Congratulations, Class of '97!

See your special supplement, inside!

It was raining outside, but you wouldn't have known it by the sunny smiles in the Manchester High School Gym on Sunday afternoon. The Class of 1997's spirits were not dampened by the weather, as beach balls continued to emerge from under the silver and purple gowns in the student section.

It was an emotional ceremony for the graduates and the words from their classmates brought tears to many of the seniors. The traditional speeches from the valedictorian, salutatorian, and class officers affected most of the students.

So, Manchester High School's most recent graduating class are on their way to bigger things - jobs, college, and the armed services. Congratulations, Seniors, in whatever you decide to do.

Dutchmen Fire Fighters Grateful For Community Support

The Dutchmen Fire Fighters Association gratefully acknowledges the generous donations toward the rescue truck, including a $1,000 check from Pilot Metal Products. Pictured below are Bill Scully and Keith Johnson, fire fighters; Larry Gerhard, Plant Manager at Pilot; and Fire Chief Gary Weidmayer. Another $1,000 donation was received from Manchester Manor.

Other recent donations (in addition to those listed in the May 22 edition of the Enterprise) have been made by Schmalbach-Lubeca Plastic USA, R.D. Kleinschmidt, Inc., Manchester Tool & Die, American Legion Auxiliary, Glenn C. Lehr, Sr., DuRussel Farm, Lucas & Mabel Millenback, Manchester Plastics, Daniel C. Rigg & Nancy Gale, Bill Scully, Daniel & Dawn Galaska, Millard & Lillian Uphaus, and The Manchester Enterprise.

LAST-MINUTE STRATEGIES FOR PAYING COLLEGE COSTS

Ready or not, here come those tuition bills. In the next few months, millions of parents of college-bound students will be making the inevitable switch from saving for college to paying for college. If your child didn't qualify for need-based financial aid, or if what he or she received wasn't enough, the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants (MACPA) suggests you consider the following lastminute strategies for paying college bills.

GO FOR FREE FIRST

If you haven't already done so, now is the time to review all possible sources of grants and scholarships. By now, most of the athletic and academic scholarships have been spoken for, so you'll need to be more creative. Check with your employer. Many companies have scholarship programs open to children of their employees. There are also many private scholarships available that are not based on need but, rather, on personal, occupational and education background, as well as organizational affiliation, talent, ethnic origin and other factors. You can find a number of catalogs and directories that provide comprehensive lists of potential grant and scholarship sources.

Or, you can do your search electronically by checking out the enormous amount of scholarship information available on the Internet. However, if you still find yourself coming up short, borrowing may be your only option.

TURN TO THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

The government offers several non-need-based loan programs at rates that are generally lower than you would get elsewhere. The government lends to students under the Stafford Loan program, and parents can borrow through the Parent Loans for Undergraduate Students (PLUS) program. Any student who is enrolled in an eligible program of study at least half-time qualifies for an unsubsidized Stafford Loan. Freshman students can borrow up to $2,625, sophomores can get up to $3,500 and $5,500 is available for each of the two remaining undergraduate years. The Stafford Loan's variable rate, adjusted each year on July 1, is capped at 8.25 percent. However, the student must pay an origination fee of four percent of the amount borrowed, which is deducted from the loan amount.

Interest on unsubsidized Stafford Loans begins to accrue following the first disbursement. Students pay the interest while they are in school or can choose to defer interest payments until six months after graduation, at which time the accrued interest due is added to the loan balance. Students have up to 10 years to repay Stafford Loans. Depending on the college, the student may arrange for a Stafford Loan either through a bank or through the college's financial aid office.

Parents with good credit histories also can apply for a PLUS loan to pay the education expenses of a child who is enrolled at least half-time. Under the PLUS program, parents may borrow the total cost of the child's tuition, less any other financial aid the child receives.

For example, if your child's cost of attendance is $10,000, and he or she receives $2,000 in other financial aid, you may be able to borrow up to $8,000. Like the Stafford Loan, the interest rate is variable and is adjusted each year on July 1. However, at nine percent, the cap on PLUS Loans is slightly higher than that of Stafford loans. Also, since PLUS Loans do not have a grace period, parents must begin repayment of both principal and interest while their child is still in school. The repayment period is usually 10 years.

LOOK CLOSE TO HOME

Some families may not realize that they have resources of their own from which they can borrow. For example, by applying for a home equity loan or line of credit, you may be able to use the equity you have built up in your home to pay for tuition. In most cases, interest on up to $100,000 of a home equity loan is fully deductible. However, borrowing against the equity in your home puts your home at risk if you default on the payments.

Your 401(k) retirement plan provides another source of funds, although it should be used only as a last resort. Most plans allow you to borrow half of your vested balance, up to a maximum loan of $50,000. The loan must be paid back within five years. If you quit or lose your job with the loan outstanding, the debt is considered a distribution from the plan. That means the money is treated as taxable income to you and, if you're under age 55, is subject to a 10 percent penalty.

Finally, you also may want to encourage grandparents or other relatives who were planning to make large gifts to your children to do so sooner rather than later to help pay the cost of college. By making such gifts, they'll also be able to reduce their taxable estate.

Editorial/Opinion Page

To the Manchester Enterprise Editor;

I have known Brian Evans since his family moved to Manchester in the mid 1970s. Brian and his brother Kevin worked at our farm in the summer when school let out. Brian would be a great addition to the Manchester School Board. He has integrity, strong morals and values, and is truly an upstanding citizen. The conversations I've had with Brian have shown me that he is very knowledgeable about many issues facing education today. Please join me in voting for Brian Evans on Monday June 9, 1997.

Michael J. DuRussel
Washtenaw County Commissioner

To the Editor:

The Manchester seventh grade science class would like to thank everyone who purchased a T-Shirt in our adopt the rain forest project. With everyone's help we were able to reach our goal of adopting fifty acres (the equivalent of fifty football fields). In doing this our class achieved national recognition and will receive a personalized banner that will be displayed year round in the gymnasium. The science class also receives materials to understand the rain forest importance to human kind plus a video of the area which they adopted for protection.

Congratulations to the seventh grade science class for helping our environment and a job well done.

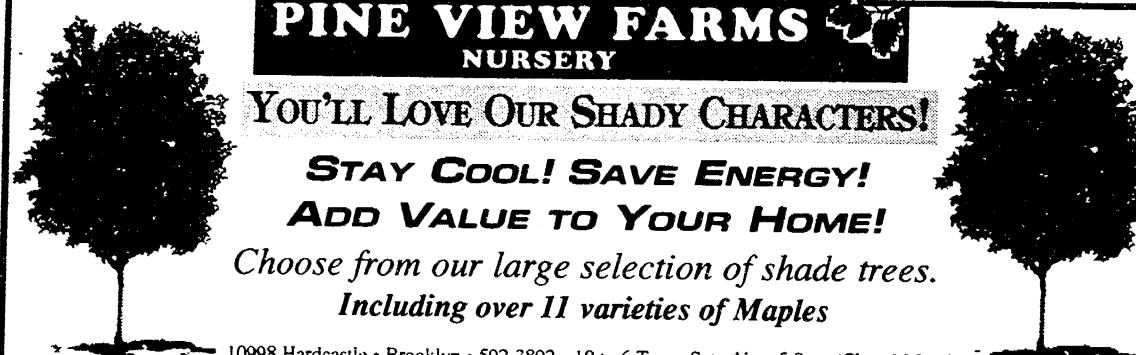

Sincerely,
Gay L. Thacher
7th grade Science Instructor

To the voters of Manchester:

I would like to encourage you to vote next Monday, June 9, in our local school election. These elections often record the smallest turnout, and yet they are perhaps the elections that affect our community most. After all, ensuring the good education of our children ensures the future of our town.

When you go to the polls, I would also encourage you to vote for Brian J. Evans for the Manchester Community Schools Board of Education. I know Brian to be a committed, responsible man who cares deeply about his children's education and the schooling of all students in the Manchester Schools. He will bring some good, new ideas to the board and will become a community leader of whom we can all be proud.

Sincerely,
Paul J. Bamford

Summary of Bridgewater Township Ordinance Number 25

The Bridgewater Township Board of Trustees adopted ordinance number 25 at its meeting on May 21, 1997. The ordinance is a consolidation of Township ordinances number 20 and number 24. The ordinance regulates the extraction and removal of minerals from property in the Township. It establishes standards and procedures for licensing mineral extraction businesses and it creates a citizen board for reviewing license applications. The exemption provision in the prior ordinances were changed by adding exemptions for site development preparation, public right of way excavation and for ponds.

MANCHESTER AREA SENIOR CITIZENS News

- by TV Ludwick

This is one of those weeks when I thought as long as there is limited activity in senior activities, I could take a mini vacation. We will at least make it brief, as is said when my letters extend to the bottom of the page.

Thursday, June 5: You may still join us at yoga class at the Methodist Church beginning at 9:30. Today is Birthday Bash for all who are 55 or older and born in both June and July. Jan is serving ham what am for your pleasure plus all birthday trimmings will be provided for your fun. Let's see all of you as this is the final meal of the season 'til fall rolls around again. On to the Center for bingo fun, too.

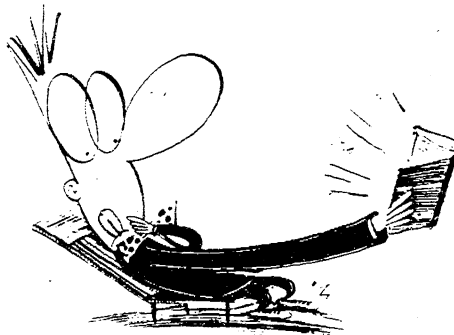

Like I said, nothing on the senior calendar 'til Thursday, June 12 when we will have our next to last yoga class for the season. We do have our local ice cream socials to look forward to..watch for them so as not to miss any.

Here are "Wurst to Live by for Road Hogs" tips from the Pig Calendar: To avoid road constructchin, chews an altern-ate root; Don't tail-gate—it can get you in trouhal; Make sure you have a sparerib tire; Always have gasoloin in the stachin wagon; Don't have a led hoof and drive like a greased pig; Ask for Duroctions when you gilt lost; Pull out into trouhich when there are o-pen-ings; Be sure to pay attention when at the squeal; Don't take shoatcuts through plardking lots; Never drive with snout lights at night; If you barrow Mudder's car keys, rooturn them; Always fasten your sowfety belts; and Don't apply eyeloiner while steering. I love the "swill picture for May" (a sow feeding her many piglets and saying "That's what I get for littering!")

Well, on to the birds and the bees...while cleaning out the rose garden, there was the largest bee (so round, so firm, so fully packed) that I've ever seen. And we've spent time this past week training the binoculars on first, an oriole slurping up the pulp and juice of an orange half and four waxwings eating apple petals from blossoms. There are two possibilities as to what kind of waxwings these are..either cedar or Bohemian. The red, wax-like drops on its wing feathers and yellow across the end of its tail identifies this bird which is larger than a sparrow. Taking time to watch is one great bonus of being a senior citizen. I put up the hummingbird feeder the other day, just haven't caught sight of one yet. If you have sighted any bird (or beast) which you'd like to report, please call me at 428-7434, or stick a written report in the mail to Box 192.

Sinus Problems?

- from Nancy's Herb Pantry in the Mill

Stuffed up head, clogged nose, sinus type eadaches. Let's talk about Natural Alternatives.

Allergies and sinus decongestions like many other health problems can be cured by a number of factors. Some are physiology, mental, or even emotional disturbances brought on by stress. Therefore we see that sinus and allergy type problems are a possible combination of emotional and chemical imbalances.

It is an amazing chain reaction that occurs when a stimulation is received by the nervous system.. The heart speeds up. The blood pressure is raised by a constricting action on the blood vessels. Breathing becomes more rapid and digestion slows down almost to a stop. Most of these changes are due to hormones released from the adrenals, within split seconds after the stimulation itself.

Now just imagine the body that does not respond as I have described because the adrenals do not pour out the hormones necessary to create the changes. Feeding the adrenal is a first when allergies and sinus are the problem.

The above mentioned hormones assist in supplying antibodies that attack foreign protein (allergens) in the blood through this chemical reaction the by product is produced known as histamine. You're acquainted with the word, I'm sure. Histamine is a tissue toxin. It causes vaso-dilation or enlargement of blood vessels which can cause a flushing or redness of skin, also fluids escape and can bring about edema or swelling. This can cause congestion in respiratory tract, raised skin problems or itching anywhere on the body. Other serious problems such as headaches, gastrointestinal upsets, diarrhea, asthma sinusitis, ep. are common.

Let's talk about natural Alternatives. First aa anti-histamine to neutralize the histamines that create so many problems. Natural antihistamines are produced by the liver and there is a back-up producer of anti-histamine in the adrenal. Flush the liver with a good balanced combination of dandelion, barberry bark, red beet root, fennel seeds, horseradish, parsley and rose hips. This fine food type program in combination along with lemon juice in water a couple times a day should produce very pleasing results.

One of the most important factors in any improvement of physical problems is to cleanse the liver. Good natural Vitamin C taken daily will also prove very helpful as an anti-histamine. Remember you cannot rebuild and tear down at the same time. Alcohol, tobacco, caffeine, etc. are habit forming drugs that seriously impair the nervous system.

Feed the adrenal with pantothenic acid and licorice root in your quest tur better health. Sinus congestions seem to respond very well to a number of herbal foods. Bayberry, long used as a culinary seasoning, will keep mucus moving, so as to avoid congestive sinus headaches. This fine herb combined with Chinese ephedra, golden seal, senga, parsley, and burdock, has long been a relief for congestive breathing and inflammation due to sinus and allergies. Herbs have been a comforting source of food and medicine for mankind for centuries.

Maybe we again need to consider them as our NATURAL ALTERNATIVE.

County Board of Public Works Awards Grants for "Green" Ideas

The Washtenaw County Board of Public Works is pleased to announce that selections have been made for the 1997-98 "Green Backs for Green Acts" Innovative Grants Program. The grant program is intended to place funds into the hands of local businesses, non-profits, governments and individuals throughout the county who have demonstrated a good idea for waste reduction. Proposals were sought to address waste reduction, technology development, market development, or education/awareness.

After careful evaluation, the Board of Public Works has selected three projects to receive funding through this year's program, as follows:

• The City of Ann Arbor and the University of Michigan: Food Waste and Composting Pilot, $19,065 grant.

• Great Lakes Radio Consortium: Waste Reduction Commentaries and features on Public Radio, $20,000 grant

• Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority: Waste Oil Recycling Project, $15,800 grant.

The City of Ann Arbor Solid Waste Department and the U of M Department of Grounds and Waste Management will work jointly to initiate a food waste composting pilot program. Organic materials, including food waste, represent a significant portion of our overall solid waste stream. Currently, there are no large scale food waste composting programs in the state of Michigan, and material from University kitchens is disposed of in area landfills. This project will test the feasibility of adding food waste collected from dormitory kitchens to large scale yard waste composting facilities. If proven to be successful, this project could serve as a model for similar endeavors in the future.

Using the air waves as an educational tool, the Great Lakes Radio Consortium will develop and broadcast monthly commentaries and bimonthly features concerning waste reduction. These informative sessions will stress the importance of source reduction, dealing with waste on the front end, rather than the back end approach of dealing with waste after its been generated.

The Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority

(WWRA) provides curbside and drop-off recycling services throughout western Washtenaw County. The grant will enable WWRA to establish a regional motor oil collection and recovery program. Waste oil collected from residents will be used to provide heat for their recycling facility in Chelsea. This unique program not only cuts down on hazardous waste, it also saves energy!

A special awards ceremony was held on Thursday, May 22, to award this year's winners. Congratulations to all the winners, particularly the WWRA, for using their "green acts" to earn these Public Works grants which will directly benefit our community.

Softball Plays Last Full Week

On Monday, May 19, the Varsity Softball team played Grass Lake at home. Colleen Geyer started off the game with a base-hit on a rally in the second inning, and Emily Miller scored in the sixth after hitting a single. The Dutch offense was weak, being unable to pound out the needed base-hits. The defense was on key, however, only two errors occurring for the Dutch. Final Score: 13-2, the Warriors.

On Wednesday, the Dutch traveled to Dexter, and unfortunately suffered another loss. Again, hitting was a key factor to the game, the ladies only slamming two singles for the day, both by Chrissy Abbott. Dexter won the game in five innings, 12-1.

Friday was a double header against Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard, with Manchester winning 3-2 and 13-6. Porter started off the first inning with a double to left. Miller hit for a single in the third, followed by Burmeister with a single and Whitaker with a double in the sixth. Dee Bisard also hit for a single. The next game was started off by Schaible with a double, Gall with a triple, and Colleen Geyer, hitting for a single. In the third inning, both Porter and Whitaker whipped out doubles.

The fourth inning was rally time, the Dutch batting around the order. Miller hit a single, Gall had a double, and both Whitaker and Geyer hit to get on base.

Porter slammed out a triple in the fifth, followed by singles from Whitaker and Bisard. The game ended 13-6, with a better effort all around by the Dutch.

Michelle Schaible left with an injury on a play; the game was filled with hopes for the best for her.

MANCHESTER TRACK & FIELD REGIONALS AND CONFERENCE

The season is winding down for the boys' track & field program at Manchester high school. Traditionally, the last four meets of the season are the regional, conference, Selby, and state, in that order. We've made it through the first two, and the performances were brilliant. The flying Dutchmen topped off their first winning season in twenty years with exceptional performances at the regional and conference track & field meets.

The boys ran their way to a fifth place finish out of nineteen teams at regional #28C in Union City on Friday, May 16th. Leading the way once again was junior sensation Nick Davis. Nick won the tough triple of the 100, 200, and 400 meter dashes. He also anchored our fourth place finishing 1600 relay team. His winning times for the dashes were 11.1, 22.9, and a new school record 49.6, respectively. He qualified for the state meet in all of those events. Other outstanding performances came from senior Landon Burkhardt in the discus (122'7"), Ben Grenier in the high jump (5'6"), Jason Miner in the discus (119'9"), and Kyle Harris in the 3200 (11:23.6). One of our goals for the season is to perform our best times, throws, jumps, and vaults at the regional and conference meets. A large number of our athletes arose to that challenge on Friday night and set personal bests. Freshmen Jason Flint in the 110 hurdles (18.1), Derick Hanewald in the long jump (19'), Nick Gordon in the pole vault (10'6"), Pat DuRussel, II in the high jump (5'9"), Aaron Wallace in the 800 (2:07.7 - freshmen record), and Kevin Sahakian in the 3200 (11:31.5). Sophomore Kreg Norgaard ran over a second faster than before in the 300 intermediate hurdles (44.7). Junior Jeremy Smith ran 10 seconds faster in the 1600 run (4:53.8) than his previous best. Seniors Nick Weidmayer and Brad Kemner ran their lifetime bests in the 800 run (2:04.8 - fifth place and fifth place in school history), and in the 1600 run (5:12.2), respectively. Finally, the 3200 relay team consisting of Nick Weidmayer, Jason Schaible, Jeremy Smith, and Aaron Wallace lowered their school record to 8:35.8 to finish fifth.

It was a great meet for the young Dutchmen. The performances were outstanding, and these men stepped up to the challenge of a big meet in a big way. Great job, Gentlemen!

The conference meet was held at Michigan center high school on Tuesday, May 20th. Once again, the Flying Dutchmen came prepared to perform and finished fourth. This fourth place finish combined with their fourth place finish in the dual meet season entrenched the boys team firmly in, you guessed it, fourth place overall in the league.

Several team members garnished all-Conference honors for the Dutchmen. They were the 3200 relay team of Aaron Wallace, Jason Schaible, Jeremy Smith and Nick Weidmayer which finished third (8:45.7). The conference champions were Jason Miner in the discus (135'7"), Nick Davis in the 100 (11.2), 200 (22.9), and 400 (49.5 - new School and conference record), and the 1600 relay team of Aaron Wallace, Jeremy Smith, Nick Weidmayer, and Nick Davis (3:36.6). Point scorers (6th place or better) for the Flying Dutch included Landon Burkhardt (4th) in the shot put (41'3 1/2" - personal best), Ben Grenier (5th) in the high jump (5'7" - personal best), Terrence Coleman (4th) in the long jump (18'3 1/2"), Terrence Coleman (5th) in the 100 (11.9), the 400 relay team (4th) of Derick Hanewald, Jason Miner, Ryan Fielder, and Terrence Coleman (48.1), Kreg Norgaard (6th) in the 300 intermediate hurdles (44.9), and Nick Weidmayer (6th) in the 800 (2:10.3). Other athletes having good meets included Jason Flint, Tyler Breilien, Lin Harris, Brad Kemner, and Pat DuRussel, II. Nice job gentlemen!

For most of the team, the season is now complete. There are two meets left, however. The James R. Selby meet, which is the top 9 performers in each event from the Jackson Citizen Patriot circulation area (27 schools), will take place Tuesday, May 27th at Jackson High School.

Representing Manchester's boys' team will be Jason Miner (4th in the discus), Nick Gordon (8th in the pole vault), the 3200 relay team of Nick Weidmayer, Jason Schaible, Jeremy Smith, and Aaron Wallace (9th), Nick Davis (1st in the 100, 2nd in the 200, and 1st in the 400), the 400 relay team of Derick Hanewald, Jason Miner, Ryan Fielder, and Terrence Coleman (1st alternate), Nick Weidmayer (1st alternate in the 800), and the 1600 relay team of Aaron Wallace, Jeremy Smith, Nick Weidmayer, and Nick Davis (8th). It is an outstanding meet and you have to be and outstanding athlete to participate in it. Good luck to these young men. Congratulations on your excellent season.

The last meet of the season is the state meet on Saturday, May 31st. Nick Davis will represent Manchester in the 400 and either the 100 or the 200 meter dashes. The meet will be held at Comstock Park high school. The girls' 400 relay team of Mary Barrett, Sarah Ahrens, Rachel Fleck, and Tracey Staples will also participate at the state meet in Comstock Park. Congratulations to these athletes who have reached the pinnacle of the high school track & field season.

Manchester Area Chamber Of Commerce

A FEW THOUGHTS....JUNE

Last month I touched upon the subject of the growth of Manchester and along with it the Chamber, and the challenges it presents. This month I would like to delve a little deeper into this and try to get more specific on how it effects all of us.

With the increase of residential development in this area (there are a least 5 projects I can think of that are in progress or being planned) we are looking at hundreds of new families calling Manchester "home". This will put pressure on the schools, create traffic congestion, complicate police protection, and change the way we do business; in other words, the way of life as we now know it will be completely transformed.

The Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce, as a representative of the business community, will be challenged to plan for the future and to ensure that the business growth is managed so as not to destroy the Manchester way of life. By this, I mean that when (oh, dare I say it) a strip mall is proposed we cannot let it destroy the downtown area as has happened in other communities.

What I would like to propose is a round table discussion for our September meeting. The areas to be discussed would be as I outlined above. I would like to have representatives from the major topics; school, government, police, business, developers, etc., and any concerned citizens, attend to bring ideas and possible solutions to surface.

Our September meeting will be on Wednesday the 17th, time and place to be announced.

If you have any comments or suggestions please feel free to call me at 428-9259

- Jim Sprague

Annual 4-H Spring Achievement Award Recipients Announced

By Mary Kronenberg, 4-H Youth Agent

The annual 4-H Spring Achievement program was held on Saturday, April 19, 1997 at Saline High School. This year's program, "Journey Into the Future with 4-H", featured exhibits and evaluation of 4-H projects in performing arts, woodworking, knitting, crocheting, modeling and clothing construction. In the evening the annual style revue program was held. Members, both male and female, had the opportunity to model clothing they made. The evening ended with the Ambassador program and an awards presentation.

The Washtenaw County 4-H staff members, along with the 4-H volunteer community and the many 4-H parents and supporters, salute and congratulate the following 4-H members for their accomplishments at this year's Spring Achievement program.

Clothing Construction Awards were given to the following:

24TH ANNUAL ART FAIR: CHELSEA PAINTERS

The Chelsea Painters will hold their 24th annual Art Fair on the grounds of the Chelsea Community Hospital on Saturday June 7, and Sunday, June 8, from 10 AM to 5 PM. Award-winning artists will exhibit and sell original art, watercolors, acrylics, oils, prints, drawings, collages and cards.

A percentage of the proceeds will enable us to award the Palmer Medical Scholarship. Since 1974, the Chelsea Painters have given more than $12,000 to this fund. Last year the recipient was David Klemer, a graduate of Chelsea High School. He is attending the Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York City.

The Chelsea Community Auxiliary will assist with refreshments and there will be entertainment by Marianne Murphy. This event will be held rain or shine and is open to the public.

American Historical Truck Society Charters Local Chapter

A local chapter of the American Historical Truck Society has been chartered in Southeast Michigan. The Southeast Michigan chapter encourages anyone interested in the collection and preservation of the history of trucks, the trucking industry, and its pioneers to join in the fun and entertainment at their monthly meetings. The meetings are held on the Wednesday evening closest to the 15th at the Farm Bureau Building next to the Farm Council Grounds.

The first major event where the Southeast Michigan chapter will participate with trucks being displayed is the 7th Annual Classics Farmfest at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds. If you are interested in or own an old truck, join the group June 6-8, 1997. You don't have to be a member to show your truck, just an interest in old trucks and trucking industry history.

Initial chapter membership will be approximately thirty, with each paying $10. annual dues. To belong to the local chapter, you must be a member of the American Truck Historical Society headquartered in Birmingham, Alabama. For additional information, please call Jim Bibb at 313/429 - 3978.

Announcements 1997 SUMMER SEASON BEGINS AT WALKER TAVERN HISTORIC COMPLEX

The Walker Tavern Historic Complex, operated by the Michigan Department of State's Michigan Historical Center, Lansing, will open for the season on Memorial Day in Cambridge Junction.

Nestled in the "Irish Hills" tourist area, at the junction of U.S. Route 12 and Michigan Route 50 about 35 miles west of Ann Arbor, Walker Tavern presents the history of Michigan's stagecoach era. The historic site is located about seven miles from the popular Hayes State Park, near Brooklyn.

Exhibits in the Visitor Center focus on roads and travel in the mid-19th century, pre-Civil War history and the Walker family who operated the inn/tavern. In the historic tavern building visitors may explore period room exhibits and hands-on activities in the parlor, kitchen and bar room/post office. The barn houses exhibits related to travel and surveying.

Lakes, antique shops, hiking trails and restaurants are within short driving distances of the historic site. Although there are no modern services available at the historic park, visitors are encouraged to bring cameras, walking shoes and picnics. Admission and parking are free of charge.

Walker Tavern Historic Complex will be open daily, Wednesday through Sunday, Memorial Day through Labor Day from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Closed Monday and Tuesday and during auto races at the Michigan International Speedway.

Preschool Graduates, too!

It's been a fun filled year, but in a blink of the eye it's over. What was the best part of preschool? Each of our little Graduates from above were asked just that. They had so many things to choose from I don't know how they came up with an answer.

Even if you had to choose from just the most recent special events - Carnival Day, Hands on Museum, Trip to Sharon Hills Ranch, Visiting the Post Office & Police Station; or maybe a favorite thing from a regular class day, circle time, calendar, art area, kitchen/office area, playing in the gym, projects, snack, story time; and then there are all the folks that visited us on guest artist day to choose from.

But out of all those things, the one thing that each child liked most was something that they could look forward to each preschool day, "coming to play with my friends."

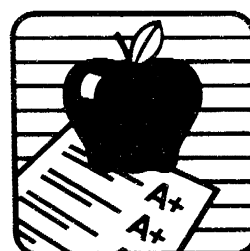

The four year old kids had such a wonderful variety of arts to enjoy on Wednesdays. We would like to thank all of the guest artist that visited this year. What a great group of sharing, talented people. (Hint! Hint - We are forming a calendar for next year's guest artists! Just call the number below, and we'll add your name to the list.)

There are a few activities planned for this summer. We will be having booths at Manchester's Fireworks, the Community Fair (don't miss our float at the parade; it's going to be a great one), and the Manchester Street Fair. Be a part of the fun, stop and see us at each one!

Finally, this is my last article, completing my year's job assignment, publicity, and with just one more thing to add. If you have a three or four year old, think about enrolling them in Manchester's Co-op Preschool. I have had two children attend. There have been a few sacrifices, but what a wonderful experience they had. Watching them grow and develop in every way over the class year, I wouldn't have missed it or would have wanted them to miss it for anything.

So....so your child can make a few memories, learn a few things, and best of all just enjoy, Friends, friends, friends are we, all my friends are here with me, call 428-1684. Bye, and Thank you!

To the Graduating Class of 1997 . . .

Aristippus, an ancient Greek philosopher, wrote, "Native ability without education is like a tree without fruit." Throughout the course of civilization, the motivation to enhance personal skills in order to attain success and fulfillment has been a fundamental human need. Your graduation from Manchester High School signifies that you have successfully completed the basic educational requirements which will serve as a key to open future doors of opportunity. Your personal achievement is an accomplishment to share with your family, faculty, and community. We are proud because through perseverance, effort, and commitment, you have reached a goal which indicates your desire to make your life "bear fruit." The inner qualities which have motivated you to march with your class on graduation day will continue to assist you in realizing your future dreams.

Not all your personal challenges nor the problems of society will be resolved during the course of your lifetime. Our ultimate goals and dreams often lie, like the horizon, in plain view and always just out of reach. It is our search for personal satisfaction that makes our journey through life worth the effort. Ralph Waldo Emerson once wrote, "Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm." Therefore, I urge you - live fully and to follow your dreams. The fulfillment you realize in living your life and seeking your destiny will influence the manner in which you view yourself and the world. The obstacles to success and happiness are generally mirages, easily walked through, if we focus upon following our goals.

The economic climate has been greatly altered in the last quarter century. You will work in an information-based global economy in which your class will compete with every graduating student in the world for jobs, opportunity, and security. Projections indicate that 85% of all jobs will require at least a two-year degree by the year 2000, and that the average person will change jobs or be re-trained at least four times. Your graduation is an indication that you are prepared for these challenges and to begin a life-long learning process toward fulfilling your dreams and seeking happiness.

James Allen writes, "You are today where your thoughts have brought you; you will be tomorrow where your thoughts take you." Graduation is a ceremony celebrating your successful preparation for adulthood. I wish you the best of luck in all your future endeavors, while knowing in my heart that luck will have little to do with your future satisfaction. Continue to plan, set goals, and persevere...Every life is important, and we owe our very best efforts to our changing society and future generations. Make your life bear fruit.

*Robert Smith,
MHS Principal*

Out of the Pen

To the Class of 1997

Yes, you have made it. Some of you with flying colors and others sliding under the wire, but you have all graduated. Life will never be the same for you again, for better or for worse.

garlene will not tell you that your high school years are the best you'll ever have. High school is not reality; it's a fairy tale. As with all fairy tales, there is a dark side and there is a happy ending.

Freedom reigns, as soon as you threw your caps in the air at the end of the graduation ceremony. Freedom from the cloistered walls of Manchester High School has been the ultimate goal for many of the class of 1997. Yet this freedom brings with it a new sense of responsibility. New expectations; this time from an adult, not a child.

"No more pencils, no more books..." - at least for this summer. From the sounds of it, most of the class of '97 will continue to have pencils and books as part of their lives; if not sooner, then later. A large proportion of this class intends to further their education. And that's a good thing. You can never have too much knowledge, especially when facing the wide world out there. But it's another responsibility and new expectations.

As long as you've been a student, you have been considered a child. Rules have been made for your protection as well as for your frustration. Teachers and administrators have guided you through the maze that is elementary school, middle school and finally high school. The rules have changed in the real world. You'll need to learn the ropes. And that's your responsibility. No one else will help you, or do it for you.

No longer will you have the safety net of parents, teachers and administrators helping you make all your decisions. You no longer have to make choices based on what these people might think, or how they might react. The choices you make can be positive or negative, but they will ultimately affect the rest of your life.

Your class president advised you to, "Look around you. This will be the last time we'll all be together in the same room." You've faced a series of "last times" this year, and you reached the end of the fairy tale. Now it's time to begin all over, and start experiencing the first times.

So congratulations, Class of 1997. Welcome to the real world. May it treat you well.

Out and About by gar

Save a little, (memories), they will come in handy later as you set by the fire side! The challenges you are now facing will lead you in many directions, now that you have graduated from MHS. For some, further formal education will be the goal. For others, finding a job and a niche in life will be your goal. Many things will cause detours, changes in direction, new priorities for those who start their families. New experiences and new friends will be found. Enjoy and learn from all things you encounter, expand yourself.

But remember your days at MHS. Cherish your friendships and remember those around you. The memories of your early life experiences will be with you until you cease to draw a breath. Keep in touch with your loved ones and keep fresh your recollections by sharing those moments with others. The days you are now experiencing will be warm, lively, laughable and nostalgic.

Enjoy and Gods speed and grace through life.

Pink's Opinion

Captain Pink would like to congratulate the graduates of MHS. That's right, we made it. We're out of school, now comes the best part, graduation parties. After thirteen years of school, who isn't ready to have a little fun?

The whole idea of getting into a career not just a job, is now something we all have to start looking into. Some of you graduates are going to school, some aren't. Captain Pink knew that this day would arrive soon enough. The weird thing is that after I walked across that stage and shook hands with "Ron," all the future plans I thought I had went right out the door.

It is hard to say what is right for me. Planning for the rest of your life isn't that easy, contrary to popular belief. If you were to ask me what I was going to do now that high school is over, I wouldn't have an answer. For thirteen years everyone has told me that I had to finish high school. Thirteen years - that is over half my life to date.

OK, I graduated. Now what? Guess I should start trying to make my way in the "real world," if I only knew where to start. Maybe it will come to me soon, or maybe not.

For now I have a list of parties to go to. Give me a little time to think on it, and I'll get back with you around August, by then it should have soaked in real well.

Commencement Day Wishes

1997 Valedictorian Address

Ladies and gentlemen, faculty, family, friends... fellow graduates. Today I would like to talk about a dream. A dream is the reason that we are all here. These graduates have worked for 13 years in order to be where they are today. When they started school, they were excited, made friends, had fun at recess, but once they entered the high school they began to realize, I want to get out of here! Thus, everyone of these young men and women here before you began to dream about the distant future, graduation day. Well, 13 years later, here we are. I never thought that I would be giving a speech but here I am. I can also bet that most of my classmates are saying, let's celebrate, because my dream has finally come true. I'm finally graduating.

These dreams might never have become reality, because if you don't dare to dream, your dreams will never come true. A person who means a lot to me once said, "You miss all the shots that you don't take." Although this person was talking about basketball, this saying can also be applied to life. If you do not take chances and you do not take risks, you will miss all of your shots in life. Everyone has their chances, some may be easy and others may be difficult, but none are impossible. The decisions that you make today could effect you for the rest of your life, but even if you make the wrong choice, remember, that everyone makes mistakes. Mistakes are made so that you can learn from them, and so that you become better prepared for the future. Bishop W.C. Magee once said, "The man who makes no mistakes usually does not make anything." Above all, take the chances and take the risks, because if you don't, you might never have known what the outcome might have been.

Michelle Schaible

People throughout my life have said to me, "Why do you bother to dream because they never come true." If you believe statement, then you have already lost your dream because you -never gave it a chance to exist. The constitution guarantees each American citizen the pursuit of happiness, but it is up to each of us to do the pursuing. As Wendell Lewis Wilkie said in his creed, "I believe in America because we have great dreams, and because we have the opportunity to make those dreams come true." This statement is why you must strive to achieve your goals everyday, and always remember, that it is never too late to be what you might have been. Fellow graduates, despite what others may tell you, ignore them, because you must always continue to dream towards the future and what it holds for each of you. Continue to look toward it with optimism, because the world is where you are going to live and what is going to make you happy. Even though some people believe that dreams are nonexistent, you as graduates have proven that dreams do indeed come true.

Today, we all go our separate ways into the future, some of us to college, some to work, and others into the armed forces but none of us will ever forget the dreams and the memories that we have shared. In parting, I say to you class of 1997, and leave you with this final piece of advice from an unknown source:

"Aim for a star, look up and away, and follow it's beckoning beam. Make each tomorrow, a better today, and don't ever forget to dream."

Thank you.
