of wearing the regional crown. Excellent job, ladies!!!

Our middle school athletes were in action on Friday night at Ella Sharp Park in Jackson for their last meet of the year. It was wet and soggy, and our athletes represented our school and program with pride. Our lone boy representative, Nathan Bragg, ran his best time of the

News from The Manchester Township Library

Internet Access Now Available

Access to the Internet is now at the Manchester Township Library thanks to a grant from the Library of Michigan. The award was made from federal Library Services and Construction Act funds. Forty-five libraries received the grant this year.

"We are pleased to receive an Internet Access Grant," said Director Dorothy Davies. "This program was designed as a state-wide initiative to link public libraries of all sizes to the Internet, with access to information sources across the globe."

Internet access means that the Manchester Township Library will be able to connect to the largest worldwide network of information resources available. More than 32 million people use the Internet to get information, such as cancer treatment guideline from the National Cancer Institute or current legislative information from the Library of Congress.

Through access to the Internet, the Michigan Electronic Library (MEL) will also be available. MEL provides access to Internet resources such as library on-line catalogs, information on Michigan small businesses, state government and Michigan/U.S. census data, as well as thousands of other resources. During the next year the Manchester Township Library staff will be learning how to use these resources to better serve their clients.

"Although we were lucky to get this grant, it is costing us," said Davies. "We have to pay the monthly charges for another phone line plus $.085 per call. In the first month of access, we had 96 phone calls." We are currently in a position where we have to bemoan spending a little under $30 a month for public Internet access.

Through the grant, the library received a dial access Internet account, a computer with high resolution color monitor and printer; a high-speed modem, telecommunication software, Internet training, and reimbursement for telephone line installation. The approximate grant value is $3,000. Library staff have been receiving training at the regional training center at the Jackson District Library and at the Woodlands Library Cooperative headquarters at Albion.

Davies continues, "We currently only charge for the cost of printing. Many have suggested that in our financial crunch that we should charge to use the Net. The Board and I agree that this is a service that should be freely available to our clients. As long as we can afford it, we won't charge."

With a staff of often only one in the building, it is difficult to give one-on-one assistance to the public. Therefore we aren't able to use the Internet to full advantage.

If there is anyone out there who could volunteer to give Internet classes to a few people at one time (due to space considerations) please call Davies at the Library (428-8045). In the mean time, Dorothy is willing to schedule time by appointment on a one to one basis to introduce people to the Internet. "Of course, if I am there and someone wants a brief introduction, we can do that too," she adds.

Helping Out our Library

by Breeda Miller

As we've heard our Manchester Library is sorely in need of financial help. Many good folks are getting together to support this wonderful institution. One idea that has been proposed is to identify November as a month to benefit the Manchester Library and a creative twist is to invite all those independent distributors of products to earmark one presentation (or show, or demonstration) and have the proceeds benefit the Library. The Manchester Enterprise will print a list of willing and able distributors and patrons may call them directly to book a party or to place an order or to have a "catalog show." The sellers agree to donate a portion of their profit (or if their company has a structure for fund-raising) to the Manchester Library.

So, if your Tupperware is a little tired looking, your Mary Kay needs a refill, you have a spot perfect for a Longaberger basket, you are pining for a Dorling Kindersly book, you want to light up your life with PartyLife, or let Avon ring your bell ...do it and help out the Manchester Township Library at the same time.

Interested sales people should contact The Manchester Enterprise (428-8173) no later than November 5, 1997. We will publish the name of your company, your name and phone number and how much (percentage) you will give to the Manchester Township Library.

Recently a fund-raising party was held at the home of Linda Conzelmann with Dorling Kindersly books. Folks at the party enjoyed an evening looking at the beautiful books and purchased books for themselves, as gifts for family members and a gifts directly to the library's collection. The Manchester library kind of "double-dipped" as a percentage of total sales went to the library and many of the actual books purchased were for the Library.

The next Dorling Kindersly Book Look to benefit the Manchester Township Library will be at the home of Breeda Miller in November; call 428-0847 if you'd like to join us.

In coming weeks, watch for further information about the library's new on-line periodical databases, as well as Internet Use Policies.

Local Resident Wins Honors at Chelsea Fair

Margaret's herbal wreaths are always made with flowers and herbs from her own yard, and the grapevine bases are also home-grown. A second wreath she created took second place at the Chelsea Fair, this one made with all roses from her own gardens.

Margaret enjoys entering her projects in the local Fairs, and has also exhibited at the Manchester Community Fair, winning a first place for her porcelain dolls in 1992 and 1993. This year in Chelsea, she also won ribbons for canning, woodworking (hand whittled canes), porcelain dolls, and her fresh vegetable display took first place. "It's hard to accumulate enough things in time for the Manchester Fair," says Margaret, although she enjoys exhibiting here in her home town, too.

Margaret works at Chelsea Community Hospital, so it's amazing that she finds the time to pursue so many varied projects. She looks forward to entering her Wedding Cake in next year's Michigan State Fair.

Out of the Pen

- by garlene

'Tis the season for spooks and haunting and, it would seem, for decorating one's home for the holiday. garlene remembers when the only time people used to decorate their yards was for Christmas. She cannot really bemoan those times, however, because most of the time she enjoys watching the creative endeavors of her neighbors.

She is happy to see that as the cooler weather approaches, the ubiquitous goose has changed from a bathing suit to a cape and a witch's hat. (She can hardly wait to see the ubiquitous goose wearing ear muffs, but that's another story.)

Lights on the trees, which used to be reserved for Christmas, now have merry little pumpkin faces on them.

Pumpkin-headed people are usually pretty friendly looking, and frequent visitors to Halloween-decorated yards. This year a milk-jug skeleton has added his presence to a few local homes.

She has quite gotten over seeing dummies sitting on the neighbors' porch, and no longer thinks the neighbors themselves are sitting out there having a conversation.

She finds the "man on ladder" out on City Road amusing, and secretly wonders how long it takes to change a light bulb.

Or is he doing something else?

Those who traditionally go all out to decorate their homes for Halloween have not disappointed this year. Black lights and sound effects are additions guaranteed to create a creepy ambiance which seems to be requisite to the season. Graveyards, enormous spiders, characters from horror movies...all are part and parcel of effective

Halloween decorations.

But what really spooks garlene is going past Mr. & Mrs. Dunny's home on Furnace Street each morning on her daily walk. She does not consider herself a superstitious pig, but every day this place scares the wits out of her. She is taken aback each day by a vision of several creatures who seem to be walking toward her in various stages of death and decay. Even expecting to see these folk at this particular time and in this particular place does not shake the eerie feeling.

Her trusty flashlight is not helpful. In fact, it casts such mysterious shadows around the creatures, she has stopped trying to shed some light on them. She and her partner just tend to walk a little faster as they pass by - and on these chilly mornings, that's probably a good thing.

As long as the creatures don't start following along behind... They won't, will they?

Down Memory Lane with Howard Parr U.S. ARMY RAIL TRAVEL - AUGUST 1942

I left Camp Custer, Michigan as an army recruit in early August, 1942 on my first long military train ride. Custer was the induction camp where I was received into the army and outfitted with an initial issue of clothing and individual equipment. It took about three days to do this before it was time for movement by rail to our basic training camp.

I seem to recall marching to the railhead with my "A" barracks bag over my shoulder. My "B" bag was sent by truck to be loaded into baggage cars. Only necessary items of current use were in the "A" bag — extra khakis, underwear, socks, shaving and tooth gear, towels, letter writing kits, etc. The "B" bag contained everything else we owned as army recruits. A few lucky guys didn't have to walk to the train — they rode the baggage trucks and unloaded all the "B" bags.

A barracks bag in those days was made of heavy, blue material like sail cloth. It was round, about the size of a bushel basket and had a bottom in it so it could be filled from the top as it sat on the ground. They were marked "A" and "B" and also had our name, rank and serial number stenciled on them. A drawstring 3/8" in diameter was looped through a header and grommets at the top and was used to tie them closed and for carrying. They really amounted to about the cheapest "suitcase" the army could provide us.

When the march ended and we sat our bags down on the cinders at the sidetrack I could see the train. It was no Sunset Limited or Wolverine and it seemed to go on forever. There were at least the following behind an old engine — coal burning steam, of course: a couple baggage cars, eight Pullman cars, a couple baggage cars modified to serve as kitchens, eight more Pullman cars and a couple more baggage cars. There may well have also been a final car for the troop commander, guards and train crew.

Pullman cars had 13 bays or sleeping sections and three soldiers were assigned to each bay — two on the bottom bunk and one on the top for sleeping. I figure there were 39 men per car, 16 cars, for a total of a few more than 600 men on board. I suppose some of the spaces were taken by regulars serving as our cooks, etc.

One regular Pullman porter served in each car and carried out the same duties performed on civilian runs. We soon learned to appreciate Porters and to listen to what they said — they were rail wise. At the close of the trip we collected what few coins we had and gave them the best tip we could. Remember, this was only the second month troops had been paid at the new basic rate of $50.00 (up from $21.00) — fifty dollars a day, once a month, we often said. But we were willing to share some of this with our faithful porter.

We arrived trainside in the late afternoon and seemed to stand round in the hot sun forever while some non-coin with a clipboard called names and assigned us to cars. Then, as usual in the Army, there was another long wait before the whistle blew and we started to move.

No one around me knew where we were headed, but that didn't stop the rumors from flying around the train. You could hear anything from Mississippi to North Carolina to California and points in between. We couldn't even start plotting a possible course by keeping track of the towns we passed through. We were following a special route, which I call Land Grant Special.

Our "old" government was quite efficient and had a long memory. When railroads were granted land to establish rail routes, one of the requirements was that they agree to always haul federal troops free. It soon became apparent that we were first covering every mile of land grand railway in the direction we were going and then worrying about exactly where we wanted to end up. One day we went north all morning - with generous waits on sidetracks for "important" rail traffic — and then went about 50-100 miles west at noon. The afternoon was spent going south, so the net gain that day was 50 or 100 miles in the direction we were heading — but it was free!

The Pumpkin Carving Festival was a fun time last Saturday. We gathered at Klager for a full day of carving and games for all ages. The pumpkins were nice size this year and were donated by The Manchester Enterprise, Mr. Francis Heckaman, and The Robbins family. Small Town Sounds once again played fun and fitting music for this time of year with the Monster Mash and other scary sounds as well as the ever popular sound for the kids. The three categories for the pumpkin carving this year were Most Unique, Scariest, and Funniest. The judges had a very hard time and did a great job of choosing from the huge "pumpkin patch" of winners. We also had a pumpkin toss with small white pumpkins, thanks to Mr. Heckaman, and Apple bobbing with apples donated by Alber Orchard along with the ever famous seed spitting contest. The giant pumpkin was donated by the Robbins family and weighed in at 46 lbs. Many area businesses donated great prizes and Ollie's Main Street Pizza once again provided free pizza and pop to all the carvers. A Great Big Thank You goes out to many individuals and businesses for all their support in making this fourth Pumpkin Carving Festival another great reason for being a part of Manchester.

Remember when... they crowned the Homecoming Queen? the football team won, 54-0? the girls' basketball team was first victorious? The yearbook staff was there, too, taking pictures and capturing memories of all these events. You can share in reminiscing with the 1998 MHS yearbook.

The 1998 Manchester High School book, Visage, will be going on sale from November 3 to November 14. Students will be able to purchase a book before school or during A and B lunches.

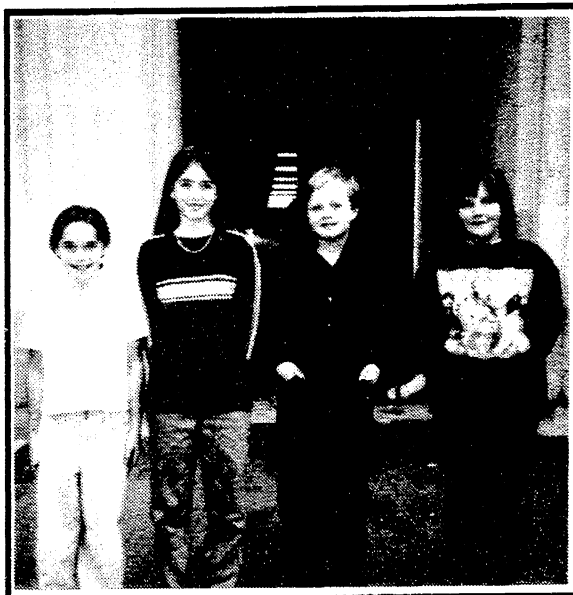

Parents will also be able to buy a book during parent-teacher conferences. There will be a yearbook salesperson available from 5 pm to 8 pm Monday and Thursday evenings, and from 8:30 until noon Friday morning.

The cost of the book is $30, or $32 with the student's name imprinted.

Purchase a 1998 yearbook today to make the memories of this school year last!

Behind the Scenes

If you liked last year's fall play, "Up The Down Staircase," you'll love this year's "Our Miss Brooks." That's right, the MHS Drama Club is putting on anothe play about high school. This time, though, the play will take the audience behind the scenes of the makin of a high school play.

Miss Brooks, the reluctant director, struggles to pull the play together amid accusations of extortion, fights with school administrators, and the usual high school melodramas. The play offers insights into casting dilemmas such as the shortage of males willing to audition. Romances are sparked and extinguished as the cast deals with every setback imaginable. An emergency on the night of the production nearly causes the play to be canceled. Then, help comes from a surprising source.

"Our Miss Brooks" is an overall enjoyable play. It offers somethin for everyone. It has a lot of comedy, a little suspensen, and an it-can't-possibly-get-any-worse persepective to which everyone can relate. What more could you ask?

If we have caught you attention, there will be two chances to see the production at the MHS auditorium, on Thursday and Saturday November 6 and 8. The doors will open at 7:30 PM and the performances will begin at 8:00 PM. Tieckets will be $3.00 for students and $4.00 for adults. Refreshments will be provided.

Equestrian Team Takes Fourth In State Finals

The Manchester Equestrian Team went to the State Finals full of hope and confidence. They should be very proud of what they have accomplished this year. First of all they had to ride against some of the best riders and teams from the area and win. Then they had to get ready to go to the finals and ride in indoor arenas that they are not used to. Your normal horse is not used to riding inside a coliseum with all the noise from all the riders, teams, loud speakers, and classes with 64 people in them.

Our team came away in fourth place with 80 points. Second place had 85, third had 82. So as you can see it was real close and the final contest, the two man relay, deciding the final placing. Our two teams took a third and a tenth for a total of 9 points, moving us into third overall. The two teams consisted of Lisa Burmeister and Marie Haeussler and the other of Laura Kanta and Laura Haeussler.

We are graduating 7 seniors from this year's team of 16. The seniors have been the backbone of this team and the team is sure going to miss them. They are Erin Braddock, LeAnne Ellsworth, Marie Haeussler, Lindsay Kloster, Kelly Parr, Sarah Patak, and Dawn Shaw. They have helped this team grow and instill a winning tradition for the team. Between them they are all of our hunt seat riders, three of the four western riders, all three of our jumpers, and 1/4th of our speed team. We have juniors Sarah Jefferson, Laura Kanta, Angie Makielski, and Alicia Novess ready to take this team over next year. Sophomores Lisa Burmeister, Laura Haeussler, and Ginger Taylor and freshmen Rachel Jefferson and Erin Makielski will be another year older and that much more experienced and we are expecting great things from them.

Our kids have done very well this year and I think we should be very proud of what they have accomplished. We are a large A team drawing from a small number of kids. We ride against schools that have a student population of thousands to draw from. It takes a lot of work and commitment to go as far as this team has gone this year. Fourth in the State is something they should all be proud of. There were 16 class A teams there and 12 of them were wishing that they could have done as well as Manchester. There were many comments made about how well our riders were doing and I heard more than once that our team was "what this was supposed to be all about". We are a team. We were rooting for each other, win or lose. We went as a team and came home a team. There is no room for stars, because in showing horses you are only as good as that judge sees you. They might like one style of riding and that might not be yours but your teammate rides that way. So you as a rider might not do well that day but your teammate will. You have to understand that and accept it because that is the way it is.

We are looking forward to next year already and we know that a lot of eighth graders are coming up who will help this team, just as we know there are kids already in the high school who could help. Some don't think they can help either because they don't think they are able to ride enough seats or "good enough." Both of these are not true. Some of the bigger schools have some riders who only ride one class but they are specialists in that class and do very well. We also have three very fine "coaches" who will do all they can to help you improve. Also for some of you this might be the only chance you will have to be on a "team" where you are only as good as your teammates, so everyone helps each other for the good of the team.

I would also like to let people in the community know that they can help our team out by sharing some of their expertise and knowledge with us. We can always use some help. Also if someone has a horse or two that some of our riders might be able to use, let us know. If we can match personalities of the kids and horses maybe you can have the satisfaction of watching your horse perform and knowing that you have helped a kid move up a step or two in horses. Some of our kids don't have horses that are "show caliber" but they do very well with what they have.

I would like to thank all of the sponsors for their generous donations to the team this year. Without you I don't think we would have accomplished all we did this year (a total list of sponsors appears in sidebar below). A special thanks to Vic Mann from E.G. Mann & Sons in Bridgewater. For the second year in a row he delivered feed, bedding, and under-layment for the stalls to us in Detroit, and stayed around to help unload our trailers using his truck to ferry our tackle, etc. from the parking lot to our area. Also thanks to Jay Davis of Davis Excavating for giving up his day, and half of his night, to be in line at 6:00 AM to get us a spot where we could park all 8 campers and our tent as a group. And to Stu Evans Ford; without your very generous contribution and support this state championship meet would have been quite a financial burden on some of our riders.

Congratulations to the entire Equestrian Team, on a great season!

Junior Varsity Bounces Back - Roars Past Napoleon 48-6

The Junior Dutch final game of the 1997 season was the perfect game to end a successful season. Everyone got into the action as the Dutch sunk the Pirates by a score of 48-6.

With Jeremiah Tobias and Jeff Fetter returning from the injury list, the Dutch were at full strength as they ran onto the field to cheers from their fans - who outnumbered the home folk.

The Dutch kicked off to Napoleon, and held them for no gain on three plays. The punt snap was fumbled and the kicker was tackled on the 20 yard line. On third down Tyler Breilein passed to Mark Hollosy who ran to the 4. On the next play, Pat DuRussel ran for the touchdown. The conversion run failed and the Dutch led 6-0 with three minutes gone in the first quarter.

After each team swapped possessions, Jason Flint intercepted a Pirate pass and returned it to the Napoleon 16. Pat DuRussel then ran 13 yards to score his second touchdown of the night. Tyler Breilein's pass to Jason Flint was good for the two point conversion and the visitors led 14-0 at the end of the first quarter.

After stopping the Pirates on their next possession, the Dutch started their drive at mid-field. Tyler completed a pass to Jason Flint which went for 30 yards to the Pirate nine yard line. Three plays later, Derrick Hanewald scored for the Dutch and the score increased to 20-0.

The Dutch Defense led by Jeremiah Tobias and Jason Flint, continued to stop the Pirates, who still had not earned a first down. This drive started at the Manchester 39. Nolan Ahrens, Pat DuRussel, and Derrick Hanewald took their turns as the Dutch marched won the field. Tyler B. then went to the air and connected with his favorite target, Mark Hollosy, for a 15 yard TD pass. Nolan Ahrens ran in the two-point conversion and the score, with 4:46 left in the half, was 28-0, Manchester.

The Pirates' kick off to the Dutch was a good one, and our boys started at the 23 yard line. On the second play, however, the Dutch fumbled and the Pirates recovered. The Pirates drove to the six yard line where the Dutch stopped them on a reverse play. We couldn't move the ball and had to punt from our end zone. The Pirates started at the Dutch 32, and on the first play their quarterback ran around right end and made a nice run to score for the Pirates. The conversion failed and the Dutch led 28-6.

On the ensuing kickoff, Derrick Hanewald returned the ball to the 37 yard line. With Pat, Derrick, and Nolan sharing running duties the JVs moved the ball to the 12 yard line where Pat DuRussel ran it in for his third TD of the game. Score: Dutch 34, Pirates 6.

Napoleon's next drive was stopped with a diving pass interception by Jon Miller. However after two plays Napoleon recovered the second Dutch fumble of the game at their own 33 yard line. The Dutch defense held and Napoleon punted to mid-field. From there the freshman running backs Nolan Ahrens, Mike Conway and Kevin Turk took over, and the Junior Dutch used nine plays to march the 50 yards to score. Nolan dove across from the 2 to make the score 48-6.

With time running out the Pirates tried to pass, with little success. On fourth down, defensive end Dave Zielinski broke in on the quarterback and knocked the ball up into the air. The ball came back into Dave's hands for a spectacular interception. Dave started for the end zone, however his momentum and the hand of a Pirate defender stopped him at the 15 yard line. Coach Dan Rigg lobbied for one of his linemen to enter the Dutch backfield. Coach Krzyzaniak consented - Matt Horodeczny, who played guard and center most of the night, got his honor and the ball. In two plays, Matt had a lineman's dream come true by scoring his first touchdown. Jon Miller ran the conversion and the final score was Manchester 48, Napoleon 6.

Outside of a couple of fumbles an done let down on defense, the Junior Dutch played a solid game. A good recovery from the previous week, where the Dutch suffered their only loss of the season. Jason Flint and Jeremiah Tobias led the defense with 11 tackles each. Twelve other defenders made one or more tackles this evening for a solid defensive effort.

The offensive line also played solid with Nick Puscas, Matt Jones, Matt Horodeczny, Justin Knouase, Rick Walakonis, Jeff Fetter and Jason Schaible providing good blocking for the backs.

This game concluded the Junior Dutch season, which was a successful year, with a 7-1 record. This week the sophomore players move up to the Varsity. This record for a good season also provides a good learning experience of what it is like at the next level. A group of 16 players will have the opportunity to make this move.

In this group of young men there is some talent and desire, which should help Coach Gall keep a winning tradition of Dutch Football rolling next year.

Congratulations to the players and coaches for a successful season. You were a joy to watch in 1997 - Good Luck in your winter sports.

JUST IN THE 'NICK' OF TIME

The old grudge match between Manchester and Napoleon took place on a cool brisk Friday night. A hard hitting Napoleon club came out ready to play, as they controlled the tempo most of the game.

The Manchester offense must have been on vacation in the first half. Every time the Dutch moved down the field, they were met with mistakes. The first mistake came late in the first quarter when the Dutchmen were in Pirate territory. Nick Davis fumbled and gave the ball back to Napoleon.

Manchester's defense came up big in stopping the Pirates from putting a drive together and forced them to punt. Manchester would get a pretty good return from Davis, putting the ball on the Pirate 45 yard line. The Dutch once again shot themselves in the foot as Nick Davis scored a 44 yard touchdown, but it was called back because of a holding penalty.

The Dutchmen's next series saw the Dutch move the football down to about the Pirate 30 yard line. Misfortune once again struck down the Dutch, as quarterback Nick Rose's pass was intercepted at the one yard line.

A comatose first half would end with a dismal 0-0 tie.

The third quarter wouldn't be any more successful for the Dutch. Napoleon came out and marched down the field for the game's first score as Cody Naylor ran the final yard for a touchdown. The Pirates' attempt at a two point conversion failed.

That brought the Dutch out of their coma as they marched down the field only to be stopped at the 10 yard line on a fourth and one to go with 2:21 left in the third quarter. The fans were growing restless as the Dutch seemed unable to put some points on the scoreboard.

With 6:48 left in the fourth quarter, things weren't looking any brighter as the Dutch were again forced to punt. Little did Napoleon know what was in store for them in the next 6 minutes. As the Pirates dropped back to receive the punt, the Manchester coaching staff had a surprise for them. Nick Davis took 'the punt' for a 25 yard run down the field to the Pirate 20 yard line. This gutsy play set up a 12 yard touchdown run by Davis with 4:55 remaining in the fourth quarter. With the score tied at 6 - 6, Nick Niehaus would be called upon to take over the kicking duties from the absent Terry Coleman. Nick came through as the ball split the uprights to give the Dutch a 7 - 6 lead.

Napoleon came right back with a drive down the field inside the Manchester 30 yard line. A penalty backed the Pirates up to the Manchester 33 yard line. The crowd was getting riled up as the Pirates put the ball in the air. It was intercepted by the 'man of the hour', Nick Davis, who took the ball 67 yards across the goal line to stun the Napoleon crowd. Niehaus once again came through with a PAT to make the score 14 - 6.

Now it was time for the Dutch defense to protect the lead. It didn't take them long to stop the Pirates three and out. Now all the Dutch needed to win the game was run out the clock. But Davis had other ideas. With 1:00 minute left in the game, he took a hand-off and rambed 44 yards for his third touchdown of the night. Niehaus kept his streak alive as he went 3 for 3 for the night and added the last PAT. This ended the scoring and Manchester came away with a 21 - 6 victory.

Friday night's win preserves Manchester's streak of home conference wins started in 1989.

Come out and watch a team that never gives up this coming Halloween night as Manchester takes on Quincy in the Cascades/Big Eight crossover game. I challenge the Dutch to come out and play their best game of the season and the fans to cheer their loudest so we have a chance to advance to the playoffs. I like this job and don't want to see the football season end so soon. This reporter's prediction: Manchester 20 - Quincy 13.

How about them Wolverines? GO BLUE!

8th Grade Girls Take Three of Their Last Four

The Manchester girls 8th grade Lady Dutch basketball team has been on a roll of late with three wins in their last four games. On Monday October 13, the girls traveled to Ann Arbor to take on St. Francis. In overtime the girls won by a score of 35-32.

On Wednesday the 15th, the Jayhawks of Vandercook Lake traveled to Manchester. In a close and hard fought game the Lady Dutch came away with a win by a score of 33-25. The team from Manchester had to come from behind to win; they did so by outscoring the Jayhawks by a score of 21-11 in the second half. Leading scorers were Rachelle Lilienthal with 7, while Sara Johnson, Amber Krutsch, and Brie Hyde all had 6 apiece.

On Monday the 20th, the Grass Lake Warriors came to town. The Lady Dutch raced to a halftime lead of 17-5, and never looked back winning by a final score of 23-10. Leading scorers were Kristi Trinkle with 7; Rachelle had 6, and Brie added 4.

Wednesday the 22nd had the Lady Dutch traveling to Hanover-Horton to take on the Comets. The girls came out uninspired and not ready to play. At the half the Lady Dutch trailed by a score of 16-5. In spite of improved play in the second half the girls lost by a final score of 30-20. Leading scorers were Rachel with 5 and Amber with 4.

The girls' record now stands at 6-5 with two games left in the season.

The Twentieth Century Club members met at the home of Doris Bersuder on Tuesday evening, October 14. Following the business meeting, the meeting was turned over to the program committee of Mary Krzyzaniak and Josephine Simmons who gave the group a very informative talk as to the latest findings and procedures in childbirth care. In keeping with this year's theme, many comparisons were made as to how today's health issues concerning giving birth have changed from "Then and Now".

Previous to this meeting, a pot luck dinner was held on September 9 at the Methodist Church where special guests were those who participate in the Bridge Marathon, in appreciation for the monies brought in to the club, which then are used for community projects.

The October 14th meeting concluded with dessert, coffee and cider served by the hostess and co-hostess Sandy Smith.

The next meeting will be held on November 11 at the home of Molly Carroll.

Our girl runners, Natalie Weidmayer and April Lukas, both ran incredible races to end on a high note. Natalie finished 33rd in a field of over 100 girls, and April lowered her best time by over a minute. Great job and great season, middle schoolers. We look forward to seeing you on the high school team next year.

Kyle, Kevin, and Eli will represent our boys team and school at the Michigan High School Athletic Association's (MHSAA) state finals meet next Saturday, November 1. Their race will take place at 10:30 AM at the Michigan Speedway (formerly M. I. S.) in Brooklyn. It will be great race to see as all the best teams and individuals from Class C will race to see who is the best of the best. Furthermore, all the best teams and individuals from all classes will be present to vie for their piece of the championship pie. It is sure to be a spectacular event. Come on over to see our boys run.

Our girls will also be at Michigan Speedway to challenge for the honor of being the best team in the state. The girls will toe the line at 11:30 AM to race against 20 other schools for the glory of being crowned Class C girls champions. Come see Rachel, Jackie, Erin, Cassie, Lauren, and Kristen run for their place among the elite teams in the state. It's sure to be exciting and the best meet of the year. It's only a 20 minute drive, and you can pick up directions at the High School office. Good luck to our harriers and Go Flying Dutch!!!
