School Bells Ring This Week

This wide-eyed Kindergartener doesn't look too sure about making the acquaintance of his new principal - Brian Kissman - on his first day of school.

Over The Top!

The Dutchmen Firefighters Association proudly announces that with 190 donations representing a wide cross-section of the Manchester area community, they have exceeded their goal of $140,000 toward the purchase of a new, state of the art Rescue Truck for the Fire Department.

A generous $1,000 donation from Mike and Marge Scully was the official "over-the-top" contribution, but the donations from so many individuals and local businesses over recent weeks has made the drive go much more quickly than the firefighters had originally anticipated. Last week the Dutchmen Firefighters Association also welcomed several other donations (listed on page 20).

"We can now write the specs, and we'll have them out to several bidders over the next three weeks," said Fire Chief Gary Wiedmayer. "Hopefully we'll have bids back by October 1." Then there is about a six month wait for the vehicle to be built to the Firefighters exact specifications, so the community will be able to see the results of the fund-raising drive by next spring.

The truck the firefighters have in mind, is a Super Duty F-450 Ford Chassis with a rescue box attached. "We went and saw one at another Department last week, and it's a beauty," commented Wiedmayer. "There is three person seating behind the cab, and the rescue box has compartments for all the equipment." This vehicle will be the first response truck for all Medical runs and PI (Personal Injury) runs. Air Packs will be built into the seating, to provide extra protection for those riding in the truck.

"We're hoping that once the specs come in, we'll find that we're right about on target with the cost. We've been working with an estimate all along," admits Wiedmayer, adding that further donations will be gratefully accepted. They have also estimated the value of the gift of Comerica stock donated by Richard and Eileen Disbrow, which originated the fund drive last spring; so any additional donations will assist in making sure the entire amount needed will be raised.

The Firefighters are also eyeing a new set of hydraulic "Jaws of Life" to be built into the truck, if enough donations are received. A built-in "Jaws" can be rolled out on a line from the truck and be run from its own generator. "With this and other additional equipment we can better utilize the new truck," explains Wiedmayer. "We will continue to use the older 'Jaws' as a spare, in the event we need to do double duty, or if a crash scene is more than 100 feet from the truck," he says.

With a successful drive behind them now the Dutchmen Firefighters Association and the Manchester Township Fire Department can anticipate the arrival of their state of the art vehicle - and the community which it serves so ably, can also look forward to ever more efficient response in their times of need. Certainly the generous outpouring from the community is a reflection upon the quality of assistance provided by the Fire Department over the years. Thanks are due on both sides!

Midwest Ford Sold

Just a few short months after taking on a new partner, Greg and Kathleen Marvin of Midwest Ford have announced that they are selling their interest in the Manchester dealership to Stu Evans Lincoln-Mercury of Garden City. "We hope to close by Friday next," Marvin indicated in an interview Tuesday morning.

"We are working on the final paperwork," said Marvin. "It appears everyone will be happy with the arrangement."

Stu Evans is a large dealership from the metro Detroit area, and it is expected that many changes will be made which will make a substantial impact on the area.

The Old Fashioned Way

An Old Fashioned Threshing

A Twenty-one Year Old Tradition Pays Tribute to the "Olden Days" of Farming in Bridgewater

Lloyd Hughes, and brothers Willard and Walt Blumenauer for years did their summer threshing the old-fashioned way. Not only their own wheat crops, but those of many other local farmers, were harvested this way as the crews made their way from farm to farm to help their neighbors over the years.

Times may change, but the value of the old ways doesn't change. Now it's Walt's son Mark and his sons, along with Willard and Lloyd, who keep up the old tradition in the area, and share it with 200 or so of middle generation, and Lloyd and Willard pitched in just as they have for years. Several others who have participated over the years, were also part of the work crew who sweated it out this year.

This year's threshing bee took place on Lloyd's farm out on Kaiser Road in Bridgewater, on Saturday, August 16. The wheat crops had been brought into the barn ahead of time to keep them safe and dry, and were returned to the field that morning in picturesque piles to be threshed and, ultimately, baled.

Above, The shocks are readied for threshing early Saturday morning, August 16.

The cut wheat is put through the thresher, and the grain is separated and loaded into the old Dodge pickup. The straw goes out behind the thresher, and is baled.

their closest neighbors and friends. Back in 1976, the Blumenauer and Hughes families decided to do an "old time threshing bee" as part of the Bicentennial celebration. About every other year since then, the tradition has continued. It now includes a second and third generation of both families, who call themselves simply, "The Bridgewater Group."

"The Bridgewater Group" workers this year consisted of Mike, Dan and Bob Blumenauer and Brandon Henes, the third generation of each family. Mark Blumenauer represented the

About noon the work began. Fortunately, although threatening skies kept intruding, the rain held off - in Bridgewater at least - but the rains which poured down on Manchester allowed the oppressive day (considered just "a little warm" by Lloyd) to cool off nicely just in time to eat at about four in the afternoon. As in old times, the meal wasn't served until the work was done.

And what a meal it was! Two huge turkeys and eighty pounds of pork fed about 70-80 of the spectators and neighbors who came to participate in this bi-annual tradition. Lloyd explains, "We cook up the meat, and everyone brings a dish to pass. That kind of recreates the atmosphere of an old-time threshing bee."

The old thresher is powered by a 1931 Rumley Tractor - jointly owned by Lloyd and Glenn Mann - with an enormous belt. An old Dodge truck added to the assemblage of old-time equipment in the field. The purpose of threshing the wheat is to separate the grain from the straw. The straw is then baled to be used as bedding for the animals, while the grain is taken to market.

Today, most farmers use a combine which "does it all," and a modern combine was parked next to the old-fashioned thresher to provide a contrast. But around Bridgewater, they enjoy doing things the old way, once in a while, at least, and they recognize the value in passing this tradition down through the generations. You'll see this crew out there again in a year or two, and you're welcomed to stop out and watch, while they help keep a tradition alive for future generations.

Out of the Pen

Out & About

- by gar

How many of these phrases have you heard in the past week?

- "I can't believe where the time went."
- "There aren't enough hours in a day."
- "Summer's over already?"
- "Time flies when you're having fun."

If you're like garlene, you have probably heard each of these phrases at least once lately. More than likely, you've heard them from yourself.

It does seem like there aren't enough hours in most days, enough days in each week, or weeks in a month, a season, or even a year. What has happened to time, lately? Don't we have the same amount - 24 hours - we've always had? What with life expectancies as they are, we probably even have a bit more time than our ancestors did. Where, indeed, has the time gone?

So many activities, so little time. As garlene's wise mother has often gently reminded her, perhaps trying to curb just a few of those activities might alleviate the stressful feeling of "not enough hours in the day." Yes, she is probably right - she so often is. But which of the myriad of commitments does garlene eliminate? Tough call.

Reach garlene via e-mail at garlene@juno.com.

Our lives are crowded with so many things to do. Some of them are things we want to do; others are things we must do, or at least we feel we must do them. A sense of obligation is sometimes a good thing; although garlene finds she tends to take it too far. While we're doing all those things we should be doing, we need to make time for the things we want to do, too.

One thing garlene has realized is that life is a gift. And a gift ought to be fun. Every one of those days without enough hours in it, is still a gift. So she's going to try to make the most of them. And somewhere, she'll find time to do some of her work too.

gar is a golfer but a golfer gar ain't. That may sound strange but it's true. Some of the things that happen to golfers on and off the course are a lot like life, matter of fact they are life. Let's take some recent examples but first the ground rules. We will use first names only and most names will be fictitious. We will use Thursdays, the fifth day of the week and the traditional day for Manchester GOLFERS.

A typical Michigan Thursday in August, the temperature would be in the low 80's by ten in the morning and 90 plus by mid to late afternoon. Some August days could exceed 100 degrees, right! Not this particular Thursday. Two of our renowned players, Sam & Tom, decided to have a leisurely breakfast before starting their day on the links. Tom ordered oatmeal and coffee, Sam ordered potatoes, bacon, toast and coffee. Easy and quick right! The coffee was mud and the potatoes were cold, cold, cold. The bacon and toast was delivered and the potatoes returned. Breakfast finished, no potatoes.

lousy coffee and the boys had to leave to get to the course. The bill was for $9.06 and the potatoes? They were available when they went to check out. Our dynamic duo arrived at the course and it was misting, light rain really, and the temperature was in the mid 50's. Sam hung it up and headed for home.

Meanwhile gar along with eleven other die hards, teed off with Tom joining. Water running down our backs, shoes wet, clubs slippery and hard to hold on to and shivering that shook our bones we partook of a lovely golfing Thursday in August. By the fifth hole things were looking up. gar, in his infinite wisdom, thought he could drive the ball over that little lake in front of the tee. New driver in hand, new golf ball on the tee and a mighty swing left a lasting splash in the middle of the pond. That was just a fluke, right!

Another new ball, another mighty swing and again another splash. Well let's count, one ball in, penalty stroke, makes it two out. Third shot in penalty stroke for four out. Now doing what we should have we move forward, stow the driver in the bag and take out the new four wood, third new ball, and proceed to make another lusty swing, splash. Score now fifth shot in, sixth penalty shot out. A fourth new ball is dropped. The BP must be 220/180, this lusty swing with another new ball is deposited in the drink. Score now, seventh shot in, eight penalty stroke out.

The fifth new ball is lucky; we smoke it over the green and we are laying nine. Chip on the green for ten and two putts later we have a twelve. Nothing to this game of golf. Four lost balls at three bucks each, twelve dollars. Gee, Sam was right - it would have been a good day to stay at home. Let's head for Florida, Sam.

As for Michigan in August, the only thing approaching 100 was gar's score!

Village Street Work Completed

It was a quick study last week, when Thompson McCully came to town to work on our streets. In anticipation of completing the work by the end of this week, the crews had started very early on Tuesday morning. By late Friday afternoon, the workers were finishing up with the help of the DPW. Great job - by everyone!

Sidewalk Traffic

It has been brought to our attention that sidewalk traffic on Main Street is a problem. Village Ordinances, Chapter 117, states: Controlled vehicles SHALL NOT BE OPERATED on sidewalks within the boundaries of regulated areas, states the ordinance. Controlled vehicles include but are not limited to unicycles, bicycles, tricycles, toy vehicles, skate boards, roller blades, roller skates, scooters, wagons, remote controlled vehicles, mopeds, and automobiles.

The ordinance continues, "The regulated area includes Main Street from Clinton to M-52; Clinton from Madison to Main St.; and Adrian from Duncan to Main St. A person in violation of this shall pay $5.00 for the first offense, $25.00 for the second offense, and $100.00 for the third offense and each offense thereafter. The vehicle is impounded and the adult who is legally responsible for a minor shall be held responsible for payment of a fine."

This ordinance has been in place for many years. It needs to be reiterated at this time of year with students who travel down Main Street to get home or to any other destination. No vehicles with wheels are allowed on Main Street. You may walk them on the sidewalk but not ride; which in turn means no roller blades at all. Would you want to be hit by a bike or individual on roller blades when you are coming out of a business and be struck down on Main Street? This ordinance is for the protection of all individuals in the community. Please discuss this with your family to help everyone on Main Street.

SEWERS IN BRIDGEWATER? MAYBE - AFTER A STUDY IT'S POSSIBLE

At their August 20 meeting, Bridgewater Township Board of Trustees approved soliciting bids for a feasibility study. The study will be conducted for a possible waste water treatment system for the hamlet of Bridgewater. Dan Myers, Director of Public Works, Washtenaw County presented treatment system information to the Board and about 30 interested Bridgewater Township Citizens at the public hearing. The heavy clay land in Bridgewater and the surrounding area has been a problem for septic field operations and home owners have been cited by the Washtenaw County Health Department in the past.

Myers said, "If the Township should install a waste water treatment system, it would most likely be a Lagoon type, with several cells. The lagoons would be constructed with a liner which would prohibit leakage. Existing septic tanks and drain fields would be abandoned and existing homes would be required to connect. Most likely force mains would be required to transmit the sewage to the lagoons.

When installed, the system is quite simple. Maintenance would require testing of the effluent before it is released. The lagoons would have to be mowed and rodent damage control would be necessary. A special assessment district would be required. Tap in fees would be established. The ultimate cost will be determined by the size of the area and the number of houses or businesses that would connect." The Board discussed possible service areas. Probably, section 1 would be the primary service area; possibly, sections 2, 11 and 12 could also be served.

In the regular meeting portion the minutes and the treasurers reports were accepted. Correspondence was read and reports were received from the Planning Commission, Mineral Licensing Board, Zoning Board of Appeals, the Zoning inspector and the Building Inspector. Priority business section covered the letter of agreement with the WWRA for recycling. Dan Myers request for information on how past funds were expended and how any balances would be appropriated.

The State voter registration/census information gathering map and requirements were discussed. The board appointed Treasurer, Jane Wahl, as the person responsible for gathering the information. A gravel pit and haul route verbal report was given. The Township road work update was reviewed for the work on Kies Road. A change in the assessors hours was noted, starting one hour later at 12:30 PM and going to 3:30 PM on Wednesdays. -EWG

Sharon Township Continues to Seek Development Options

Sharon Township's regular August meeting was convened at 8:07 PM Thursday August 8. Supervisor Blades opened the meeting with board members Aiuto, Blumenauer, Dunny and Feldkamp in attendance. It was noted that the Board of Review Book is still missing and has not been found. The minutes of the previous meetings were read and the Treasurers report, with corrections was accepted.

Supervisor Blades reviewed the Weight Ordinance and the need to enact the Uniform Traffic Code as a part of the ordinance, and hiring of a weight officer. The board tabled the ordinance and no action was taken. It is anticipated the overweight fines will pay for the enforcement and provide the Township with as much as $25,000 per year. A discussion concerning local farmers or miss loads was discussed.

A resolution was passed stating that, "Sharon Township does not support the construction of any more public roads within the Township," due to the expense of maintaining such roads.

Supervisor Blades reviewed with the Board since the June 30th meeting, "The Village of Manchester has not expressed any interest in extending water and sewer lines to Sharon Township and the 200 acres north of M-52. Zoned R-2." According to Blades, "The Village would have to add another well and a module to the sewage treatment plant, which would be a better solution than having wells and septic systems on the lots."

The Enterprise was able to catch up to Supervisor Blades Monday, August 18, for additional information on the subject of sewer and water needs in Sharon Township. We asked where the two hundred acres are located. "The area North of M-52 from Sharon Valley road and the Manchester Township line on the South and West of M-52 where it turns north, as well as East of M-52 on the big curve (please see area map) has been designated R-2, one acre lots." This is the only area in Sharon Township zoned R-2. All other land is zoned agricultural, industrial, commercial, etc. We asked Blades if he had any hard numbers for cost of the new well and sewer module he was proposing? Further, we asked, what size well, how would this affect the water treatment plant, how would the raw water be pumped to the plant, would the Water Tower elevation be sufficient to maintain pressure for the approximate mile distance to Sharon Township, or would an in-line booster be necessary? What would be the cost for additional sewage treatment, lines and plant as well as operational costs?

Supervisor Blades responded that, "No hard numbers have been developed but that at a preliminary meeting with representatives of other area governmental bodies (including Manchester Township representatives, Chamber members, and Village representatives), at their June 30 meeting, a consensus was formed that additional area planning was necessary. We talked about the needs of the area, the Townships of Bridgewater, Freedom, Manchester and Sharon and the Village of Manchester. The need for an area-wide Zoning for the future and for reasonable use of the land. The Village currently lies almost in the center of the four Townships and has sewer and water services. It seems natural and cost effective to extend those services to the adjacent townships. The need for regional planning is here and now before the developments start."

We interrupted by asking, Hasn't Sharon Township been isolationist in the past? Sharon has never been part of the building authority established many years ago and has not been part of other joint ventures, such as Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority. Why the new found interest in the area now, Gary? His response, "That is somewhat true but we see a duplication of services and the drain on each Township's resources. Suppose we had a central office where we could have one person on call to answer for all zoning questions for the five entities of Bridgewater, Freedom, Manchester Township, Village and Sharon; wouldn't that be better than trying to find different individuals for each entity? We feel the Village of Manchester is the hub and we would like to see it preserved. Additional areas for businesses will be needed, additional industrial demands will be forthcoming, as well as additional housing requirements. We in Sharon recognize that additional demands will be made on all local governmental areas and we together can better solve the problems.

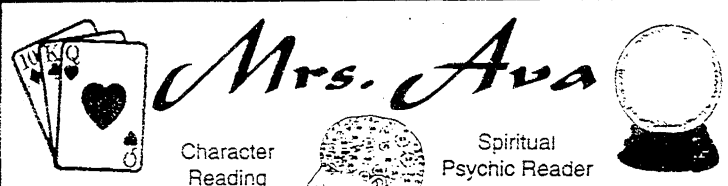

"Water and Sewer for a one acre lot will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000 to $15,000 if we plan for future growth; those monies could be used to offset the cost of sewer and water additions. The Village could charge for the services like the City of Detroit does, they could set the rates or the developers would have to pay the cost of installation of water and sewer services."

We came away from the interview with the feeling that much work needs to be done and that now that Sharon Township appears to want to be a part of a regional concept, perhaps the powers that be can accomplish the future needs of the area's citizens.

Labor Day

1.6 million to travel on Labor Day weekend, AAA Michigan predicts

The state's 1997 summer tourism season will end on a strong note, as an estimated 1.6 million Michiganians travel 100 miles or more from home during the upcoming Labor Day holiday period, AAA Michigan reports.

"The Labor Day weekend will cap what many are calling one of the best summer tourism seasons in recent years, meeting or exceeding AAA Michigan's prediction of 4-percent summer tourism growth, thanks in large part to a strong economy," said AAA Travel Agency Director Bill Best.

Across the nation, an estimated record 34 million Americans are expected to take a trip of 100 miles or more during the upcoming holiday, a 3-percent increase from last year.

"The general feeling is that it has been an excellent summer," added Linda Spencer, President of the West Michigan Tourist Association. "At our motels, hotels and resorts, business is booming. All the comments have been positive."

Tom Nemacheck, Executive Director of the Upper Peninsula Travel & Recreation Association—celebrating 85 years of service to tourism—says July and August traffic has been "very good."

Traffic reports from the Bridge and Tunnel Operator's Association also show increased travel for July, with traffic up 5.9 percent over last year on the Ambassador Bridge linking Detroit to Windsor, and up 5 percent on the Blue Water Bridge joining Port Huron and Sarnia.

According to an Auto Club survey of 500 Michigan residents, higher gas prices will have little effect on Labor Day travel plans. Eighty-five percent of survey respondents said fuel costs would have no impact on travel plans, while 15 percent said they could have a possible impact.

On average, motorists will pay 10 cents more this holiday than last year for a gallon of gas. As of August 18, the per gallon price for self-serve regular unleaded averaged $1.312 outstate; $1.289 in Metro Detroit.

Major findings from AAA Michigan's Labor Day survey show:

Ninety-six percent of the trips planned will be inside the U.S., with nearly 69 percent in excess of 100 miles;

- Seventy-two percent of the trips will be inside Michigan;

- Most of the Michigan travel destinations will be in the lower peninsula (83 percent), and these are most likely to be in the Northwest (30 percent), Southwest (18 percent) or Northeast (16 percent).

Approximately 86 percent of all trips will be by car, truck or van;

- Travelers' accommodations are distributed as follows: hotel/motel/resorts (22 percent), relatives (19 percent), trailer/RV camping (16 percent) and rental cottages (16 percent).

Three out of four people with travel plans said they wouldn't consider canceling the trip after hearing a weather forecast for rain or cool weather.

Based on requests received for Auto Club TourBooks and Triptiks, this summer's top five destinations for AAA Michigan travelers were: 1. Orlando, Florida; 2. Grand Canyon National Park, Arizona; 3. Mackinac Island, Michigan; 4. Sandusky, Ohio (Cedar Point); 5. Aurora, Ohio (Sea World).

A close sixth were prominent Michigan gaming destinations in Sault Ste. Marie, the Traverse City area and Mt. Pleasant.

The official 78-hour Labor Day holiday period begins at 6 p.m. Friday, (August 29) and runs to midnight Monday, (Sept. 1).

During last year's Labor Day holiday period, 28 people died in 22 crashes on roads across the state. That's down from the 1995 holiday, when 30 people died in 22 crashes. Sixteen of last year's fatal crashes were alcohol-related, and restraints were not used by 81 percent of the victims who had belts available.

To reduce these numbers this Labor Day holiday, all drivers are urged to use safety belts, avoid alcohol, stay alert at the wheel and observe all traffic laws.

For the 33rd year, AAA Michigan's "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" Holiday News Service will help steer holiday travelers to their destinations throughout the Labor Day weekend, with hourly traffic, safety and tourism bulletins airing on 120 statewide radio stations.

"Just wait 'til school starts, it will turn warm again." How many times have we said that while turning the heat on in late August? Our kids would come home with 'sweaty' faces and moan, "Wow, was it hot in there, what is there to drink around here?" We would think water, but that's not what they had in mind. Do I remember correctly, or did they drink and then promptly tear out of the house to play ball with neighborhood kids? Some of you young moms wonder occasionally if they will ever grow up, I did. At our age, we wonder just where those years went so very quickly and would love to have just a day back now and then. Please, be careful while driving during school hours and beyond to keep our kids safe (they have a way of darting between vehicles into your path!).

Thursday, August 28: This evening at 7:30, Manchester Senior Citizens will sponsor their monthly public card party at Freedom Township Hall. Senior bus will begin pickup at 6 PM and if you need a ride out to Pleasant Lake, call Marion Ahrens at 428-7865. You are invited to come if you enjoy euchre and are old enough to sit at the table (in other words, this is a public card party, come join in).

Tuesday, September 2 (not already!): Here come the senior meals and we invite all area folks who are 55 or more to come join us at Emanuel UCC Fellowship Hall at noon on each Tuesday or Thursday (except on holidays, etc.). Jan Barbour, our fabulous cook, along with Margaret (Grandma) Gillow and other nice folks which I will have to name later, will serve up on this first day...baked mostaccioli. Do not let that fancy name scare you off, as it is perhaps pasta that will be delicious.

Thursday, September 4: It's your birthday time, all August and September-born seniors and you may celebrate with cake, candles, song and special table where you will eat first. Call Sharman at 428-8359 ahead, or Jan at 428-7630 before 10:30 on meal days to make your reservation for meals. Folks who wish their meals delivered by senior bus, should also call these numbers (also to cancel out if they don't want meals that day). Whoops, nearly forgot to say that we're having chicken today.

If you want to forecast the weather, look to your cup of coffee. If the bubbles atop your coffee drift toward the rim, look for cloudy, stormy skies. Expect fair weather if they float toward the center of the cup. Why? High barometric pressure forces a liquid surface down; low pressure lets it rise. Bubbles work their way to the lowest points of the surface. (That comes from barnyard forecasters and LM Boyd's column, who am I to dispute it...I don't even understand it.)

And, this from LMB to bring you home safely from vacation: It's now known porcupines are especially fond of the flavor of brake fluid. They crawl under cars at campsites and chew where they shouldn't, draining the brake fluid. Please note, many a vehicle departs campsite by a long, winding, downhill road!

SPECIAL REQUEST: We need volunteers to help deliver takeout meals (by senior bus) to home bound village folks. If you can help, please call either Howard Parr at 428-9233 or Rubena Boelter 428-8655. A great way to get your morning exercise on Tuesdays and/or Thursdays, thanks.

10 WAYS TO GET INVOLVED

We asked parents, educators and experts for hints on getting involved at school. Here's what they said:

1 Visit your child's teachers at the start of school. "Explain that you want your child to do well in school ... that you'll do whatever it takes on your part, but you want to be in regular touch with the teacher about how the child is doing," suggests Anne Henderson, an education policy consultant with the Center for Law and Education.

She said teachers often have higher expectations of children whose parents they've gotten to know. It lays the groundwork for a year of working together.

2 If you work during the day, ask your child's teacher if you can help at night, says Alice Janke, a third-grade teacher in South Redford.

Cutting out construction-paper circles while you watch TV may not seem like much, but it's a big help for a teacher who wants to prepare five lessons for the next

3 No contribution is too small. Whatever you do to help out, it shows that you care about your child's school. "If all they can do is bake something for our little fund-raisers, they're contributing. No matter how they can help, it's help. And kids really do love those kinds of things," said Elizabeth DeWalls, a mother of eight and active Hamtramck parent.

4 Join the parent-teacher organization, even if you often can't attend meetings, says Georgene Campbell, president of the Michigan PTA.

Joining will add your voice to a children's advocacy group and keep you abreast of other ways to get involved. Sooner or later, something will come up that you can help with.

5 Enforce a no-disturbance dinner hour, where the telephone goes unanswered so the family can talk, suggests Joe Jeannette, assistant director of elementary education for Utica schools.

6 Another way to sneak time is to bring your child along when you go to the grocery store or while you run errands. The dinner hour also can be used to reinforce math and science lessons, said June Green Rivers, principal of Pasteur Elementary School in Detroit. Have a child measure cooking ingredients or show how yeast causes bread to rise.

7 Ask your kids specific questions. Just about every parent has asked "How was school today?" only to be answered with one word. Instead, ask questions such as, "What did you do in science today?" "What was your favorite part of the school day?" or "Did anything happen today that you didn't like?" Keep asking.

8 If you work during the day, see if your boss will allow you to make calls on your lunch hour, suggests Rob Tripp, a South Redford parent of two.

Many parent activities require lots of phone calls for organization. Or, volunteer to keep track of the money for a fundraiser. You can do the bookkeeping at 11 p.m. when the kids are in bed."

9 Set an example at home. Let your children see you reading and writing—even if it's just a grocery list—and using reference books. If you hear a word on television you're unfamiliar with, look it up. Share your findings, says Henderson.

10 Volunteer for a district committee that oversees curriculum or does long-term planning. Schools generally aren't looking for education experts—they've got plenty to draw from on staff. They're looking for layperson's perspective. And most meetings are held at night.

If you have a concern about your child's school but don't feel comfortable talking directly to a teacher or principal, find someone else at school you can talk to. Every school has key parents, parents who are leaders. If you can't talk to a staff member, talk to one of them.

New Staff at High School

Be ready for a big change in the MHS guidance office this year! The new guidance counselor, Leona Webb, is ready to bring her skills, knowledge, and enthusiasm to Manchester. Her advantages, she says, in being a counselor for Manchester, are that she graduated from a high school of comparable size, and that she plans to bring to the students her experience in education and business and industry.

She has recently returned from five years on the East Coast, where she taught college-level Business Management on weekends. During the week, she worked as a Human Resources Counselor outside Boston.

Ms. Webb has a B.A. in Business and an M.A. in Student Resource Services and plans to utilize both in her position here. She says she is a business person first, and a guidance counselor second, which is evident in her take-charge manner and emphasis on the students' career goals. She plans to assist students in their job searches with resume writing, interview coaching, and even contacting prospective employers.

She plans to go over what sort of things have been done by MHS guidance counselors in the past, and generate a survey for all students to determine areas of interest and programs to be implemented for the benefits of students in addition to what is already in place. The survey would cover all of the students, which ties in with her plan to personally make contact and speak to each student at the high school to learn about their goals and aspirations. Ms. Webb states that she wants to "make every student as successful as they can possibly be."

that to succeed, one must have positive scruples, personal ambition, commitment and integrity, and with these traits, one can accomplish anything. "I really believe in the power of positive thinking," she comments. "I always see the best in a situation." She says that sports is the only field where there is only a win-lose situation. Everything else can be a win-win proposition.

Ms. Webb has previously taught conflict resolution classes and organized drug awareness programs, which she plans to implement in Manchester if her survey shows a need for them. She is also interested in Co-op programs, where students earn school credits for working in real-life situations.

"Each experience builds on your experiences before," she comments. Leona Webb's enthusiasm and drive is sure to bring a more positive attitude to Manchester High School and her work is sure to help MHS students succeed at all their goals. —Alyssa Chartrand

Back to School

The anticipation of these eager Klager students is matched only by the apprehension of their moms, who came to take photographs and videos of the first day of school.

Welcome back to Wanda Hone, one of our favorite crossing guards, as well as Pete Dunny (pictured above), Janey Koch and Karen Lorincz (who were not available for pictures on Monday because they were taking their own children to school.)

Klager School would appreciate your used children's books to use in the Library and in the Accelerated Reader Program. Non-fiction books are especially needed! Any children's books in good condition may be donated to Mrs. Beuerle at the Klager Library

Making A Plan

Manchester High School has opened its doors for the 1997-98 school year, and there are lots of exciting new programs to discuss. This week I'd like to review our new student planners which the staff believes will improve communication with parents, and provide our students with organizational skills which will improve their grades.

The Chelsea school district implemented this program last year and 85% of their students supported the program. Many local businesses, particularly the Community Resource Center, have supported this program, and we'll be publishing a thank you in the paper as soon as all contributions are collected.

Essentially, the planners are a daily calendar book in which students will be instructed by all teachers to record homework assignments, grades, appointments, and school activities. This should help our parents to solve a problem I've sometimes experienced from time-to-time. I'd ask my own kids, "Have you started your homework?"

The response, "I didn't have any." This answer wasn't always true, as indicated by their frantic last-minute work and occasional "ugly" report card comment, "Not prepared for class."

Now all I need to ask either of my sons is, "Hand over your planner." The great thing is that I can initial in the book, indicating that I've supervised the homework so that their teacher will know that I've done my part.

We expect this program to work much better than the infamous weekly reports. In this program the parents and teachers did all the work in trying to "lead the horse to water." We expect the student planners to make the students responsible for producing and providing information to their parents.

If any students have problems in recording grades and assignments, assistance will be provided. In my opinion, this is a sound practice, meeting a need to prepare Manchester students for the adult roles they will soon assume.

When Was The Last Time Your Children Had A Professional Eye Exam?

Like most parents, you probably take your children to the pediatrician for an annual school physical and you'd never miss those twice yearly visits to the dentist to make sure their teeth stay healthy. But what about their eyes?

The ABC's of eyecare

But, did you know that those in-school screenings detect only 20 to 30 percent of vision problems in children? Young children can pass that test and still have an undiagnosed eye problem that can cause learning difficulties.

According to the Better Vision Institute, a child's eyesight accounts for 80 percent of his or her learning ability in the first 12 years of life. A child who doesn't see clearly can suffer academically, athletically, even emotionally and socially.

Your children are growing and changing every day. So are their eyes. That's why it is important for them to have a professional Annual Back-to-School Checkup.

By ensuring your children are free of vision problems, you'll give them the best chance to perform to their fullest potential. It's as simple as ABC!

Manchester Area Chamber Of Commerce

The Manchester Chamber of Commerce held a brainstorming meeting on Wednesday August 20, with many good ideas brought forth to work on in the future of the Chamber.

The breakfast meeting was held at the Black Sheep with twenty plus members in attendance. Jim Sprague, Chamber president conducted the meeting with election of four board seats. Two were renewing their terms- Bob Wahr and Jim Sprague - and two vacancies were filled by Edna Walker and Don Limpert. Two other board seats have been created to enlarge the board; but no nominations were heard at this particular time.

A discussion of the October meeting, "When Manchester Grows up" was held. The meeting will be coordinated and run by Susan Lackey, Executive Director of the Washtenaw Development Council.

Edna Walker gave a summary of the Manchester Merchants Association. She noted that they are developing bylaws for Chamber approval, and they want a voice at Chamber meetings to communicate the merchants' future planning. The meeting was then dedicated to a Brainstorming session.

Some of the ideas discussed were:

Chamber representatives for governmental meetings; A walking tour of Manchester coordinated with the Historical Society; Overnight park facilities with electrical hook-ups; Educational committee - what is available through the Chamber; New member packet - including the benefits available through the Chamber (a tri-fold informational leaflet is being developed to send out to potential new members); Manchester area information packet (Bob Wahr is working on an update of the downtown pamphlet); Welcome Packet for new families and individuals to the Manchester area. Co-op advertising available for Merchants association: Should Dues be raised?; Potential Fund-raisers - Home Tour, Wine tasting, Bingo Night, Dinner/Dance; Involvement with Gazebo concerts; a Chamber office with a hired executive director; Member to Member discounts; Communication of Committees with membership and board of directors; Business Tours; Winter Festival - committee needed; Window Decals for members; Music with Christmas lighting - extended shopping hours, Christmas in the Village; Annual meeting with Awards..

These ideas will be considered by the Chamber board to decide how they can be accomplished and in what kind of time frame.

The Teddy Bears Picnic

A great day for a picnic in the park!

In the midst of a week full of rainy or dreary days, a day made to order for the young readers of Manchester brought them their very own "Gazebo Concert" featuring Tracey Reed of the Black Sheep Tavern. Thirty five children - plus an equal number of teddy bears - showed they could Be Eager About Reading last Saturday in Wurster Park.

Tracey had the kids singing, dancing, and smiling for almost an hour while she entertained them with her guitar and several original songs about teddy bears, bubbles, the alphabet, and more; interspersed with a few old favorites. She is a natural in this forum, and her young audience responded with enthusiasm and lots of participation.

Refreshments for the Teddy Bears Picnic were contributed by the Manchester Market and the Black Sheep Tavern, and included gingerbread cookies and punch. Hostesses were Library Board president Charlotte Major, librarian Carol Johnson, volunteer Ann Fowler and Library Director Dorothy Davies. Even the punch cups contributed to a reading theme with riddles which were shared by the children.

Each of the 100 readers who had read or listened to ten or more books this summer, had received an invitation to Saturday's event. Dorothy Davies presented each of the participants with a certificate of recognition; and they also received a coupon to purchase a new book of their choice at Chapters and Verses. Contributions which made this special prize possible, included Sutton Insurance Agency, RD. Kleinschmidt, Inc., Tirb Chevrolet, Fahey Realty/Manchester Dairy Queen, and Chapters and Verses.

Congratulations to all of Manchester's young readers (and listeners!) Your enthusiasm about reading assures a busy future for the Manchester Township Library.

The "Manchester Open" to benefit the Community Resource Center was held on Sunday, August 10, at Greenbriar Golf Course. Fourteen foursomes played a round of eighteen holes, and a good time was had by all, according to Chairman-of-the-Day Dick Kuntz.

A day of fun, fellowship, food and lots of prizes was advertised by the organizers, and it lived up to its billing. The Open was concluded by a delicious meal catered by the Whistle Stop Restaurant in Manchester.

Prizes were donated by local Manchester businesses, which included door prizes and prizes for Longest Drive, Longest Putt, and Closest To Pin. A putting contest added to the festive occasion. In addition, participants had an opportunity to win a car from Midwest Ford if they achieved a hole-in-one on hole #7. Although no one claimed that prize this year, it wasn't from lack of trying!

The Community Resource Center is grateful for the support it receives from participants in the Manchester Open and throughout the year.

Saline Fair Offers Something for Everyone

A post-Labor Day "summer treat" is in store at the 62nd Annual Saline Community Fair. Beginning and ending with the USA Demolition Derby, there is plenty of entertainment for the entire family in between! Head for the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds on Ann Arbor-Saline Road, for a week filled with activities and fun.

On Monday (Labor Day), September 1, the USA Demolition Derby provides a pre-fair entertainment kickoff at 7:30 PM. Tuesday evening will feature a talent show at 5:30, and the crowning of the 50th Miss Saline will be held at the Track at 8:00. For this 50th annual Miss Saline Pageant, the organizers are planning a reunion of all past Queens. Rides will open at 7:00 on the Midway on Tuesday evening, which means it's really "fair time" for all the kids and kids at heart. Admission prices of $6 (Tuesday Wednesday Thursday) and $7 (Friday and Saturday) to the fair, include unlimited free carnival rides.

On Wednesday, the gates open at noon. Wednesday is a day filled with livestock exhibitions and judging. Draft Horses/Halter Classes will be judged starting at 10 AM. Draft Horse Hitching Classes will be held at 6 PM; Beef Cattle Judging at 7 PM; and Steer Judging at 7:30 PM. For those who prefer their action on wheels, the USA Figure Eight Derby will be held this evening at 7:30 PM.

A new feature at this year's Saline Fair will be Pre-School/Children's Day at the Saline Community Fair. Gates and rides open at 10 AM, and from then until 2:30 PM, a "Pre-School Special" admission-price of $3 for children ages 6 and under will admit the little ones and their parents (also at a reduced admission of $5) to a day specially planned for them. The schedule of events includes barn tours throughout the day, Creative Crafts, KOKO the Clown and Friends, Farmer John and his petting farm, and educational hands-on programs. Blue Ribbon Lunch Boxes will be sold for just $2.50 per child, by the United Methodist Church of Saline. Contests include a Pedal Pull and a "Mommy Calling Contest," which should be entertaining for kids and parents alike. The hot action for the "big boys" will be held at 9 PM with the Semi Truck Pull.

Friday is "Old Settlers Day" at the Fair and includes Ladies Day and Recognition of Senior Citizens. Modified Super Stock and Pro Stock Tractor pulls will be held at 7:00 PM, and Karaoke provides the evening's entertainment in the Open Arena at 8 PM.

Saturday, "American Legion Day," the fair winds up with a Parade through Downtown Saline, at 1 PM. Michigan Championship Pony Pulls will be held at 1 PM, along with compact tractor pulling. The USA Demolition Derby State Championships will be held at 7 PM at the fairgrounds, and those less stout of heart can enjoy Saline's own famous Fiddlers Philharmonic from 7:30-9:00 PM.

Of course, throughout the week you can enjoy carnival rides and midway games, impressive livestock exhibits, merchant displays and much more. Wind up your summer with a visit to the Saline Fair!

Agri News

• Could strawberries help prevent cancer? USDA scientists have discovered two strawberry varieties that are rich in ellagic acid, a natural organic compound that has been shown to inhibit certain types of cancer. Researchers found that Tribute and Delite strawberry varieties have high ellagic acid levels in the leaves of the plant. Researchers plan to use this information to breed strawberries with higher levels in the fruit pulp.

• A wild South American relative of the potato plant could prove to be the key to economical potato chip processing. Solanum raphanifolium tubers can be processed into light-colored chips (preferred by consumers), directly from cold storage. Currently, potatoes taken out of cold storage must first be warmed before they can be processed into chips. Without being warmed, the potatoes would yield dark brown chips because of accumulating sugars. This new technology would cut processing time from one month to just one week.

• Plants get sunburned too! Sunburn or sunscald is common to tomatoes and peppers. The high temperature injury appears as white or yellow spots on the plant and fruit, which eventually becomes large, flat and grayish, ruining the fruit. Water is your best defense to prevent sunscald to your plants. It's best to water your plants in the morning. As water changes from liquid to gas it absorbs heat energy. The heat is taken up by the gas and removed from the plant.

• Steak remains the single most popular beef dish in American homes, accounting for more than 17 percent of all in-home fresh-beef meals, according to research on eating trends. Next most popular are hamburgers at 13 percent of all servings; ground beef dishes, 9.7 percent; roast beef, 6.8 percent; spaghetti, 6.6 percent; meatloaf, 5 percent.

• Experimental tomato plants have a new natural ally against the fungus that causes wilt disease. The allies are actually relatives of the wilt fungus Fusarium oxysporum that crowds it from the plant's roots but doesn't harm the plant itself. Researchers have found a benign form of Fusarium that crowds the bad guys away from vital nutrients and root space. The good-guy Fusarium strains also help jump-start the plant's natural defenses.

• Red meat is one of the 10 best super foods for athletes as they train for summer competition. Sports nutritionists and physicians say that leaner cuts of red meat are great foods for athletes. Julie Bums, a nutritionist who advises the Chicago Bulls and Blackhawks, says exercisers often overlook the iron and zinc content of red meat when deciding on a protein source.

Washtenaw County Uses the World Wide Web to Deal with Gypsy Moths

While the Gypsy Moths invade Southern Michigan, Washtenaw County Government is using the Internet to fight back. The County is addressing the Gypsy Moth problem by setting up an "Online Gypsy Moth Reporting Form" on the World Wide Web. The easy to use form is available from the County Government Homepage:

<<http://www.co.washtenaw.mi.us>>

County residents are encouraged to report Gypsy Moth infestations by using the on-line form. The reporting of sightings provides important information which helps the County in its efforts to manage the Gypsy Moth problem.

In addition to the on-line form, the County Government Web Site also presents information about Gypsy Moths prepared by the County Extension Service. The site explains how to properly use barrier bands and how to prevent moving Gypsy Moths into new areas. There are also links to other web sites containing more Gypsy Moth information.

Miracle of Life Exhibit Returns to Michigan State Fair

Returning for its fifth year, the popular Miracle of Life Exhibit at the Michigan State Fair, open August 19 - September 1, introduces fair-goers to the state's first ever full-scale animal birthing exhibit, a joint undertaking by the Michigan State University College of Veterinary Medicine, the Michigan Farm Bureau and Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan.

"The birth of animals is a common part of most farm operations, but for non-farmers, it can be a unique and awe-inspiring event to witness," said Jack Laurie, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, the state's largest farm organization.

Animals brought to the exhibit are within a few days of giving birth, or have a newborn at their side that is less than two weeks old. During the exhibit's run, more than 100 births are expected from sheep, pigs and cows. About two dozen chicks will hatch each day. Not everyone will see a live birth but the exhibit includes a narrated video of previous births.

Veterinarians who care for the animals chuckle at the most-asked question, "Do you know when that animal will give birth?" Shaking their heads, they advise fair-goers that only Mother Nature knows for sure. It's common for fair-goers to return later in the day to check on an animal's status.

Visitors entering the large exhibit tent can stop at a large poster that tallies the names, birth weights and birth dates of all new arrivals. Volunteers from Blue Cross and Blue Shield are available and eager to provide families with activity and coloring books filled with animals facts, educational games, puzzles, and fitness tips that help visitors continue the educational process at home.

Farmers representing county Farm Bureaus from across the state and the Michigan Farm Bureau will also be on hand to answer questions and explain the steps they take on their own operations, on a daily basis, to care for their livestock.

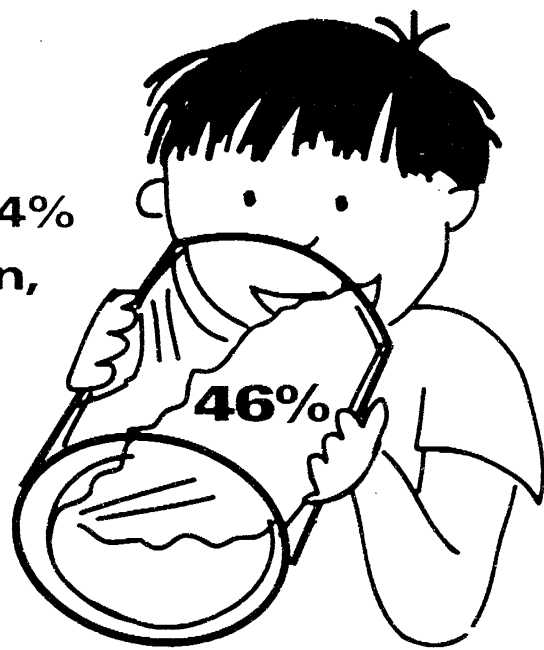

A veterinarian and veterinary students from MSU are on site 24 hours a day to monitor the animals and supervise their care. Periodically, they go to the microphone and conduct question and answer sessions with visitors, a time when many youngsters in the crowd ask about veterinary careers.

"It's an opportunity for us to talk about the role of the veterinarian in the animal birthing process, while our students get a chance to explain the care and management of livestock to the public," said Michelle Kopcha, project leader for the MSU School of Veterinary Medicine.

For the Stojic family from Bethesda, Maryland, an annual visit to the exhibit has become a tradition when visiting relatives in Michigan. For Elena, age 5, the highlight was watching a newborn ewe named Hector take his first gulp of milk. Her sister, Mara, age 7, was fascinated by the chicken hatchery, where chicks slowly break free from their shells.

Teen-ager catches 61.8-pound lake trout

Lucas Lanczy, 16, of L'Anse, set a Michigan lake-trout record by catching a Lake Superior fish that weighed 61.8 pounds. Lucas and his father, Bela, were fishing with Captain Duncan Price of Fisher-Price Charter Service of Chassell, and Price said it was a day that will he will always remember. Lucas' uncle, Doug Price of Manchester, was also fishing that day. The crew also landed three other big lakers weighing 30, 31 and 32-1/2 pounds while fishing off Stannard Rock, which is 51 miles from Price's dock.

The fish has been authenticated by the Department of Natural Resources as a state record.

“When Manchester Grows Up”

The Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce is proud to announce that on Thursday, October 2, 1997, at 7:00 PM at Manchester High School, the community of Manchester and the surrounding townships will come together for a round table discussion entitled “What do you want Manchester to be when it grows up?”

The Chamber will coordinate and host this meeting and has engaged Susan Lackey, Executive Director of the Washtenaw Development Council to chair and direct the discussions. Everyone, from civic and government leaders, school and community officials, and business members, on a local and state level is invited and asked to participate. The general public is also encouraged to attend and share their viewpoint.

The discussions will revolve around the central issue of growth and development in the Manchester community and how it affects the various groups. After opening statements, we will break up into four groups government, school, business, and community to define in more detail their areas of concern.

Finally, we will establish a steering committee to work on these areas of concerns and establish guidelines for solutions.

St. Jude Bike-A-Thon Announced

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced today that Katrina Bihlmeyer has agreed to be the coordinator of the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital's Bike-A-Thon in Manchester on October 4, 1997.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital was founded by entertainer, Danny Thomas. The institution opened its doors to the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases that afflict our children. St. Jude Hospital is nonsectarian, non-discriminatory, and covers all costs of care beyond those reimbursed by insurance.

At St. Jude, scientists and physicians are working side-by-side seeking not only a better means of treatment, but also the causes, cures, and prevention of these terrible killers. All findings and information gained at the hospital are shared freely with doctors and hospitals all over the world. Thanks to St. Jude Hospital, children who have leukemia, Hodgkin's disease, sickle-cell anemia, and other child-killing diseases now have a better chance to live.

The Bike-A-Thon program this year is dedicated to ten-year-old Amy Lyon, who represents one of more than 14,500 patients who have been treated at this world-renowned pediatric research and treatment facility. Unfortunately, after treatment for fluid build-up, several hospital visits, tests, and numerous calls to doctors, Amy's problem had not been diagnosed. Finally, Amy's last doctor referred her to St. Jude Hospital in August 1994 after diagnosing her with a form of brain cancer. There she underwent surgery and a series of chemotherapy and radiation treatments that ended in December 1994.

Unfortunately, the treatments have not succeeded in curing Amy's cancer; however, the tumors are not growing, and according to Sue, Amy's mother, “this is good news, because Amy's tumors have been very aggressive.” Amy is only one example of the hope that is provided by our successful research, patient care, and educational programs made possible by the Bike-A-Thon campaign at this internationally recognized hospital.

In Michigan, 136 children and their families have gone to St. Jude Hospital and received total medical care for a catastrophic illness. Thousands of others have benefitted from the research findings that have developed better and more successful treatment methods.

We sincerely appreciate the concern that Katrina Bihlmeyer has for our work to help children like Amy, and we hope the citizens of Manchester will support this year's Bike-A-Thon on October 4 to help provide the funds needed to preserve the world's greatest asset... its children.
