DUTCH SCALP THE 'SKINS, 54 -0

- by Bobby Hayden

An enthusiastic Manchester crowd enjoyed Burgers served by the cheerleaders before settling in to watch the Flying Dutchmen run away with a huge first-half lead over the Clinton Redskins

Think Manchester versus Clinton and you think of a hard fought, low scoring game that comes down to the final seconds of the fourth quarter.

Fans expecting this classic confrontation between two great football traditions had all such thoughts quickly put to rest. The fourth play of the game capped a one minute seven second Dutchman drive as Nick Davis punched through the line on his third carry of the game to light up the scoreboard 6 - 0.

Then it was time for the Manchester defensemen to show the crowd their stuff by stopping the Redskins' attack three and out. The Dutch wasted no time converting their next possession into a score as senior Nick Davis rambled 44 yards on the second play of the series for a Manchester touchdown. Terry Coleman widened the margin to 13 - 0 with a successful point after.

The Redskins' next drive took them into Manchester territory. After making it to the 18 yard line, the Manchester defense got stingy and stopped them dead in their tracks. After taking over deep in their own territory, the Dutch came up with one of the most exciting plays of the game. Quarterback Nick Rose connected with senior Nick Niehaus for an 82 yard touchdown play. With 4:55 still left in the first quarter, the scoreboard read 19-0.

After holding Clinton scoreless again and with the seconds ticking down in the first quarter, the Dutchmen don't settle for running the clock out. Once again the ball is handed to Nick Davis who races down the field for an 88 yard score.

The second quarter was an encore of the first with a little more defensive flavor. The defense played solidly the entire game. Senior Jon Hochstetler came up with a fumble recovery

Family Farm Fest Comes to Manchester

Andrea and Rick Clark of Hay Meadow farm are pictured with three of this year's colts. Hay Meadow Farm is one of the featured attractions on this year's Family Farmfest Tour, which will take place on Saturday, September 20.

The "baby" Rick is holding shows a wonderful paint pattern of grays, browns and reds mixed with black and white. Besides their exceptional paint horses, Hay Meadow Farms also raises angora goats. Also featured in this Farmfest are two other local agribusinesses - Sharon Mills Winery and Fusilier's Family Farm & Greenhouse.

Four other Jackson County farms are featured in the Farmfest and all are within easy distance of Manchester. Take time out of your day next Saturday, to visit Llama Hill Ranch in Clarklake, Napoleon Livestock Commission & Western Wear and Tack Shop, the YMCA Storer Camps (both in Napoleon), and the Dean and Ida Dermeyer Farm in Brooklyn.

Refreshments will be available for purchase at all locations, so bring the family along and spend a day exploring rural life. Story, Second Front Page.

Seven Sites available to tour - three locally!

1997 Family Farm Fest

This year, three local agribusinesses are featured on the Jackson/Washtenaw Family Farmfest. Manchester can be proud that these three farms are representing our community!

Fusilier Family Farm & Greenhouse 16400 Herman Road • Manchester

The Fusilier Family Farm & Greenhouse is also a family-owned and operated business. Of Mike and Kathy's children, Matthew, nearly 10; Brittany, 8; Travis, 7; and Chad, nearly 3; all three of the older youth help on the farm with some baling of hay, and loading pigs, and do some chores in the greenhouse. There is one other fulltime employee, Alanna Gazlay.

The family owns 100 acres, rents another 750, and grows crops on all of it that does not have a building in the way.

They grow 400 acres each of corn and soybeans, 30 of wheat and 20 hay. The Fusiliers also raise beef, with five cows, five heifers and a bull; and have 1,000 market hogs at their other farm.

The family would like visitors to see how they have diversified their farm, growing everything from flowers, plants and crops to livestock, in order to always be able to make a living.

Having farmed since 1980, this family wishes to help people understand the economics of farming, as well as the positive community spirit and comradery of farm/rural communities.

The couple began creating moss baskets filled with plants and flowers for something "different" in the greenhouse. They plan to have something new each year for customers to go and explore.

There is a maze made of maize this year too. A petting zoo and refreshments will be available here.

Hay Meadow Farm 6721 Sharon Hollow Road • Manchester

Entering the world of careful breeding at Hay Meadow Farms, visitors will find paint horses and angora goats.

Owned and operated by Rick and Donna Clark, their parttime help includes their son Patrick, who feeds the animals, moves hay and cleans the barns; their daughter Andrea, who feeds the animals, trains the horses and cleans the barns; and

From the desk of Leon Hunt Farmfest Program Associate

Many who are familiar with our annual Family Farmfest know to expect a variety of sites such as Dean and Ida Dermeyer's dairy farm and the winery at Sharon Mills which are on this year's schedule. But we don't often emphasize the family portion of Family Farmfest.

This event is for families. It is important to the younger generation's understanding of where things such as food and agricultural products come from, what kind and how much effort is expended to have those various products.

The future is our young people. Our ever-changing rural scene must be appreciated. How better than to make sure the youth are aware of agricultural practices, performance and potential?

I hope you can set aside a few hours on September 20, from 11 AM to 5 PM, to attend the Family Farmfest sites.

Megan Staffeld, who feeds the animals, helps train the horses and cleans the barns.

One might get the impression that if one feeds the animals, one must clean the barns! Seriously, this is a small, specialty family farm that grew, in part, from Andrea's 4-H club involvement.

Having raised and shown both angora goats and pleasure horses, Andrea has had much to say about livestock in this family.

Sitting on just 24 acres, approximately 10 acres is a hayfield and about eight acres are used as pasture for the animals.

There are 25 angora goats and 11 pleasure horses at this Farmfest site. They grow alfalfa hay, glean approximately 300 to 400 pounds of mohair annually, and aim for raising three pleasure riding horses each year.

This growing business specializes in breeding and raising superior quality performance riding horses of beautiful color. Using solid-color mares that are either Arabian or quarter horse, the stallions are paint, and the end result is a paint or pinto approximately 60% of the time.

The Clarks breed first for temperament, performance and conformation, then for color.

"Let's go meet the 'puppies,'" was not what this reporter expected to hear from Andrea on the way to the horse corral. But, she proved that colts could behave just like cuddly puppies when they have had the individual attention and lots of human contact that these animals have. The "babies" wanted to be cuddled, stroked and hugged just like one would expect of a puppy.

Moving on to the angora goats, we found the 25 goats with their "keeper," a guardian dog named Bear. He is a Maremma, a breed from Italy that is the originator of several well-known breeds including St. Bernard and Newfoundland according to the Clarks. However, he knows his job is to guard, he is not a pet and one should exercise caution around him as his job is to ward off strangers and potential dangers to "his" flock.

Selective breeding is practiced with both the goats and the horses, to raise healthy, superior-quality animals.

The Spinner's Flock will demonstrate hand-spinning of mohair at this site, also Hugh Thorne of the Hanover-Horton area will demonstrate goat shearing.

There may also be a horse riding demonstration during the day.

Sharon Mills Winery 5701 Sharon Hollow Road • Manchester

This beautiful old building, filled with wood and stone and many memories, was built in 1835 as a grist mill.

According to area history, it was the first mill to grind buckwheat. Since a sawmill was added on the property, the name Sharon Mills was developed.

By the 1920s, Henry Ford had purchased the former mill. He had the old building completely torn down, then carefully rebuilt and restored. The object was to move it further from the road, as well as keeping it in good working order. Ford added the water-powered generator that is still in use today. Ford used the site to produce various car parts.

Lillian Martin moved her family to the 20 acre site, including a dam for the generator, in the 1960s. She operated an antique shop at the location for about 25 years.

Martin's sons, Mike and his wife Jean, and Craig and his wife Diane, purchased the old mill in 1989 and began bottling and aging wines and champagnes at that time.

Although no grapes for the products are cultivated at the site, the Hawker brothers own some of the Old Mission vineyards around Traverse City that supply the wine for bottling and aging.

Two different types of champagne are bottled and aged at this site, following the first fermentation which is completed up-north. All of the grapes are also crushed near Traverse City.

They offer a total of seven wines, by the bottle or case, but the rest of the bottling and aging is completed in Traverse City. All of the wines may be taste-tested prior to purchase.

The Hawker brothers will share the message of proper handling of wine and champagne during this Farmfest stop.

One of the biggest difficulties this agri-business is experiencing is growth. The brothers only use a very few temporary parttime employees. Therefore, the business is usually only open 10 hours each week, from noon until 5 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays.

The business is now demanding much more time, but all of the partners have other jobs. They realize the winery needs to be open more hours, they just have not yet figured out how to accomplish that.

A great deal of the reason the winery is so busy is the special wedding package the Hawker brothers offer. The wonderful old building, with its high, "barn-beamed" ceilings and prolific fieldstone inside and out, is set around a woods. With a clearing, like a peninsula, in the woods, the water flowing on either side, many a couple has been joined in matrimony, as though in a fairytale.

The nearby dam and quiet, graceful banks of the river, are the perfect setting for nearly any size reception. Naturally, some magnificent champagne is available for each such occasion.

Other groups gather at the winery as well. Sometimes for family get-togethers, other times for business, all find the peaceful surroundings conducive to a good gathering.

The brothers future plans include expanding the meeting/reception package they already offer, possibly adding a restaurant at their location. They also plan to continue to maintain old traditions in wine-making.

Also on this year's Farmfest Tour:

Dean and Ida Dermeyer 8399 Riverside Road • Brooklyn

Dean and Ida Dermeyer and their eldest son David work fulltime on this family dairy farm.

The Jackson County Dairy Promotion Group will offer ice cream, and County Line will have cheese at this site.

Llama Hill Ranch 4625 Reed Road • Clarklake

Mike and Betty Knapp purchased their first breeding male llama and two females just seven short years ago. They have since fallen completely head-over-heels with the animals and now have 30 llamas on their 80 acre farm.

Llama fact sheets will be available during Farmfest. There will be samples of wool, both raw wool and "rovings", or cleaned and processed wool balls that are ready to be spun into yarn.

Napoleon Livestock Commission Company and Western Wear & Tack Shop 6810 Brooklyn Road (M-50) • Napoleon

Napoleon Livestock Commission Company is the "oldest independently owned auction market in Michigan" according to the Heselschwerdt family who own and operate the facility.

This stop will provide the viewer with the sights and sounds of auction-marketing. They will also explain what the by-products of the livestock industry provide for the consumer.

It is hoped there will be a display area provided for youth, by the Beef Commission.

YMCA Storer Camps 6921 North Stony Lake Road • Napoleon Township

The YMCA Storer Camps, just outside of Napoleon, started as a residential YMCA camp in 1918. Now, based its enrollment of approximately 22,000 people annually, it is the third largest YMCA camp in the U.S. according to its executive director Mike Wentz.

Visitors to this site will be given brochures explaining the programming that will be going on during that day. People may wander around the various program areas, including watching campers at the 55-foot "climbing tower", the "low ropes" course and the tire obstacle course.

Out of the Pen

- by garlene

Reach garlene via e-mail at

garlene rarely gets around to editorializing, and she hardly ever tackles political issues. Partly this is because, as a mere sow, she figures she doesn't have a whole lot to say about those big questions in life. However, this week she wants to share some thoughts, humble as they are, with the powers that be.

As she was lounging around the Enterprise office last week, garlene happened to see a few newsworthy items come through the door. One of them was a proclamation of "Pollution Prevention Week." Another was a local "Clean Up Day." A couple of the surrounding townships sponsor annual or semi-annual clean up days. The Village subsidizes a "white goods" pick up three or four times per year, which helps get rid of large accumulations of unwanted trash - events which garlene supports wholeheartedly.

Reading the fine print on the township's announcement, garlene noticed a disclaimer that "refrigerators, freezers and air conditioners will not be accepted unless tagged by a qualified technician, that the freon has been removed." She recalled that notices of Village white goods pick ups usually contain a similar disclaimer. She was surprised to find out that there is a cost associated with receiving such a tag; and the price can be pretty high for the average family - ranging as high as $50, or even more.

Then she noticed an old refrigerator sitting by the side of a village street. Knowing that the garbage men would not be picking it up on trash day, she has watched with interest to see exactly what would happen to this discarded appliance. Well, the day after trash day the door was missing, and the refrigerator was laid face-down on the ground. This is a good thing, because it means no piglets will be using the refrigerator as an erstwhile play house. But how long will a self-respecting homeowner allow an old refrigerator to sit in their front yard?

Seems to garlene that along about next week sometime, a very similar refrigerator could be found somewhere along a not-too-densely-populated road in one of our rural townships...just the sort of thing which those "Township Clean-Up Days" are trying to prevent.

But who is going to pay $50 for the privilege of discarding something which is worthless, anyway? How much storage room do you have in your garage, basement, attic, or barn, to keep a freon-laden appliance indefinitely? Some day, you're going to have to get rid of these things. Or someone will.

Why don't the refuse companies include the cost of properly discarding the freon from old appliances, in their regular pick up fees? This would help out young families (or old ones), whose budget can't handle the exorbitant cost of having their appliances tagged. Seems like the cost per family, per month, would only be pennies.

Of course, garlene knows that some people will say, "Why should I pay for someone else's garbage?" That's what happens anyway, when an old, discarded appliance leaks harmful chemicals into the ground water; when the freon evaporates into the ozone layer; or when we simply have to drive past an unsightly mess along an otherwise scenic country route.

Somewhere down the road, we're all going to pay, one way or the other.

To the Enterprise:

Thank you so much for putting my article in the paper for me. It was very much appreciated. My trip was a real experience. Our team took 7th out of 20.

Thank you,
Nick Rose, '98

Dear Editor,

I am writing in response to your coverage of the "Suicide at Kirk Park" article in the August 21st, 1997 edition of The Manchester Enterprise.

After reading the article I decided to sit down and write my thoughts out but I came across rambling and very hateful. So I decided to keep my thoughts to myself until I couldn't get the article out of my mind.

Your picture included with article was truly tasteless and you mentioned how you were glad that no children were in the part at the time "Briggys" took his life. The picture you showed with the article put not only children but every member of this community at the scene that day!

Second of all, those who know "Briggys" knew he was sick and demonstrated severe anxiety about his illness - yet you failed to mention that in your article. All you had to mention about my friend was that he had received an OUIL recently.

Finally, I wrote this so I could show my respect not only to a good man but a Vietnam veteran and a member of our Manchester community. You had no right defacing his value on this earth the way you did and remember your paper did "Boldly go where no newspaper has gone before."

Sincerely,
Paula J. Bash

Out & About

- by gar

The Reverend Vincent Carroll, in his Sunday morning sermon observed that the Lord has taken two very prominent, caring and serving women from our world, Mother Teresa and Princess Diana. Perhaps the Lord, in his infinite wisdom, has given humanity something of far greater benefit.

In the case of Mother Teresa, a legacy endowed with sixty seven years plus of personal servitude, to the poor, destitute, infirm and cast aside individuals of her need. The world legacy she has left behind, is an intact religious order, dedicated to serve as did Mother Teresa. Although Mother Teresa was but four foot eleven inches tall, her stature and shadow will endure and grow when those in her Order, serve those she so ably and devotedly served.

The media has said, after the divorce, "Di will never be Queen," but Di's departure has, perhaps, made her a, 'Queen of Needs.' Di's devotion, love and compassion for the forgotten, shunned, manipulated, diseased and victims of mankind's inhumanity to man will be championed by others in her memory. Perhaps the British Monarchy will benefit, if her compassion and ability to express her love and devotion is passed on to her children and possible heirs to the throne.

Perhaps these two women, Mother Teresa and Princess Diana, have been taken at the zenith of their lives for a reason. They will be missed by their families, admirers and those they have served. "The Lord Giveth, and The Lord Taketh Away, Blessed be The Lord."

Dear Emory,

In response to your picture and caption, "Residential Development continues in Sharon Township", a survey of 126 Sharon Township residents was conducted by EMU students for the Planning Commission in the Fall of 1996. The results of the survey are as follows:

57 or 46% desired 1 house on 10 acres or more
24 or 19% desired houses clustered on one acre parcels leaving agricultural land and open space land permanently undeveloped
39 or 32% desired 1 house on 2-5 acres
4 or 3% desired 1 house per acre

Overall 65% of the surveyed residents desired owning at least 10 acres of land. With the continual growth rate that Sharon Township has been experiencing, others must agree with the residing residents of the Township.

The 10 acre lot minimum limits the growth of the Township, to where if it were less than 10 acres, many more homes would be built resulting in an even more added strain on our roads, schools and other facilities.

Growth is inevitable. If Sharon Township does not want to become another Farmington Hills, Livonia, etc. we need to retain the 10 acre minimum and plan for the future to preserve our open space.

Keeping Manchester Beautiful

The Beautification Committee was still searching at press time for just the right gardens to award this week's "Choice Awards," but we found an interesting garden of our own. This unusual large sunflower is over 8 feet tall and has nearly twenty flowers currently in bloom. Watch next week's paper for the "official" beautiful garden awards. Please make your nominations to Josie at A&J Travel, 428-8307, for future "Choice Awards."

The Manchester Beautification Committee also would like to announce their fall Perennial Swap in front of the Mill on Sunday, September 28 from 1-2:30 PM. The spring flowering bulb sale is also still in progress; bulbs can be ordered through A&J Travel, the Whistle Stop, and Woodbrook.

MANCHESTER LITTLE LEAGUE HOLDS ELECTIONS

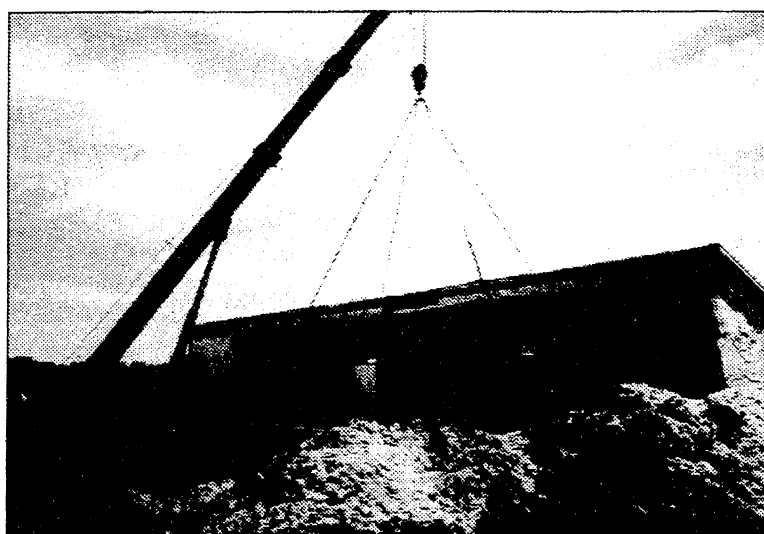

Monday, September 15th at 7 PM in Kirk Park Pavilion, Manchester Little League will hold the annual election of officers to the Board of Directors. This is your opportunity to become involved in the process of organizing a smooth running 1998 season. Yes, except for December when we take a break to enjoy our individual families, baseball is alive and well in Manchester.

The positions on the Board of Directors are, President, Vice President, Treasurer, Secretary, Safety Director, and Player Agent. Additional posts are Vice President of Major Baseball, Vice President of Softball, Vice President of Minor Baseball, Vice President of Coach Pitch and Vice President of Tee-Ball. Ideally these positions should be held by people not coaching a team, but can be held by a coach. Some of these positions require more attention than others, the size of the division determines the time required. All Vice Presidential positions of course have the support of the other board members.

At this time we invite you also to volunteer for other positions required to make this all come together in April. Some of these jobs include, Equipment Manager, Field Maintenance, Photographer Selection Committee, Uniform Committee, and Umpire Coordinator. We would also like to ask for volunteers for a Tournament Committee a new area we are considering being involved in. As you can see, it takes many people to make this work all, and I'm sure there will be other things we could use a hand with.

This election is open to all Parents, Guardians or interested people in our community. Please join us and help to insure a successful 1998 Baseball Season.

Modular Home "Stranded"

A new HUD (Housing and Urban Development) modular home was delivered in Manchester Township last Friday. A HUD unit does not have to meet the more stringent requirements imposed by the State of Michigan and your local building authority. This particular unit is the largest manufactured by Liberty Homes and was sold by Somerset Center Estates.

Unfortunately, many problems were encountered in getting the unit to the site. East Main at Macomb was blocked for a period of time so the truck could turn from Main to Macomb. Additionally the unit, because of its length and weight, became stuck on Storie Lane in loose sandy soil. Some damage to the siding and steel under frame occurred when the unit was high-ended.

A mobile crane lifted the unit from the four transport axles and it was lifted to the pre-approved foundation. The first unit was lifted incorrectly and the mobile crane was unable to rotate the front section 180 degrees. The unit had to be lowered to cribbing set on the ground. The moving axles were replaced and the unit was turned around with a bull dozer. After again lifting the first section it was set on the foundation. Trouble also beset the second section, but the unit was finally set, after over eight hours of effort.

Repairs have to be affected in order to restore the unit to factory quality.

MANCHESTER AREA SENIOR CITIZENS News

- by T.V. Ludwick

It's canning time again; time to bring in all fruits and 'veggies' and put them to bed. By the time I bring up all the jars, screw lids, vinegar jug, cold packers and large pans from the basement, I'm almost too pooped to can! This is what getting older does to me.. it would be fun to just sit down in the middle of it and read a book. Then, you must put all these things away again which is more fun and games. But, know what? I love to can, 'specially tomatoes which do not seem to ripen this year with the 40 degree nights we are having right now. I fooled them, I made green tomato relish which we love (it makes the best ground bologna sandwich spread).

From the Stryker Advance-Reporter and the August 29, 1907 column comes this for blackberry cordial. "Put the berries in the preserving kettle or a stone jar set in a pot of boiling water. Measure the juice, and to each quart allow a pound of granulated sugar, two tablespoons ground cloves, four of cinnamon, one of mace and two of allspice. Tie the spices in thin bags. Boil together for 15 minutes skimming well. Add when cold, a pint or half pint of best brandy for each quart of syrup. Strain out the spices and bottle, sealing tightly."

In that same column, came this: "'Billy' Sunday, the famous baseball evangelist, has taken the Winona assembly by storm." I can remember Grandad telling about the preaching antics of him and these stories we will never forget from childhood.

Thursday, September 11: Get your blanket, rolled up towel and your shoes and socks off to begin yoga class this morning at the Manchester Methodist Church at 9:30. We will again be stretching those "canning" muscles back in shape to the tune of Donna Pointer's voice. We have bunched muscles and shoulders that need to be brought back in line and all kinds of problems that we've lived with for years. Come join us. Back at Emanuel UCC, Jan and crew are busy preparing stuffed fish for lunch for those of us who are 55 or older. (To enjoy yoga, you must be 65.) Then, after lunch, go to the Center for bingo, and win a prize!

Friday, September 12: The Saline Card Party sponsored by their Senior Citizens will be enjoyed tonight. Pickup begins at 6 PM...you may go along by calling Marion Ahrens at 428-7865 for your place on the bus.

Tuesday, September 16: Pastor Davenport will lead the clergy presentation at 11:15. Come and enjoy these talks by our local clergymen and women, they are very inspiring and informative. At 12 noon, ham loaf will appear magically on the serving table by the cooks in the kitchen at Emanuel. If you'd like to join us (and we urge all seniors to do this) call ahead to reserve your meals to 428-8359 (Sharman), or 428-7630 before 10:30 (Jan). You can be picked up to go to meals by senior bus, or have your meal delivered in the village each Tuesday and/or Thursday.

Thursday, September 18: Yoga is at 9:30, baked pork chops at 12 noon, and bingo at 12:30.

Alternative School Successfully Underway

Manchester's alternative high school is comfortably settled at the Pleasant Lake School building. Last week, an appreciation luncheon was held which underscored the various contributions made by members of the school district and the community. And the school is already generating overwhelmingly positive reviews, from its toughest critics - the students.

The students prepared a meal which reflected their own tastes and talents. The pride they feel in their new school is already apparent in their willingness to share their ideas and their work with outsiders. From the time they entered the building, visitors were helped to feel welcome in this environment and the students' shyness soon gave way to an enthusiastic response.

The classes are held in the former kindergarten room at the school. Large windows across the back of the classroom hark back to an earlier time when districts were not forced to be aware of something called an "energy crisis." The vast windows provide a view of farmer's fields, symbolic, perhaps, of the wide world beyond the classroom for which these kids are preparing.

Projects are already beginning to line the walls of the room, which makes it look like any other traditional class. An area has been set aside for the students to relax during their break periods. The classroom is set up with tables instead of rows of desks, an accommodation to the needs of this multi-age class of fifteen students.

The students were open and honest about their variety of reasons for attending the alternative school. They are united, however, in their commitment to succeed and to graduate. The supportive atmosphere they are creating for themselves and for their classmates, will help to convert their optimism into reality. "We all get along together," commented April Dixon. "A lot of us were friends before." Pam Domengoni adds, "Some of the stuff is easy for some of us, and we can help out the ones who are having a hard time."

Timelines of the students' lives, done as a social studies project, were likewise honest and revealing. Bob Johnson, the paraprofessional who assists teacher Kathryn MacKercher with the class, noted that, "Some of these kids have not had an easy time." Many times the circumstances disclosed in the time line were contributing factors to the students ending up at risk. Chronic absences, resulting in too much missed work, have put some of these kids behind schedule for graduating with their classes. This is their chance to make a fresh start and take positive steps toward a successful future.

Their plans are varied and ambitious. They want to create their own yearbook, and in preparation for doing so, they will be composing the Middle School yearbook this year. They'll also team-write an essay, which they hope will make Young Country radio station realize that their classroom deserves to win a computer which will be given away. They are trying to decide on a name for their school, which they want to reflect their individuality as well as "sound classy." They spend four hours each week in concentrated time in the Tech Lab and Computer Lab at the Middle School, after "regular" school hours on Tuesdays. Their many ideas reflect the students' creative vision for their school. The positive attitude established by MacKercher is contagious.

Teachers, community leaders, administrators, and business people all turned out for the luncheon, to show their support for the program and to wish both teachers and students well in this new venture. The continued support of the community will be vital to a positive outcome for these students.

Where Did This Come From and Where is It Now?

This store fixture has been refurbished after being put to rest several years ago in the Lowell Parr farmstead on Parr Road. It was presumed that it had come out of a store here in Manchester around the turn of the century. In one of the drawers was written Marx 6/99, which naturally lead us to believe it originated in the Marx & Marx clothing and dry goods store which is today The Flower Garden.

After we put the picture in last week's Enterprise, several people stopped by the office and found it in Calamity Jane's next door. Each voiced an opinion as to which store it came from.. Schaible's Mens Store, Breitenwischer's Dry Goods, and Marx & Marx were all in the running.

We went to a positive source - Mrs. Dorothy Buss who worked for Marx & Marx many years and what a wonderful lady she is. We had also been tracking down the owners of the old Parr farm, which is now part of Johnson Controls, to find out how and when the fixture came to rest in the barn.

Last evening, to our disappointment, Mrs. Buss confirmed to us that this store fixture had not come out of Marx & Marx. At about the same time it was determined the fixture was brought to the Parr farm in Manchester from Clarkston. Lisa Molnar, who lived on the farm in the late eighties, stated her brother had bought the store fixture from a Clarkston store which was closing and brought it to her farm for storage. It was left there through a couple of subsequent owners before being purchased.

It was a slight let down after a long search of tracing the fixture's past, to find out that it indeed did not come from Manchester, although it is a beautiful piece and over 100 years in age. Thanks to Emory Garlick who rescued it and spent well over 100 hours on rebuilding the fixture, salvaging all the wood possible, square nails, and hardware. It took four men to move the four sections into Calamity Jane's and put the unit back to good use once again.

Thanks to all who helped make the search complete. It made for some great conversations of the past history here in Manchester. Stop in to Calamity Jane's and take a look at the past - brought back to the present and reaching into the future.

The Difference Between Hearing Sounds and Hearing Words

My child can hear fine. Sometimes I whisper things to my husband that I don't want my child to hear but my child can hear it - even from another room! On the other hand if I tell my child that it is time to take a bath, wash his hair and brush his teeth while he is watching TV - he can't hear me. Actually, I have learned that the sounds from my voice were heard, but the words spoken were not heard. My child has an auditory processing deficit. Here are some clues that a person has an auditory processing deficit (both adults and children have auditory processing deficit - this is not curable or outgrown):

- Does not listen
- Has poor memory
- Does not follow instructions
- Is not achieving
- Has poor auditory discrimination
- Lacks phonic skills or concepts
- Doesn't associate sounds with letters

This list of symptoms is taken directly from a booklet called, "Children Who Can Hear But Can't Listen" by Mark C. Gridley, Ph.D. and published by Minerva Press, Waterford, MI.

On Wednesday, September 24 from 7-9 PM, Dr. Larry Koch will be discussing his book about auditory processing. This discussion is for parents, teachers and therapist. It will be held at the Saline Hospital and is FREE. Pre-registration is required, call 800-231-2211.

Auditory problems are not a result of head injury or brain damage, they are hereditary, like so many learning problems, and are just another example of how people differ. Auditory processing deficit is often a handicap at school because of the undercurrent of noises that are present in a classroom, gym or lunch room. When this deficit is undiagnosed the child is often described as being lazy, poorly motivated or not paying attention. The child feels "different" when directions are given because classmates function quite smoothly with the directions but he/she cannot. The student begins to feel stupid and may appear stupid to classmates. This leads to "achievement anxiety". Even less is "heard" by the anxious student and performance decreases further. Some of these students just simply give up (the quiet way); other become angry and frustrated and channel these feelings into misbehavior or delinquency. This is a tragic cycle for everyone: the student, the classmates, the teachers and the parents.

Auditory processing deficit can be diagnosed by a psychologist, audiologist and/or speech and language specialist. Although there are not cures there are treatments. These treatments are in the form of accommodations. Examples are:

- Small classes because this environment increases the chances for individualized instruction.
- Decreasing the noises in the classroom by doing a "noise inventory." Many noises such as fans and buzzing lights can be eliminated.
- Making sure the student understands directions by having them explain the directions back.
- Adjusting seating assignment - away from the pencil sharpener, doorways, waste basket and the teacher's desk.
- New material and instruction should be presented in both visually and auditory ways as much as possible.

P.A.S.S. is a parent-student support group in Manchester. If you have questions about how to get your child or yourself tested for auditory processing call 428-7872 and leave a message. The first 97-98 P.A.S.S. meeting will be October 1 and Sandra Dunn will be the guest speaker.

JVs Begin Season With A Victory over Clinton

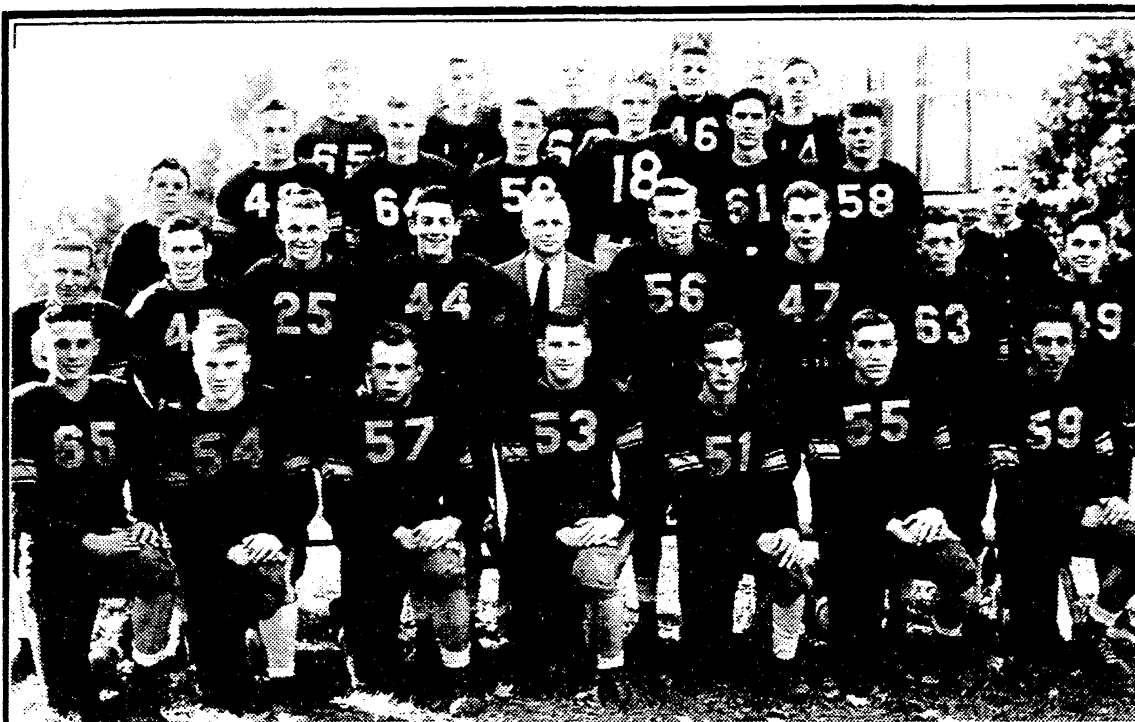

The Manchester JV Dutchmen played the Redskins of Clinton at Clinton, and emerged victorious, with a 26-12 final score, on Thursday, September 4.

Pat DuRussel led in rushing, with 97 yards and one touch down. Aaron Gregory contributed three touchdowns, and a two point conversion was scored by Jason Flint on a pass to Evan Wahl. The defense was led by Jeremiah Tobias and Derek Hanewald.

The JVs will play at Vandercook Lake on this Thursday, at 7:00. "We've scouted them, and it looks to be a good game," said head coach Jim Fielder. "We're getting our strategy ready to attack."

Come and support our Dutch again this week. This young team deserves our encouragement!

#14 Paul Schulte Brings Home the SILVER from Toronto

Named to All Tournament Team in Toronto International Games

The First Junior Men's World Championship Games were held in Toronto, Ontario, August 17-24, 1997. Seven national teams competed representing Australia, Canada, France, Germany, Great Britain, Poland and the United States.

#14, Paul Schulte, was there and distinguished himself as a competitive international player. The USA team read like a Who's Who for junior wheelchair basketball fans. Besides Paul, (The MVP of this year's USA national championship games and captain of the 1997 National Champion Junior Pacers), there was Eddie McGee, MVP of the 1996 USA national championship games and now Paul's room mate at University of Texas-Arlington (UTA). There was Ryan Hauser and Ryan Vollstedt from the University of Wisconsin. There was Steve Tew from the Arkansas Razorbacks. (Remember Steve? 1995 University of Carbondale Tournament, "...Paul Schulte streaking down the court against the fast-breaking Razorback's star player, Steve Tew. Paul knew it was late in the game and he had one foul to give and what a foul it was...Even though Tew was first to make it back up in his chair Paul had made his point - the Pacers had not only come to play but to win.")

And now, Steve and Paul were teamed to compete for the gold. Between the, Paul and Steve scored 270 points, 57% of the total USA team scoring. Paul further distinguished himself by shooting 9% from two-point range and 44% from behind the three-point arc.

As team captain and point guard, Paul led the USA team in assists with 39 over the eight games played. In the USA vs. Canada championship game, it was Canada who took home the gold, with the USA team proudly receiving Silver. Paul and Steve were named to the all-tournament team, with MVP honors going to Canada's team captain Pat Anderson.

Paul and his family wish to express their most sincere gratitude to those who donated money to help Paul represent the USA in these games and especially to those Manchester teachers, students and friends who traveled to Toronto to cheer Paul on - it meant a lot to him.

So while it is quieter in the Schulte household on the streets of Manchester need not fear speeding wheelchairs till Christmas break, it's on to bigger and better things for #14. Paul is already distinguishing himself at the University of Texas at Arlington. Paul's dad commented that the UTA coach had called just to say, "Paul is doing fine and giving the current third year point guard a real run for the position."

Thanks again, Manchester: the Kid is doing great!

early in the second quarter which turned into a Terry Coleman touchdown 12 seconds later on a 51 yard scamper. Nick Davis added the 2 point conversion. The Clinton Redskins then tried to put a drive together only to be denied by senior Justin Turk on an interception. Manchester wasted no time converting this error into another touchdown on a 25 yard gallop by - you guessed it - Nick Davis. Terry Coleman added the PAT.

If it could get any worse for Clinton, it did with another fumble in the second quarter which was recovered by Jon Hochstetler. Soon after, Terry Coleman plunged into the end zone and kicked one through the uprights for a half time score of 47 - 0.

In the second half, the mighty Dutch would only score once on a 60 yard punt return by Nick Davis for his 95th TD of the evening. The offensive line helped make this a stellar night for the Dutch's rushing game. Nick Davis ended the night with 213 yards rushing on 6 carries. Terry Coleman added 81 yards rushing on 5 carries and 2 touchdowns. Terry was also 4 out of 7 on extra points. Nick Niehaus caught 2 passes for 138 yards and one touchdown. Nick Rose was 2 for 2 passing and threw one touchdown.

The statistics tell the tale. Manchester had 469 yards total offense to Clinton's 163 yards. On defense, senior Eric VanBogelen had 9 tackles and Shane Neigebauer had 5 tackles. This makes 5 shutouts in the last 6 contests with our rivals from Clinton.

Come out this Friday to cheer on the Dutchmen as they get their revenge against Vandercook Lake. This reporter's prediction: Manchester 27 - Vandercook Lake - 6.

Girls Varsity Basketball begins their Season

Congratulations to the Manchester Varsity basketball team. After a rocky start to the season, Manchester started back on the right foot and showed Chelsea who was boss. The game ended with a score of Manchester 44 to 35 Chelsea. Stats for the first three games are as follows:

Game 1: Clinton 41 to 37 Manchester. Personal Stats: Julie Porter - 11 points; Mary Barrett - 10 points, 10 rebounds, 4 steals; Jennette Branch - 6 points, 15 rebounds, 5 steals; Amy Gall - 6 points, 8 rebounds, 5 steals.

Game 2: Stockbridge 38 to 33 Manchester. Personal Stats: Julie Porter - 14 points, 10 rebounds, 5 blocked shots, 4 steals; Marilyn Maher - 5 points, 3 assists, 4 steals; Cortney Whitaker 5 points; Marry Barrett - 5 points.

Game 3: Manchester 44 to 35 Chelsea. Personal Stats: Julie Porter - 10 points, 3 blocked shots; Marry Barrett - 4 points, 9 rebounds, 10 steals; Amy Gall - 8 points; Jennette Branch - 6 points.

Great job Team and keep up the good work! Members of the community, remember to congratulate all our Lady Dutch. Be sure to watch for their upcoming games (Thursday, September 11 at Greenhills, 5:30 PM; and Tuesday, September 16 vs. Gabriel Richard at Home) and give them your support.

MANCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL CROSS COUNTRY

The cross-country season is upon us once again. It is going to be an exciting year, and we are anticipating much success and growth over the season. Our teams consist of some outstanding student-athletes. Here is a preview.

The guys team is down in numbers, but are highly talented. The squad is led by senior Jeremy Smith. He is coming off a solid junior campaign on the track, and looks to show the running community he's ready for a big senior year in cross-country and track. Eli Bragg has logged some serious summer miles and has added strength and stamina in the weight room. He has set some lofty goals and will reach them with the dedication he has already shown. Sophomores Kyle Harris, Kevin Sahakian, and Philip Krall also have conference and regional honors on their mind as we prepare for the big three, the conference, regional, and state meets at the end of October. While we aren't the biggest team around, we will be competitive in every meet. These gentlemen are tough and hungry.

The women's team is very inexperienced, but has plenty of young talent to go around. The team has only one returning runner, Rachel Fleck, but looks to have a successful season in spite of the rawness. Rachel will be one of the leading runners in the conference, regional, and state meets. She will also take on some of the leadership as she is the lone returning harrier.

Fellow sophomores Erin Fox and Lauren Adler are picking up the particulars of the sport with each passing day and are progressing nicely in their workouts and racing. Our three Freshmen are outstanding athletes and are improving rapidly with each passing day. Cassie Clark, Jackie Palms, and Kristen Taddonio will be the cornerstones of this program for years to come. The future looks bright for these young ladies.

East Jackson invitational

The first meet of the season was at Portage Lake State Park last Wednesday, and the results were as exceptional as the weather. The meet is broken up into freshmen/sophomore and junior/senior divisions. We were well represented in each of these divisions by our runners.

In the boys freshmen/sophomore race, our Kyle Harris ran an incredible race on his way to a second place finish. His fine early season time of 18:09 was best on our team for the day. Kevin Sahakian finished just behind him in sixth place. His time of 19:01 is an excellent start to his season. Philip Krall ran a personal lifetime best to round out this race.

Junior Eli Bragg picked up where he left off last season with a ninth place finish in 18:11 in the junior/senior race. Jeremy Smith garnered the first medal of his career with a career best 18:23. That was good enough for thirteenth place.

In the girls freshmen/sophomore race, first meet runners Lauren Adler, Erin Fox, Jackie Palms, Cassie Clark, and Kristen Taddonio all ran to solid times. It was a learning experience for these five, and they know a little more about where they are headed. These girls are going to be very competitive in the conference with a couple more meets under their belts.

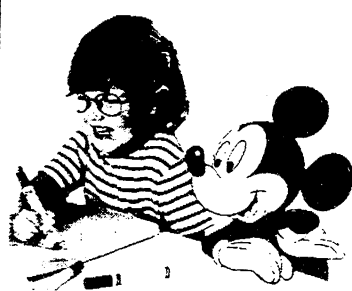

Sophomore Rachel Fleck ran an outstanding race on her way to a second place finish. Her time of 21:59 placed her third out of the 90 runners who competed there, freshmen - senior. She ran an intelligent race, and let everyone know that she was title contender. Nice job ladies and gentlemen!

Quilt raffle

Once again, the cross-country team will be raffling off a beautiful quilt provided by Mary Harris. Last year, departed senior Colleen Geyer was the proud winner of the gorgeous Manchester quilt. We will be around with the tickets, so see any of the cross-country runners for your chance at the quilt. Tickets will be $1 or 6 for $6. Please help our cross-country program. The money goes to providing our kids with tee-shirts, defraying the cost of cross-country camp, and keeping our grueling cross-country course in good shape. We would like to thank the village at this time for allowing us to use portions of the Chi-Bro park as part of our beautiful course. Anyone is welcome to use the course. It is challenging for runners and walkers alike.

Last but not least, our home dates this season are Tuesday, September 23rd against our neighbors Napoleon and Vandercook lake, and Tuesday, October 7th versus Addison. The meets start and end under the football scoreboard in the athletic complex. Come on out and see what the excitement is all about.

Gerald Grossman Completes his 25th Bridge Walk

In one hour and fifteen minutes, Gerald Grossman "set his own pace" at the 40th Annual Labor Day walk across the Mackinac Bridge, originated by Gov. G. Mennen "Soapy" Williams when the Bridge was first opened.

On the back of the shirt he wore that day, he had screen-printed, "25th Anniversary Labor Day Bridge Walk September 1, 1997."

Grossman reports that he did see Governor Engler and his family at the bridge, but "he was walking pretty fast, and I couldn't catch up with him." In prior years, he has walked the bridge with the Governor, Mrs. Engler and the triplets.

"I haven't missed a walk in 25 years," said Grossman. He is pictured with his certificate of completion and the patch he received.

Washtenaw County Farmers earn trip to Indianapolis

Kathy and Mike Fusilier, members of the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau, earned an expense-paid trip to Indianapolis for their outstanding efforts in the annual county Farm Bureau membership drive. A group of 57 farmers from across Michigan earned spots on the Membership Chairman's Trip, held June 27-28. The event was sponsored by Michigan Farm Bureau.

On the way to Indianapolis, the farmers stopped to visit Bob Mayer's gladiola farm in southern Michigan.

Once in Indianapolis, the group enjoyed seeing "The Sound of Music" at the Beef and Boards dinner theater. They visited the Indianapolis Speedway and Museum, where they even had a chance to tour the track. A highlight of the trip was Conner Prairie, a village set in the 19th century where people are dressed in costumes of the era.

To qualify for the trip, Farm Bureau members earned points for signing up new Farm Bureau members and holding membership recruitment events.

"Three Days At Gettysburg"

Manchester Area Historical Society begins 21st Season

The Manchester Area Historical Society is pleased to present the first program of its 21st season, featuring three significant days during the Civil War. "Three Days at Gettysburg," will be presented by Michael Landauer of Manchester, illustrated by slides of Gettysburg battlefield as it looks today.

The battle, July 1-3, 1863, pitted the troops of General Robert E. Lee's Army of Northern Virginia against the Army of the Potomac, commanded by Major General George G. Meade. Seeking a decisive victory, the Confederate forces instead received a setback from which they never recovered. A few months later, on November 19, 1863, President Abraham Lincoln delivered the famous Gettysburg Address to dedicate the Gettysburg National Cemetery.

Mike Landauer is a lover of Civil War history, who has developed his presentation based on a lifetime of extensive research in hundreds of sources. He will bring some artifacts from his private collection to share with the audience, including shell fragments, bullets and other period items. Mike has also prepared a presentation of Civil War music to accompany his presentation.

The first meeting of the season is also the Society's annual membership meeting, with election of officers for the upcoming year. The proposed slate includes Mike Landauer as First Vice President, so this will be a great opportunity for those who haven't yet had a chance to meet Mike, to make his acquaintance.

The date this month will be Tuesday, the 16th of September at 7:30 PM in the Blacksmith Shop. Mark your calendar and join us! Refreshments will be served.

Manchester Area Chamber Of Commerce

A Few Thoughts from the President

This last month has been a whirlwind of new ideas and developments within the Chamber. New challenges, new board members and lots of new Chamber members.

As I went over the list of new members that have joined the Chamber in the last 6 months I was really amazed. The additional new members totaled 21, a 25% increase in that short time!

A chart showed that each month was equal to or greater than the previous month in new members. This shows a firm commitment by our businesses that they believe in this community and what it stands for. It also tells me that they want a unified voice in how this community develops in the coming years and that they want to be part of that voice.

The time has now come to exercise this positive trend and put this united voice to use in three ways. First, on October 2nd, attend our evening session on the future of Manchester. Second, in November, attend our general meeting and continue to help us develop our action plan. And third, if you know anyone who is not a member of the Chamber encourage them to join and help us shape the future of our community.

As always, if there are any comments or suggestions feel free to call me at 428-9259.

AFTER A PARENT DIES: A GROUP FOR ADULTS

The loss of a parent is the most common form of bereavement in the United States. Yet our society does not define a parent's death as a major disruptive loss even though each year almost 12 million Americans lose a parent. Middle aged and older adults may be surprised or distressed by how deeply affected they are by their parent's death.

A four week program, After A Parent Dies: A Group for Adults, is being offered by Individualized Hospice for men and women who have experienced the loss of a parent. Each week information about the grieving process will be presented followed by discussion. Topics will include understanding the nature of grief, how grief affects us as individuals, dealing with difficult feelings, the impact of the loss on other family members, finding time to grieve and ways to help oneself through grief. Meetings will be facilitated by the Rev. Dr. Nancy Doty, Bereavement Coordinator.

The group will meet on four successive Mondays beginning on October 6, 1997 from 6:00 - 8:00 PM. Meetings will be held at the office of Individualized Home Nursing Care, 3003 Washtenaw, Ann Arbor. Registration is required by October 1, 1997. For further information or to register, please call (313) 971-0444.
